In exercise of the power conferred by sub-section (6) of section 190 of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885 (Act VIII of 1885), the Lieutenant-Governor is pleased to direct that the following amendments be made in the rules published under notification No. 2705T.R., dated the 31st October 1907, at pages 1819 to 1817 of Part I of the Calcutta Gazette of the 6th November 1907:—

PROPOSED RULES.

Substitute the following for the existing rules bearing the same numbers:—

CHAPTER III.—LANDLORDS' IMPROVEMENTS.

Application for registration of improvements: to whom to be presented.

13. Section 80.—An application for the registration of landlords' improvements may be presented to the Collector of the district, or to the officer in charge of the subdivision, in which the land benefited by the improvement is situated, or to any Assistant or Deputy Collector who may be specially appointed by Government to receive such application. The application shall, as far as practicable, be in the form (Form 1) specified in Schedule I appended to these rules, and the requisite information shall be submitted, along with the application, in the form of List A, appended to the said Form 1.

13A. Alternative methods of filling up columns 12 to 16 of List A are provided. The first method is intended for cases in which only a small number of holdings are benefited, and the second for cases in which the whole village or a considerable proportion of the holdings is benefited. It will be open to the applicant, in the first instance, to select the method which appears to him more appropriate; but if he selects the second method, the revenue officer may, if he thinks fit, require List A to be filled up in the first method. If the revenue officer admits the application he will at the same time pass orders to the applicant to submit notices in Form 19 on tenants or villages concerned, in sufficient number to meet the requirements of these rules.

14. The officer receiving the application may either reject the application under section 80(3) or may admit it. If the application is admitted, a local inquiry will be held. A date will be fixed for that inquiry, and the applicant or his agent will be informed of this date. Notices in Form 19 will be sent to the tenants (if any) whose names are entered in column 12 of List A. In addition a notice in Form 19 will be served in each village concerned. In this notice will be specified the date and approximate hour when the inquiry will be held in that village, and the tenants concerned therein will be directed to attend the inquiry. The notice will be published locally by proclamation and beat of drum, and will be fixed up in the presence of not less than two persons in some conspicuous place in the village. The service of the notice must be attested by at least two residents of the village (or, in the case of a bechappar village, of a contiguous village), on the back of the duplicate notice. Special care must be taken to ensure that with each notice is appended a correct copy of List A or the extracts therefrom which refer to the village or tenant addressed in the notice.

The expense of sending and publishing notices under this rule and under rule 16 shall be borne by the applicant.

15. The Collector or subdivisional officer who received the application may transfer the case to the file of another officer empowered to receive such applications. If it is not so transferred, he may either make the local inquiry himself or he may direct it to be made by an officer not below the rank of Sub-Deputy Collector. When the officer who receives the application is not the Collector or a subdivisional officer, he may in a similar manner transfer the case or direct a local inquiry, with the consent of the Collector or subdivisional officer. This local inquiry will be held on the day and time specified in the notice. Such of the parties and their witnesses as attend and may desire to give evidence shall be examined, and such inspection of the land concerned as is considered necessary shall be made. In the record of this inquiry it shall be clearly stated which of the tenants were examined; and if any offered themselves for examination and were not examined, their names and the reasons for not examining them shall be recorded. The inquiring officer must make an inquiry in each village the lands of which are affected by the improvement.

Further inquiry, if any, and disposal of the case.

16. The officer who has received the application shall then either forthwith, or, if further inquiry is necessary, after giving notice of such further inquiry to the parties concerned, and holding such inquiry or causing it to be held by an officer not below the rank of Sub-Deputy Collector, who is empowered to receive such application, proceed to pass orders on the case.

Circumstances to be taken into consideration in disposing the case.

17. In passing orders he shall decide inter alia whether the improvement is of such a nature as to come within the meaning of section 76 of the Bengal Tenancy Act or not; whether the landlord is entitled to register it; whether it falls under sub-clause (e) of that section, and, if so, whether any enhancement of rent is being paid for the original improvement, and whether the cost of improvement and the date of completion have been correctly stated in the application.

Confirmation of order of refusal passed by officer lower in rank than Collector.

18. If an order refusing to register an improvement is passed by an officer lower in rank than the Collector of the district, such order shall not take effect till confirmed by the Collector.

Substitute the following form for Form No. 1 in Schedule I appended to the rules:—

HIGH COURT NOTICES.

NOTIFICATION.

THE following Rule having been framed by the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal in the exercise of the powers vested in it by section 3 of Act III of 1879, confirmed by the Local Governments of Bengal and Eastern Bengal and Assam and sanctioned by the Governor-General in Council, is published for general information.

HIGH COURT,
ENGLISH DEPARTMENT, CIVIL,
The 14th March 1910.

By order of the High Court,
A. P. MUDDIMAN,
Registrar.

1. Cancel the word "rule" in the last line of Rule 61, slips at pages 69 to 87, of the High Court's General Rules and Circular Orders, Civil, and substitute therefor the word "rules."

2. Insert the following after Rule 61, ibid—

(a) In cases where no one is entitled to recover anything, the record shall be destroyed one year from the date of the decree.

(b) In cases where the decree is fully satisfied, the record shall be destroyed one year from the date of satisfaction.

(c) In other cases, the record shall be destroyed three years—

(i) from the date on which the last application for execution is disposed of, or from the date of decree, if no such application have been made; or,

(ii) from the date of the last application to enforce payment of any unpaid instalment due and payable under the decree.

Note.—Lists in Form No. (M) 70, in volume II, page 92, shall accompany the records despatched under this rule.

3. Cancel rule 62 and the note thereto, slips at pages 69 to 87, ibid.

Rules made by the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal under section 21 of the Indian Press Act, 1910.

1. These rules may be cited as "The Rules under the Indian Press Act, 1910." They shall come into operation on the 18th day of March 1910 and shall apply to all applications made to, and all proceedings taken in, the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal under the Indian Press Act, 1910, hereinafter referred to as "The Act."

2. Every application to the High Court, under section 17 of the Act, to set aside an order of forfeiture under section 4, 6, 9, 11 or 12 shall be made by the presentation of a petition which shall be signed by the applicant and verified at foot by the affidavit of the applicant.

3. The petition shall be written in the English language on foolscap paper or other paper similar to it in size and quality, bookwise, and divided into paragraphs numbered consecutively. Dates and sums occurring in the petition shall be expressed in figures.

4. The petition shall be headed—

"IN THE HIGH COURT OF JUDICATURE AT FORT WILLIAM IN BENGAL, ORIGINAL JURISDICTION,

In its Special Bench constituted under Act I of 1910," and shall be intituled "In the matter of the (name, if any) Printing Press" or the (name or description) book, document or newspaper, as the case may be.

5. The petition shall state what the interest of the applicant is in the property in respect of which the order of forfeiture has been made, and all documents or copies thereof in proof of such interest, together with a copy of the notice of forfeiture under section 4, 6, 9, 11 or 12 of the Act, as the case may be, shall be annexed as exhibits to the petition.

6. The petition shall state the ground or grounds on which it is sought to set aside the order of forfeiture.

7. All vernacular documents annexed as exhibits to the petition and all vernacular documents relied on by the applicant and intended to be tendered in evidence shall be translated into English by a competent and duly qualified translator or translators, so that no question may arise as to the accuracy of the translations or the admissibility in evidence of the documents and the translations annexed to them by reason of defects in such translations.

8. The petition with exhibits annexed thereto and their translations, if any, together with a copy of such petition and exhibits with translations, shall be presented to the Chief Justice, who will constitute a Special Bench and appoint a day for the hearing and determination of the application.

9. Notice in writing of the day appointed for the hearing and determination of the application shall be given by the Registrar, Original Jurisdiction, to the Chief Secretary to the Government of Bengal, and the copy of the petition and exhibits with translations, if any, in the last preceding rule mentioned, shall accompany such notice.

10. Printed paper-books containing the petition and all exhibits annexed thereto with translations shall be prepared in the manner prescribed by the Rules for the preparation of Paper-Books in Appeals from the High Court, Original Jurisdiction, and shall be delivered to the Registrar, Original Jurisdiction, by the applicant at least one week before the day fixed for the hearing and determination of the application.

10. (a) There shall be ordinarily printed thirty copies of the Paper-Book, but the Registrar may, when necessary, direct a larger number to be printed.

11. The Table of Fees now in force in this Court in its Original Civil Jurisdiction shall be applicable to applications under the Act and proceedings thereon, and costs payable in respect of such applications and proceedings shall be taxed, when so directed, by the Taxing Officer of this Court in its Original Jurisdiction.

12. The provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure and the Rules and Orders of this Court relating to execution of decrees and orders shall be applicable to the execution of orders passed by the High Court on applications under the Act.

NOTIFICATION.

THE ELLIOTT PRIZE FOR SCIENTIFIC RESEARCH FOR 1910.

WITH reference to Notification No. 5058F., in the Calcutta Gazette of the 28th December 1892, Part I, page 1172, the Elliott Prize for Scientific Research will be given this year to the author of the best original essay composed during the year 1910 giving the results of original research or investigation by the essayist in Natural Science.

2. Any native of Bengal, or of the districts of Dacca, Mymensingh, Backerganj, Faridpur, Rajshahi, Rangpur, Dinajpur, Jalpaiguri, Bogra, Pabna, Malda, Chittagong (including Chittagong Hill Tracts), Noakhali, and Tippera (including Hill Tippera), or any Eurasian or domiciled European residing in Bengal, or the aforesaid districts, may compete for the prize.

3. The essays of competitors must be sent to the President of the Asiatic Society of Bengal, 57, Park Street, Calcutta by the end of December 1910. The prize will be adjudged to the best competitor, and awarded publicly at the Annual General Meeting of the Asiatic Society in February 1911.

4. Preference will be given to researches leading to discoveries likely to develop the industrial resources of Bengal. In the case of no essay being deemed by the Trustees to be of sufficient merit, no prize is to be awarded, but the amount is to be retained, so that in any future year two or more prizes may be given, or the prize may be enhanced in the case of an exceptionally good essay.

T. H. D. LATOUCHE,
President of the Asiatic Society of Bengal.

CALCUTTA,
The 3rd March 1910.

G. W. KÜCHLER,
Director of Public Instruction, Bengal.

NOTIFICATION.

IN pursuance of the Government of Bengal, General Department, Notification No. 4305, dated 23rd November 1909, it is hereby announced that the manuscript copy (in English) of the Model Science Reader for Standards III and IV, which has been prepared on behalf of Government, will be open to inspection by private authors in the office of the undersigned at Writers' Buildings between the hours of 11 A.M. and 4 P.M., from 8th March to 8th April 1910.

Prospective authors are requested to communicate with the Assistant Director of Public Instruction and mention two dates upon which it will be convenient for them to inspect the manuscript. The Assistant Director of Public Instruction will appoint the date and hour at which the manuscript will be available for each intending author's inspection.

The books to be written will require to be submitted for examination by 1st October 1910 at latest if they are to be considered in connection with the prescription of text-books for the first scholarship examinations under the revised syllabus.

Authors are advised that after all scientific terms in the vernacular the English equivalent should be printed in brackets, and that the vernacular terms should be explained in the vernacular in an alphabetical glossary at the end of the book.

G. W. KÜCHLER,

CALCUTTA, the 7th March 1910. Director of Public Instruction, Bengal.

Educational Notice.

WITH reference to Government Notification No. 4305, dated 23rd November 1909, in which detailed information was published as to the text-books required in accordance with the new syllabuses for Standards III to IV, writers of arithmetic books are requested to be good enough to provide a table in the beginning of their books giving the vernacular equivalents of the English numerals :—

0, 1, 2, etc., 9.

2. The provision of such a table is rendered necessary in consideration of the possibility that the employment of English figures prescribed in the main arithmetic syllabus which will be applicable to all classes of schools,—high, middle and upper primary—might otherwise constitute a difficulty in purely vernacular schools.

3. In this connexion it may be pointed out that while the use of English figures is prescribed in the main syllabus the vernacular notation will be used in the additional Subhankari syllabus to be taught in middle vernacular and upper primary schools.

G. W. KÜCHLER,

Director of Public Instruction, Bengal.

UNIVERSITY OF CALCUTTA.

NOTIFICATION.

THE Senate having proposed, on the recommendation of the Syndicate, that the affiliation in English up to the M.A. Standard be withdrawn from the Scottish Churches College, on the ground that the College has failed to maintain adequately for a period of four years the course of study in that subject, the Governor-General in Council are pleased, under section 24 (5) of the Indian Universities Act, No. VIII of 1904, to direct that affiliation up to the M.A. Standard in English shall be withdrawn from the Scottish Churches College, on the ground that it has ceased to make due provision in accordance with the University Regulations for instruction in that subject up to the standard referred to.

Advertisement of Sale.

NOTICE is hereby given that the proprietary right of Government, as specified in the conditions of sale below to the undermentioned estates situate in the district of Purnea, will be put up to sale at the Purnea Collectorate on Wednesday, the 23rd March 1910, corresponding to 27th Fagoon 1317 Fasli or 10th Chait 1317 Bengali.

The purchasers will be subject to the following conditions of sale :—

Conditions of Sale.

1st.—The estate to be sold to the highest bidder above the upset price, which will be fixed by the Collector at the time of sale. The purchaser of this estate will be considered as the proprietor of the estate, and the entire proprietary right of Government in such estate will be transferred to him, subject to the revenue fixed in perpetuity. The conditions regarding the payment of a land revenue fixed in perpetuity are not applicable to estates in temporarily-settled districts in which the land revenue should be fixed for the term of the current settlement and be subject to periodical revisions, on expiry of each settlement. In the case of an estate, situated in a permanently-settled area and yielding an annual rental of less than Re. 1, there should be no condition regarding payment of land revenue.

2nd.—The sale is subject to the existing leases and to the rights conferred by the settlement proceedings and by the laws in force; and purchasers to be bound to respect the rights of resident cultivators who have signed the schedule of assessment prepared by the Revenue authorities.

3rd.—If the amount of purchase-money do not exceed Rs. 100, the whole amount to be paid down at once.

4th.—If the amount of purchase-money exceed Rs. 100, one-fourth of the amount bid to be immediately deposited. If the balance be not paid by the noon of the fifteenth day after the sale, reckoning the day of sale as one, or, if that day be a close holiday, then by noon of the first succeeding office day the sale is to be cancelled (the sum deposited being forfeited to Government), and the estate to be again put up to sale at the risk of the defaulting purchaser, after issue of advertisement, as in the case of original sale.

PART III

Acts of the Bengal Council.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

The following Act, passed by the Legislative Council of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, received the assent of His Honour on the 2nd March, 1910, and, having been assented to by His Excellency the Viceroy and Governor General on the 10th idem, is hereby published for general information:—

BENGAL ACT No. I of 1910.

An Act further to amend the Calcutta Port Act, 1890. (Ben. Act III of 1890.)

Whereas it is expedient further to amend the Calcutta Port Act, 1890; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title.

1. This Act may be called the Calcutta Port (Amendment) Act, 1910.

Amendment of section 30 of Ben. Act III of 1890.

2. In the proviso to section 30 of the Calcutta Port Act, 1890, after the figures "31" the words, letter and brackets "[except clause (g) thereof]," shall be inserted.

Amendment of section 31.

3. (1) After clause (f) of section 31 of the said Act the following shall be inserted, namely:—

"and (g) for determining the conditions under which pensions, gratuities or compassionate allowances may be paid to any of such officers or servants injured, or to surviving relatives of any such officers or servants killed, in the execution of their duty, whether the injury or death occurred before or after the commencement of the Calcutta Port (Amendment) Act, 1910."

(2) For sub-section (2) of the said section 31 the following shall be substituted, namely :—

"(2) In the event of any question arising as to the right of any officer or servant, or any surviving relative of any officer or servant, to any pension, gratuity or compassionate allowance referred to in clause (e) or clause (g), or as to the amount thereof, such question shall be determined by the Local Government."

Local Government to determine right to pension, &c.

(3) In sub-section (3) of the said section 31, before the word "shall" the words and letter "or clause (g)" shall be inserted.

Amendment of section 33.

4. In section 33 of the said Act, after the word "allowance" the following shall be inserted, namely:—

"or of granting a pension, gratuity or compassionate allowance to any officer or servant injured, or to surviving relatives of any officer or servant killed, in the execution of his duty."

Amendment of section 34.

5. In sub-section (1) of section 34 of the said Act, after the word "rupees" the following shall be inserted, namely :—

"or to any surviving relative of any officer referred to in this section."

BENGAL ACT No. II OF 1910.

THE following Act, passed by the Legislative Council of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, received the assent of His Honour on the 2nd March, 1910, and, having been assented to by His Excellency the Viceroy and Governor General on the 14th idem, is hereby published for general information.

An Act to declare the meaning of certain words in clause (b) of section 66 of the Bengal Municipal Act, 1884.

Ben. Act III of 1884.

WHEREAS certain officers were directed by the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, by orders issued under clause (b) of section 66 of the Bengal Municipal Act, 1884, to exercise and perform the powers and duties of the Commissioners of certain Municipalities who had been superseded by orders issued under section 65 of that Act;

And whereas the said officers, in exercise of the power conferred by section 9 of the said Act on Commissioners at a meeting, recommended alterations in the numbers of the Commissioners of the said Municipalities ;

And whereas the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal thereupon, by notifications issued under sections 9 and 9A of the said Act, altered the numbers of the Commissioners of the said Municipalities, with effect from the expiration of the period for which the former Commissioners were superseded;

And whereas doubts have been raised as to whether clause (b) of the said section 66 confers upon the persons appointed thereunder any of the powers of the Commissioners which are expressed by the said Act to be exercisable only at a meeting of the Commissioners;

And whereas it is expedient to remove such doubts, by declaring that the said clause (b) refers to powers exercisable at a meeting of the Commissioners;

And whereas it is also expedient to give retrospective effect to such declaration, in order to validate all action taken by bodies of Municipal Commissioners constituted in pursuance of orders issued under the said section 9 on the recommendation of the officers aforesaid;

And whereas, in the case of one of the Municipalities hereinbefore referred to, namely, the Santipur Municipality, the number of the Commissioners was altered by a Notification, No. 1726, dated the 2nd September, 1904, issued under section 9 of the said Act, instead of by notifications issued under both section 9 and section 9A;

And whereas it is expedient to validate the said notification;

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title.

1. This Act may be called the Bengal Municipal (Amendment and Validation) Act, 1910.

Meaning of clause (b) of section 66 of Bengal Act III of 1884.

2. The expression "all the powers and duties of the Commissioners" in clause (b) of section 66 of the Bengal Municipal Act, 1884, shall include, and shall be deemed always to have included, powers and duties which may be exercised and performed at a meeting of the Commissioners, as well as powers and duties which may be exercised and performed otherwise than at such a meeting.

Validation of notification altering the number of the Commissioners of the Santipur Municipality.

3. The Notification No. 1726, dated the 2nd September, 1904, which was framed under section 9 of the said Act and published at page 202 of Part IB of the Calcutta Gazette of the 7th day of September, 1904, shall be deemed to be as valid as if it had been rightly framed and followed in due course by a notification framed under section 9A of that Act; and the number of the Commissioners of the Santipur Municipality, in the district of Nadia, shall accordingly be deemed to have been lawfully fixed at nine, with effect from the 2nd day of September, 1904, and shall remain at nine unless and until the number be altered hereafter by notifications published under sections 9 and 9A of the said Act.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

DÂK BUNGALOWS IN HAZARIBAGH AND RANCHI.

The Hon'ble Mr. K. B. Dutt asked :—

(a) Will the Government be pleased to state whether the provisions of clause (1) of section 100 of the Bengal Local Self-Government Act of 1885 have been extended to the District Boards of Ranchi and Hazaribagh? If so, when?

(b) Will the Government be pleased to state whether any rules have been framed by His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal under the provisions of section 100 of the said Act? If so, where are the same to be found?

(c) Is the Government aware that the District Board of Hazaribagh has opened a house, under the name of Dâk Bungalow, in Hazaribagh, for the residence and accommodation of visitors and families seeking change or pleasure, and have constituted a committee, consisting of the Civil Surgeon, the Superintendent of Police, the Senior Deputy Magistrate, and the District Engineer, for its management, and that the District Board has been advertising the existence of such an institution in Calcutta papers, inviting people to come and stay there on certain terms, in the following words?—

"A fully furnished Dâk Bungalow has been opened under the District Board, with a committee, consisting of the Civil Surgeon, Superintendent of Police, Senior Deputy Magistrate and District Engineer. It is located in a well-lighted and well-ventilated pucca building, with a full set of out-houses, stables and garage, and is centrally situated near the Post and Telegraph Offices, the Club, golf links, and the Courts. Charge is Rs. 4 a day for a single gentleman and Rs. 5-8 and Rs. 6-8 for married couples. Further particulars can be had from the District Engineer, Hazaribagh."

(d) Will the Government be pleased to state how much money the Board have spent in connection with the said institution up to date?

(e) Will the Government be pleased to pass orders directing the closure of the bungalow in question?

(f) Is the Government aware that a suit against the District Board of Hazaribagh is going to be instituted for the alleged misapplication of the District Board funds in constructing and maintaining the said institution?

(g) Will the Government be pleased to state whether a similar institution has been established at Ranchi with the District Board funds?

(h) If so, will the Government kindly state the amount of money spent thereupon up to date?

The Hon'ble MR. WHEELER replied:—

(a) "The provisions of section 100 (1) of the Bengal Local Self-Government Act of 1885 (Ben. Act III of 1885), were extended to the Hazaribagh District Board under Notification No. 1303L.S.-G., dated the 19th March, 1900, and to that of Ranchi under Notification No. 1322L.S.-G., also dated the 19th March, 1900.

(b) "No rules have been framed by the Lieutenant-Governor under section 100 of the Local Self-Government Act of 1885.

(c) "Up till April 1899 a Dâk Bungalow was maintained by Government at Hazaribagh. In July 1908 the District Board resolved to open a Dâk Bungalow under their own supervision. A Committee of Management has been appointed as stated in the question of the Hon'ble Member, and the existence of the bungalow has also been advertised.

(d) "It is reported that Rs. 3,117 has been spent by the District Board upon the bungalow.

(e) "Government is not prepared to order the closure of the bungalow. It appears to meet a need as a staging bungalow for the use of travellers, such as it is open under the Act to the District Board to construct. It is possible that the fact that its existence has been advertised has led to the impression that it was not intended as a staging bungalow of the ordinary type, and His Honour will direct such advertisements to be discontinued.

(f) "Government has no information regarding any impending suit against the District Board in connection with the construction of this bungalow.

(g) "The District Board of Ranchi maintains a staging bungalow at Ichadag to which, it is understood, the Hon'ble Member refers.

(h) "The estimated cost of construction and equipment of this bungalow is Rs. 11,990, of which Rs. 9,078 have been spent up to date."

DRINK TRAFFIC AMONGST THE KHONDS.

The Hon'ble BABU BHUPENDRA NATH BASU asked :—

(a) Has the attention of the Government been drawn to the letter of the Rev. Mr. Millman appearing in the Statesman of the 16th February, 1910, regarding the drink traffic amongst the Khonds?

(b) Is it true that in 1909 the Khonds took a vow to abstain from drink, with the result that licenses for three liquor shops only were sold?

(c) Is it true that in 1910, in spite of the protests of the Khonds, licenses for 27 shops were sold?

(d) Is it a fact that crime and the transfer of land diminished with the diminution in the number of shops and have increased with the increase of shops?

(e) Will the Government be pleased to order an inquiry into the matter?

The Hon'ble MR. WHEELER replied :—

(a) "Yes.

(b) "It was reported in 1908 that the Khonds had taken a vow not to drink, and out of 27 liquor shops sanctioned for the year 1908-09, the licenses of four only were settled, of which three were afterwards surrendered. Later in the year eight shops were settled. It was stated by the local officers that the prevalence of famine conditions and the scarcity of mahua had also rendered the Sunris unwilling to take settlement.

(c) "Twenty-seven shops were settled for 1909-10. Government is not aware whether at that time any protests were made by the Khonds.

(d) "No information is available as to the effect upon crime and the transfer of land of the closure of shops.

(e) "The Commissioner has been asked to inquire into the matter. But it should be noted that prior to the introduction of the auction system in the Khond Mahals in 1888-89 as many as 470 shops were licensed."

THE PATNA COLLEGE.

The Hon'ble MAHARAJ-KUMAR GOPAL SARAN NARAYAN SINGH asked :—

In view of the fact that, since the coming into force of the new rules of the University, there is now no College in Bihar teaching up to the M.A. standard of any subject, will the Government be pleased to state if it be practicable to open M.A. classes in the Patna College for such comparatively inexpensive subjects as English, Sanskrit, Pali, Arabic, Persian, Mental and Moral Philosophy, Political Science, History and some of the simpler Natural Sciences?

The Hon'ble MR. GOURLAY replied:—

"The Patna College has received the full affiliation which the present strength of its staff justifies. The additional affiliation as contemplated by the Hon'ble Member can be obtained only by a corresponding increase of staff, and this is not practicable.

"A comparatively small number of students read up to the M. A. standard, and therefore the policy of the University is to concentrate the teaching in one or two Colleges in Calcutta. Only two Colleges have as yet received affiliation up to the M. A. standard: the Presidency College in four subjects and the Scottish Churches College in two subjects.

"To enable graduates with sufficient ability to prosecute their studies up to the M. A. degree in the Presidency College, Government scholarships have been created."

THE PATNA COLLEGIATE SCHOOL.

The Hon'ble MAHARAJ-KUMAR GOPAL SARAN NARAYAN SINGH asked:—

(a) Has the attention of the Government been drawn to the fact that the Government School in Bankipore is located in a hired house, which has no grounds attached to it for a play-ground?

(b) Will the Government be pleased to state if it is intended to take any steps to meet this want?

The Hon'ble MR. GOURLAY replied:—

"(a) Government is aware that the Zilla School in Bankipore is located in a hired house and that no play-ground is attached. The University requires that a College and a Collegiate school should not be held in the same building, and the removal of the school from the College building was necessary to provide the College with increased accommodation. The arrangements for the school are temporary.

"(b) Inquiries will be made with a view to provide the school with a temporary play-ground."

BIHARI STUDENTS IN CALCUTTA.

The Hon'ble MAHARAJ-KUMAR GOPAL SARAN NARAYAN SINGH, asked:—

(a) Has the attention of the Government been drawn to the fact that the number of Bihari students in Calcutta has increased largely of late; and that, as there is no proper messing arrangement for them in any of the boarding establishments licensed by the Colleges, great difficulty is experienced, especially by the Hindu section of the Bihari students?

(b) Will the Government be pleased to state if any step is intended to be taken to meet the difficulty?

The Hon'ble MR. GOURLAY replied:—

"(a) and (b) Government is not aware that there are no proper messing arrangements for Bihari students in Calcutta. According to the University regulations, it is the duty of the authorities of affiliated Colleges to provide hostels or messes for students of the College not living with their parents or guardians."

BIHARI FELLOWS OF THE CALCUTTA UNIVERSITY.

The Hon'ble MAHARAJ-KUMAR GOPAL SARAN NARAYAN SINGH asked:—

(a) Is the Government aware that at present there are only four Biharis who are ordinary Fellows of the Calcutta University, out of a total of nearly 100, and that, of these four, two are Government Officials?

(b) Will the Government be pleased to bear this in mind when the next batch of nominations has to be made?

The Hon'ble MR. GOURLAY replied:—

"(a) and (b) The nomination of Fellows of the University rests with the Chancellor and not with the Local Government."

PROVINCIAL EXECUTIVE SERVICE.

The Hon'ble MAULVI SAIYID MUHAMMAD FAKR-UD-DIN asked:—

Will the Government be pleased to supply information as to the number of Muhammadans and Bihari Hindus who got appointments to the Provincial Executive Service by the test of competitive examination during the years 1900 to 1904?

The Hon'ble MR. DUKE replied:—

"The number of Muhammadans and Bihari Hindús who were appointed to the Provincial Executive Service by the competitive test in the years 1900 to 1904 was nil."

THE REVISED FINANCIAL STATEMENT.

THE PRESIDENT said:—"Gentlemen: The next business before the Council consists of the presentation of the revised Financial Statement, and the discussion of the Resolutions of which notice has been given. In reference to this, I wish to say just one or two words because a certain misapprehension appears to have arisen in the minds of one or two of the Hon'ble Members. From the notes of their speeches which some of the Hon'ble Members have been good enough to send in, it seems that they are under the impression that at this stage a general discussion of the Budget is permissible. Now, Gentlemen, if those Hon'ble Members had referred to the rules, they would find that this is not contemplated at the present stage. The rules distinctly lay down that at this stage the Hon'ble Member in charge of each Budget head or group of heads shall explain to the Council the nature of the items of revenue and expenditure with which that group or head is concerned and that then it is open to any Member to move a Resolution with regard to that head or group of heads, and then any other Member is at liberty to speak on that Resolution. But if no Resolution has been notified or moved in the regular way, then there is no discussion permissible at the present stage. All the discussion that is required will take place when the Budget is presented to the Council. Some of the Hon'ble Members who have been good enough to send in notes of the heads of their speeches are under the impression that they could discuss the whole subject matter of the Budget at present. Now, I don't wish to cause any disappointment to these Hon'ble Members. Therefore, I propose for to-day's meeting only to allow a certain latitude and I will not, therefore, rule out of order any remarks that may be made, even though no Resolution may have been moved in connection with the particular head or group of heads under discussion. It must, however, be understood in future that the rules must be strictly complied with. This will take effect from Monday next. The rules are the same as they are in the Council of His Excellency the Viceroy, and those of us who belong to both Councils are aware that last week when the Imperial Budget was presented, the rules were strictly complied with and worked easily and well.

"The only stipulation which I wish to lay down at present is that any Hon'ble Member, who without having moved a Resolution, wishes to speak, must confine his remarks to the particular head or group of heads which happen to be before the Council at the time. It will not be convenient if, for instance, when the head of 'Education' is before the Council, that an Hon'ble Member should discuss 'Police' or 'Justice' or anything of that kind."

The Hon'ble Mr. WHEELER presented the Revised Financial Statement for 1910-11.

REVISED FINANCIAL STATEMENT, BENGAL, 1910-11.

FINANCIAL DEPARTMENT.

FINANCE.

CALCUTTA, THE 11TH MARCH 1910.

MEMORANDUM.

IN accordance with rule 10 (4) of the rules for the discussion of the Financial Statement, published with Notification No. 4033 F., dated the 28th December 1909, the following memorandum is circulated indicating the alterations in the figures which have been made since the circulation of the amended draft Financial Statement, Bengal, for 1910-11, on the 5th instant.

2. The only changes which have been made are in the Budget figures, 1910-11, and are under "IV—Stamps" and "I—Land Revenue adjustments." In consequence of alterations in the original Stamp (Amendment) Bill, the estimate of receipts under "Stamps" has been reduced by Rs. 40,000, of which the Provincial share is Rs. 20,000. A consequential reduction of like amount has been made under "Land Revenue adjustments" in the recovery from Provincial revenues in favour of Imperial in connection with the new scheme of taxation. The following corrections have accordingly been made in the Revised Financial Statement:—

	Rs.
IV—Stamps (Provincial share)	(—) 20,000
I—Land Revenue (decrease in assignment from Provincial to Imperial in connection with the new scheme of taxation) ...	(+) 20,000

The Provincial balance on the 31st March 1911 stands at Rs. 70,00,000.

3. Copies of the Revised Financial Statement are circulated herewith.

H. WHEELER,

Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

AMENDED DRAFT FINANCIAL STATEMENT, BENGAL, 1910-11.

In accordance with Rule 10(2) and (3) of the rules for the discussion of the Financial Statement, published with Notification No. 4033 F., dated the 28th December 1909, the following memorandum is circulated in explanation of the general financial situation ofthe province in the current and ensuing years, and the estimates of revenue and expenditure under the various major heads.

2. More detailed notes in connection with the different entries in the estimates are annexed herewith. The main differences in the procedure to be followed this year in the discussion of the Revised Financial Statement now, and hereafter, of the Budget, were explained to the Council on the 28th January 1910. The Council is at present concerned with the Revised Financial Statement, but the detailed notes have been drawn up upon lines similar to those adopted at the presentation of the Budget for 1909-10, there having been no preliminary discussion of the Revised Financial Statement in 1909. Only two changes of importance have been introduced. In connection with the Budget for 1909-10, actual figures of receipts and charges for four earlier years were set forth in the statements furnished to the Council. On this occasion the figures for three years only, starting from 1906-07, have been given, which will, it is thought, afford all the information necessary for the due appreciation of the fluctuations in income and expenditure, while the year 1906-07, being the first year of the current provincial settlement, is a convenient starting point for discussion. Secondly, an attempt has been made to give prominence to the new items of expenditure which appear in the estimates for 1910-11, and in which the Council is particularly interested. The normal recurring expenditure of administration must in any case be provided for; it is from the new obligations to be undertaken that the progress of the province can be gauged. A schedule of new schemes, included in the estimates which are estimated to cost more than Rs. 5,000 in any one year, has been prepared, while mention of the new items of expenditure of less amount has been made in paragraph 11 of the General Review. The latter list is not, perhaps, absolutely exhaustive, but it is not believed that there are any omissions of importance. A distinction also has been drawn between charges which are recurring and those which are of a non-recurring nature, the present financial situation demanding the exercise of caution in the acceptance of fresh recurring liabilities. Those schemes in the schedule which were not considered by the Local Government to be of an obligatory character were considered by the Finance Committee of the Council, and the proposals for new works in charge of the Public Works Department, detailed in paragraph 59 of the General Review, were also laid before them.

3. Since the discussion of the different major heads will be introduced in detail by the various Members in charge, it is not necessary in the present memorandum to do more than draw attention to the salient features of the two years with which the estimates deal. The predominating note of these two years is unfortunately one of depleted balances and limited resources, although the position for the ensuing year has been saved to some extent by the assistance which the Government of India have been able to give us. In the absence of that special help, it would have been impossible to undertake various schemes of importance which are urgently called for. Even as it is, it has been necessary to postpone others, the need for which is scarcely less pressing. In presenting the Budget for the current year, the Hon'ble Mr. Oldham drew attention to the continuous reduction of the provincial balances since the year 1903-04, which he attributed to the heavy outlay incurred on Public Works, to the unusually rapid expansion of the Police and Education Departments, and to the unfavourable seasons of the three years ending with 1908-09, which both necessitated heavy expenditure upon famine relief and the payment of compensation for high prices to the subordinate servants of Government, and checked the growth of revenue which might otherwise have been hoped for. As the Council is aware, our balances are at present swollen fictitiously by the inclusion in them of the sum of Rs. 50,00,000 which is earmarked on account of the Calcutta Improvement Scheme. To understand the true facts this should be left out of consideration, and this is done in the figures quoted below. Assuming its exclusion, it will be seen that the year 1908-09 closed with a balance of Rs. 8,43,000 only, whereas our prescribed minimum balance is Rs. 20,00,000. The Budget for the year 1909-10 was framed upon the basis of an estimated closing balance of nil. Fortunately the net result of the fluctuations of receipts and expenditure proved more in our favour than had been anticipated, and had we been left without any special help from the Government of India other than the usual assignments, the revised estimates for 1909-10 would have shown an estimated closing balance of Rs. 6,95,000. Land Revenue, Public Works Cess, and Irrigation Rates are all anticipated to give a better yield than had been expected, although this improvement is far more than counterbalanced by heavy losses under Stamps, Excise, Assessed Taxes, Forests, Registration, Jails and Education. Under the first five heads it was hoped that the revenue would increase at a normal rate, but the expectation has not been realized. On the expenditure side there are considerable savings, the most satisfactory features of which are the economies under Famine Relief and Grain Compensation Allowance, and the smaller expenditure on measures for the prevention of plague, due to the diminished severity of that disease. At the present moment, however, it has unfortunately recrudesced. In other instances, e.g., the improvement of the prospects of ministerial officers, police reforms and new machinery for the S.S. Guide, expenditure has been postponed rather than avoided. On the other hand, we have been faced with large increases in our expenditure on law charges owing to the prosecution of political cases, and this is in continuation of an abnormal expenditure due to the same cause in the previous year; the cost of the Jail Department has grown perceptibly and is likely to continue to do so; and from the Public Works Department came heavy demands which it was impossible to reject. In fact, from the point of view of the revenue heads to which we ordinarily look for expansion, the year has been most disappointing, while we have had to spend money freely in at least one direction, the necessity for which can only be viewed with extreme regret. Although, therefore, the closing balance under the revised estimates would in any case have been better than the Budget, the results of the year do not give particular cause for congratulation.

4. The Government of India has, however, been able to make to the province a special assignment of Rs. 30,42,000, and thanks to this, a closing balance of Rs. 37,37,000 is now anticipated in the revised estimate for 1909-10. For this liberal measure of aid we are greatly indebted to the Imperial Government.

5. The Budget figures for 1910-11, as provisionally approved by the Government of India, compare as follows with the revised estimates of the current year, and are framed so that the year may close with the prescribed minimum balance of Rs. 20,00,000.

YEAR.		Opening balance.	Receipts.	Charges.
		Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
1909-10 (Revised)	...	58,43,000*	5,77,43,000	5,48,49,000
1910-11 (Budget)	...	87,37,000*	5,58,09,000	5,75,46,000

* Includes Rs. 50,00,000 on account of the Calcutta Improvement Scheme.

Everything at present points to a prosperous year of plentiful crops, but in calculating the expansion which may be hoped for under the important heads of Stamps and Excise, greater caution has been exhibited than in the previous year. Under the head of "Special assignments from Imperial revenues", it is to be noted that the Government of India has renewed the grant of Rs. 1,60,000 for distribution to the Calcutta University and private colleges, and this, according to previous practice, has been divided between the University and the grants-in-aid allotment in the proportions of half and half. Further, we have received the final assignment of Rs. 3,17,000 which is the balance of the provincial share of the grant in-aid towards carrying out the reforms adopted on the recommendation of the Police Commission.

Strictly speaking, this should have been devoted wholly to the purpose of such reforms, but in the peculiar circumstances of the ensuing year some portion has been diverted to other services. The Police Department, however, will have a claim in future years to be reimbursed the sums now withheld from them.

6. On the expenditure side a very satisfactory feature is the reduced provision of only 3¾ lakhs approximately for grain compensation allowance, which has been rendered possible owing to the fall in prices. In the Budget for 1909-10, 9½ lakhs roughly appeared on this account. Otherwise the important new items of expenditure may perhaps be classed according as (a) they are calculated to improve the administrative machinery; (b) are intended to improve the prospects of Government servants (these two classes, of course, overlap); or (c) add to the services which are most appreciated by the public, i.e., Education, Medical and Public Works.

7. In the first category special mention may be made of the provisions for the new Executive Council; for additions to the cadre of the Indian Civil Service and to that of the Provincial Service on account of the requirements of the Settlement Department; for the revision of the establishment of the Insolvency Court and for a new District and Sessions Judge at Sambalpur; and for strengthening the Police, Jail and Excise Departments in various directions, the outlay in connection with the new Presidency Jail being particularly noticeable. In the second class effect has been given to a long-hoped-for reform by the provision made for the improvement of the prospects of ministerial officers, which, under various departments, accounts for no less an outlay than Rs. 5,08,000; an important reorganization of the Bengal Secretariat has recently been approved; expenditure on the services of Civil Assistant Surgeons and Civil Medical Assistants, which has long been asked for, has been allotted (although the former scheme is still under discussion); and a beginning will be made with a scheme of reorganization calculated to encourage the class of Veterinary Assistants.

8. Under "Education" the most important item of recurring expenditure is under the scheme for strengthening the staff of Government colleges with which further progress is being made, while the appointment of an Inspector of Technical Schools and Industries marks a departure of importance. In the matter of buildings the construction of guru-training schools continues to involve a heavy outlay, and a similar expenditure on behalf of Muhammadan education is to be devoted to the building of seven model makhtabs; large schemes are initiated in the commencement of a physical laboratory at the Presidency College and of a hostel at the Calcutta Madrasa; and improvements are to be carried out in the district schools at Ranchi, Purulia and Darjeeling.

9. In the Medical Department, the Medical College, Calcutta, claims the larger portion of the expenditure. The new Surgical Block will be completed, equipped and provided with nurses, for whom quarters also must be built, while the arrangements for the supervising nursing staff, consequent upon the withdrawal of the Clewer Sisters from the institution, have also necessitated the erection of more quarters. Finally, the construction of the fourth block is to be continued, and the Biological and Chemical Laboratories improved. Otherwise, it is proposed to build a ward for insane lepers at the Gobra Leper Asylum and to improve the frontage of the Temple Medical School at Bankipore, while the residence of the Civil Surgeon of Darbhanga is to be improved.

10. In the Public Works Budget (Roads and Buildings) for 1909-10 it was not found possible to make provision for any original works, and all that could be done was to continue the projects already in hand. Among the latter the new Presidency Jail, the extension of the Khulna Jail, the conversion of the Duff College, Calcutta, into a police-station, and the Agricultural College at Sabaur still remain unfinished and make heavy calls upon us. Apart from the works in the Education and Medical Departments to which reference has been made above, the most important new schemes to be initiated this year are a new Central Jail at Monghyr, the Press Block at the new Presidency Jail, the reconstruction of the Garden Reach thana, Calcutta, and improvements to the Civil Court buildings at Khulna, Cuttack and Purnea. Other smaller projects are also to be undertaken in different departments, most of which have already waited some time for the allotment of funds, and of all of which the urgency is great.

11. The energies of the Irrigation Department will mainly be directed towards progress with the Madaripur Bhil Scheme, and the commencement of a lock at Utterbagh in connection with the Magrahât drainage project. Otherwise, the repair of flood damages to embankments and the maintenance of different canals absorb a considerable allotment.

12. Substantial additions are proposed to the "Minor Works" grants at the disposal of different heads of departments, including Commissioners of Divisions, which have been raised in the aggregate from Rs. 2,27,000 in the Budget for 1909-10 to Rs. 3,38,200 in the current Budget. There has been much complaint of the previous inadequacy of these grants. The limit of cost of individual works which are within the powers of sanction of heads of departments was raised in 1908 from Rs. 2,500 to Rs. 5,000, but failing a proportionate addition to the funds at their disposal, the change was prejudicial rather than otherwise, since works between Rs. 2,500 and Rs. 5,000 might, under the previous orders, have been provided for in the Public Works Department. This defect will now be remedied to some extent. Similarly, it is proposed to raise the allotment at His Honour's disposal for petty grants from Rs. 50,000 to Rs. 1,00,000, and that to Commissioners of Divisions for grants-in-aid to minor local improvements from Rs. 75,000 to Rs. 1,00,000. Both grants have a similar object in view, namely, the prompt disposal by the Head of the province and superior officers of local applications for assistance, the need of which can best be gauged on the spot.

13. Among miscellaneous items attention may be drawn to the provision of Rs. 2,00,000 for the purchase of cinchona bark, in supplement of the outturn of our own plantations; the construction of a new launch for the Police Department, and the provision for new boilers for the S.S. Guide, which, under the stress of the current year, was cut out from the Budget for 1909-10.

14. It will be understood that the figures and remarks in the present draft statement are liable to alteration in the light of any later information which may be available prior to the submission of the Budget.

H. WHEELER,

Financial Secretary.

DATED CALCUTTA,

The 5th March 1910.

REVISED FINANCIAL STATEMENT OF THE GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL FOR 1910-11.

Part I.—General Review.

(1) ACCOUNTS FOR 1908-09.

IN the revised estimate for 1908-09, which was laid before the Council on the 28th March 1909, the receipts of the year were taken at Rs. 5,58,55,000, and the charges at Rs. 5,71,06,000. The accounts of 1908-09, as finally closed, show that the actual receipts amounted to Rs. 5,59,03,006 and the charges to Rs. 5,72,33,377, while the closing balance was Rs. 58,43,442 against Rs. 58,77,000 anticipated when the last Financial Statement was presented.

(2) REVISED ESTIMATE, 1909-10.

2. The revised estimate for 1909-10, as now passed on the basis of the actuals of the first nine, and in some cases ten, months of the current year, is compared below with the sanctioned estimate for the year :—

	Sanctioned estimate.	Revised estimate.	Increase (+) or decrease (—).
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Opening Balance ...	58,77,000	58,43,000	—34,000
Revenue receipts ...	5,27,62,000	5,12,43,000	—15,19,000
Adjustments	32,73,000	65,00,000	+32,27,000
Total Receipts ...	5,60,35,000	5,77,43,000	+17,08,000
Grand Total ...	6,19,12,000	6,35,86,000	+16,74,000
Total Expenditure ...	5,69,12,000	5,48,49,000	—20,63,000
Closing Balance ...	50,00,000	87,37,000	+37,37,000

3. The increase under adjustments is due to the additional assignments from Imperial to Provincial detailed below :—

	Rs.
Grant to the Calcutta University, and for distribution to private Colleges	1,60,000
Grant for Archæological expenditure...	5,000
Grant in connection with Captain McCay's deputation to conduct an enquiry into the subject of Jail dietaries ...	13,000
Contribution by the Government of Eastern Bengal and Assam of a moiety of the cost of conducting the Overseer and Sub-Overseer examinations	4,000
Refund of the cost of training in agriculture of Babu Jatindra Nath Chakrabarti, who was deputed to America at the expense of the Government of Bengal, but whose services were subsequently transferred to Eastern Bengal and Assam	8,000
Cost of printing and publishing text-books for the High Proficiency and Degree of Honour examinations in the Tibetan language	2,000
For Capital expenditure on the Madaripur Bhil Route ...	2,000
Special contribution to general provincial revenues ...	30,42,000
	32,36,000
Deduct—
For retransfer to the Military Department of the management of the gardens at Government House, Calcutta	—8,000
For excess of receipts over charges of the office of the Agent for Government Consignments which has been provincialized (raised from Rs. 15,000 to Rs. 16,000)	—1,000
Total ...	32,27,000

4. The falling off of revenue is the net result of decreases under some heads and increases under others. The improvements aggregate Rs. 9,88,000, and are chiefly under the following heads :—

Land Revenue—(Rs. 3,36,000) due to the increased collection of arrears and larger receipts from the redemption of land revenue and the sale of Government estates.

Provincial Rates—(Rs. 2,19,000) due to the increased collection of arrears and larger collection of cess on coal-mines.

Courts of Law—(Rs. 12,000) under fees and fines.

Police—(Rs. 44,000) due to larger recoveries on account of punitive police.

Ports and Pilotage—(Rs. 19,000) mainly under Pilotage receipts.

Miscellaneous—(Rs. 77,000) on account of the sale-proceeds of the steam-trawler Golden Crown and a part of the sale-proceeds of the Jorabagan thana building.

Irrigation Major Works—(Rs. 2,72,000) chiefly owing to larger receipts from water-rates.

The decreases, on the other hand, aggregate Rs. 25,07,000, falling chiefly under the following heads :—

Stamps—(Rs. 4,50,000) chiefly under court-fee stamps and partly also under general stamps ; attributed to stagnation in trade.

Excise—(Rs. 5,75,000). The settlements of shops were very unfavourable, probably owing to the continuance of high prices, and the extension of the contract distillery system in Bihar has so far reduced the revenue.

Assessed Taxes—(Rs. 1,25,000) owing to depression in trade.

Forests—(Rs. 1,50,000) owing to depression in the timber trade.

Registration—(Rs. 1,70,000) owing chiefly to a decrease in the number of registrations effected.

Interest—(Rs. 3,78,000) chiefly under loans to cultivators and partly also under loans to land-holders.

Jails—(Rs. 3,55,000) owing to the decrease in the receipts from jail manufactures on account of smaller demands from the Ordnance Department.

Education—(Rs. 1,78,000) owing to no refunds having been received from District Boards out of the grants made to them for primary school buildings, whereas two lakhs were anticipated from this source at the time the budget was framed.

Scientific and other Minor Departments—(Rs. 48,000) owing to smaller receipts from the sale of quinine.

Irrigation—Minor Works and Navigation—(Rs. 49,000) due to a falling off under navigation receipts owing to the cyclone in October 1909, and to slackness in the jute traffic.

5. On the expenditure side the revised estimate shows a total decrease of Rs. 30,15,000, which is mainly accounted for under the following heads :—

Land Revenue—(Rs. 2,90,000) partly under salaries of officers, partly under net charges of Partition establishments, and partly on account of the delay in giving effect to the recommendations of the Ministerial Officers' Salaries Committee. A lump grant of Rs. 50,000 for Additional Deputy Magistrates and Deputy Collectors was also not utilised, and there were savings under survey and settlement and land records.

Interest—(Rs. 71,000) due to the smaller outstanding balances under the Provincial Loans Accounts.

Police—(Rs. 3,72,000) mainly on account of savings in the grants for grain and conveyance allowances, to savings under constables' pay due to vacancies in the force, to the non-entertainment of additional railway police, and to savings under the head of Contingencies.

Ports and Pilotage—(Rs. 96,000) chiefly owing to the postponement of expenditure on the purchase of new boilers for the S. S. Guide, and to anticipated savings under Pilotage and Pilot establishments.

Medical—(Rs. 1,81,000) due chiefly to savings under District Medical establishments, and smaller grants for plague preventive measures.

Scientific and other Minor Departments—(Rs. 2,16,000) chiefly under the Agricultural Department, and partly also under Veterinary charges, Botanic and other public gardens, Inspector of Factories, and Gazetteer revision.

Miscellaneous—(Rs. 1,44,000) savings in the grant for donations for charitable purposes, petty establishments, Fishery enquiries, the lump provision for grants to District Funds and other miscellaneous charges.

Famine Relief—(Rs. 6,66,000) owing to the necessity for relief measures having been less than was anticipated.

Civil Works in charge of Civil Officers—(Rs. 8,00,000) on account of transfers to other heads.

On the other hand, there was a total increase in expenditure of Rs. 9,52,000, the largest items of which are noted below :—

Courts of Law—(Rs. 3,84,000) specially under Law charges in connection with political cases.

Jails—(Rs. 1,00,000) due to the opening of the new Presidency Jail, and an increase in dietary charges owing to an increase in the number of prisoners.

Civil Works in charge of the Public Works Department—(Rs. 3,90,000) owing to additional grants sanctioned during the year to meet urgent requirements.

6. The net result of these changes is that the closing balance of 1909-10, including the sum of 50 lakhs held in trust for the Calcutta Improvement Scheme, which was estimated in March last at Rs. 50,00,000, is now placed at Rs. 87,37,000. The increase is chiefly due to the special subvention of Rs. 30,42,000 given by the Government of India, partly to restore the normal scale of expenditure on Civil Works, and partly to raise the closing balance to the prescribed minimum of 20 lakhs in 1910-11.

(3) BUDGET ESTIMATE, 1910-11.

7. The opening balance of 1910-11 is the closing balance of 1909-10, and is therefore Rs. 87,37,000.

8. The estimates for the year, as approved by the Government of India, show receipts aggregating Rs. 5,58,09,000, an expenditure of Rs. 5,75,46,000, and a closing balance of Rs. 70,00,000. The special grant of 50 lakhs for the Calcutta Improvement Scheme, which is held in trust by Government, is included in the Provincial accounts. It is estimated therefore that, leaving aside this amount, the balance at the close of 1910-11 will be 20 lakhs, which is the prescribed minimum.

9. The estimate of receipts includes the following special assignments from Imperial Revenues :—

	Rs.
For Police re-organization (comprising grants made in previous years aggregating Rs. 14,50,000 and an additional grant of Rs. 3,17,000 with effect from 1910-11)	17,67,000

	7,51,000

	Rs.
Net total (which does not include the fixed adjustment grant of Rs. 7,39,000 made under the current Provincial Settlement, including which the total comes to Rs. 33,64,000, as shown in the budget under the head "I—Land Revenue—Adjustments.")	26,25,000

10. On the expenditure side, the total estimated charges for 1910-11 are Rs. 5,75,46,000, which is in excess of the income by Rs. 17,37,000.

11. A schedule is attached showing the new schemes costing individually more than Rs. 5,000 which have been included in the budget. The non-recurring charges on account of these schemes amount to Rs. 7,61,812, and the recurring charges to Rs. 15,90,736. PART II.—Detailed remarks on the Budget for 1910-11.

RECEIPTS.

12. Land Revenue.—The total collections under this head in 1908-09 amounted to Rs. 2,92,73,443 and the estimate for 1910-11, as provisionally passed by the Government of India, is Rs. 3,02,92,000, against Rs. 3,04,63,000 the revised estimate for 1909-10. The estimate includes Rs. 11,55,000 for recoveries of Survey and Settlement charges, against Rs. 9,60,000 provided for in the revised estimate for 1909-10.

13. The estimated Provincial share of Land Revenue is calculated as follows :—

	Estimate, 1910-11.
	Rs.
Gross Land Revenue	3,02,92,000
Deduct estimated collections from Government Estates (wholly Provincial)	34,67,000
Deduct recoveries of Survey and Settlement charges (wholly Imperial)	11,55,000
Total Deductions ...	46,22,000
Net amount divisible between Imperial and Provincial funds	2,56,70,000
Provincial share (one-half)	1,28,35,000
Add collections from Government Estates (wholly Provincial)	34,67,000
Total Provincial ...	1,63,02,000
Add adjustments as in Appendix A	33,64,000
Total Provincial Receipts ...	1,96,66,000

14. Stamps.—The budget estimate of the total revenue from Stamps for 1909-10 was passed by the Government of India at Rs. 1,65,00,000. The actuals in 1908-09 amounted to Rs. 1,55,99,838. The actuals of the first ten months of 1909-10, exclusive of receipts on account of unified stamps used as receipt stamps, show a small decrease of Rs. 2,000 as compared with the figures for the corresponding period of the preceding year. In view of the actuals for 1908-09, the revised estimate for 1909-10 has been reduced from Rs. 1,65,00,000 to Rs. 1,56,00,000. The estimate for 1910-11, which has been placed at Rs. 1,67,86,000, allows for a progressive increase of five lakhs, and includes Rs. 6,86,000 being the expected proceeds of the new scheme of taxation sanctioned by the Government of India by the enhancement of the present duties levied on debentures, share warrants to bearer, transfers of shares and debentures, agreements or memoranda of agreements relating to the sale of shares and securities, bills of exchange and probate. The Provincial share is one-half, and thus amounts to Rs. 78,00,000 for 1909-10 and Rs. 83,93,000 for 1910-11.

15. Excise.—The revenue from Excise for 1909-10 was estimated at Rs. 1,79,00,000. The actuals of 1908-09 amounted to Rs. 1,70,01,004, while the figures for the first ten months of 1909-10 show a decrease of Rs. 2,61,000 as compared with the actuals of the corresponding period of the preceding year. The decrease in 1909-10 is due to the introduction of the contract distillery system in certain districts of Bihar and to the unfavourable result of the settlements of shops. The revised estimate for the year has therefore been passed for Rs. 1,67,50,000 ; and allowing for a progressive increase of two and half lakhs and for the expected proceeds from the new scheme of taxation, increasing the tariff rates on beer and spirits, amounting to Rs. 52,000, the estimate for 1910-11 has been placed at Rs. 1,70,52,000. The Provincial share (one-half) amounts to Rs. 83,75,000 and Rs. 85,26,000, respectively.

16. Provincial Rates.—The actual collections of Public Works Cess in 1908-09 amounted to Rs. 36,60,066, and the estimate for 1909-10 was Rs. 36,53,000. The receipts in the first nine months of 1909-10, however, show an increase of Rs. 1,91,000 over those of the corresponding period of the previous year. The annual valuation of existing mines and the first assessment of new mines which were opened in consequence of the development of the coal industry, together with the completion of valuation operations in the Sonthal Parganas, raised the total demand for Public Works Cess for 1908-09 by about Rs. 1,36,000, but the collections in that year were not in proportion to the demand. The arrears are being collected in 1909-10, and the revised estimate for the year has accordingly been placed at Rs. 38,70,000. A reduction in the annual profits of coal mines is anticipated, and there will be smaller arrears to be collected in the coming year; the estimate for 1910-11 has therefore been placed at Rs. 37,90,000. Under "General Rates for the management of Private Estates" the estimate is Rs. 1,85,000, against Rs. 1,63,000, the sanctioned estimate for 1909-10. The increase is due to the levy of higher rates to meet the cost of the Lady Legal Adviser to parda nashin ladies and her establishment, etc. The total estimate for 1910-11 is therefore Rs. (37,90,000+1,85,000=) 39,75,000.

17. Assessed Taxes.—The budget estimate of receipts from Income-tax for 1909-10 was Rs. 58,00,000. The actual collections in the first ten months of the year amounted to Rs. 44,58,000. For the remaining two months of the year the receipts have been taken at Rs. 10,92,000, and the revised estimate has been placed at Rs. 55,50,000. The estimate for 1910-11 allows for an increase of Rs. 3,50,000, and stands at Rs. 59,00,000. The Provincial share (one-half) amounts to Rs. 29,50,000.

18. Forests.—The total receipts under this head for 1910-11 are estimated at Rs. 11,00,000, against Rs. 10,00,000 the revised estimate for 1909-10, and Rs. 11,84,846 the actuals of 1908-09. The Provincial share is one-half, and amounts to Rs. 5,50,000.

19. Registration.—The budget estimate under this head for 1909-10 was Rs. 15,50,000. The collections during the first ten months of 1909-10 show a decrease of Rs. 46,000 as compared with those of the corresponding period of the preceding year, and as the actuals of 1908-09 were Rs. 14,26,043, the revised estimate has been reduced to Rs. 13,80,000, while the estimate for 1910-11 has been passed for Rs. 14,87,000 after providing for a normal increase of Rs. 1,07,000 over the revised estimate for 1909-10. The decrease in 1909-10 is attributed to the smaller number of registrations effected. The receipts of this department are wholly Provincial.

20. Interest.—The estimate of loans, as submitted to the Government of India, provides for a return in the way of interest during 1910-11 of Rs. 8,53,000, as shown below:—

	Rs.
Interest on advances to cultivators, etc.	4,26,000
" " drainage and embankment advances	27,000
" " loans to land-holders	1,73,000
" " " to Municipalities and District Boards, etc. ...	1,84,000
Miscellaneous	43,000
Total ...	8,53,000

21. Law and Justice—Courts of Law.—The actuals in 1908-09 amounted to Rs. 6,39,469, and the receipts in the first nine months of 1909-10 show a decrease of Rs. 30,000 as compared with those of the corresponding period of the previous year. In view of the actuals for 1908-09, the revised estimate for 1909-10 has been placed at Rs. 6,12,000, against Rs. 6,00,000 originally passed. The estimate for 1910-11 has been passed for Rs. 6,24,000.

22. Jails.—The actuals for the nine months ending the 31st December 1909 show a decrease of Rs. 25,000 as compared with the previous year, and a further decrease is anticipated. The actuals of 1908-09 were Rs. 9,21,281, and the revised estimate for 1909-10 has been reduced to Rs. 8,13,000. The estimate for 1910-11 has been passed for Rs. 9,64,000.

23. Police.—The actuals of the nine months ending the 31st December 1909 show an increase of Rs. 38,000 over those of the corresponding period of the previous year, and as the actuals of 1908-09 were Rs. 1,80,904, the revised estimate for 1909-10 has been placed at Rs. 1,89,000. The estimate for 1910-11 is Rs. 1,67,000, as smaller recoveries are anticipated on account of punitive police.

24. Ports and Pilotage.—The budget estimate for 1909-10 was Rs. 15,31,000. This has been raised to Rs. 15,50,000 in the revised estimate, with reference to the actuals of the first nine months of 1909-10. The estimate for 1910-11 is Rs. 15,48,000.

25. Education.—The actuals in 1908-09 amounted to Rs. 7,18,358 and included more than 1½ lakhs, being the refunds made by District Boards of the amounts placed at their disposal in the previous years for the construction of primary school buildings. As further refunds amounting to two lakhs were expected in 1909-10, the budget for the year was passed for Rs. 7,75,000. The actual collections of the first nine months, however, show that nothing has been thus refunded by District Boards. The revised estimate has accordingly been reduced to Rs. 5,97,000, while the estimate for 1910-11 has been placed at Rs. 6,00,000.

26. Medical.—The budget estimate for 1909-10 was Rs. 2,90,000, against Rs. 2,81,855 the actuals of 1908-09. The actual receipts during the first nine months of 1909-10 do not show any marked improvement over those of the corresponding period of the previous year, and the revised estimate for 1909-10 has been placed at Rs. 2,84,000. The increase anticipated in 1909-10 under "Hospital receipts" has not been realized. The estimate for 1910-11 has been placed at Rs. 2,98,000, in view of the increased contributions promised by the Calcutta Corporation to the Campbell and Sambhu Nath Pandit Hospitals.

27. Scientific and Other Minor Departments.—The estimate for 1909-10 was Rs. 3,31,000, against Rs. 2,86,008 the actuals of 1908-09. The Superintendent, Cinchona Plantation, anticipated larger sales of sulphate of quinine in 1909-10, but the actual receipts in the first nine months of the year show a falling off of Rs. 23,000 as compared with those of the corresponding period of the previous year. The revised estimate for 1909-10 has therefore been placed at Rs. 2,83,000. As an increase is expected from the sale of quinine in 1910-11, and as the Director of Agriculture also anticipates an increase in the receipts from experimental farms, the estimate for that year has been passed for Rs. 3,87,000.

28. Receipts in aid of Superannuation.—The budget estimate for 1910-11 is Rs. 61,000, against Rs. 64,000 the revised estimate for 1909-10, and Rs. 59,540 the actuals of 1908-09.

29. Stationery and Printing.—The estimate under this head for 1910-11 is Rs. 1,34,000, against Rs. 1,25,000 the revised estimate for 1909-10, and Rs. 1,29,070 the actuals of 1908-09. The estimate includes increased provision for work done for local and private bodies and miscellaneous receipts.

30. Miscellaneous.—The receipts for 1909-10 were estimated at Rs. 5,83,000, against Rs. 6,34,688 the actuals of 1908-09. In the revised estimate this has been raised to Rs. 6,60,000, including Rs. 60,000 being part of the sale-proceeds of the Jorabagan thana, and Rs. 40,000 being the sale-proceeds of the steam-trawler Golden Crown belonging to the Fishery Department. For 1910-11 the estimate has been placed at Rs. 7,42,000, including the balance of the anticipated sale-proceeds of the Jorabagan thana and Rs. 40,000, the sale-proceeds of the present Garden Reach thana buildings and land.

31. Irrigation—Major Works (Direct Receipts).—The budget estimate for 1909-10 is Rs. 24,36,000, which has been raised to Rs. 27,08,000 in the revised estimate, owing to an increase in the area irrigated. The estimate for 1910-11 has been passed for Rs. 25,92,000.

32. Irrigation—Minor Works and Navigation in charge of the Public Works Department.—The budget estimate for 1909-10 was Rs. 6,33,000, but in view of the collections in the first eight months of 1909-10, amounting to Rs. 3,49,000, as compared with Rs. 3,44,000 in the corresponding period of the previous year, the revised estimate has been reduced to Rs. 5,84,000, against Rs. 5,79,308 the actuals of 1908-09. The decrease is chiefly in navigation receipts from the Orissa and Calcutta canals, owing to the cyclone of October 1909, and also in the receipts from the Nadia rivers. The estimate for 1910-11 is Rs. 6,50,000, an increase being expected owing to the opening of the Ultadanga-Baman ghata Canal.

33. Civil Works in charge of the Public Works Department.—The budget estimate for 1909-10 was Rs. 3,55,000, against Rs. 3,48,202 the actuals of 1908-09. No improvement is now anticipated under this head in 1909-10, and the budget has been repeated in the revised estimate for 1909-10. The same amount has been taken as the estimate for 1910-11.

EXPENDITURE.

34. Refunds and Drawbacks.—The total Provincial expenditure in 1910-11 is estimated at Rs. 1,35,000, against Rs. 1,34,000 the budget estimate for 1909-10, and Rs. 1,31,332 the actuals of 1908-09. The estimates under this head are based, as usual, on the average actuals of the previous three years excluding special payments.

35. Assignments and Compensation.—The budget estimate for 1909-10 was Rs. 70,000, and this has been repeated as the estimate for 1910-11. The revised estimate has, however, been placed at Rs. 66,000 with reference to the actuals of the first nine months of 1909-10.

36. Land Revenue.—The total Provincial expenditure for 1910-11 is estimated at Rs. 39,86,000, against Rs. 37,10,000, the revised, and Rs. 40,00,000 the budget estimate, for 1909-10, as shown below:—

	1909-10.		1910-11.
	Budget.	Revised.	Budget.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
(1) Charges of District Administration	30,00,000	27,40,000	29,77,000
(2) Charges on account of Land Revenue collections ...	4,000	2,000	4,000
(3) Management of Government estates	3,57,000	3,45,000	4,29,000
(4) Survey and Settlement ...	2,58,000	2,45,000	1,60,000
(5) Land Records and Agriculture	4,41,000	3,78,000	4,86,000
	40,60,000		40,56,000
Lump reduction ...	60,000		70,000
Total ...	40,00,000	37,10,000	39,86,000

Under (1) a lump provision of Rs. 34,400 has been made for an increase in the number of Deputy Magistrates and Deputy Collectors, in order to meet the demands of the Settlement Department. A lump provision of Rs. 33,600 has also been made for the appointment of eight new Joint-Magistrates by promotion of Assistant Magistrates. The budget also includes Rs. 1,50,000 for the improvement of the prospects of ministerial officers, in accordance with the recommendations of the Ministerial Officers' Salaries Committee to which effect will be given from the 23rd May 1909, the date upon which the orders of the Secretary of State sanctioning the proposals were received in India. Under (3) a special provision of Rs. 40,000 has been made, in order to take up certain works of improvement in Government estates which are urgently required, and which cannot be financed from the Improvement grant as ordinarily calculated. A separate provision of Rs. 17,000 has also been entered for the management of the Hiranpore Market in the Sonthal Parganas, the accounts of which have hitherto been kept out of the provincial account. Under (5) Rs. 2,93,000 have been provided for initial expenditure in bringing the survey and settlement records in Orissa up to date, Rs. 88,000 for the revision of the record-of-rights in Orissa, Rs. 19,627 for the reproduction of maps, and Rs. 36,000 for the maintenance of records in Sambalpur.

37. Stamps.—The sanctioned estimate for 1909-10 was Rs. 5,05,000, but in the revised estimate this has been reduced to Rs. 4,70,000, owing chiefly to the smaller supply of stamp paper from the Central stores, consequent on the decrease in the sale of stamps, and smaller payments of discount on the sale of stamps. The budget for 1910-11 is Rs. 5,04,000, and closely follows the grant for the current year.

38. Excise.—The total expenditure for 1910-11 is estimated at Rs. 8,83,000, against Rs. 8,30,000 the budget grant for 1909-10. The increase is due to a lump provision of Rs. 32,000 for temporary establishment in connection with the introduction of the contract distillery system in the districts of the Patna and Tirhut Divisions; to a larger provision for travelling allowances which is incidental to the employment of larger establishments; and to larger grants under "Petty construction and repairs" in order to meet the cost of erecting warehouses in the Patna and Tirhut Divisions. The budget also includes provision for the Bengal share of the pay of a joint distillery expert for Bengal and Eastern Bengal and Assam.

The Provincial share (one-half) of the total expenditure is Rs. 4,42,000.

39 Provincial Rates.—The estimate for 1910-11 is Rs. 64,000, against Rs. 50,000, the sanctioned estimate for 1909-10, and Rs. 41,429 the actuals of 1908-09. The increase in the estimate is chiefly under "Collection charges," owing to a provision of Rs. 48,000 for the improvement of the prospects of ministerial officers. One-third of this charge is debitable to Provincial revenues, and two-thirds to District Funds. A small additional provision has also been made for the revaluation of certain chakran and ghatwali lands in Birbhum and other districts.

40. Assessed Taxes.—The estimate for 1910-11 is Rs. 1,63,000 against Rs. 1,64,000 the budget grant for 1909-10, and Rs. 1,60,003 the actuals of 1908-09. The decrease is due to the omission of provision for the revision of the establishment of the Calcutta Collectorate, which was entered in the budget for the current year. The Provincial share (one-half) of the total expenditure is Rs. 82,000.

41. Forests.—The total expenditure for 1910-11 is estimated at Rs. 6,65,000, against Rs. 5,87,000 the budget estimate for 1909-10, and Rs. 5,83,981 the actuals of 1908-09. The increase is chiefly due to the following causes:—

	Rs.
Acquisition of land in and along the Satikhola landslip, in the Darjeeling Division.	4,000
Payment to the Raja of Porahat, in the Singbhum Division, on account of profits of the Porahat Forest	20,000
Completion of Forest buildings in Kurseong	5,000
Part construction or purchase of a house for the Divisional Forest Officer, Chaibassa	3,000
Construction of a rest-house near the Ghish River, in the Tista Division	2,500
Construction of a new Forest office in the Sambalpur Division ...	4,200
Purchase of a new steam-cutter for the Sunderbans Division ...	4,000
Establishment for additional flats for the Sunderbans ...	2,000
Construction of quarters for clerks at Khulna	3,000
Reorganisation of the clerical staff of the Conservator's office ...	5,000

42. Registration.—The estimate for 1910-11 is Rs. 8,13,000, against Rs. 8,24,000, the budget grant for 1909-10, and Rs 8,14,977, the actuals of 1908-09. The budget for 1909-10 included a provision of Rs. 20,510 for the increase of the pay of ministerial officers. No definite proposals for the revision of salaries have been received, and no provision has been made on this account in the budget for 1910-11. On the other hand, provision has been made for a larger number of Sub-Registrars, and grants for temporary establishments and rent of offices for Sub-Registrars have been raised with reference to probable requirements.

43. Interest on ordinary Debt.—This is interest payable from the Provincial revenues to the Imperial Government on the amount advanced by the latter to the Provincial Government for loans to cultivators under the Agriculturists' Loans and Land Improvements Loans Acts, for advances to Co-operative Credit Socities, for advances on drainage and embankment schemes, for loans to notabilities and to municipalities and other public Corporations (excluding Presidency Corporations).

44. General Administration.—The estimate for 1910-11 has been passed for Rs. 21,02,000, and includes the following provisions:—

	Rs.
Additional establishment required in connection with the expansion of the Legislative Council	12,000
Additional grant for travelling allowances of non-official Members of Council	4,000
Salaries, establishment and contingencies of the Members of the Executive Council	2,00,000
Re-organization of the Chief Secretary's office	14,793
Ditto ditto Judicial Secretary's office	9,105
Ditto ditto Financial Secretary's office	8,946
Temporary establishment in the record-room of the Secretariat for copying correspondence for the Secretary of State ...	6,144
Temporary establishment in ditto for arranging and destroying old records	16,176

	Rs.
Personal allowance of the Uriya Translator	600
Temporary establishment in the Bengali Translator's office for the translation of Acts and Bills for the Government of India	3,300
Increased grant for the revision of the Customs Audit establishment	2,004

On the other hand, savings are anticipated in the salaries of the Hon'ble Members of the Board of Revenue to the extent of Rs. 50,000.

45. Law and Justice—Courts of Law.—The total charges for 1909-10 were originally estimated at Rs. 79,20,000, but in the revised estimate this has been raised to Rs. 83,04,000 with reference to the actuals of the first nine months of the year. The increase is large, and is chiefly due to heavy unforeseen law charges consequent upon the outbreak of political crime. The estimate for 1910-11 is Rs. 82,43,000. It includes provision for—(a) the revision of the establishment of the Insolvency Court, Rs. 24,820; (b) temporary establishment for an additional Judge of the High Court, Rs. 5,500; (c) the appointment of a Lady Legal Adviser to parda-nashin ladies, under the Court of Wards, Rs. 16,320; (d) the appointment of a new District Judge for Sambalpur and his establishment, etc., Rs. 52,000; (e) purchase of fire-extinguishing appliances for Civil Courts, Rs. 10,000; (f) improvement of prospects of ministerial officers in Civil and Criminal Courts, Rs. 2,00,000 for 1910-11 and Rs. 1,00,000 for the payment of arrears not drawn in 1909-10; (g) fees for the defence of paupers accused of murder, Rs. 5,000; and (h) temporary establishment for sorting the judicial records of the High Court, Rs. 3,500

46. Jails.—The estimate for 1909-10 was Rs. 27,00,000, against Rs. 27,70,423 the actuals of 1908-09. The actuals of the first nine months of 1909-10 show an increase of Rs. 27,000 as compared with the figures of previous year under "Jails proper," and the total revised estimate for the year has accordingly been raised to Rs. 28,00,000. The increase is chiefly due to the opening of the new Presidency Jail, for which an additional grant of Rs. 69,000 was required, and also to the incidental charges connected with the packing and distributing of pice-packets of quinine, the demand for which has greatly increased. The estimate for 1910-11 is Rs. 28,71,000, and includes provision—(a) for the reorganization of the Jailor's Service sanctioned by the Government of India at a cost of Rs. 16,536; (b) for the appointment of clerks to assist Medical Officers in charge of subsidiary jails at a cost of Rs. 9,300; (c) for the appointment of circle reserve warders at a cost of Rs. 5,424; (d) for establishment and other charges in connection with the new Presidency Jail, which are estimated at Rs. 1,39,486; (e) for revision of the office establishment of the Inspector-General of Prisons, Rs. 2,000; (f) for the revision of factory establishments, Rs. 4,514; and (g) for the employment of two clerks in the Presidency Jail and six clerks in Central Jails, Rs. 3,840.

47. Police.—The following table compares the figures under this head:—

Heads.	Actuals, 1908-09.	1909-10.		Estimate, 1910-11.

In connection with the budget for 1910-11, the Government of India have made an assignment of Rs. 3,17,000 representing the balance of the provincial share of the special grants for the purpose of giving effect to the reforms recommended by the Police Commission, and from this sum the following expenditure is proposed during 1910-11 :—

District Police—

	Rs.
Promotion of Deputy Superintendents—
2 from Rs. 300 to Rs. 400 ... ... } 4 „ „ 250 „ „ 300 ... ... }	4,800

For house rent of married European sergeants and constables of the Calcutta Police	10,000
Increased grant for petty construction and repairs under District Police	50,000
Total ...	2,84,600

48. Ports and Pilotage.—The budget estimate under this head for 1909-10 stood originally at Rs. 12,44,000, but in the revised estimate this has been reduced to Rs. 11,48,000 with reference to the actuals of the first nine months of the year. The decrease is chiefly due to the postponement of the purchase of new boilers for the S.S. Guide, and to smaller expenditure on pilots. The estimate for 1910-11 has been placed at Rs. 12,93,000, and includes a provision of Rs. 57,000 for the purchase of two boilers for the S.S. Guide, a larger allotment for the repairs of Pilot vessels, made on the advice of the Dockyard authorities, larger provision for pilotage allowances to Pilots in anticipation of increased shipping, provision for the house allowances of the Deputy Shipping Master, Calcutta, the Assistant Shipping Master, Kidderpore, and the Surveyor and Assistant Surveyors of steam vessels, Calcutta, and for repairs to leadsmen's quarters.

49. Education.—The following table shows the charges under this head since the year 1906-07 :—

* Includes contributions to District Funds to establish equilibrium, previously shown under the head (since abolished) "Contributions from Provincial to Local."

The budget for 1910-11 includes the following items of expenditure :—

	Rs.
Strengthening the staff of Professors of Arts Colleges (additional)	42,000
Inspector of Technical Schools and Industries ...	17,000
Regrading the sub-inspectors transferred from District Boards to the Provincial Service	17,880
Preparation and translation and editing of the Senior Teachers' Manual	15,800
Preparation and translation of science text-books ...	9,200
Printing charges to be incurred by Inspectors for work done in private presses	3,300

50. Medical.—The budget grant under this head for 1909-10 was Rs. 25,20,000. This has been reduced to Rs. 23,39,000 in the revised estimate, with reference to the actuals of the first nine months of 1909-10. The saving is chiefly under "Medical Establishment" and was due to the non-utilization of the provision for the improvement of the pay of Civil Medical Assistants, to changes in the personnel, and to savings under "Reserve Medical subordinates"; the grants for plague preventive measures were also smaller than in the preceding year, and the provision for the improvement of the Sanitary Department was not expended, since no scheme has, as yet, been sanctioned. The estimate for 1910-11 has been passed for Rs. 25,16,000. It includes Rs. 5,000 for anti-malarial measures, Rs. 41,000 for the improvement of the pay of Assistant Surgeons, Rs. 32,520 for the improvement of the pay of Civil Medical Assistants, Rs. 4,800 for an Inspector of Septic Tank Installations, Rs. 2,000 for an enquiry in connection with Beri-beri which is now in progress, Rs. 6,000 for a Professor of Anatomy in the Medical College, Rs. 18,000 for the establishment and Rs. 50,675 for equipment required for the new Surgical Block at the Medical College Hospital, and Rs. 7,821 on account of the inclusion for the first time of the charges of the Chuni Lall Seal's Outdoor Dispensary in the Provincial account. Rupees 12,000 have been provided for contributions towards the construction of dispensary buildings at Rajmahal and Asansol.

51. Political.—The estimate for 1910-11 is Rs. 55,000, against Rs. 56,000 the budget estimate for 1909-10, and Rs. 52,404 the actuals of 1908-09. The figures call for no special remarks.

52. Scientific and other Minor Departments.—The estimate for 1910-11 is Rs. 14,32,000, against Rs. 14,05,0,0 the budget grant for 1909-10. Provision has been made in the budget for the following charges:—

	Rs.
Larger grants to Veterinary Dispensaries	7,000
Fittings of the Agricultural College at Sabaur	25,000
For purchase of cinchona bark	2,00,000
For a new pumping engine and boiler for the Royal Botanic Garden, Calcutta	5,6: 0

53. Superannuation.—The charges under this head tend to rise year after year, owing to the increase in the number of claims to pension. The estimate for 1910-11 is Rs. 28,11,000, against Rs. 27,20,000 the revised estimate for 1909-10, and Rs. 26,27,146 the actuals of 1908-09.

54. Stationery and Printing.—The estimate for 1910-11 is Rs. 14,16,000, against Rs. 13,30,000 the revised estimate for 1909-10, and Rs. 13,35,983 the actuals of 1908-09. The following table compares the figures:—

HEADS.	Actuals, 1908-09.	Revised estimate, 1909-10.	Budget estimate, 1910-11.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs
Stationery Office at the Presidency ...	57,771	51,000	59,000
Stationery purchased in this country ...	33,646	33,000	34,000
Government Presses	5,71,336	5,90,000	6,67,500
Printing at private Presses	931	1,000	1,000
Stationery supplied from Central Stores ...	6,71,520	6,54,000	6,54,000
Refunds	779	1,000	500
Total ...	13,35,983	13,30,000	14,16,000

The increased provision under "Government Presses" is on account of the printing of the Indian Law Reports, larger provision for overtime fees, and the purchase of printing machines.

55. Miscellaneous.—The budget estimate under this head for 1909-10 was Rs. 5,27,000, but in the revised estimate this has been reduced to Rs. 3,83,000. The decrease is due to smaller provision for rewards for proficiency in Oriental languages, smaller expenditure under donations for charitable purposes and the Fisheries Commission, and to savings under the lump provision for contributions to District Funds and other miscellaneous charges. The Budget for 1910-11 is Rs. 4,98,000, and includes a special provision of Rs. 1,00,000 to be placed at the disposal of His Honour for petty grants, an item which was formerly shown under "Civil Works in charge of Civil Officers." The charges for the Fishery Department are not shown here, but under "Scientific and Minor Departments," as the Department has been placed under the supervision of the Director of Agriculture.

56. Subsidised Companies, Land, etc.—The charges under this head represent the cost of acquisition of land for the Bengal Provincial Railway from Magra to Tarkeswar. This railway belongs to a private Company, but Government meets the cost of land acquisition.

57. Irrigation Minor Works (Working Expenses).—The actual charges during 1908-09 were Rs. 13,97,147, and Rs. 13,44,000 were passed as the budget grant for 1909-10. The revised estimate is Rs. 13,81,000, and the estimate for 1910-11, Rs. 13,50,000.

58. Irrigation Minor Works and Navigation in charge of the Public Works Department.—The actual expenditure during 1908-09 was Rs. 20,32,056. The budget grant for 1909-10 was Rs. 21,31,000, but in the revised estimate this has been raised to Rs. 21,50,000, chiefly on account of the additional grant of one lakh for the acquisition of land in connection with the Ultadanga-Bamanghata

Canal, while a sum of Rs. 37,218 has been transferred to "42—Major Works." The estimate for 1910-11 has been placed at Rs. 22,72,000. It includes Rs. 43,000 for capital expenditure on the Orissa Canals, chiefly for the raising of the flood-bank of the Pattamundi Canal, and for the construction of permanent outlets and new distributaries in progress since the previous year; Rs. 24,200 for the completion of the new Ultadanga-Bamanghata Canal; Rs. 3,42,000 for the Madaripur Bhil scheme; Rs. 40,000 for training works in the River Ganges; Rs. 30,000 for the construction of a lock at Utterbagh in connection with the Magrahât Drainage Scheme, and Rs. 2,15,000 for flood damage repairs to embankments in Midnapore and elsewhere. The estimate also includes provision for special repairs and silt clearance on the Orissa Coast Canal, and special repairs to the Chitpur Lock.

59. Civil Works.—The estimate of expenditure for 1910-11 has been placed at Rs. 52,59,000, against Rs. 49,00,000 the revised estimate for 1909-10, and Rs. 62,93,800 the actuals of 1908-09. The following figures show the distribution of the allotment as compared with the two preceding years :—

	Actuals, 1908-09.	Revised estimate, 1909-10.	Estimate, 1910-11.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.

He said :—"The remarks which it has been customary for the Financial Member to make in presenting the Budget have been circulated in the memorandum which was issued with the Amended Draft Financial Statement. The only change since made in the figures was explained in the memorandum which accompanied the Revised Financial Statement. As Hon'ble Members are aware, the Stamp Bill as finally passed by the Imperial Council was in a slightly modified form as compared with the Bill originally introduced. In consequence of the modification of the Bill, the estimated receipts under Stamps have been reduced by Rs. 40,000, of which Rs. 20,000 is the Provincial share. Our receipts under this head have, therefore, been reduced by Rs. 20,000, but we do not lose anything, because the Government of India take the receipts which are anticipated from the enhanced scale of taxation, and the contribution to that Government on this account is accordingly Rs. 20,000 less."

The Hon'ble MR. SLACKE introduced the following heads :—

Revenue—

I.—Land-revenue.

Expenditure—

3. Land-revenue.
8. Provincial Rates.

He said :—"It falls upon me, Sir, to deal with the Land-revenue and Provincial Rates portions of the Budget.

"I will first deal with the revised estimate for the year 1909-10, as given on pages 1 and 2 of the revised Financial Statement. On the receipt side the increase under Land-revenue and Provincial Rates is mostly due to the good harvests which facilitated the collection of arrears. On the expenditure side the decrease was due to the inability to make full use of the grant because of absences of Civilian officers on leave, deputation of Provincial officers to settlements and valuations, to delay in the discussion of proposals to appoint additional members of that service, and to the fact that the orders with reference to the proposals of the Ministerial Officers' Committee were not received till late in the year and the time necessary to work out the details in connection with these proposals. The Ministerial officers themselves will not suffer, for payments will be made from the date the orders were received. With regard to the increases under the head 'General Rates for the Management of Private Estates,' hitherto the salary of Miss Sorabji has been paid for by the estates in respect of which that lady was specially employed. Experience has shown that, for the administration of Court of Wards' estates, her services cannot be confined to certain specific estates, but must be regarded as available generally, and consequently the cost will, in the future, be met from the Wards' Rate Fund instead of, as in the past, by a special assessment on certain estates.

"Under heading 'Management of Government Estates,' paragraph 36, page 10 of the Revised Financial Statement, the Budget provides for Rs. 84,000 in excess of the revised estimate for 1909-10. Thus, after allowing for certain allotments made in 1909-10, but which will not re appear in this year, such, for instance, as the Sundarbans reclamation scheme, the increase in question is mainly due to a special grant of Rs. 40,000 for special improvements, to the inclusion of the Hiranpur Market in the Provincial accounts for the first time, and to the fact that the actuals of collections were greater than the estimates on which were based the yearly 9½ Management and Improvement grant of Government estates. The special grant to which I have referred is required in order to safeguard a very much larger amount of Government revenue that would have to be remitted unless certain necessary works are carried out—works which it is impossible to finance from the ordinary Improvement grant. As an instance I would give the large Majnamutha and Jellamutha estates in Midnapore, the collections in which depend on the numerous khals and embankments being kept in proper order. I would mention that of the sum required for the Hiranpur Market, Rs. 10,000 is in respect of improvement and Rs. 7,000 to meet the collection of rents.

"The decrease referred to in the same paragraph in the sum estimated under Survey and Settlement in 1910-11, as compared with the revised estimate of 1909-10, is due mostly to less being required in the coming than in the current year for certain settlements. Still, with reference to the same paragraph, the lump reduction of Rs. 70,000 has been made under the orders of the Government of India, who think that the total grant will not be expended during the year and that savings to that extent may be expected.

"Turning to page 19 of the Revised Financial Statement under Receipts, the decrease in the sum budgetted for 1910-11, as compared with the revised estimate for 1909-10, is due to the fact that, owing to good harvests, more arrears were collected in the year 1909-10, and hence there is less to collect in the coming year; and similarly with regard to the figures against Provincial Rates for the year 1910-11 under Land-revenue as compared with those of the revised estimate for 1909-10.

"The increase of expenditure under Provincial Rates in 1910-11, as compared with the revised estimate for 1909-10, is mainly owing to the provision for the improvement of the prospects of ministerial officers in cess offices.

"With reference to heading XII—Interest, on page 27, the decrease under Class III is due to repayments of principal. The item 'Interest on Government securities' relates to interest due on Government securities belonging to endowments of Educational and Medical Institutions, and fluctuates according to the amount of such securities held in the Accountant-General's Office.

"With reference to the details given on page 39 of the revised Financial Statement, no provision has been made for the controlling office because the whole of the expenditure required for control has been distributed amongst the various operations in regard to the supervision of which the Director is responsible.

"The increase under Bengal Drawing Office is due almost wholly to the fact that the amount allotted in 1909-10 for the reproduction of village maps is totally inadequate to meet the requirements of district officers.

"Under 'Other operations' are included the Ganges Diara Survey and the Calcutta Town Survey, and under 'Other settlement operations' the settlement of Government and temporarily-settled estates and reproduction of maps in respect of certain areas in Chota Nagpur. This reproduction is carried out at Ranchi and not in the Bengal Drawing Office.

"The decrease under Superintendence under Land Records in the estimate for 1910-11, as compared with the revised estimate for 1909-10, is due to deductions made by the Accountant-General in respect of work debitable to Imperial.

"It will be seen that for 1910-11 a sum has for the first time been separately provided under Land Registration charges. This is not a new charge, but commencing with 1910-11, the charge has been placed under this sub-head, having been previously included under District charges—Land Records.

The portion of the Land-revenue Budget which relates to General Administration will be dealt with by the Hon'ble Mr. Duke."

The Hon'ble MR. DUKE said :—" Before I pass to the head 'General Administration,' I just wish to mention one or two items under Land-revenue, head No. 3, which have been left to me by the Hon'ble Mr. Slacke. The first is that referred to on page 38 of the detailed statement, the provision of Rs. 33,600 for eight additional Joint Magistrates. The growing necessities of the administration and particularly the want of junior officers to assist District Officers at head-quarters and the want of officers for settlement operations led in 1907 to the preparation of a scheme for increasing the cadre of the Civil Service and that scheme is now before the Government of India. This Government is still unaware of what effect may be given to the scheme as a whole, but there is reason to believe that, as part of it, the appointment of eight Joint Magistrates will shortly be sanctioned and therefore they are provided for, the figure merely representing the difference of pay by the promotion of Assistant Magistrates to be Joint Magistrates.

"The other item to which I have to refer is the provision of Rs. 34,400 for additional Deputy Magistrates and Sub-Deputy Collectors for settlement demands. The settlement operations in this province have constantly been growing and of recent years very great difficulty has been felt in carrying on the work of the revision of settlement in Orissa with the existing staff and the result has been that to ease the strain on the administration, a number of temporary officers not in the regular service of Government have been employed as Assistant Settlement Officers. This is an unsatisfactory arrangement neither tending to efficiency nor fair to the officers themselves. We are now faced with the problem of having to extend revision operations to North Bihar not later than 1912, and we have, therefore, to prepare for these operations and in particular to have the necessary number of officers in training and ready to take up the work when it comes on. Upon the whole it has been found that 18 extra Deputy Collectors and 50 Sub-Deputy Collectors will eventually be required and these will be distributed through the grades of the service. I need not go into details of the eventual cost, which will come up to Rs. 1,76,000, but the necessary addition to the cadre will be made by increases extending over three or four years and in the meantime all that is to be done is to take in 9 Deputy Magistrates and 25 Sub-Deputy Collectors in the lowest grades of the service, that is, the Rs. 200 and Rs. 100 grades, respectively, and provision is made accordingly.

The Hon'ble MR DUKE introduced the following head:—

Expenditure—

18. General Administration.

He said:—"I now pass to head No. 18, 'General Administration.'

"The first item which presents any novel features is that of the Legislative Department, where there is an increase of Rs. 22,000 over the budget estimate of 1909-10, which has been provided for. Of this sum, Rs. 12,000 is for additional establishment required in connection with the enlargement of the Council, and the balance (Rs. 10,000) is for the travelling allowance on account of the increased number of the non-official members and for other incidental expenses.

"The next item also requires notice—the Civil Secretariat. The budget provides for an increase of Rs. 8,000 over the budget estimate for the current year. It includes provision for two considerable schemes of reorganisation. The first of these is the reorganisation of the Civil Secretariat. The last reorganisation of the Secretariat took place in 1892. The establishment was then reorganised on the following principles: progressive salaries were abolished and clerks were arranged in upper and lower divisions. It was intended that all recruitments should be made through the lower division, every assistant starting on a pay of Rs. 40. In practice, however, unpaid assistants or apprentices were constantly employed, and it has been apparent for some time that the system was unsatisfactory. The grading was imperfect and there were too many clerks in the lower grades on inadequate salaries, and men before reaching these grades had to remain without pay. The result was that men of superior attainments were discouraged from entering the Secretariat, and it has begun to be evident that it is very difficult to obtain men of efficient qualifications for the higher posts. It has therefore been resolved that, under the system approved by the Government of India, unpaid apprentices be abolished and the number of assistants in the lower grades diminished.

There are at present 42 men drawing Rs. 40 a month. These will be reduced to 15; and when the new scheme of reorganisation is given effect to, the average value of appointments in the upper classes will be raised from Rs. 199 to Rs. 219, and in the lower grade from Rs. 59 to Rs. 65. Furthermore, a system has been created of direct appointments in the upper division, that is to say, posts which carry Rs. 125 or above are to be re-introduced, and it is hoped that in this way that careers will be opened to candidates of superior attainments.

"The total provision on this account is Rs. 32,000 for the three branches of the Civil Secretariat not including the Public Works Department.

"Then I would refer to the allotment of Rs. 22,000 for temporary establishment in the Secretariat record-room. The record-room is in bad order and suffering from want of attention, and provision has therefore been made for a temporary establishment to carry this out with a view to eventually putting the record-room on an entirely new system.

"I may now refer to the provision for the Executive Council under the Board of Revenue. We are still unaware of the date and personnel of the Council which will be created in this Province, but there is every reason to expect that the appointment will be made shortly. It is assumed that there will be three members, and for budget purposes the salaries of these three members have been taken at Rs. 64,000, and Rs. 8,000 has been added for incidental charges and contingencies.

"It is anticipated that if the Executive Council is created the post of, at least one of the members of the Board of Revenue will be abolished, and accordingly a reduction of Rs. 50,000 has been made in the charges of the Board.

"Under the head of Commissioners, there will be found a slight increase for establishment on account of the increase of the pay of ministerial officers in accordance with the recommendation of the Salaries Commission, but upon the whole this will be more than counterbalanced by savings under compensation for the dearness of food.

"While dealing with this head, I will, with your permission, refer briefly to the statement of Civil Works, paragraph 59, page 16. These are works which are required for the purposes of general administration, and it is more suitable for me to deal with this, than it would be for the Secretary in the Public Works Department. The first of the works to which I refer is the construction of new court buildings at Angul. The existing building is a small one and a new one is badly required. Of the total cost—which is under Rs. 40,000—Rs. 18,000 was provided in the current year and Rs. 20,000 is provided now to complete it.

"The next item, the Deputy Commissioner's residence at Sambalpur. The existing house is a small one and ill arranged, and the work in it is of very poor quality. The total estimate is about Rs. 31,800, of which Rs. 10,000 is provided in the current year, and this will practically provide for its completion.

"The next item, Rs. 25,595, for the re-construction of the sub-divisional office building at Tamluk in Midnapore. The present buildings are unsightly and inconveniently situated huts, and a proper office is badly required.

"The next item is Rs. 6,790 for some small addition to the sub-divisional office building at Jajpur, Cuttack. This office is already crammed to bursting point, and the Bench have no place to sit in.

"Rupees 7,053 is provided for the extension of the sub-divisional office at Aurangabad. The existing record-room is unsafe, and some accommodation for the Sub-Registrar and a verandah for the court-room, which is uninhabitable in the hot weather, are required.

"These, I think, are the only items which require any special explanation."

The Hon'ble MR. DUKE also introduced the following heads: —

Revenue—
IX.—Forests.

Expenditure—
11. Forests.

He said:—"The budget for 1910-11 shows an increase of over a lakh over the revised estimate for 1909-10, and a decrease of 2 lakhs as compared with the sanctioned estimate for 1909-10. Forests being divided between Imperial and Provincial, these figures have to be divided by two to obtain the Provincial share.

"The decrease in the revised figures for 1909-10 is entirely accounted for by head 'Receipts for Timber and other Produce removed from the forests by consumers or purchasers'. This is to be attributed to the depression in the timber markets, which depression is partly due to the general depression of trade and partly to increased imports of Australian and other foreign woods. There is also some further loss on account of decrease in the quantity of sabai grass in Singhbhum. Upon the whole we anticipate that the timber trade will begin to improve, and we also anticipate some increase of revenue from the extension of mica-mining in Palamau. The estimate for 1910-11 has accordingly been fixed at Rs. 10,41,700.

"On the 'Expenditure' side a total provision of Rs. 6,65,000 has been made, being an increase of Rs. 78,000 over the sanctioned figure and Rs. 84,000 over the revised figures for 1909-10. The Provincial share of this expenditure will be Rs. 3,32,000.

"There is an increase of Rs. 51,000 over the sanctioned figure for 'Conservancy and Works', and Rs. 5,17,000 over the revised figures. This increase is largely accounted for by the head 'V—Payment to shareholders in forests managed by Government', Rs. 20,000, which is payable to the Raja of Porahat whose forests are leased to Government. Then there is also a large sum of Rs. 98,800 for 'Communications and Buildings'. That sum exceeds by about Rs. 20,000, the sanctioned estimate, and by Rs. 70,400, the revised estimate. The increase is due to the provision of a number of urgent non-recurring schemes estimated to cost Rs. 5,000 or less.

"I do not think it is necessary to remark upon any of the small items which are separately detailed on page 14. I shall be happy to give any explanation which may be required regarding them, but detailed explanations are unnecessary.

"I now turn to establishments. The total amount provided is Rs. 2,63,000, which gives an increase of Rs. 27,000 over the sanctioned estimate of 1909-10. This is accounted for by the head 'Salaries'. A re-organization of the Imperial and Provincial Forest Services for Bengal has been lately sanctioned by the Secretary of State, and the effect of this is to provide one additional Extra Deputy Conservator for this Province, and as the department was also short of another officer, there will be the full salaries of two officers, one on Rs. 500 and one on Rs. 450. This involves a corresponding addition to the ministerial establishment."

The Hon'ble MR. DUKE also introduced the following heads:—

Revenue—
XXI.—Scientific and other Minor Departments.

Expenditure—
26. Scientific and other Minor Departments.

He said:—"I now turn to item XXI on the receipt side.

"Taking the revised estimates for 1909-10 on the receipt side, there is a decrease of Rs. 48,000 on the original estimates. This is principally due to a falling off in the sale of quinine, Rs. 40,000. The estimate is based on actuals, but it is possible that at the end of the year it will be seen that the loss is not so great as anticipated. There is a slight decrease of Rs. 8,000 under 'Emigration fees.' On the expenditure side sanctioned provision for 1909-10 was Rs. 14,05,000, and the revised estimate shows a decrease of Rs. 2,16,000. The principal items which contribute to this decrease are: experimental cultivation which accounts for Rs. 1,59,000 (of which the Hon'ble Mr. Gourlay will give some explanation), veterinary and stallion charges Rs. 30,000, cinchona plantation Rs. 14,000, Botanical and public gardens Rs. 24,000, and Inspector of Factories Rs. 17,000, and Gazetteer and Statistical Memoirs Rs. 13,700.

"I take the items in connection with the budget figures for 1910-11 one by one.

"There is an increase of Rs. 1,04,000 over the revised figures for 1909 10.

"The principal items of increase is cinchona plantation. Increased sales of quinine are anticipated, the number of grains in the packet being raised from 7 to 10, and arrangements have been made for supplying the drug in tabloid form, in which it will be practically tasteless, and so it is hoped will be more generally acceptable. Steps have also been taken to increase the number of centres of distribution by enlisting the services of school masters, vaccinators and private practitioners, and it is therefore anticipated that there will be a considerable increase of revenue.

"The only other item of importance is experimental cultivation, which shows an increase of Rs. 27,000, and to this the Hon'ble Mr. Gourlay will refer.

"Coming now to expenditure (Rs. 14,32,000), there is an increase of Rs. 2,43,000 over the revised figures of the current year.

"In the year 1907 a scheme for the reorganization and extension of the Veterinary service of the Province was sanctioned by the Secretary of State. The scheme provides for a large increase in the number of veterinary assistants, both stationery and peripatetic, and the charges for these will be shared between Government and the local authorities, under whom they are employed under the present system, the charges for which will be entirely provincial. The scheme will be brought into force gradually as funds permit. Some provision in furtherance of the scheme was made in the budget for 1909-10, but it continued under discussion for about a year and practically very little progress was made. It is partly on this account that there is so large a decrease in the revised figures for the current year, but there is also a large saving (Rs. 21,217) under 'Supplies and Services.' It is hoped that the scheme will now go forward.

"Out of the amount stated above, Rs. 10,000 is provided for the reorganization of the veterinary assistants' services in the coming year.

"Under the head 'Cinchona plantations' there will be an increase of Rs. 1,61,147 over the revised and Rs. 1,67,000 over the sanctioned figures for the current year. This is due to the provision of 2 lakhs as against ½ lakh for the current year for the purchase of cinchona bark. The reasons for making this largely increased provision is partly in anticipation of the increased sales of quinine, but also the fact that the supply from the Government plantations is necessarily inelastic. It takes 10 years for cinchona to mature. It is therefore proposed to purchase sufficient to provide an outturn of 40,000lbs., which will suffice for a reasonable reserve. Another reason for making purchases at the present time is that the price of the raw material shows an upward tendency.

"I will refer to the item under 'Civil Works,' which is the concern of this department: this is the construction of a new bulding at Munsong at a cost of Rs. 13,000. This bungalow is required to house the officers in charge, when the plantation inspection is going on at Munsong. There is some decrease (Rs. 24,000) in the case of the Botanical gardens, etc. This is partly due to smaller expenditure on account of the Zoological Gardens.

" Last year, when the budget for the current year was under preparation, it was anticipated that the extension of the Zoological Gardens would be carried out by the purchase of the adjoining premises known as Kidderpore House, and provision of Rs. 10,000 was made for the appointment of a Superintendent of higher qualifications on higher pay. The extension of the Garden has not been found possible, and there is no present prospect of its being undertaken, and accordingly no provision has been made. A new pumping engine has to be provided for the Royal Botanical Garden at a cost of Rs. 5,600 to replace the old one which has worn out.

" There are changes of some importance in respect of the Inspector of Factories and of the Gazetteer, but I need not go beyond the explanation in the remarks column. There is an increase under 'Co-operative Credit Societies' (Rs. 42,000), as compared with the sanctioned revised figures for 1909-10. This is partly due to the fact that there were exceptional savings in 1909-10 owing to the absence of the Registrar on leave, and also for the further reason that provision is now to be made for three auditors.

" Fisheries.—During 1909-10 there was budget provision for Rs. 1,65,000 under the head '32—Miscellaneous'. Operations, however, were completed earlier than was anticipated, that is to say, the deep-sea fishery operations, and the revised estimates were only Rs. 1,14,000. The 'Golden Crown' has been sold and the post of Fishery Commissioner, which was a temporary post, will lapse, and the department will cease to exist as a separate branch of the Administration. The department in future will be carried on under the Director of Agriculture, and for the next few years will principally be confined to the investigation and improvement of freshwater fisheries, so that the provision now made is entirely for these purposes. The budget consists of Rs. 7,500 of non-recurring charges, principally with a view to the provision of fish-breeding tanks, Rs. 32,500 of recurring charges, salaries of assistants Rs. 11,400, temporary establishment Rs. 6,200, travelling allowance Rs. 6,500, contingencies and unforseen Rs. 10,000.

The Hon'ble Mr. Gourlay will explain the minor head 'Experimental cultivation'."

The Hon'ble MR. GOURLAY said:—" I have been asked by the Chief Secretary to deal with the minor head 'Experimental cultivation.' The provision made for agriculture is Rs. 3,89,000—Rs. 1,11,000 less than last year, and on the receipts side there is an estimated income from the farms of Rs. 54,000. Although the provision in the budget is for experimental cultivation, this minor head includes also the whole work of the Agricultural Department, including agricultural education.

" In any scheme of scientific agriculture there must be four stages. There is, first of all, the provision for a research station and research officers. There is next the provision of farms for experimenting with the results obtained by research. Thirdly, there is the work of demonstrating the results of experiments to the cultivators and instructing them in scientific methods; and hand in hand with these three stages is the scientific training of the expert officers to carry out the experiments, the demonstration and the instruction. These four stages are all in addition to the ordinary needs of a country for agricultural education. Agricultural education may be divided into two classes: first, an education the aim of which is to train experts, whose duty it will be to carry on scientific research and to demonstrate the results, and to educate the agricultural community; and, secondly, an education the aim of which is to train the agricultural community itself in scientific methods. For this purpose in Bengal the agriculturists are divided into two classes: the landholder, who cultivates his land by means of hired labour, and the raiyat who does the most of his cultivation by means of his own family. For the training of experts and of the landholders we require a college, and it is only by means of a college that we can train teachers who will impart instruction to the raiyat. Therefore the first necessity in any scheme for the introduction of scientific agriculture is the provision of an agricultural college.

"We have established in Bengal a research station at Sabaur, near Bhagalpur, which has a staff of expert officers who are at present engaged in scientific work. The scheme of organisation for Bengal provides for an experiment station in each of the homogeneous tracts of the Province which correspond roughly with the different Divisions. Stations have been established at Bankipore, Bhagalpur (Sabaur), Chinsura and Cuttack; but owing to the financial stringency it has not been found possible to provide money for the proposed stations at Ranchi, representative of the Chota Nagpur plateau, and at Kharagpur, representative of the laterite area.

"It is also proposed to have demonstration farms where the results of our experiments can be demonstrated at the headquarters of every district, and in time, at the headquarters of each sub-division, and to have attached to each of these stations an itinerant Inspector whose duty it will be to tour through the districts and to demonstrate scientific methods and instruct the cultivators how to carry these out. But all these schemes require funds which are not at present available, and they require more than funds—they require a staff of trained officers. Provision has already been made in the college at Sabaur for the teaching of scientific and practical agriculture. The college building is approaching completion, and it is hoped that the fittings will be completed by November and that it will be possible to commence teaching then. The professorial staff will almost entirely be supplied by the research officers and their assistants who reside at present at the college. For the first year it is not proposed to take any large number of students, probably 15 or 20 at the outside, for the research staff themselves have to gain experience in tutorial work. It is not proposed during the first year to charge any fees for the courses, but neither is it proposed to offer any large number of scholarships. It is hoped that we will be able to attract, without other inducements, except a practical agricultural training, a sufficient number of the sons of zamindars and landholders of Eastern Bengal and Bengal, and thus to be able to give a scientific training to men who are interested in agriculture for its own sake.

"These remarks practically cover the whole of the provision for agriculture in the Financial Statement. The decrease in the estimates is due to the necessity at present for expanding slowly, and also to the fact that last year's estimates included a large provision for the completion of the college at Sabaur.

The Hon'ble MR. W. C. MACPHERSON introduced the following heads:—

Revenue—

V.—Excise.

Expenditure—

7. Excise.

He said:—"I present, Sir, the figures relating to the receipts and charges of the Excise Department. They are to be found on pages 25 and 41 of the Financial Statement. Next to the item of Land-revenue, the Excise revenue is the most important item of the Provincial resources. It was originally estimated that the total excise revenue for the current year would be 179 lakhs, but the present estimate is that it will be 167½ lakhs only. For 16 years, from 1892 to 1908, the Excise revenue rose steadily from 111 lakhs to 171 lakhs, and in recent years there was an annual increase of about 8 lakhs. Last year, however, there was a check of the increase of the Excise revenue which fell short of that of the preceding year by about ¾ of a lakh. This check was principally due to scarcity and high prices, to the failure of the mahua crop and to dull markets in lac, coal and mica which decreased the consumption of country spirits, but it was also partly caused by the reduction of license-fees in the Bhagalpur Division, consequent on the substitution of the contract distillery system for the system of outstills.

"The high prices of food-grains have continued to operate during the present year, and other causes have led to a further decrease of revenue in the current year, viz., the restrictions made in the issue of opium with the object of checking the smuggling to Burma and the abolition of the outstills in the greater part of the Patna and Tirhut Divisions, which will have effect from the 1st April next, and which has resulted in a large decrease of the advance fees paid for licenses.

"Down to the end of January the receipts for the current year were 2½ lakhs behind those of the preceding year. Although there has been a decreased consumption of country spirits in Calcutta in the last two years, there has been an increase of about 1 lakh in the license fees of country spirit shops just settled in Calcutta, and there has been a similar increase in some of the Bengal districts which, however, is more than counterbalanced by the large decrease in the license fees settled in Bihar.

"The estimate made of receipts for 1910-11 is 170½ lakhs, including half a lakh of additional taxation on Indian liquor passed at the tariff rate. As it may be anticipated that the loss under the head of 'License fees' in the current year will be counterbalanced by receipts next year under the head of 'Duty', the estimate for next year appears to be reasonable and perhaps moderate in view of the better harvests. Of the total revenue of 170 lakhs, 90 lakhs, or more than half, come from country spirits, nearly 30 lakhs from ganja, 27 lakhs from opium, 12 from tari, 6 from pachwai and 4¾ from license fees for selling foreign liquors and duty on Indian-made liquors excised at tariff rates.

"Hon'ble members will remember that these figures do not include about 30 lakhs of import duty on foreign liquors collected under the head of 'Customs revenue' which will be much increased next year on account of the increased tariff.

"Of the total excise revenue of 170½ lakhs, the provincial share is one-half or 85¼ lakhs.

"I turn to the expenditure figures. The expenditure for next year is estimated as 8¾ lakhs, half of which is provincial. The increase of expenditure in recent years is due partly to improvement of the pay of the permanent establishment and to better allowances sanctioned for Deputy Collectors, but is chiefly due to the employment of additional temporary establishment which will eventually have to be made permanent in districts in which the contract distillery system has been introduced, and to the construction of a number of warehouses in connection with the system. A similar increase of expenditure is contemplated in 1910-11 in consequence of the extension of the district distillery system in Bihar, and there is an additional item of Rs 6,000 on account of the pay of the distillery expert whose services are shared between Bengal and the eastern provinces. Reference is made to this special item of expenditure on page 69 of the Financial Statement."

The Hon'ble MR. W. C. MACPHERSON also introduced the following head:—

Expenditure—

6. Stamps.

He said:—"I introduce, Sir, the figures relating to expenditure under the head 'Stamps.' They are to be found on page 40 of the Financial Statement. It will be observed that it is estimated that the expenditure of next year will be Rs. 5,04,000, against Rs. 4,70,000, the revised estimate for the current year. The difference is chiefly in regard to discount and the cost of stamp paper. Half of this expenditure is Imperial and half is Provincial."

The Hon'ble MR. W. C. MACPHERSON also introduced the following head :—

Expenditure—

10. Assessed Taxes.

He said :—"I present the figures relating to assessed taxes, that is, Income-tax. They are to be found on page 42 of the Financial Statement which shows charges of Rs. 1,63,000 for next year against Rs. 1,55,000 for this year. These charges, too, are half Imperial and half Provincial. There is nothing special in the figures to which I need draw attention."

The Hon'ble MR. GOURLAY introduced the following head :—

Expenditure—

19A. Courts of Law.

He said :—"It falls to me to lay before the Council the principal features of the Financial Statement so far as it concerns the Courts of law. The minor heads of expenditure will be found on pages 46 and 47 of the Financial Statement. There is a net increase of 3·37 lakhs in expenditure. The estimate amounts to 82½ lakhs, of which the High Court accounts for 14½ (an increase of ·45), law officers 5 lakhs (an increase of ·42), Civil and Sessions Courts 35 lakhs (an increase of 1·54), and Criminal Courts 24 lakhs (an increase of 2·40). Out of the gross increase (which amounts to 4·78 lakhs), 3 lakhs is due to the provision for the improvement of the prospects of ministerial officers in Civil and Criminal Courts. This is to give effect to the recommendation of the Ministerial Officers' Salaries Committee. The scheme has been sanctioned by the Secretary of State, and will take effect from the 23rd of May, 1909. A portion of the cost of the scheme has already been provided for by the grant of personal allowances: of the remainder of the cost, the arrears of 1909-10 are estimated at one lakh, and the total cost for 1909-10 at two lakhs.

"Under the minor head which provides for the High Court, there are but two items which appear to call for special notice,—the first is the provision for a Registrar of Insolvency and the revision of the establishment of the Insolvency Court. On the 1st of January, 1910, the new Presidency Towns Insolvency Act, III of 1909, came into force. The new Act and the new rules introduced changes of procedure and practice which added considerably to the work done by the Insolvent Court under the old Act, and the delegation of some of the powers of the Court necessitated additions to the present staff. Accordingly the appointment of a Registrar on a salary of Rs. 1,500 to Rs. 1,800 per mensem and of a chief clerk has been created. The other item is the provision of Rs. 5,500 for the establishment of the fifteenth Judge recently added to the High Court.

"The next minor head provides for the law officers of the Crown. Under this there is a provision of Rs. 16,320 for the Lady Advisor to the pardanashin proprietors under the Court of Wards. The Lady Adviser was appointed in 1904 on a retaining fee to advise pardanashin ladies, and the work done by her has been so much appreciated that it is now proposed to make the post permanent and pensionable. The charge has hitherto been paid directly by the estates concerned, but now appears in the budget for the first time. It is not in reality an additional item of expenditure, since the charge will still be met from the recoveries from private estates, which will be credited under provincial rates, and one quarter of the charge will be recovered from the Government of Eastern Bengal and Assam.

"A provision of Rs. 5,000 has been made for the fees for the defence of paupers in murder cases. This requires few words from me to commend it. The object is to provide, at the expense of the State, proper legal advice to men accused of murder who have not the means to procure it for themselves.

"Under the minor heads 'Civil and Sessions Courts' the principal new item is a provision of Rs. 53,000 for the salary and establishment of the recently-created post of District and Sessions Judge of Manbhum-Sambalpur. When the district of Sambalpur came over to Bengal in 1905 it was attached to the Judgeship of Cuttack. But it was neither in the interests of efficiency or economy that the Judge or the parties should be compelled to make a journey occupying from 24 to 36 hours before the judicial work could be disposed of. It had also long been felt necessary to relieve the Judicial Commissioner of Chota Nagpur and the District and Sessions Judge of Bankura of some of the work which they were called upon to perform. The Sessions Judge of Bankura formerly heard the sessions cases of Singhbhum and Manbhum at Purulia, and the other work of these two districts was performed by the Judicial Commissioner of Chota Nagpur. By the creation of the new Manbhum-Sambalpur Judgeship all these difficulties have been solved. The Judge has his headquarters at Purulia, but will spend one month in every quarter in the district of Sambalpur.

"The fire which took place in the Civil Court at Chapra brought to light the necessity for providing Civil Courts with fire-extinguishing appliances. Accordingly a sum of Rs. 10,000 has been provided for supplying buckets and fire grenades, etc., to 120 Civil Court buildings in the Province.

"Another important item which comes under the minor head of 'Criminal Courts' is a provision of Rs. 12,090 for establishment in the Courts of Honorary Magistrates. In the past it has been the custom, in many cases, for a clerk of the regular establishment to undertake the Bench work in return for a small extra allowance; but it was felt that Honorary Magistrates who give their work for nothing were entitled to a proper establishment, and that the work ought to be done by the regular establishment of the office as part of their regular duties. This has, in many cases, entailed the addition of an extra clerk to the local staff. A sum of Rs. 10,626 is provided to meet the cost of the extra establishment sanctioned in 1909-10, and the balance is for additional requirements which may be sanctioned during 1910-11.

"The increase of Rs. 21,000 in the provision for process-serving establishment of Criminal establishment is apparent rather than real. Formerly two-thirds of the cost of the process-serving establishment was debited to Land-revenue and one-third to the head 'Law and Justice.' To simplify accounts, the procedure followed in allocating the cost of the staff, employed partly in revenue work and partly in criminal work, has been followed and half debited to each department.

"The amount of money available for new works is very limited, but it has been found possible to provide money for three urgent projects. The first of these is the building of a new record-room for the District and Sessions Judge at Purnea. The congested state of the Purnea Judge's record-room was brought to notice by the High Court as far back as 1905, and the provision of extra accommodation has become an urgent necessity. The project provides for a centre room with two wings, and it is proposed to build the centre room and one wing at present. The second project is the extension of the present Civil Court buildings at Khulna at an estimated cost of Rs. 65,000. Since the new Judgeship was created in 1908, the judicial staff have had to work for the greater portion of the year in tents, and when these became uninhabitable they found accommodation in the verandahs of the old Court building. The provision of a proper Court for the new Judge is a matter of urgency. The old Cuttack Civil Court building dates from 1811, and the original rooms in which the Court was held in those days have been gradually enlarged by breaking down the walls, building up verandahs and making additions which have rendered the main Court-rooms almost uninhabitable. The new Civil Court, which is estimated to cost $1\frac{1}{2}$ lakhs and for which a sum of Rs. 52,617 is provided in the estimates for 1910-11, will be situated near the Revenue Court buildings and close to the Commissioner's house on the banks of the river, and I am sure that the Hon'ble Members who represent the Orissa Division will welcome this improvement of their capital."

The Hon'ble BABU DEBA PRASAD SARBADHIKARI, with the leave of the President, withdrew the following Resolutions of which he had given notice :—

"The Council recommend to the Lieutenant-Governor that provision be made in the Budget for an additional sum of Rs. 50,000, under the heading 'Courts of Law,' for improvement of the status and prospects of the Provincial Judicial Service of Bengal on the following lines and in the following manner, or such other lines and manner as may commend themselves to the Government :—

(a) By creating a new grade of Rs. 500 for Munsifs who exercise jurisdiction up to Rs. 2,000, or by providing for a personal allowance of Rs. 100 each for officers exercising such jurisdiction.

(b) By raising the pay of the lowest grade of Subordinate Judges to Rs. 700, or, in the alternative, by reducing the number of Subordinate Judges in the lowest grade on the existing pay from 25 to 15, and proportionately increasing the number in higher grades.

(c) By providing for the grant of privilege leave on full pay, by allowing privilege leave to be added to the Puja vacation, by allowing reasonable joining time when officers are transferred during short vacations, by providing for officers' quarters where none exist, and by reducing the rent where quarters have been provided, by increasing the numerical strength of the service, by providing for employment of a larger number of Subordinate Judges as District and Additional Sessions Judges and Assistant Sessions Judges, who should be allowed to draw two-thirds of the salary drawn by members of the Indian Civil Service holding similar appointments, and by providing for special pensions in the case of meritorious officers earning the prize appointments of their service.

"The Council further recommend to the Lieutenant-Governor that the 'Grants placed at the disposal of Divisional Commissioners for petty local works of improvement' be reduced by Rs. 50,000."

He said :—"As your Honour has just pointed out, under the new rules a general discussion as to matters arising out of the Financial Statement is at this stage not permissible, and we are much obliged for the latitude just accorded for the time being. I, therefore, crave permission to say a few words by way of explaining my reasons for giving notice of the Resolution which stands in my name. I desire in the first instance to express our great obligation for facilities provided for discussing and proposing alterations of the items in the Financial Statements under those rules, which your Honour has been largely instrumental in securing for us. In the second place, I desire to congratulate your Honour and your Honour's Government on securing favourable terms from the Government of India and making the best of the available resources, which has made a financial equilibrium of the Province possible. Last year I had occasion pointedly to take exception to the inclusion of the fifty lakhs of rupees earmarked for the Calcutta Improvement Scheme in our apparent working balance, which I claimed was purely trust money, in no way available for the current Provincial purposes, and therefore forming no part of the working balance, and my view did not quite commend itself to the Hon'ble Mr. Oldham, then in charge of the Financial portfolio. But there has since been a change of view in the Financial Secretariat regarding this matter, and our present Finance Member has been pleased to state in his informing note on the Financial Statement now before the Council, on the vigour and clearness of which I desire to congratulate him, that 'our balances are at present swollen fictitiously by the inclusion of the sums' which I mention. We fully and cordially share the views of your Honour and your Honour's Government about the doubly regrettable need of spending large sums of money on the imperatively urgent work of stamping out disorder and lawlessness, the penalty for which has to be paid by the country at large in the shape of straitened Educational, Sanitary, Public Works and Judicial Departments. We rejoice and are thankful that in spite of depleted balances and limited resources it has been possible to make increased educational, medical and sanitary grants and grants for the long-needed bettering of the medical service and the ministerial department of our law courts and Secretariats, all which spell increased administrative efficiency. Many of the matters that I and my colleagues on the old Council have been pressing on your Honour and your Honour's predecessor during the last few years have thus received attention, and if all have not been dealt with to the full measure of our expectation, it is not because of want of sympathy or willingness to assist on the part of Government, but of want of its resources.

"Those of us that have not been members of the Finance Committee brought into existence under the new rules have not had time enough to go into the details of Financial Statement with sufficient care so as to be able to formulate considered suggestions in time and submit notes that would be of use to the officers concerned in the different departments. This will account for the hurried character of some of the suggestions and recommendations made, and probably for the embarrassing position in which I find myself today in being singularly isolated as a proposer of propositions that under the circumstances stand little chance of being carried. Though we are not free to criticise these rules now, and here, I crave your Honour's permission to bring this to your Honour's notice incidentally so that your Honour may be pleased to consider whether some relief in this direction is not desirable and possible, for example, by allowing more time for examination of the details and by making the papers available during the committee stage to those that do not happen to be members of the Finance Committee, so that their study of the figures and suggestions relating thereto may proceed simultaneously with those of the members of the Committee and be more deliberate.

"One of the outstanding suggestions of the previous years which has not received attention apparently is the proposed improvement of the Judicial service. I called attention to it last year and the year previous, both in connection with the Budget debate and also in separate notes addressed to the Judicial Secretary. I shall not now go over these grounds, but would ask Your Honour's permission to withdraw the Resolution of which I have given notice. Having regard to the fact that no scheme has yet been formulated, though many may have long been under consideration in some shape or another, the interests of the service, which we have all at heart, would probably be best served by not pressing the Resolution now and in connexion with a framed Budget. After the repeated assurances of sympathy given on behalf of Government by the Hon'ble Mr. Gait, the Hon'ble Mr. Streatfeild and the Hon'ble Mr. Richardson,—whom we are glad to have once more in our midst, and who will now be transferred to a higher sphere, where he will be better able to translate his sympathy into solid demonstration,—every one believes and hopes that the improvement of the service is engaging the anxious care of the Government. Till, however, the full scheme is ready and sanctioned, little useful purpose will be served by securing a budget grant, even if the Council agrees to my Resolution and the President accepts it. I, therefore, ask permission, Sir, to withdraw the Resolution.

"And under the ordinance of grace which Your Honour has just been pleased to pronounce with regard to the order of the debate of the day, I would ask Your Honour's permission to draw the attention of the Council to two matters my Resolutions regarding which had to be disallowed because I could not sufficiently indicate the sources from which the proposed grant should be made. I do not know whether I am at liberty to do so."

THE PRESIDENT said:—"I am afraid the Hon'ble Member would not be in order in making any reference to Resolutions which have been ruled out of order. But if he can frame his remarks in such a way as not to conflict with the rules, I am sure the Council will be pleased to hear him.

The Hon'ble BABU DEBA PRASAD SARBADHIKARI siad:—"Sir, the most important of these Resolutions relates to the strengthening of the office establishment of the Original Side of the High Court. The ministerial departments of the Lower Courts and of the Appellate Side of the High Court have received a welcome and necessary accession of strength. The Deputy Registrar of the Appellate Side has been given an allowance, the Private Secretary of the Hon'ble the Chief Justice, figuring in the Budget as the Chief Justice's clerk, has also been given an allowance, and there has been other necessary increase in the Appellate Side of which we are glad. The Original Side offices, however, have been long neglected, though in the place of one Court for which they were originally constituted and meant, they have to deal with the work of three Courts, and the work is steadily on the increase. I pressed this matter on the attention of the Council last year and in the year previous, and do not now wish to go into details. If a scheme for the strengthening of this department has not been already drawn up, it ought not to be longer delayed.

"As I was listening to the Hon'ble Mr. Gourlay explaining the necessity of making Purulia a full district, there appeared to me to be a peculiar fitness of things in this honour being conferred on the district during the regime of a Lieutenant-Governor who did so much for that district, for which he has so kindly feelings and associations and with which his early career was closely identified. In going to Purulia recently, Your Honour may have seen the new Court-house at Asansole which requires many conveniences for litigants and the profession. The public is in no way reconciled to the transfer of the Courts from Ranigunge, and the best way of popularising the Courts would be not to let these inconveniences continue. A small sum of three or four thousand would re-excavate the tanks in the Court compound, supply the necessary sheds and conveniences for the public and the profession, and otherwise improve the arrangements. If I am permitted to bring to the notice of this Council the present needs of these Courts, it may be that the department concerned will be able to take action on it, whether a Resolution on the subject is passed or not, and I ask for such permission. I am glad and grateful, Sir, that my pressing request last year,—a request that I ventured to make even in the presence of the Hon'ble Mr. Das,—for reconstruction of the Cuttack Courts, the deplorable condition of which could not possibly fail to strike all who had occasion to go near them, has at last borne fruit, and Orissa ought to rejoice that its capital will soon have fitting Civil Court buildings. There has been considerable accession of strength all round, and we have every reason to be grateful. I am afraid that the suggestions that I wanted to make to-day for improvement of the Judicial Service may not find present acceptance, and I hope that, by withdrawing the Resolutions now, Sir, I shall have not only the assent of this Council, but also their acceptance at the hands of Government when I next move them on an early occasion and in another shape."

"The Hon'ble BABU BAIKUNTHA NATH SEN said:—"With Your Honour's permission, I wish to make a few remarks. I gave notice of a Resolution which unfortunately through oversight did not provide a counterbalancing decrease in other items. I received a copy of the Financial Statement on the 6th instant, and I did not send out my notice on the 7th. Of course, through inadvertence for my not having as yet studied the rules carefully, I made an oversight, and Your Honour was perfectly justified in disallowing the Resolution, which did not suggest the resources from which the excess amount might be recruited. I am glad, however, to find that my hon'ble colleague, Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari, did give notice of a Resolution for the improvement of the prospects of the members of the Provincial Judicial Service in Bengal. Now I am glad that Your Honour has given me an opportunity to say a few words in regard to it.

"In April, 1908, Mr. Streatfeild, the then Judicial Secretary to the Government of Bengal, observed:—'The Government is fully aware that the officers of this service have genuine grievances; their cases are receiving consideration; and any reasonable proposal for the removal of hardships will always receive sympathetic consideration.'

"These Judicial officers are hardworked, and in my humble opinion, they are not properly paid. I intended to suggest that special provision might be made for a certain sum of money so that steps might be taken in future for the improvement of the pay and prospects of these officers. There are now 176 Munsifs in the cadre. Of these, 25 are doing the work of Subordinate Judges. They have been invested with powers to decide cases over Rs. 1,000 and below Rs. 2,000, so that practically they are doing Subordinate Judge's work. If that work had to be done by Subordinate Judges, there would have been required at least six Subordinate Judges. These Munsifs work as Munsifs and partially as Subordinate Judges, and they receive no remuneration whatsoever for this. It is but just that they should be given some remuneration for this work. What I intended to suggest, and what was in fact suggested by my hon'ble colleague, Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari, is that there should be a grade of Rs. 500 for Munsifs. If there be a grade of Rs. 500, and if 25 Munsifs be raised to that grade, that would give an increase of Rs. 2,500 per mensem, or Rs. 30,000 annually. Similarly with regard to Subordinate Judges, as matters at present stand, no officer can be made a Subordinate Judge until he has served for at least 23 years, and a Munsif cannot be made permanent until he attains the age of 23 years under the existing rules; so that by the time an officer becomes a permanent Subordinate Judge he attains the age of 52. He has therefore very little chance to reach the first grade of Subordinate Judges on Rs. 1,000. It is highly desirable that the pay of the lowest grade of Subordinate Judges should be raised to Rs. 700 instead of Rs. 600, so that they might reap the benefits of the valuable services they render to Government. With these remarks, I beg to submit that I would have supported my hon'ble friend, Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari, if he had moved his Resolution."

The Hon'ble MR. GOURLAY said:—"Every service is capable of improvement, from the highest to the lowest, and the members of every service are naturally anxious for the improvement of their pay and prospects; but there must be some general principles upon which such a question can be considered. When a new service is created the point for consideration is, first, the class of man who is required, and then the terms upon which such men can be recruited.

"When the question arises of the improvement of the terms of the service, the improvement is usually advocated on one of two grounds: either the service has deteriorated and it is necessary to offer better terms in order to stimulate recruitment, or the terms of similar services have for other reasons gradually improved, and it is desirable to allay discontent by bringing the prospects of one service to the level of the other.

"It has not been suggested, I understand, that our present Provincial Judicial Service has deteriorated, and it is on the second ground that the improvement is advocated. The comparison is naturally made with what may be called the sister service, the Provincial Executive Service, and I shall examine shortly some points which have been suggested in this comparison.

"The first point in any service which attracts notice is the pay and prospects of the officers who join, and it has been suggested that the pay and prospects in the Judicial Service are not as good as those in the Provincial Executive Service The actuarial calculation of the value of pay and prospects of different periods of a man's service is very difficult, but there is a rough and ready method which gives sufficiently accurate results for all practical purposes, and that is by dividing the total of the salaries of all the officers in the service by the number of officers. We thus get a figure which represents the average pay of an officer in the service. If this calculation be made, it will be found that the average pay of the 353 officers in the different grades of the Provincial Executive Service is Rs. 370 per mensem, while the average pay of the 208 officers in the seven grades of the Judicial service is Rs. 375 per mensem. It would, therefore, appear that the Judicial officer has a slight advantage.

"It is quite true that the Judicial service has only three grades above Rs. 400, while the Provincial service has four, but 18 per cent. of the officers of the Judicial service draw pay of Rs. 600 or over, while only 9 per cent. of the Provincial service draw Rs. 600 or over. If we go higher the distinction is still more marked, for less than 2 per cent. of the Executive officers draw a salary of Rs. 800, while 7 per cent. of the Judicial officers draw Rs. 800, 2½ per cent. of whom are in a grade of Rs. 1,000. The highest grade to which an Executive officer can rise is Rs. 800.

"The fact of the matter is that the promotion of the officers of the Judicial service in their earlier years is not so good as that in the Executive service; but the Judicial officers have prospects in their later years far superior to the Executive officers.

"There is another matter too. The prizes of the two services are the listed appointments,—appointments ordinarily held by members of the Civil Service to which the Provincial Service are promoted. At the present time there are seven such appointments: three of them are held by Executive officers and four by Judicial officers, and the chances of a Judicial officer obtaining such an appointment are 2¼ times as great as those of an Executive officer. Executive officers have sometimes the chances of such appointments as the Inspector-Generalship of Registration, but the prospects of such appointments are more than counterbalanced by the higher grades of pay in the listed appointments open to the Judicial officers.

"If the comparison be made with the Eastern Bengal and Assam Judicial Service as at present constituted, the calculations show the superiority of the Bengal service. The rough and ready method gives an average pay of Rs. 369, including the new grade on Rs. 500. The percentage of Subordinate Judges to Munsifs is less than in Bengal, and I think if the members of the Eastern Bengal and Assam service were given the opportunity, they would elect for service in Bengal."

"The next point of importance in a service is the amount of leave to which an officer is entitled. If the officers of the Provincial Executive Service were consulted, I think they would be unanimous in thinking that the advantage in the matter of leave rests with the Judicial. We will exclude Sundays from our calculation. The Judicial officers have 97 holidays in the year, including a vacation extending to 33 days, while the Executive officers have only 37 holidays, and it must be remembered that while the Judicial officer is usually free from care on his holidays, the duties of the Executive officer very often monopolise most of his time. An Executive officer qualifies for one month's privilege leave on full pay every year, but the exigencies of the services very often interfere with the privilege; on the other hand, a Judicial officer has a vacation on full pay extending to 33 days with which nothing interferes, and in addition to this he qualifies for one month's privilege leave on half pay in cases of emergency. So far as leave is concerned, therefore, the Judicial service certainly has the advantage.

"The rules for joining time are the same for all services, but joining time cannot be regarded as leave on full pay to which an officer is entitled. It is the amount of leave which is ordinarily required to make arrangements and to travel from one point to another. It seldom happens that an officer has no previous warning of his transfer, but where the transfer involves the up-rooting of an officer's home, he is expected to commence making his arrangements before the day he hands over charge of his duties.

"The question of the provision by Government for quarters for its officers is a very large one. Only one class of officer in these two services, so far as I am aware, is entitled to free quarters, and that is the Subdivisional officer. There are at present about 47 members of the Provincial Executive Service who are in charge of subdivisions, and in respect of quarters all the other members of both services are on an equality. I do not think that the fact that 47 of the officers out of the total of 353 are provided with free quarters can be considered to out-balance the other advantages of the members of the Provincial Judicial service, and to counterbalance this advantage, it must be remembered that these 47 officers are continually on duty, and that they are very seldom able to avail themselves even of the ordinary executive holidays.

"There are one or two other minor points to which reference has been made. It has, for example, been suggested that Subordinate Judges and Munsifs should be authorised to appoint the ministerial officers of their own Courts, but I do not think that in this respect the members of the Judicial service are worse off than their brethren in the Executive service.

"Finally, I would remind the Hon'ble Member that quite lately a very great concession was made to the Judicial service. Last year sanction was obtained permitting Munsifs to count towards pension the officiating period of their service. This concession has, I believe, been very greatly appreciated by all the members of the service.

The Hon'ble BABU BHUPENDRA NATH BASU said:—"With Your Honour's permission I wish to say a few words with reference to what has fallen from my Hon'ble friend, Mr. Gourlay. He said that in case of appointments from Rs. 600 and upwards, the percentage in the Judicial service is 18 and upwards, and in the case of Executive officers the percentage is 9. Would he kindly enlighten us as to what the percentage is above the grade of Rs. 400? As my Hon'ble friend Babu Baikuntha Nath Sen has pointed out, Judicial officers do not get into the grade of Rs. 600 until they are on the verge of extinction, i.e., when they are 52 years old, and then from the age of 52 to 55 years there is a regular rush through these three grades. Like the pictures on the canvas which some of my friends may have witnessed on the maidan bioscopes they come and go. They rise to the posts of Subordinate Judges at 52, and if they live up to the age of 55, they run through these three grades, and then they go out. So that it is not by the higher grades that the prospects in the service are to be judged. I believe, and the general impression is, that it is difficult for these men in the Judicial service, after they come into the grade of Rs. 400, to get to the higher grades, and when they get to the higher grades it is of little use to them. We do not wish that the members of the Executive service should be deprived of any privileges or advantages that they enjoy in reference to the members of the Judicial service. All that we press for is that some consideration ought to be shown for the members of the Judicial service also. My Hon'ble friend will not forget that the members of the Executive service have, besides their pay, travelling allowances. They have to go out on tour and thus relieve themselves of the monotony of Judicial work at head-quarters; whereas these Munsifs and Subordinate Judges are held down to their desks year in and year out, and upon these desks they wear their lives away.

"As regards leave, my Hon'ble friend forgets that because these unhappy officers have these thirty-three days which they can avail of, a great distinction is made and half their pay is cut. Judicial officers do not get the full pay of their post when they take privilege leave; whereas Executive officers get full pay. As regards the necessity of some leave occasionally to Judicial officers, my Hon'ble friend is probably not unaware that a very high Judicial authority once said that judicial notice might be taken of the fact that all our Judicial officers or most of them were subject to that fell disease of the tropics—diabetes, and they are compelled to take leave oftener than the Executive officers are. In calling the attention of the Council to the grievances of the Judicial servants, I do not by any means wish to suggest that there should be any curtailment of the privileges and advantages of the members of the Executive service, but all that we wish is that their lot and position may receive more careful consideration at the hands of the Government."

The Hon'ble MR. DUKE introduced the following heads:—

Revenue—

XVII.—Police.

Expenditure—

20. Police.

He said :—"I have now, Sir, to introduce the figures relating to the Police Budget. They appear as head No. XVII, on the receipt side, page 29. There is very little on the receipt side that calls for observation.

"The sanctioned estimate for 1909-10 was Rs. 1,45,000. The estimate revised stands at Rs. 1,89,000, and the estimate for 1910-11 amounts to Rs. 1,67,000. Practically the whole of this may be accounted for by the extent to which preventive police have had to be appointed. They have been appointed in rather large numbers during the current year, and it was estimated that in the coming year a more restricted use of this measure will suffice.

"I turn now to the expenditure side, page 49. The first point to which I will draw attention is that the Budget for 1909-10 provided for an increase of 3½ lakhs (Rs. 83,78,000 as against Rs. 80,26,000) over the actuals for 1908-09, so that in fact the revised estimate for 1909-10 falls somewhat short of the previous year's actuals.

"The decrease in the revised figures is due to decreases under the heads District, Village, Special and Railway Police, and to a very great extent it is due to savings in the grant for grain and conveyance allowances, savings in constables' pay owing to the force not being up to establishment, and to the failure to entertain additional Railway Police up to the numbers budgeted, and also to considerable savings under contingencies. The decreases extend to Rs. 4,63,000 under the head District force, Rs. 4,000 for Village Police, Rs. 2,000 for Special Police, and Rs. 33,000 for Railway Police. Against this, there is an increase under Presidency Police and Superintendence, and under the Criminal Investigation Department, which comes to Rs. 1,29,000. Altogether the Presidency Police accounts for Rs. 51,000, that for Superintendence Rs. 17,000, and that for the Criminal Investigation Department Rs. 61,000, so that the result is a net decrease of Rs. 3,72,000. These fluctuations will be explained in more detail under their respective heads, except as regards the Presidency Police, any explanation for which that may be required will be given by the Hon'ble Mr. Halliday.

"The Criminal Investigation Department has had to be reorganised and expanded to meet changing circumstances: many officers have had to be added to it, and there has been for some years a steady increase of expenditure under this head.

"The reasons for this are well understood by the Hon'ble Members, and I need not go into details. It is enough to say that the necessity is on the Government to make adequate provision in this direction.

"I will take now the remaining heads in order. The charge under Superintendence requires very little consideration: the charge amounts simply to the provision for the Inspector-General and Deputy Inspector-Generals and their establishment, and I can say no more than appears in the remarks column.

"We come to the principal head—the District Police Force, under which are grouped the charges on account of the main body of the Provincial Police. The figures are large: the force we are dealing with consists of over 22,000 men, and therefore I am not going to take you into details. The decrease in the revised figures for 1909-10 was Rs. 4,63,000, which is to be attributed to savings under Grain compensation allowance, which was not less than Rs. 2,20,000, and to the fact that the lump grant of Rs. 2,65,000, which had been provided for carrying out reorganisation, that is to say, that the general improvement of the Police recommended by the Police Commission had to be hypothecated to meet charges of the Criminal Investigation Department, except that portion of it which was assigned for the improvement of the Beat Police in Calcutta. Under Salaries—Gazetted Officers, the increase of Rs. 20,000 is due to the strengthening of the force by recruitment under the orders of th Secretary of State, and these appointments were necessary in order to bring the number up to the strength prescribed by the Police Commission. The total cost under that head for 1910-11 is Rs. 21,600, and provision has also been made for six Deputy Superintendents at a cost of Rs. 4,800. As regards the rank and file, a very important item is an increment of Re. 1 per month to 9,580 constables, which we are pledged to give in order to carry out the recommendations of the Police Commission regarding the better payment of the force. The amount to be paid to the constables will account for Rs. 88,650 out of the total increase under this head. This increment has been long overdue: it was to be made in 1909-10 out of the lump provision for Police reforms, had not more urgent requirements intervened. The further postponement of the increment would be a breach of faith; and as recruiting for the force is none too easy in spite of the improvements for the last few years, the charge is urgent.

"A provision of some importance is that for 30 more Sub-Inspectors in furtherance of the scheme for the better efficiency of the force, and that will leave 30 more Sub-Inspectors to be added to complete the establishment. Two more armed Inspectors are required for Jessore and Angul to bring up the armed force to the full establishment. The decrease of Rs. 4,000 in training schools is due to the transfer of 3 Sub-Inspectors and 14 head-constables from training schools to the District Police. The training school establishment had to be increased with reference to the accelerated recruitment which followed and the adoption of the Commission's proposals. A large number of men were taken in each year, and now that enlistment has gone back to its normal rate, the excessive training-staff no longer required in the school has been reduced. Under this head a provision of Rs. 6,000 appears for the management of the Doranda Cantonment at Ranchi, which has been taken over entirely by the Police Department. We are fortunate this year in being able to estimate for a decrease of Rs. 1,74,000 on account of grain compensation allowance, which has fallen very heavily upon us for a number of years.

"Supplies and Services is an important head under which there is an increase of a lakh. The principal item is the provision of two lakhs for petty construction and repairs, as against one and-a-half lakhs for last year. A great part of this sum is required for the provision of quarters for Sub-Inspectors. Every Sub-Inspector ought to have free quarters, but at present, out of the total number of 1,525 Sub-Inspectors, 500 still need to be provided with quarters, and that results in our having to pay out large sums as house-rent.

"Out of the figure provided this year for contingencies, no less than Rs. 40,000 is intended to pay house-rent for Sub-Inspectors. This is bad finance, and only excused by the stringency of the last few years. We have to make provision for housing of the 30 additional Sub-Inspectors to be entertained during the year. This will cost Rs. 33,000, and is provided for under petty construction and repairs. We have also to provide for the housing of the constables who are everywhere replacing the town chaukidars. Outside petty construction and repairs, the principal item under Supplies and Services is Rs. 58,500 to provide a serviceable steam-launch, which is urgently required in the 24-Parganas. The launch at present used is unserviceable and incapable of going into big rivers. For a long time the 24-Parganas had no launch, and great inconvenience has been felt. The launches formerly used have more than once been swamped and officers placed in great danger. At the present moment it has been possible to provide temporarily for a launch fit for the work. This will have to be withdrawn for other work, and therefore provision has to be made for a new launch.

"Contingencies have been kept very low during the current year, and the only point of importance in connection with them is the house-rent of Sub-Inspectors.

"Before leaving the Police Budget proper, I desire to give you a collected view of those fresh items of expenditure to be incurred in furtherance of the reforms recommended by the Police Commission. The total cost of these reforms spread over a considerable number of years is estimated at Rs. 32,42,400 for recurring and Rs. 21,44,000 for non-recurring charges. Out of these total figures, the following charges will still remain to be provided for in the year 1910-11 and in succeeding years, that is, Rs. 9,23,522 and Rs. 14,25,322 respectively. The difference between these and the total sum has already been provided. It will be observed therefore that a great deal of ground has to be made up before the Police Force can be brought up to the point of efficiency required by the Commission. In the original budget estimate for this year it is not possible, owing to financial stringency, to provide any very large sums towards these reforms, and the provision actually made on this account will be found included in the second statement on page 13.

"The principal items are the appointments of Assistant Superintendents (Rs. 21,600), and house allowance for Sub-Inspectors (Rs. 40,000).

"Subsequently, at a later stage in the preparation of the Financial Statement, the Government of India found it possible to allot a further assignment on this account.

"The sum granted last year was fourteen and-a-half lakhs. This will be repeated for 1910-11, and the whole of it goes to schemes already initiated. But in addition to this the Government of India has now granted us Rs. 3,17,000, and that makes the grant up to the maximum limit they have undertaken to give for the furtherance of the Police reform. The Finance Committee had accordingly to decide what further expenditure should be incurred against this additional assignment, and the items selected are shown in the first statement on page 13. The amount allotted for the Mufassil Police, excluding Calcutta, is Rs. 2,07,260. The Government of India in making the grant of Rs. 3,17,000 had in view the extreme financial stringency prevailing in the Province, otherwise they probably would not have granted the whole remaining portion of the contribution within one year, and in doing so they did not insist that the whole amount should be spent in reforms immediately, and accordingly a portion of the amount has been diverted to other urgent administrative needs, and the Police Department in future years will have a claim to have that sum again reimbursed. The only other points to which I need refer are the few schemes for the improvement of Police buildings which principally concern the Police Department. They appear at the middle of page 17, and I think they hardly call for any remarks: it need only be said that the accommodation in the Police barracks at Khulna is totally inadequate, and a new barrack has to be provided, and as for the other schemes, they are simply the reconstruction of already existing buildings, which are dilapidated and insanitary.

"The Hon'ble Mr. Halliday will give the explanation necessary regarding them."

The Hon'ble MR. HALLIDAY said:—"There are only a few items in connection with the Presidency Police on which I may offer a few explanatory remarks.

"The first of these will be found on page 5 of the draft Financial Statement.

"A small sum of Rs. 1,800 is provided. This is to complete the grades of Inspectors as sanctioned by the Secretary of State.

"Another item, Rs. 34,640, has been provided for the improvement of the beat system for Calcutta and the Suburbs of Calcutta. This system was sanctioned by the Secretary of State on the 20th September, 1908, on the recommendation of the Police Commission. It was partially introduced in the 3rd Division of the Town and in the Southern Division of the Suburbs of Calcutta last year at the cost of Rs. 37,568, and the sum now allotted will enable the system to be introduced throughout the remaining portion of the Town and in the Northern Division Suburbs.

"Shortly described, the system increases the number of constables in the Northern and Southern Suburbs of Calcutta, the Police Force for which has remained stationary since the year 1887, that is, for the past 22 years.

"The rapid growth of the Town and the urban character that the Suburbs are now assuming is likely to be intensified on the introduction of the Calcutta Improvement Scheme.

"The improved beat system ensures that each squad of Police placed on beat duty is under the direct supervision of a Head Constable who marches the squad out, remains with it throughout its term of duty, and returns with it to the Police-station, where he makes his report to the responsible officer.

"The system also provides for the greater amelioration in the conditions of service for constables, as it provides that every constable after two nights on duty on the streets will be allowed a night in bed.

"Another item is Rs. 21,000 for the appointment of two Additional Deputy Commissioners for Calcutta sanctioned by the Secretary of State on the recommendation of the Police Commission; the division of Calcutta into four districts under officers of the rank of Deputy Commissioners of Police in place of five divisions under officers of the rank of Superintendent of the Calcutta Police. This disposition is being gradually effected, as officers of the requisite rank are made available for duty in Calcutta. The two Deputy Commissioners mentioned on page 13 have been appointed in accordance with the orders of the Government of India in place of two Superintendents retired.

"A further sum of Rs. 10,000 is for married European Sergeants.

"At present only fifteen married European Sergeants of Police in Calcutta are granted house allowance. As the number of married men is always greater than this figure, it has been decided to raise the number of house allowances to 30, the total force being 100.

"The house allowance previously granted was Rs. 40 a month. It was found that decent accommodation could not be procured within a reasonable distance from head-quarters for this sum. It has therefore been decided to increase the allowance to Rs. 50 a month, and it is hoped that for this figure it will be possible to induce some private person to build a block of quarters which will be leased to Government for the accommodation of married European Sergeants. It is hoped that these arrangements will remove them from undesirable localities where they are now obliged to live, and will at the same time ameliorate the general conditions of their service in Calcutta.

"Another item is the purchase of the Duff College, which appears at page 17 of the Financial Estimate.

"The premises formerly occupied by the Duff College were purchased in July, 1908, with a view to turning them into the head-quarters for the 1st Calcutta Police District, and when the additions and alterations required to make it a combined central station and district head-quarters are completed, accommodation will be available for 22 officers and 126 men.

"As a set-off against the sum to be expended, it may be noted that the force accommodated here will include the Police formerly stationed at the Jorabagan Thana, which building has been advantageously sold for a sum of Rs. 1,83,000, a moiety of which has already been paid.

"The Garden Reach Thana has for many years past had an unenviable reputation for its extreme unhealthiness; and the Police Force stationed there has continually been in a crippled condition owing to the number of men constantly in hospital. It is now proposed to build another Police-station and Fire-station on a healtheir site, which has already been acquired, facing the Bengal Nagpur Railway offices. This change of locality will, it is hoped, render the force which is sanctioned for policing this area available for duty.

"A sum of Rs. 40,000 for the construction of the barracks for the Police of Government House and the Imperial Secretariat.

"The present Police-guard for Government House is in Crooked Lane, and is accommodated in some old stables converted into barracks, the increased guards during the cold weather being housed in the vaults below the Town Hall.

"It is now proposed to construct proper barracks for the force required both for Government House and for guarding the Imperial Secretariat Buildings. These barracks will be erected on the Crooked Lane site already in occupation."

The Hon'ble MR. GOURLAY introduced the following heads:—

Revenue—

XVI-B.—Jails.

Expenditure—

19B.—Jails.

He said:—"The next department, the estimates of which I have to lay before this Council, comes under the major head "Law and Justice—Jails." The figures on the receipt side will be found on page 28, No. XVI (b). The figures on the expenditure side will be found on pages 48 and 49 of the draft Financial Statement No. 19 (b).

"There has lately been a serious falling-off in the receipts from manufactured articles. As the Council is aware, the jail's principal customers are the other departments of the Government; and owing to financial stringency these departments have curtailed their orders with the result that there are at present large stocks in hand. This question will receive the special attention of the department during the coming year, but as the probable requirements, e.g., of the Ordnance Department for tents, are at present not known, it has been thought safer to reduce the estimate of receipts.

"The estimate of expenditure is Rs. 2,26,000 greater than last year: 1·39 lakhs of this increase is due to the opening of the new Presidency Jail, and the rest of the increase is distributed fairly evenly over the minor heads.

"We cannot give up the old Presidency Jail at present, because, even after opening the new jail, we have not enough accommodation for our jail population. Including both the old and the new Presidency Jail we have accommodation for 13,917 male convicts, whereas the average number of prisoners for the last two years has been in excess of this, and the average for the months when the number of prisoners was greatest was nearly 1,500 in excess. Therefore, until more accommodation can be provided elsewhere, it is impossible to give up the old Presidency Jail. I shall return to this subject when dealing with civil works.

"I shall now refer briefly to the main items of interest in the Statement which are new. A provision of Rs. 16,536 has been made for the reorganisation of the jailer service. The sanction of the Government of India has been given to the reorganisation of the staff with fixed rates of pay in place of the old incremental system, and the position and prospects of the staff have been materially improved.

"A provision of Rs. 9,300 is made for providing a clerical staff for civil medical assistants in charge of subsidiary jails. Clerical staff has already been provided for Assistant Surgeons in charge of subsidiary jails, but medical officers of these two ranks are posted to subdivisions, having regard to the general medical importance of the subdivision and not with regard to the importance of the sub-jail. It has been found necessary to provide clerical assistance for the civil medical assistants as well as for the Assistant Surgeons, and thus to relieve them of the routine work of writing up registers and returns and copying letters.

"A provision of Rs. 5,424 has been made for the appointment of circle reserve warders. To improve the Jail Department it is necessary that there should be at the headquarters of each Central Jail circle a reserve of warders under training from which to recruit. A commencement has been made by providing one head warder and 30 warders as a reserve at Alipore, and 1 head warder and 22 warders at Buxar.

"The most important item under the head "Jails" is the provision of two lakhs for a new Central Jail at Monghyr. I have already explained the position. We have not sufficient accommodation for our average male convict population, and it is therefore necessary to increase the jail accommodation by establishing a new Central Jail. It was considered desirable that the proposed jail should be established in one of the Bihar districts, the essential conditions being (1) that it should be easily accessible by railway; (2) that it should be at the headquarters of a district; (3) that it should be near the river; and (4) that the acquisition of the land and the construction of buildings should not be unnecessarily expensive. After consulting the Commissioners of Divisions and the local officers, Monghyr was selected as the most suitable centre, and the Commissioner of Bhagalpur, with the assistance of the Medical, Sanitary, Public Works and Prisons officers, has chosen a suitable site between Monghyr and the Pirpahar. A notification has been issued for the acquisition of 260 acres of land there, and it is hoped to commence the work during the present year.

"Another insistent matter in connection with jail administration is the provision of adequate accommodation in many of our subsidiary jails. Much has been done of late years to improve the Central and District Jails, but a large number of our subsidiary jails are inadequate and call for considerable extension and improvement. I am aware that many of these projects are very urgent, but unfortunately it has not been found possible to provide for more than three on the present occasion. These are (1) the improvement and extension of the sub-jails at Magura in Jessore, (2) Banki in Cuttack, and (3) Banka in Bhagalpur. The other jail projects which it is intended to take up are the improvement of the water supply in the Buxar Central Jail at a cost of Rs. 7,042; the roofing of three wards in the Hooghly district at a cost of Rs. 9,000; the improvement of the present inadequate hajat in the Bhagalpur Central Jail at a cost of Rs. 7,345, and the provision of Rs 16,000 for a hospital in Krishnagore Jail. As Krishnagore is one of our unhealthy districts, adequate accommodation for sick prisoners is a matter of urgency. There is one other project: the old Alipore Reformatory has been converted into a juvenile jail. As convict guards are not suitable for juvenile prisoners they will be replaced by paid warders, and for these it is necessary to provide quarters. A provision of Rs. 10,400 has been made for this purpose."

The Hon'ble MR. KÜCHLER introduced the following heads :—

Revenue—

XIX.—Education.

Expenditure—

22.—Education.

He said :—"Your Honour—I beg leave to introduce the budget referring to education. With regard to the receipts, little explanation is called for beyond what has already been given in the general Financial Statement. The decrease of Rs. 1,78,000 in the revised estimate is mainly due, as already pointed out, to the non-refund to the Education Department of two lakhs of rupees originally allotted to District Boards for the construction of primary school buildings. The revised estimate would otherwise have shown a considerable increase over the sanctioned estimate, chiefly on account of the increased enrolment of students in the Government Arts Colleges, of supplementary examinations by the University of Calcutta for candidates who had failed in the last examinations under the old regulations. This, however, is a temporary phase. An excess of enrolment of students at the Presidency College representing a very considerable increase in fee receipts will, in the normal course, be greatly reduced. Under the head "Miscellaneous" the revised estimate shows a decrease of Rs. 2,50,800. Of this, as already indicated, Rs. 2,00,000 represents the refund from the District Boards, which was anticipated but not received. The defect of the remaining Rs. 50,800 is apparently due to the adjustment of heads under which the receipts have been credited, and is more than balanced by an increase under the heads of "Government Colleges, General and Professorial," and of "Government Schools, General."

"Coming now to the expenditure side of the budget, it will be noticed in the first place that the revised estimate for next year, namely, Rs. 59,17,000, shows a very substantial increase over both the sanctioned and the revised estimate for the preceding year, each of which amounted to approximately Rs. 55,50,000. A comparison with the actuals for the three preceding years will further show that the increase of expenditure on education has been continuous. Though, however, the budget estimate for next year exceeds that of 1909-10 by no less than Rs. 3,60,000, the increased cost is due not to the sudden introduction of any schemes involving large individual expenditure, but for the most part to the natural expansion of the needs of already existing educational institutions. Certain allotments have, it is true, been entered as new schemes under the schedule prescribed for the purpose, but in most cases these allotments represent really the enhanced cost for which the general sanction of Government has already been received.

"Before proceeding to discuss the Educational Budget proper, I wish to make a few remarks about those building projects, which, though technically included in the Public Works Department Budget, really represent expenditure on education.

"Probably the most important of the new projects, which are to be taken in hand next year, is the construction of a new Physical Laboratory for the Presidency College. Though the primary object is to meet the pressing needs of the Physical Science Department, the project derives its chief importance from the fact that it practically marks the commencement of a large scheme for the improvement of the accommodation of the Presidency College. It is not absolutely the first step in the execution of the project, as this was taken last year by the acquisition of a plot of land measuring 1½ acres at the cost of Rs. 2,50,000. The scheme itself has now been under discussion for a good many years, and it has been complicated by the consideration of the question as to whether it would not be desirable to remove the college to another site. Before this was settled, it was, of course, impossible to draw up plans for the construction of the buildings, and the delay which has occurred in making a beginning with what all are agreed in regarding as a necessary project is not only due to financial considerations, but also to the cause I have here indicated. On the question of removal, opinions were invited so long ago as 1905. As they gradually came in, it was apparent that they were fairly divided; and in the absence of any preponderance of opinion on one side or the other, Government finally decided to retain the college in its present site. It is unnecessary here to recapitulate the arguments that were advanced for its removal or retention,—clearly there is much to be said on both sides, but I should, perhaps, point out that educational opinion was strongly in favour of removing the college to an open and more secluded site, and that those who were in favour of retention of the present site, were labouring under the misapprehension that it was intended when the college was moved to make it entirely residential. The reason why I refer to this matter at all, which may seem of little practical interest in view of the statement that the question has been decided, is that it is possible that in the interval which has elapsed since the matter was last discussed a change may have come over the opinion of those who were originally opposed to removal. Should this be the case, I would remind the representatives of public opinion here present, and especially those who may be supposed to have the interests of the numerous mufassal students at heart, that the opportunity for an expression of opinion on the part of the public either one way or the other will now speedily pass away. With the assignment of funds made in the present budget, the matter must now go forward; and once the construction of the Physical Laboratory has commenced, there can be no looking back. The scheme itself in its complete form provides for the acquisition of a large additional plot of land, partly for the purposes of a playground, the construction of new laboratories for the Biological and Geological sections, the erection of residences for the Principal and several Professors, as well as of additional hostels for students, and it is obvious therefore that its execution will for financial and other reasons have to be spread over a considerable number of years. In the meantime the provision of a new Physical Laboratory will not only remove the cramped conditions under which Physics is at present being taught in the college, but will incidentally relieve the congestion of other departments as well by placing at their disposal the space now occupied by the Physical section.

"It will be seen from the budget figures that the building requirements of all Zilla Schools are also receiving attention. The new University regulations have not only necessitated the provision of additional accommodation in many cases, but have also called attention to the defects of construction in the existing buildings. Plans and estimates have been prepared for the alterations and additions which have been found necessary in a number of Government schools, and the work of new construction is being gradually carried out. Of the larger projects of this nature, three have found a place in the present budget. The needs of the Ranchi, Purulia and Darjeeling Zilla Schools are all urgent, many of the class rooms in each of these schools being defective in lighting and ventilation, while their number is insufficient. The provision of a hall and class room for the Darjeeling Zilla School does not, however, complete the whole scheme in connexion with that institution. Further items are the construction of hostels and the preparation of a play-ground, the ground for the latter having already been acquired, but the most urgent needs will now be satisfied, and the further improvements here indicated will be taken up later on. The work of these three schools will, I anticipate, be carried to practical completion before the end of the financial year, and will form a substantial instalment in satisfaction of the demands of the University.

"The claims of Muhammadan education have been recognised by the allotment in the budget of Rs. 50,000 towards the completion of the new Muhammadan hostel, and of Rs. 4,200 for the construction of seven model Maktabs. The necessity of a Muhammadan hostel, as of so many other projects, has arisen from the requirements of the new University regulations. These requirements must at times appear to outsiders as unending; but so far at least as they are concerned with the provision of proper hostel accommodation for mufassal students, they will be acknowledged to be fully justifiable. Each college is required by the regulations to provide hostels for such of its students as do not live with their parents or guardians, but the number of Muhammadans reading in individual colleges being small, it was found difficult on the part of the colleges to comply with this regulation. The University, however, recognises not only hostels and messes attached to particular colleges, but also what are called non-collegiate hostels where students belonging to any affiliated college may reside. It was felt by the Muhammadan community that the wants of its students would be more satisfactorily met by providing a hostel of this type, and it was likewise recognised that this hostel should be associated with the central institution for Muhammadans in Bengal, i.e., the Madrasa. Owing to the efforts of the leaders of the community, certain sums were subscribed towards the erection of the building, and Government having undertaken to supplement the funds so collected, it was found possible to commence the work last year. The allotment in the budget represents the Government contribution for next year. The construction of the building, however, is already well advanced, and it is hoped that the hostel will be ready for the admission of students at the beginning of July next, when the academic session commences.

"The construction of seven model Maktabs forms part of the scheme initiated by Mr. Earle for the general improvement of Muhammadan education. This scheme has received the administrative sanction of Government, and is being brought into operation as funds permit. Effect has already been given to a very considerable portion of it. One of its features was the provision of 13 model Maktabs, that is Maktabs which should be under direct Government management, which in their teaching and general working should serve as a model to the privately conducted Maktabs throughout the province, whose numbers and efficiency it is likewise intended to increase by substantial grants-in-aid. The present allotment in the Public Works Department Budget refers merely to the provision of the necessary buildings for the first instalment of seven Maktabs. When these are completed, funds will be provided for the appointment of the necessary Maulvis and for the equipment of the schools.

"The last item in the Public Works Department Budget affecting education is the provision of Rs. 10,000 for sanitary improvements in the Reformatory School, Hazaribagh. These improvements have been necessitated by the transfer of the boys of the Alipore Reformatory, which has been closed, to the already existing Reformatory at Hazaribagh. The transfer took place in September 1908, and as the population of the Hazaribagh School was thereby increased from 219 to 411, additional works had to be undertaken to meet the increased sanitary requirements of the institution. Much has already been done, especially with regard to the water-supply and the extension and improvement of the latrine system; but, in addition to these items, other essential projects have still to be carried out, such as the provision of better hospital accommodation and of more numerous bathing platforms. The work is naturally urgent.

"I now pass to a brief consideration of the new projects included in the Educational Budget itself. The major projects involving an annual expenditure of more than Rs. 5,000 will best be taken up in the order in which they occur in the schedule on page 75.

"The appointment of an Inspector of Technical Schools and Industrial Education, which has been under discussion for a considerable time, has now finally been given effect to, and Mr. Denning, the officer appointed by the Secretary of State, has arrived in Calcutta and commenced his work. The object of his appointment is two-fold. In the first place, he will be entrusted with the inspection of the ever-increasing number of technical and industrial schools throughout the Province, and will assist the Director of Public Instruction in the disposal of questions of technical education. In his inspecting capacity he will relieve the Principal of the Engineering College from the duties which, in the absence of a special officer for the purpose, have fallen on his shoulders.

"The second part of Mr. Denning's duties is concerned with the subject of industrial inquiries. The need has long been felt of an officer whose special duty would be to superintend such inquiries on the part of Government, as well as to assist by information and advice such private persons as are interesting themselves practically in the development of the industries of the country. The appointment of this officer will, it is hoped, remove some of the difficulties of those who are anxious to devote capital and energy to the promotion of particular industries, but who have not the antecedent information without which their enterprise would be of too speculative a character. The subject of industrial development is intimately connected with that of technical education; and as the latter will, for some time to come, form the more immediate part of his duties, the officer in question will, for the present at least, be entirely associated with the Education Department.

"The second major scheme included in the schedule concerns the provincialisation of sub-inspectors previously employed under District Boards. The transfer of these officers was due to the necessity that was felt by Government of giving the Education Department greater powers of control over primary education. Incidentally it has improved their prospects. The allotment in the budget represents the difference between the pay of the sub-inspectors under the District Board and the cost of the new appointments that had to be created in the Subordinate Educational Service.

"The item of Rs. 42,000 in the schedule under the head "Arts Colleges" represents the additional cost that will have to be incurred next year in connexion with the scheme for strengthening the staff of Government colleges. This scheme was the outcome of the (new) University regulations, and received the final sanction of the Secretary of State on 21st May, 1909. It involves the creation of a large number of new posts in the Indian Educational Service, Provincial Educational Service and Subordinate Educational Service, the total cost of which amounts to Rs. 1,40,840. As, however, it was necessary to satisfy the requirements of the University, as far as possible, immediately after the promulgation of the regulations, a number of temporary appointments had already been created in anticipation of the Secretary of State's sanction.

The cost of these temporary appointments amounted last year to Rs. 45,000. The Rs. 42,000 on the schedule represents the additional cost which the introduction of the complete scheme will entail next year. It will be seen that the expenditure for that year, namely, Rs. 87,000, still falls short of the maximum figure, namely, Rs. 1,40,840. This is mainly due to the fact that it will not be possible to recruit several Professors in the Indian Educational Service for the present.

"Under the head of "Government Schools, Special," there is a non-recurring allotment of Rs. 1,00,000 for the construction of the buildings of Guru Training Schools. In December, 1905 a scheme was sanctioned for the establishment of 96 Guru Training Schools in addition to the 96 already existing. It was also decided to provide the schools, both new and old, with much more complete buildings than had been thought sufficient for the original ones. For the latter a sum of Rs. 500 only had been sanctioned, while in the case of the new schools it was decided to construct not only improved class rooms, but also hostels for the pupils and quarters for the pandits at an average cost amounting to some Rs. 5,000. A large number of these buildings have already been erected, but chiefly owing to difficulties with contractors the work of construction has, in many cases, been delayed, liabilities, which should have been met by funds provided in previous years, have had to be carried forward, and considerable allotments will still be necessary to bring the work to completion. We hope in the course of the next year to frame a definite estimate of the expenditure necessary to complete the scheme. In the meantime Rs. 1,00,000 is provided in the budget to carry out existing contracts.

"The provision for the Serampore Weaving School has hitherto figured in the budget in a lump sum for technical education. This school was opened in January, 1909, and I am glad to say is working under conditions which give every promise of a successful future. At the Serampore Institute both the class for weavers and that for more advanced students have settled down to regular work, and under the energetic management of the present Principal we may confidently hope for good results. An important feature of the original scheme was the establishment of outlying centres,—for the present five in number, in addition to one at Sambalpur,—and this will be taken in hand during the coming year. These centres will consist of small weaving schools located in places where there is a considerable population of the weaving class, and the schools will be affiliated to the Serampore Institute. The course of instruction is intended for weavers and sons of weavers, and will be somewhat of the same character as that imparted in the corresponding classes at Serampore. There will be a separate teacher at each centre who has received his training at Serampore, but each school, in addition, will be under the personal superintendence of the Principal of the Serampore Institute.

The PRESIDENT said :—"I am sorry to interrupt the Hon'ble Member in his speech, but as many of us are anxious to attend the Convocation, he will be asked to complete his remarks at the next sitting of the Council."

The Council was then adjourned to Monday, the 14th March, 1910, at 11 A.M.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

M.A. AND B.A. CLASSES IN THE PATNA COLLEGE.

The Hon'ble KHAN BAHADUR MAULVI SARFARAZ HUSAIN KHAN asked—

(a) Has the attention of the Government been drawn to the article "M. A. Class in Patna College," which appeared in the Behari of the 18th February, 1910?

(b) Is there any likelihood of the introduction of the "M. A. Class" and the "B. A. Class in Philosophy" in the Patna College?

(c) Will the Government be pleased to state the time, if any, by which the said introduction is expected?

The Hon'ble MR. GOURLAY replied:—

"(a) The answer to the first portion of the Hon'ble Member's question is in the negative.

(b) and (c) The Principal of the Patna College represented that the B. A. classes in Philosophy were unpopular, and Political Economy with Political Philosophy was substituted. It would not be possible to obtain affiliation in Philosophy up to the B. A. standard without an addition to the present staff, and there is no likelihood of this at present.

With regard to the affiliation up to the M. A. standard, the Hon'ble Member is referred to the answer given to the questions put by the Hon'ble Maharaj-Kumar Gopal Saran Narayan Singh on Saturday last."

SURPLUS OF THE HOOGHLY IMAMBARAH FUNDS.

The Hon'ble KHAN BAHADUR MAULVI SARFARAZ HUSAIN KHAN asked—

(a) Can the Government give any information to the Council as to whether there is any money lying in the hands of the Government as surplus of the Hooghly Imambarah Funds?

(b) Will the Government be pleased to state whether, if there is any surplus, it is possible to utilise that surplus in the construction of the present extension of the Madrassa Hostel in Calcutta, or for any other purposes to meet the special needs of Muhammadan education?

The Hon'ble MR. DUKE replied:—

"(a) and (b) It is understood that the question relates to the Mohsin Endowment Fund which is administered by Government. According to the estimates for 1909-10 the balance of the Fund on the 31st March, 1910, will be Rs. 2,874 only, a sum which scarcely suffices for an adequate working balance. In the circumstances no fresh expenditure from this source in connection with Muhammadan education will be possible."

REGISTRATION DEPARTMENT.

The Hon'ble KHAN BAHADUR MAULVI SARFARAZ HUSAIN KHAN asked—

(a) Will the Government be pleased to state if any provision has been made for the pension of such officers of the Registration Department as have their services transferred from the commissioned to the graded appointments?

(b) Will the Government be pleased to state if any age-limit has been fixed for the retirement of those officers of the Registration Department who have chosen to work according to the old system of commission?

The Hon'ble MR. GOURLAY replied :—

"(a) Provision has been made for the pension of such officers of the Registration Department as were transferred to the graded appointments.

When the Registration Department was reorganised in 1905, the existing Sub-Registrars were divided into two classes according to their age: (1) officers of the age of 45 and under; (2) officers above 45 years of age. Officers of the first class were graded in the new service with effect from 1st October, 1905. Officers of the second class were given the option of joining the graded service, or of remaining on the old terms. The services of all officers in the new graded service became pensionable with effect from the 1st October, 1905.

"(b) No age limit was fixed for the retirement of those officers of the Registration Department who elected to work on the old commission terms."

MINISTERIAL OFFICERS' SALARIES COMMITTEE.

The Hon'ble KHAN BAHADUR MAULVI SARFARAZ HUSAIN KHAN asked—

Will the Government be pleased to state if the salaries of ministerial officers, in accordance with the recommendation of the Salaries Commission, have been increased in only some of the Departments or in all, and, if in some, which are the Departments in which the increase has not been given?

The Hon'ble MR. WHEELER replied:—

"The inquiries of the Ministerial Officers' Salaries Committee covered the office establishments of Commissioners of Divisions, District and Sub-divisional Officers, and the Courts of District Judges, Sub-Judges and Munsifs and Small Cause Courts (outside Calcutta). It is in respect of these offices only that various enhancements of pay have been approved by the Secretary of State, and effect will now shortly be given to them. A revision of ministerial establishments in the offices of District Superintendents of Police and of the Railway Police was sanctioned by the Secretary of State in February, 1909. The salaries of the clerical establishments in other Departments have not been recently revised.

"In the budget for 1910-11 a lump provision has been made for the reorganisation of the offices of the Collector of Customs, Inspector-General of Registration, Legal Remembrancer, Inspector-General of Prisons and Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals, and of the Darjeeling Forest Office. Detailed proposals have still to be approved. Also a reorganisation of the Bengal Secretariat was recently approved by the Government of India."

MINORS UNDER THE COURT OF WARDS IN THE PATNA AND TIRHUT DIVISIONS.

The Hon'ble KHAN BAHADUR MAULVI SARFARAZ HUSAIN KHAN asked—

Will the Government be pleased to state the names of minors whose estates are under the Court of Wards in the Patna and Tirhut Divisions, together with the names of the guardians of (a) the persons and (b) the properties of such minors?

The Hon'ble MR. DUKE replied:—

"The information is contained in the statement laid on the table.

Where there are guardians of the persons of minors they are mentioned in the statement. The Court of Wards is the guardian of the property in all cases."

List showing the names of minors whose estates are under the management of the Court of Wards, together with the names of guardians of such minors.

Division.	District.	Estate.	Name of minor.	Name of guardian of person of minor.

COPYISTS AND SECTION-WRITERS EMPLOYED IN THE CIVIL AND CRIMINAL COURTS.

The Hon'ble MR. DIP NARAYAN SINGH asked—

(a) Is Government aware that on the 12th of March, 1904, the late Hon'ble Babu Saligram Singh drew the attention of Government to the following subject :—

"That Copyists or Section-writers are employed in the Civil or Criminal Courts, and are paid out of the income derived from the copying department in a certain proportion, and that to all intents and purposes they are much in the same position as paid ministerial officers in other departments; that there are numerous instances of such Copyists or Section-writers leaving office after a service of 30 years and upwards, without getting anything in the shape of a pension or a gratuity for the support of themselves and the families depending upon them; and that there is no provision in the Civil Service Regulations to enable such persons to draw a pension or gratuity after they retire."

Also that the late Hon'ble Member asked whether the Government would be pleased to consider the desirability of making some provision for these persons on their retirement from service.

(b) Is it the case that the Hon'ble Mr. Shirres replied that the Lieutenant-Governor hoped to be able to effect some improvement in the position of the officers referred to by the Hon'ble Member, and that the matter had formed the subject of correspondence with the Government of India. No further information could be given on the subject.

(c) Will the Government be pleased to state what steps have been taken to improve the position of these Copyists and Section-writers employed in the Civil and Criminal Courts ?

(d) Will the Government be pleased to consider the desirability of either exempting these Copyists from coming under the rules in Article 459 of the Civil Service Regulations or of making some provision for them on their retirement from service ?

The Hon'ble MR. WHEELER replied :—

"(a) and (b) The Hon'ble Member apparently refers to a question put by the Hon'ble Rai Tarini Persad Bahadur to which an answer was given as quoted.

"(c) The Government of India declined to treat the service of copyists as pensionable, on the ground that their work differed from that of the ordinary clerical establishments, and was on a par with various other non-pensionable forms of Government service. The pension charges are ever tending to increase and fresh claims to pension require to be jealously scrutinised.

"(d) Article 459 of the Civil Service Regulations permits of the compulsory retirement of an officer at the age of 55 and allows his retention in Government service after the age of 60 only in exceptional circumstances. Copyists are practically piece-workers and are not dealt with under this article, although their fitness for continuance in Government service would be judged with regard to the age limits referred to. The Lieutenant-Governor agrees with the decision given in 1904 that copyists should not be eligible for pensions, and he is not prepared to make any recommendation to that effect."

EDUCATION IN BIHAR.

The Hon'ble BABU BRAJA KISHOR PRASAD asked—

(a) Will the Government be pleased to state the total amount of the revenues of the Lower Provinces, and how much of it is raised in Bihar ?

(b) Will the Government be pleased to state what portions of the said revenues the Government ordinarily spends on education in Bihar, and what portion in Bengal ?

The Hon'ble MR. GOURLAY replied :—

"(a) and (b). Separate figures of the revenue raised in Bihar and of the expenditure on education are not available and it would take much time and labour to compile them. It does not appear that any advantage commensurate with this labour would be obtained."

The Hon'ble BABU BRAJA KISHOR PRASAD asked—

(a) Will the Government be pleased to state if it is a fact that before the last ten years or so there used to be generally not less than four graduate teachers in a zila school in Bihar, and that now there are hardly two graduate teachers in most of the said schools?

(b) Will the Government be pleased to state the reasons for this gradual weakening of the teaching staff in zila schools ?

The Hon'ble MR. GOURLAY replied :—

"(a) It is a fact that there are fewer graduates in the zila schools in Bihar at the present time than there were ten years ago.

"(b) The reason is that, as far as possible, Bihari teachers have been employed in Bihar schools, and the supply of Bihari graduate teachers has been insufficient."

SECONDARY EDUCATION.

The Hon'ble BABU BRAJA KISHOR PRASAD asked—

(a) Will the Government be pleased to state if any scheme or definite proposal for the improvement of secondary education was formulated by the Hon'ble Mr. Earle ?

(b) If so, will the Government be pleased to lay the same on the table ?

(c) Will the Government be pleased to state when it intends to give effect to the said scheme or proposal ?

The Hon'ble Mr. GOURLAY replied :—

"(a), (b) and (c). The answer to the first portion of the Hon'ble Member's question is in the affirmative. The question is still under the consideration of Government and it would be premature to lay the report on the table or to make any announcement on the subject at present."

BHUMIHAR BRAHMAN COLLEGE, MUZAFFARPUR.

The Hon'ble BABU BRAJA KISHOR PRASAD asked—

(a) Will the Government be pleased to state if the trustees of the Bhumihar Brahman College have petitioned the Director of Public Instruction, through Mr. Greer, the Commissioner of Tirhut, who has strongly recommended them, for a grant by the Government of Rs. 800 a month for current expenses of the College and Rs. 30,000 for building, the College authorities having undertaken to raise a similar monthly sum for current expenses and Rs. 66,000 for building?

(b) Considering that the Bhumihar Brahman College is the only institution of its kind in North Bihar, and considering the fact that the trustees have been able to raise a sum of Rs. 1,60,000, and have also already raised a monthly subscription of about Rs. 600 for current expenses, will the Government be pleased to consider favourably their petition and allow the grants?

The Hon'ble MR. GOURLAY replied :—

"(a) and (b). It has been ascertained that the Director of Public Instruction has received a request from the Bhumihar Brahman College, Muzaffarpur, through the Commissioner of Tirhut, for the assistance specified in the question of the Hon'ble Member.

"(c) There is however no possibility of giving the grant requested.

APPOINTMENTS.

The Hon'ble BABU BRAJA KISHOR PRASAD asked—

(a) Will the Government be pleased to state separately the total number of District Magistrates, of Joint-Magistrates, of Deputy Magistrates, of Sub-Deputy Magistrates, of Superintendents of Police, of Assistant Superintendents of Police, of Deputy Superintendents of Police, of District Judges, of Sub-Judges, and of Munsifs, in this Province ?

(b) Will the Government be pleased to state separately the total number of appointments in each grade of the services mentioned in the first question ?

(c) Will the Government be pleased to state the percentage of the total number of appointments in each of the grades of the services specified in the first question to the total number of appointments in each of those services?

(d) Considering the very low percentage of appointments in the first three grades of Deputy Magistrates, as compared with the percentage of appointments in those grades of the other services, will the Government be pleased to raise the number of appointments in those grades?

The Hon'ble MR. DUKE replied:—

(a) and (b) The Hon'ble Member is referred to the Civil List.

(c) The percentages asked for are laid on the table.

(d) The analogies sought to be drawn by the Hon'ble Member appear to have no practical application. It is impossible to draw any conclusion from a comparison of the grading of certain specific ranks of the Indian Civil Service or the Police Service with the grading of the Provincial Executive Service as a whole. To make any practical comparison it would be necessary to take into account various appointments and grades which the Hon'ble Member has left out of account.

THE REVISED FINANCIAL STATEMENT.

THE PRESIDENT said :—" We will now resume the discussion of the Revised Financial Statement, which stood over from Saturday last. I call upon the Hon'ble Mr. Küchler to proceed with his remarks on the head of Education."

The Hon'ble MR. KÜCHLER said :—" I will now resume the remarks which I have already made in connection with the introduction of the Education Budget.

" The last of the major projects is under the head 'Miscellaneous,' and concerns the preparation of the Senior Teachers' Manual and of the Science text-books for Standards III to VI. The authors of the various sections have been carefully selected, and the work is being carried on according to the instructions laid down by the Committee appointed by Government to revise the syllabus of studies for the standards in question. It is expected that the book when completed will be of the greatest assistance to teachers, and will enable them to carry out intelligently the scheme of instruction as laid down in the new syllabus.

" The preparation of the text-books for the four standards has been left to private enterprise. The syllabuses are most detailed, and it was felt that with the large number of publishers of repute catering for the Indian market, there was a sufficient guarantee that the books competing for patronage would give the Text-book Committee a satisfactory field of selection. An exception was made in the case of Science text-books alone, the Syllabus Committee having decided that in the case of these important and difficult subjects it would be better that model text-books should, in the first place, be prepared by Government. The Science text-books will be written in English and then translated into the various vernaculars.

" A few words of explanation will suffice for the minor schemes which are given on pages 4 to 6 of the Financial Statement. As regards non-recurring charges on page 4, the first item of Rs. 1,620 is the cost of the additional temporary staff of clerks required for the Director of Public Instruction's office. As regards the Rs. 5,000 allotted to the Patna Law Library, this represents the second instalment of a total grant of Rs. 10,000, which was considered necessary, when the Patna Law College was created last year, to provide it with an adequate library.

"The Teachers' Manual, referred to in the fourth item, is the Junior Teachers' Manual, which has been under preparation during the past two years, and whose publication in the various vernaculars of the province may be shortly expected. The Bengali version, I may mention, has already been published. The sum of Rs. 1,500 is required to enable the department to purchase and supply copies of the Manual to those institutions and teachers who cannot buy them out of their own allotment.

"A manual is also required for maktabs; and though there will be incorporated with it a considerable portion of the Junior Teachers' Manual, it will also include some portions appropriate to maktabs alone. The cost of preparation of this Manual will be Rs. 750. The balance of Rs. 2,000 in the budget is for the purpose of providing translation of the model readers and arithmetic books into the aboriginal vernaculars of Chota Nagpur, namely, Mundari, Uraon and Ho.

"I come lastly to the items of recurring expenditure on page 6 under the head 'Education.' The first item represents the house allowance of the Inspector of the Presidency Division. As regards the second, I may state that Inspectors have hitherto had a considerable portion of the printing work performed at the Bengal Secretariat Press. This practice has now been discontinued, under the orders of Government, on account of the pressure of work in this press, and the Inspectors' printing in future will be done privately. Hence provision of Rs. 3,300 has been made in the budget to meet the required cost.

"The personal allowance of the Inspectress of Schools has been sanctioned in accordance with the orders of the Secretary of State. With regard to the fourth item of Rs. 3,600 for clerks for the Additional Inspectors of Schools, I may explain that, besides the six Divisional Inspectors, there are now six Additional Inspectors, one of whom has for the present been posted to each Division. Each of these Additional Inspectors has been allowed a clerk on Rs. 50 a month. The total cost therefore amounts to Rs. 3,600 a year.

"The allowance of Rs. 3,600 for two Professors of the Presidency College also requires some explanation. Pending the recruitment from England of a Professor of Mathematics and a Professor of History in the Indian Educational Service sanctioned under Mr. Earle's scheme for the Presidency College, two Indian graduates have been temporarily appointed to do the work of the Professors referred to, each on a salary of Rs. 150 a month. The cost for the year 1910-11 of the temporary appointments is Rs. 3,600.

"The sixth item of Rs. 1,380 is to meet the cost of personal allowance for three of the four Foremen Instructors at the Civil Engineering College. It has been decided that such allowances should be given to the Foremen Instructors after they have served in class I of the Subordinate Educational Service for a certain period. The exact form of the allowance has not yet been determined, but a provision of Rs. 1,380 has been made in the budget, as it is likely that the scheme will come into effect next year.

"The scholarships in connexion with the Title course form part of the general scheme for the improvement of Muhammadan education. Twelve scholarships, at a value of Rs. 12 each, have been created for award on the result of the new higher Madrasa examination. Of these twelve scholarships, four will be competed for each year. A further new allotment for scholarships is that of Rs. 2,160 for students who have graduated from the Ravenshaw College, Cuttack, and desire to read for the B. L. examination in a Government Law College. Six scholarships were created of the value of Rs. 30 a month, tenable for two years, either at Patna or Calcutta, from the commencement of the 1909 session. In the award of these scholarships preference is given in the first place to Uriyas, and secondly to candidates who can establish a genuine domicile in Orissa. The cost for last year was Rs. 1,620, and for next year would be Rs. 3,780. The increase therefore for the coming year is Rs 2,160, which is the amount shown in the Financial Statement.

"The last item is the allowance to the Secretary to the Advisory Committee for Indian students. As may be remembered, in July 1909 the Government of India announced that the Secretary of State had decided to establish a Bureau in England for the supply of information to Indian students, as well as a Standing Committee for advisory purposes. The Government of India also issued instructions that local centres be established in each province who would be in direct communication with the Central Bureau in England. It was necessary to appoint a Secretary to this Committee, and the item of Rs. 2,400 in the budget represents the salary of this officer."

The Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari moved the following Resolution:—

"The Council recommend to the Lieutenant-Governor that provision be made in the Budget for the following additional grants under the heading "Education":—

(a) Rupees 50,000 for assisting the University of Calcutta in acquiring the market to the south of the Senate House.

(b) Rupees 50,000 for strengthening the professorial and tutorial staffs of Government Colleges, and for providing house allowance to such members of the professorial and tutorial staffs as may be in need of such relief owing to the smallness of their pay.

(c) Rupees 50,000 for assisting Private Colleges in Bihar and Bengal and Private Schools of Arts, Technology and Industries.

(d) Rupees 20,000 for strengthening M. V. and M. E. Schools in Calcutta and in the mufassal.

(e) Rupees 5,800 for strengthening maktabs and other Muhammadan institutions.

(f) Rupees 5,000 for assisting private institutions for imparting education to females."

He said:—"The additional educational grants for which I must plead, in fact much more, as the Educational Member has been pleased tacitly to admit, are urgently necessary. All the different items speak for themselves, and realizing and appreciating that no outside resources would be available, I am obliged to suggest inter-department retrenchment, which, I am afraid, will not be agreeable to the learned head of the Education Department The constant increase in the costs of the Directing and Inspecting Agency without the inspectable commodity appreciably increasing, has been a source of as constant complaint. As I read the speech of the Hon'ble Mr. Cumming last year in reply to these complaints, it was practically conceded that the complaints were fairly well grounded, and we should have no further complaints, as the maximum was nearing or had already been attained. When such increase takes the shape of the appointment of a much-needed officer like an Inspector of Technical Schools and Industries with its immense possibilities, it can not only be justified but should and would be welcome. Such an officer will be able to give tone and direction to courses of instruction that have been getting rather diffused and at times confused. The directing agency will really be the stronger for such an accession, and our complaints as to increase of inspecting costs do not extend to items like these. We are, however, on firmer grounds when between direction and inspection an increase of sixty thousand rupees takes place, and adequate provision cannot be made for fuller and better manning of our colleges and schools.

"The Hon'ble Mr. Küchler's precise and forceful enunciation of the situation makes it clear that nearly fifty-five thousand rupees is still needed to bring up Government colleges to working strength. I did not know this till the statement was made in Council, and I asked for the smaller sum of Rs. 50,000 on this head, which shows how reasonable and moderate my requisition is.

"The only item that may be said not to appertain to schools and colleges direct is the sum of rupees fifty thousand which I ask for by way of assistance to the University, so that it may be enabled to take steps for acquiring the market to the south of the Senate House. The Government will not for some time to come be able to give the University the whole of the money necessary for this acquisition even if it be inclined to do so, and it is doubtful as to whether the Government could and would guarantee a loan by the University itself for the purpose. It is clear and undoubted that the costs of this acquisition will be prohibitive very soon, and if it is to be acquired at all, it should be acquired immediately. The University will have to do this out of its own resources, supplemented by the contributions of public benefactors and of the Government. The Government of India is already assisting the University with a lakh and eighty thousand a year, and we invite Your Honour's Government to give us the smaller benefaction of fifty thousand rupees.

"How urgently our private institutions require supplementing is well known to Your Honour's Government and to the Director of Public Instruction, and they cannot come up to the University standard if such standard is strictly and rigidly insisted upon. Their continued existence is more or less on sufferance, and they have to be given latitude which they would not be given if Government institutions had not to be given some such latitude. Your Honour referred to this regrettable condition of affairs in the Imperial Council last year with great force, but the Government of India had no more to give us than they did. It behoves us therefore to cast about for means of strengthening our resources unaided. Some of our best men who have received their training in Europe or here, and would be ornaments of any educational service, are long toiling in the lower grades of the service to our lasting regret and to the permanent inefficiency and unpopularity of the service. Some of these names are household words in the domains of learning all the cultured world over, and every day lost in giving them their proper place in the service is an act of inexpediency and injustice that will be difficult to compensate for later on. The Hon'ble Mr. Küchler, in explaining the allowance of Rs. 3,600 for two temporary professors for the Presidency College, was pleased to observe :—

'Pending the recruitment from England of a Professor of Mathematics and a Professor of History in the Indian Educational Service, sanctioned under Mr. Earle's scheme, two Indian graduates have been temporarily appointed to do the work of the Professors referred to, each on a salary of Rs. 150 a month.'

It is no little satisfaction to find that there are Indian graduates to be had on Rs. 150 a month who can win and earn confidence enough to be entrusted with important work like this, for the permanent discharge of which recruitment in England is considered to be absolutely necessary. If junior and newly-appointed professors could be so entrusted, is there any reason why their tried seniors should not be appointed to some at least of the chairs awaiting the fresh arrivals. They are no way lacking in zeal, industry, distinction and experience, and many of them would be in no way inferior to many that have been recently appointed to the higher service and some would be distinctly better. It would be real economy, and more than expedient, to recognise these claims in bringing up the strength of our colleges to the requisite standard, and it is a plea neither out of place nor untimely in trying to economise the Educational Budget.

"Other Professors there are in our Government Colleges whose pay is too low to allow them to be housed properly. They have to teach their students lessons in elegance and cleanliness, the contrary of which they are obliged to practise away from the ken of their students, whom they dare not allow to come near their residences lest the clay feet be discovered. We are grateful, Sir, that Rs. 4,000 a year has this year for the first time under your Honour's auspices been provided for Calcutta Professors. But this is far too small for Calcutta itself, and relief is no less necessary in the Mufassil. Most of the Government Colleges have an inadequate staff—inadequate in quantity and sometimes in quality, inadequate accommodation, inadequate appliances, which helps in the gradual deterioration of the whole work. And if this is the state of things in Government Colleges, how worse is the case in private institutions the resources of which are still more cramped? The recent statement made in Council clearly shows that whatever assistance the private colleges at and near Calcutta may be receiving, it is a good deal worse in the Mufassil, particularly in Bihar. All these colleges require strengthening as also do the schools from which our colleges are ultimately supplied. These considerations which might be multiplied manifoldly and which have been repeatedly urged on the Government, make it necessary that some more grant should be given in aid of education all along the line. And as we cannot look for aid outside the Educational Budget, I ask for reduction, at least for a time, of the Inspecting charges, most of the increase under which item is for a higher scale of travelling and incidental expenses. Let us have our schools and colleges in working order first and be content with inspection such as has brought us to the stage in our education that we attained with much less inspection and whch is no mean result to have attained. Superior inspection may come on later.

"Last year the Hon'ble Mr. Cumming was pleased to observe:—

'The Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari has emphasised the difficulty and expense of bringing our colleges to a proper University standard. Government appreciates the propriety of setting a good example in Government Colleges and of giving assistance to private colleges.'

"We gladly recognise and appreciate the notable efforts that the Government has been making in the near past to make up for long-standing deficiency in this important domain of administration, and our grievance is that Education proper is being elbowed out by Inspection, which ought to and may wait till the vital element has had a fairer chance. It was refreshing and reassuring to read in the Annual Administration Report for 1908-09, just published, that 'a sufficient advance having now been made in the direction (of inspection of primary schools), efforts are henceforth to be directed towards the improvement of the teaching staff.' And thus reassured I plead for timely reversal of the process affecting secondary and higher education. If the whole of the reduction that I ask for cannot be agreed to, there may, at all events, be some reduction and proportionate strengthening of the items of the Educational Budget to which I have drawn attention. This will be a mere inter-departmental readjustment and need in no way disturb the general Budget as a whole. In passing I may be permitted to observe that the whole country is thankful, Sir, for the kind and sympathetic assurances that Your Honour was pleased to vouchsafe the other day at Krishnagar regarding the continuance of the College there, and for being able to provide much larger educational grants generally than could be expected in view of the cramped resources of the year.

"I do not conceal from myself that in seeking to encroach on Inspection preserves I am leading a fairly forlorn hope, and as one seeking 'any port,' I am tempted to ask myself if I could not take the Hon'ble the Director of Public Instruction at his word, and have released, at least, for the time being and for my present purposes, even the non-recurring charges of a lakh and fifty thousand rupees for the Presidency College Laboratory, which he does not seem to urgently want or to be particularly anxious to get. There is a ring of doubt and misgiving in the Hon'ble Member's speech as to the utility and expediency of spending more money for the improvement of the Presidency College in situ, and it is difficult quite to make out whether it is a mere individual or authoritative doubt and misgiving. If the question be still open and the Government has not finally decided the matter, this expenditure, when money is badly wanted for strengthening the service, which ought always to be the fundamental and predominant factor, would be inexpedient. Pending final decision, diversion of the funds for the purposes I indicate would be greatly helpful. I am myself free to say that in connection with private educational institutions recently started or about to be started, we are weighed down with difficulties in getting suitable land in or near Calcutta at a reasonable cost. In connection, for example, with a higher grade school and second-grade college of a special type, proposal for which has the sympathy and support of leaders and Educational authorities like the Hon'ble the Law Member of the Government of India, the Hon'ble the Vice-Chancellor of the University, the Hon'ble Maharaja Bahadur Sir Prodyot Kumar Tagore and Sir

Guru Das Banerji, it has been felt and conceded that such an institution must go to a healthy, central and easily accessible place like Madhupur, where the stricken of many diseases, such as our students mostly are now-a-days, may advantageously congregate. The case of a model Government institution like the Presidency College seems, however, to be different; and if there is a preponderance of educational opinion in favour of its removal, there is a preponderance of opinion the other way so far as students and guardians and a large section of the public are concerned, considerations of expediency and sentiments being urged with no little vigor and effect. Since the Hon'ble Mr. Küchler's speech on Saturday I had opportunities of conferring with distinguished exponents of both the views, and there seems to be little indication of any decided change of opinion either way. If in this state of things the budget item in question is stayed and not passed, it could be used for no more useful purposes than those that I venture to indicate.

"I shall now shortly state my objections to Government undertaking preparation of text-books, which the Hon'ble Mr. Küchler's explanations do not fully meet.

"The reason why I venture to ask that the costs of preparing scientific text-books should be reduced is that Government is undertaking somewhat unnecessary work in this connection, and much, in fact the greater part of it, may and ought to be left to the literary public. In fact, the Government resolution on the subject provides, as the Director has also pointed out, that if the public can prepare equally good or better books they will be acceptable to the Text-book Committee. If so, why should the burden be thrown on, or be undertaken by, the Government. As I ventured to press on a previous occasion, it is alike undesirable and unnecessary that the Government should enter into a competition with the public in the matter, and the interests of education would be best served by leaving the preparation of text-books to the usual literary competition, seeing that literature and science have admittedly made an advance in Bengal and the time for foster school-book societies, even regarding science text-books, has gone by. If the result of competition is not yet in all cases satisfactory, it is because of the cramping conditions laid down in regard to the preparation of text-books in some subjects. I shall just refer to one such condition. Geography is one of the subjects which has been left open to competition, and one of the conditions is that a translation of the vernacular text into English should be submitted for approval. No such condition has been attached to preparation of text-books in subjects like History, in regard to which under existing circumstances there might be some reason for laying down such a condition. There may be, and in fact are, experts in Geography who can turn out excellent vernacular text-books, but would and do find it extremely difficult to rewrite the work in English in a style that would be acceptable. The excellence of the English translation being naturally the criterion of the excellence of the work, these competitors would be at a great disadvantage, for they could not secure the services of master craftsmen in the subject except on prohibitive terms. The members of the Central Text-book Committee are men of light and leading, well versed in the vernacular or supposed to be so—Inspectors of Schools, Additional Inspectors of Schools, Government Translators, Government Librarian, retired High Court Judges, Professors of Colleges and representatives of public opinion. They might well be left to judge of the excellence of the text in vernacular, and no English translation, which must be of an inferior merit, ought to be necessary for proper judgment of the suitability of the texts. If some indication as to the subject-matter in English is deemed necessary, a table of contents in English might possibly answer the purpose, but no translation of the complete text would or could be necessary. This is a weakness of the system which ought to be put right as soon as possible, and everything ought to be done to facilitate the production of proper text-books in all subjects by open competition.

"Regarding other matters mentioned in my Resolution, I would merely observe that we have growing amongst us some worthy private schools imparting education to females and also in arts, the claims of which I should again like to press on the Government. They are doing excellent work, but cannot go on unaided much longer, and I plead only for a slight aid by way of encouragement and as an earnest of more assistance that the Government may be able to give in better years. A sum of Rs. 4,200 in aid of maktabs appears to be far too small, and as a special encouragement to Muhammadan education, I propose that the sum be raised to Rs. 10,000. I do not overlook the provision for the Madrasa Hostel, and have to express the thanks of the Muhammadan community in the educational advancement of which I take a keen and special interest. It is a misfortune under the prevailing circumstances that much of what ought to come under Public Works Department charges, figure under the educational head and confuse the issues. More has to be spent on education proper, and I propose that the Middle Vernacular and Middle English schools which Hindus and Mahomedans alike resort to should have an extra assistance of Rs. 20,000. This would be a step further in aid of extension of primary and secondary education, for which there is a marked and growing demand all over the country to which gradual response has to be made.

"Though not referred to in my Resolution, I remark that the provision for supervision of hostels and students' messes has been reduced from Rs. 2,700 last year to Rs. 400, and no provision has been made, as far as I have been able to see, for the rent of the messes and hostels which the Government has for the last few years been allowing to the University. I shall be glad if non-discovery of the item is merely an oversight on my part. But if the omission has been decided on, it will seriously affect the question of students' residence in Calcutta and the University regulations bearing on the matter as well as the question of discipline. The University has been thinking of the appointment of an Inspector of its own, but its resources do not permit this at present, and it has to depend upon Government for help. If the University is unable to find the supervision expenses, it can much less find funds for supplementing the funds of the Students' Residence Committee, and Government assistance will for some time be imperatively necessary if the work is to be done at all. As the Hon'ble the Vice-Chancellor of the University, even whose giant efforts in the cause of the University are barely sufficient to meet its infinitely expanding requirements, and whose reappointment is a great aid to the cause of education, emphasised in his Convocation address the day before yesterday :—

'The principal difficulty in connection with students' residence is one of funds, and I make no secret of my conviction that without a liberal grant-in-aid from the State, continued for many years and supplemented by private effort on an equally extensive scale, it is impossible to provide colleges, and schools with adequate and well-managed places of residence for their students.'

"I can hardly put the case higher or plead stronger for continued State aid in this direction.

"I do not quite follow the Hon'ble Mr. Küchler as to why the receipt side of the Education Budget should have lost a lakh and seventy-eight thousand rupees by the amiable 'non-refund' of the sum on the part of District Boards or why any falling off in the Presidency College fees should be apprehended. The Presidency College occupies a very high place in the esteem and affection of the people, particularly those who had to do with it in early life, and whoever can possibly afford it, even by stint and strain, seeks to send his son and ward to this still beloved seat of learning. It can always command more than a full complement of students, and students had to be, and have to be, sent away from its portals not in tens and twenties but in hundreds. Such is its popularity, and higher will that popularity rise if full and sufficient manning can be secured as I propose. In passing I would express gratification at the bettering of the Darjeeling School Buildings, to which I was obliged to call pointed attention two years ago, and would also beg to suggest that the Ministerial cadre of the Educational Department be separated from the Teaching cadre, as the present arrangement operates as a great hardship on the latter. My separate resolutions as regards this and the separation of the Translators' Department from the Educational Department were disallowed as being matters of policy and not of budget, and I cannot therefore press these matters by way of resolution. But I hope I may be permitted to draw Your Honour's attention to them under the leave kindly given by Your Honour on Saturday and in the hope that some action may be possible.

"The limited character of the Orissa Law stipends referred to in the Hon'ble Mr. Küchler's speech to-day also requires a passing word. There is a large number of non-Uriyas settled or working in Orissa whose sons have to be educated at Cuttack and who can neither claim nor establish an Orissa domicile. The stipends are provided because Cuttack cannot have its Law College, and these Bengali students would have been reading law at Cuttack without their being any way handicapped on account of their race if Cuttack continued to have a Law College. While some preference for Uriyas and domiciled Uriyas may for obvious reasons be necessary and desirable, other things being equal, Bengalis should hardly be handicapped and excluded for no worse fault than that in the service of the Government or in the exercise of their profession or calling their fathers and guardians are obliged to be in Orissa, though they cannot establish claim to a domicile there. Such differentiation is calculated to affect the harmony between the races, and ought to be out of place in our educational policy and educational institutions. The undesirable results of such 'provincialisation' in educational matters if I may call it so, were brought out with peculiar force by the answers of the Hon'ble Mr. Gourlay this morning to the question of the Hon'ble Babu Braja Kishor Prasad, when we learnt that though graduate teachers was the order of the day in the Bihar schools, ten years ago, graduate teachers cannot be maintained at this level in these schools because of the recent rule about Biharis getting a preference in the matter of these teacherships, and because of the inadequate number of Bihari graduates that are available.

The Hon'ble BABU BRAJA KISHOR PRASAD said:—"Your Honour,—I have much pleasure in supporting the Resolution which has been moved by the Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari. If the Resolution is carried through the Council or is accepted by the Government, the chances of the educational institutions in Bihar of getting larger sums of money towards their improvements are materially increased and strengthened. For example, if in addition to the sum of Rs. 42,000, which has been allotted in the next year's budget for improving the teaching staff of the Government Arts Colleges, we get a sum of Rs. 50,000 more, we may fairly hope that the Patna College may get an additional Professor, so that a B. A. class in Philosophy and M. A. classes in one or two subjects may be opened. Your Honour, education is a very important affair, and, as all of us know, on education depend the general advancement and progress of a people. Education should therefore form the first charge on the public revenues of a country. But I am sorry to note here that the Government has not fully accepted this view, though of late years there have been genuine and real efforts on behalf of the Government to look to the educational needs of the country; but here again, Sir, it is with much regret that I am constrained to point out that Government has very much neglected the education of the Biharis in the past. Biharis have not been given the same educational facilities which their brethren in Bengal enjoy, and I would not be far from the truth if I were to say that the backwardness of Bihar is due simply to the neglect of the Government. I shall just now illustrate my point by quoting certain figures which were supplied to the Council in reply to a question put by the Hon'ble Maharaj-Kumar of Tikari. These figures relate to the grants-in-aid given by the Government to the private colleges in Bengal in the years 1906 to 1909. Your Honour will find that in the year 1906-07 a total grant of Rs. 1,86,574 was given to all the colleges in Bengal, and out of this we find that Bihar got only Rs. 17,000, i.e., only 9 per cent. of the total grant. Similarly, in the year 1907-08 the total educational grant was Rs. 2,15,947, and out of this Bihar got only Rs. 15,585, i.e., 6·9 per cent. of the total grant. Then, in the year 1908-09, out of a total grant of Rs. 1,50,725 Bihar got only Rs. 15,755, i.e., only 10 per cent. of the total grant. In the year 1909-10, we find that there was a total grant of Rs. 1,66,514, and out of this Bihar got only Rs. 19,784, i.e., 11·4 per cent. of the total grant. Now, if we take up the grants made in all these years, we find that Bihar got very little, and to this fact I may venture to say that the backwardness of Bihar in education is due.

"These figures are very significant and speak for themselves. Now what justification the Government has for such a treatment of the educational claims of Bihar it is difficult to understand. But I may submit that there cannot possibly be any justification for it. When we take the case of individual private colleges of Bengal, the injustice done to Bihar in these respects becomes more flagrant."

THE PRESIDENT said:—"I am afraid the Hon'ble Member is wandering from his subject. There is nothing in the Resolution which discriminates between education in Bihar and Bengal. I must ask him to confine his remarks to the subject-matter before the Council."

The Hon'ble BABU BRAJA KISHOR PRASAD said:—"Your Honour,—What I wanted to say was that if this Resolution were accepted by Your Honour, we would get more sums for education in Bihar. However, Sir, I shall only point out a few facts more as regards the individual colleges of Bengal. I will mention some instances. In all these four years, four colleges in Bihar got only a sum of Rs. 68,224, out of a total of Rs. 7,19,760, while one Missionary College in Calcutta, viz., the St. Xavier's College, got no less than Rs. 83,500; another private college in Calcutta, viz., the Bangabasi College, got as much as Rs. 1,26,450, i.e., about twice as much as was given to all the colleges together in Bihar. Then, if we take the case of the Daulatpur Academy in the Khulna district, which is a second-grade institution, we find that it got as much as Rs. 34,750. In Bihar we have got three first-grade private colleges, viz., the B. N. College, Bankipore, T. N. Jubilee College, Bhagalpur, and B. B. College, Muzaffarpur, and one second-grade college, namely, the Diamond Jubilee College at Monghyr. Coming to my own Division, i.e., Tirhut Division, I find that in all these four years the Muzaffarpur College, a first-grade college, got only Rs. 7,000, while the second-grade college in Khulna got Rs. 34,750, i.e., five times as much.

"I shall finish by saying that if this Resolution is carried through the Council, we shall have very great chance of getting larger sums of money for education in Bihar, and with these remarks I humbly support the Resolution of the Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari, and I hope that it will be carried through the Council."

The Hon'ble MR. M. S. DAS said:—"I have not before me, Your Honour, any Resolution which the Hon'ble Member for the Calcutta University intended to move, and yet the hon'ble gentleman who just now resumed his seat gave me to understand from his speech that there was a Resolution which he intended to support. The Hon'ble Member for the Calcutta University has referred to various subjects touching on educational matters. It is not my purpose, Sir, to make any remarks on those various points, but in his speech he made a reference to certain scholarships which have been awarded by Government, and he made certain remarks with regard to the claims of the different sections of the community who are residents of Orissa. As far as I understand, Sir, those scholarships were given for the benefit of the people of Orissa, and by that I understand, the people who are interested in the welfare of Orissa, and who mean to reside there permanently without reference to caste or colour or creed. But a person to be of service to a province must be a person who, by his past life, has shown that he takes an interest in the welfare of the province; and, that if he receives his education outside Orissa, his life ought to be spent in Orissa and for the benefit of the province. I have always advocated that a proportionate number of those scholarships should go to the domiciled Bengalis or people of other places who have settled down in Orissa, always bearing in mind that the proportion in which these scholarships are awarded to the different communities must be in proportion to the population of the different communities. And if the hon'ble gentleman has been informed from any source that there is objection to the domiciled Bengalis—the term, Sir, I have never been able to understand, and yet that is the term by which a person coming from Bengal and domiciled in Orissa is generally described, domiciled Bengali being a contradiction of terms—I should tell the Hon'ble Member that nobody ever objects to the domiciled Bengalis having their proper and legitimate share in these scholarships—a share such as the proportion of their population would justify in comparison with the population of the Uriyas generally. And as regards certain parts of the province being backward in education, I am not prepared to say that the whole burden of the education should lie on the shoulders of the Government. I myself come from that part of the country in Your Honour's rule, where education is as backward and perhaps more so than it is in Bihar. But certainly I do believe that if the people wish to avail themselves of the benefits of education which are within their reach, no Government convinced of an earnest desire on the part of the people to raise themselves to the rank of educated people, will hold its hands or fail to stretch forth a hand of ready help."

The Hon'ble MR. KÜCHLER said :—" I observe that the Hon'ble Member has inverted in his remarks the order of the Resolutions as given in the Agenda paper. As indicated there, it would appear that he intended to make the proposed reduction of expenditure under certain heads of the Education Budget contingent on the acceptance by the Council of his proposals for increased allotments for other educational objects. The new procedure is undoubtedly preferable, as however admirable the Hon'ble Member's proposals might possibly be, they must necessarily fall to the ground unless ways and means can be found to carry them out. Unfortunately the recommendations made by the Hon'ble Member in this respect cannot be said to be of a practical character. The chief proposal is that the allotment for inspection should be reduced by Rs. 1,30,000. Does the Hon'ble Member really put this forward as a serious business proposition? I presume that he is aware that the acceptance of his Resolution would mean the withdrawal from their present employment of a large number of inspecting officers, and those officers would either have to be provided with other posts, or to be compensated on account of their services being dispensed with. The former alternative is not practicable, unless new posts were created for the purpose, so that either contingency means large expenditure during 1910-11 and a consequent reduction, if not a total extinction, of the funds which the Hon'ble Member hopes to make available for the purposes he has in view. Quite apart from this consideration, however, I am compelled to take exception to the Hon'ble Member's proposals for the reduction of the inspecting staff. The Hon'ble Member is of opinion that this staff has been unduly increased at the expense of other branches of education. I must here seriously join issue with him. He does not intimate what branch of inspection is overstaffed, but I presume his criticisms apply more or less to all. As far as Sub-Inspectors are concerned, far from their number being excessive, complaints are constantly reaching me that they are still insufficient for the effective inspection of primary schools ; nor is this astonishing when we consider that the total number of primary schools is over 37,000, and the number of Sub-Inspectors only 300. It is true that the previous training of these officers still leave much to be desired, but this consideration points to an increase rather than a reduction of expenditure. Again if we consider the higher inspecting agency, the Hon'ble Member will recollect that at the instance of the University the work of reporting on all higher schools to the Syndicate has lately been entrusted to the departmental Inspectors. The system has worked most satisfactorily and the Hon'ble Member, despite the disfavour with which he is apt to look on school inspection in general, will acknowledge that the Syndicate is indebted to those Inspectors for very valuable reports. All this, however, means an increase of work, and it is difficult therefore to see how the Hon'ble Member could advocate a decrease in the strength of the higher inspecting staff.

"I maintain, therefore, that the expenditure on inspection is by no means disproportionate to that on other branches of educational work, and that any increase of expenditure for that purpose has proceeded pari passu with increase of expenditure on other educational objects. This is illustrated even by the figures of the present budget which shew that while inspection shews an addition of some sixty thousand rupees, the total budget allotment has increased by Rs. 5,60,000.

"On these grounds alone I think the Resolutions of the Hon'ble Member should be rejected, but I should like nevertheless to say a few words on the merits of the proposals he has made for additional support to other educational objects.

"(a) I agree with the Hon'ble Member that the acquisition of the market is desirable and would greatly add to the amenity of the surroundings of the Senate House. It is hardly, however, a matter for which a special grant is required. The University has now for many years past received large Imperial grants for general University purposes, including the acquisition of land and the erection of buildings. The total amount which has been contributed by the Imperial Government towards the Building fund since the year 1904-05 is Rs. 4,10.000, and the balance of the fund at the end of February 1910 was Rs. 1,81,985. In addition to this there is the University Reserve fund, the balance of which at the end of February was Rs. 6,08,015. The Government of India grant is, moreover, still being continued and for the next year Rs. 80,000, as will be seen from the Budget figures, has been given for general University purposes. No doubt the larger portion of this will be allotted to the Building fund. It is for the University, therefore, to decide whether it thinks it desirable to acquire the particular plot referred to by the Hon'ble Member or whether other plots adjacent to the present Senate House would suit its requirements better. A large piece of land has already been acquired at a cost of Rs. 1,96,348-13-6 as a site for the new library and Law College. There certainly seems to be no reason to supplement the liberal contribution of the Government of India by a special grant covering a similar purpose as suggested by the Hon'ble Member.

"(b) I have already, in introducing the Budget for Education, called attention to the sanction which has been given by the Secretary of State to the scheme for strengthening the staff of the Government colleges, and to the allotment of a sum of Rs. 42,000 for giving effect to the scheme as far as that is possible during the coming year. It will also be seen from the figures that to give full effect to this project a considerable additional allotment will be necessary the year after. In addition to all this, a sum of Rs. 6,000 has been set aside this year for improving the staff of the Sanskrit College, while, besides the posts contemplated in Mr. Earle's scheme, a number of others, at present on a temporary basis, have been created. Apparently, therefore, the Hon'ble Member's wishes in this matter have already been met. It is possible, however, that he intends that the sum already allotted should be increased by a further allotment of Rs. 50,000. No valid reason has, I think, been advanced by him for additional expenditure on this large scale. With the increased strength of staff, which has been sanctioned, a very considerable improvement has been made per saltum in the teaching capacity of the several Government colleges, and though I would be the last to maintain that we have now come to a dead stop, and that all further expansion is barred, I think that future additions to the teaching staff of the colleges should be gradual and in response to well-considered proposals from their respective governing bodies. No case appears to have been made out for an abrupt increase of expenditure as now proposed by the Hon'ble Member, especially as such additions, as may in future be found necessary, will be largely with respect to tutorial and therefore comparatively inexpensive appointments.

"As regards free quarters or house allowances for college professors, it has been laid down by the Government of India that the former shall only be given to such professors as undertake specific duties in connexion with the supervision of students outside college hours, and it has not been thought advisable to give allowances in lieu of such quarters. The general question of the adequacy of the salaries of professors in Government colleges, which to judge from his remarks, the Hon'ble Member seems partly to have had in mind in proposing an increased allotment under this head, cannot be disposed of in the way here suggested. It is entirely a separate matter and is, I may state, at present under the consideration of Government.

"(c) Here again I presume that the Hon'ble Member is aware that a considerable allotment has been made for recurring grants-in-aid to private colleges—the actual distribution during the current year was Rs. 77,080—and that therefore what he really wants is that the amount in question should be increased by Rs. 50,000. It is of course easy to distribute this or any other sum to private colleges. One way alone, in which it could be absorbed, would be by a general increase of salaries, and the Hon'ble Member seems indeed to suggest something of the kind in the course of his remarks. I am afraid, however, that each application for an increased grant-in-aid must be considered on its merits, and I can assure the Hon'ble Member that such applications will always receive sympathetic consideration. It is obviously undesirable to budget for a large increase of the allotment under this head on the strength merely of general considerations, and a resolution of Council recommending an additional lump allotment of this kind would be tantamount to asking Government to give grants-in-aid, either where they have not been applied for, or where on a careful scrutiny applications for such grants have already been rejected. The same arguments apply also to the case of the other classes of institutions mentioned in the Hon'ble Member's resolution. Industrial and technical schools are already largely aided both by Government and District Boards, and each application must be considered separately. The purely departmental grants to these schools amount to Rs. 23,287.

"(d) The control of Middle Vernacular schools and Middle English schools rests with the District Boards wherever such exist. Any increased aid would therefore have to be made through these bodies. This would involve an increased grant from the provincial revenues to the District Boards for educational purposes, and probably the Hon'ble Member contemplates that the additional allotment in the budget should be made in this way. I am in sympathy with the Hon'ble Member as to the desirability of improving Middle Vernacular and Middle English education, but such a matter can hardly be effected by haphazard increase in the budget allotment. It must follow on a well considered and systematic scheme dealing with the whole question, and as the Hon'ble Member will have gathered from the answer to one of the questions put in to-day's meeting, the matter, which is part of the general question of the improvement of secondary education, is at present receiving the attention of Government.

"(e) In proposing an increase of Rs. 5,800 for Maktabs and other Muhammadan institutions, the Hon'ble Member is probably unaware of the provision that has already been made not only in the present, but also in the last year's budget for this purpose. Prior to the present year the amount of our grants-in-aid to Maktabs was Rs. 16,250. This year we increased it by Rs. 21,386 and next year we shall probably be in a position to raise the total grant to Rs. 50,000. We also provided Rs. 3,380 last year for Madrasas under Mr. Earle's scheme. We have given grants on generous lines to every Madrasa that has applied and that has been willing to adjust itself to the conditions of aid imposed by Government. In face of these figures it is unlikely that the Hon'ble Member will wish to press for a relatively insignificant increase of Rs. 5,800.

"(f) Similar considerations hold good with regard to the proposed additional grant for assisting private institutions for imparting education to females. There is no doubt great scope for expansion in this field, but a considerable amount, i.e., Rs. 59,210, has already been provided in the budget for aiding such institutions, and I look forward with confidence to the time when this allotment will be largely increased.

"It is difficult, however, to see what result the addition of the meagre sum of Rs. 5,000 is expected to produce. There is no more important problem awaiting solution than that of female education; but the question of finance enters into it only in a minor degree and it is useless to provide funds before their application has been carefully thought out.

"While, however, I cannot support the resolutions of the Hon'ble Member, I acknowledge the discussion has served a useful purpose. No doubt, several of his proposals have been put forward under a misapprehension of what is actually being done by Government, and I trust that my explanations have shewn that Government is not inattentive to the claims of the educational objects for which the Hon'ble Member has pleaded to-day. At any rate they may have helped to put in a clearer light what has already been done in the directions indicated."

The Hon'ble BABU DEBA PRASAD SARBADHIKARI said:—"Sir, in reply, I would not like to go over the whole of the ground traversed by my friend for the obvious reason that, having regard to his very decided views, not much useful purpose would be served by my rejoinder in the way of shaping the views of the majority of the Council. But as my friend has extended an invitation to me to acknowledge that the Government is not inattentive to the educational needs of the country, it is an invitation that I cannot possibly refuse. That acknowledgment is and is bound to be cordial and whole-hearted, though it is but an acknowledgment of a mere truism. If I felt that the Government was not and was not inclined to be attentive to our educational needs or was at all inattentive, I should not have been taking up the time of this Council and my own time for the matter of that, by pressing these needs with what is apt to be regarded as disagreeable persistency, as I have felt it my duty to press. Not only do I gladly acknowledge what my Hon'ble friend has invited me to acknowledge, but I am glad to be able also to acknowledge, Sir, that some of our recommendations have already been accepted and borne fruit. What we are trying to do to-day—if the Hon'ble the Director of Public Instruction would help and co-operate with us—is to try to make the best of the available resources and to supply and meet the more pressing needs.

"The Hon'ble Member has said that no case has been made out for increased staffing of Government Colleges in the way I propose. The case has been made out by the Hon'ble Member himself in his own speech, in which he says:—

'This scheme was the outcome of the (new) University Regulations, and received the final sanction of the Secretary of State on 21st May, 1909. It involves the creation of a large number of new posts in the Indian Educational Service, Provincial Educational Service and Subordinate Educational Service, the total cost of which amounts to Rs. 1,40,840. As, however, it was necessary to satisfy the requirements of the University, as far as possible, immediately after the promulgation of the regulations, a number of temporary appointments had already been created in anticipation of the Secretary of State's sanction. The cost of these temporary appointments amounted last year to Rs. 45,000. The Rs. 42,000 in the schedule represents the additional cost which the introduction of the complete scheme will entail next year. It will be seen that expenditure for that year, namely, Rs. 87,000, still falls considerably short of the maximum figure, namely, Rs. 1,40,840. This is mainly due to the fact that it will not be possible to recruit several Professors in the Indian Educational Service for the present.'

"From my point of view the only question now is as to whether the service should be brought up to the requisite strength this year or later, and whether the newly-introduced Inspection charges ought not to wait. Both the branches of the service need strengthening according to the Hon'ble Member, and for reasons not very obvious, the Hon'ble Member shows preference to the Inspection Branch. I plead for the other and the more important branch, which cannot be said not to be in need of strengthening.

"Then, Sir, the Hon'ble Member has said that we ought to know what to do with the Rs. 50,000 demanded for the private colleges. The Hon'ble Member and myself and our colleagues on the Syndicate have experienced numerous difficulties over the distribution of sums annually alike for private colleges, but I cannot understand the Hon'ble Member's present perplexity. He knows as well as I know what a difficult, delicate and embarrassing task it is to apportion out Rs. 80,000 among private colleges, whose demands could not be fully met by ten times as much money. There could be absolutely no difficulty or perplexity in distributing all the money that we could have and for the best of purposes.

"With regard to inspection charges, my friend has reminded me of the invaluable services that his Inspectors have rendered to the University, and I should feel wretched and miserable indeed if I were not cordially to acknowledge the excellent, and I may say the splendid, service which the inspecting department has rendered to the University, but for which its work would have been considerably more difficult in the absence of its own inspection agency. But, Sir, that work is by no means new, but has been going on since 1907 when the inspection charges stood at Rs. 6,27,000. In fact the brunt of the work fell on those that worked in the beginning, when we were obliged to have frequent whole-day Syndicate meetings to dispose of these very helpful reports. The work is now comparatively easy and of the routine type, and is not responsible for the immense increase in the inspection charges since. I would in all seriousness ask if we have had better or more inspection since? And do we need it? If not, why these charges? Of course the Department thinks that we must have extra inspection before the service proper is in full working order.

"That is a matter of adjustment which I ask this Council to make. I myself think it best to let the teachers and professors do their work in the best of their light and to the best of their skill and ability, without too much inspection and, I was going almost to say, interference. If need be, more inspection may come later when we are better off. If it is to be a choice of evil, I would let the augmentation of the Inspection department stand over awhile, while we manned our colleges better. I therefore invite my Hon'ble friend to forego the increase of the Rs. 60,000 for the inspection which he is adding this year, less the Technical Inspector's pay, and I hope my friend will consider this at least to be 'business like.'

"Regarding the grant for the University Buildings extension, if there is any difficulty with regard to what I ask for, I am ready to withdraw it, if thereby I may advance the other causes which I advocate. Supposing again that my friend does not himself now want more money for the Government colleges, we think it would immensely benefit the private colleges if they could get fifty or sixty thousand rupees which would be set free if inspection charges be not added to. Why should we not have this at all events?

"These are matters, Sir, that are within the rights of the Council to determine, and it may be convenient if Your Honour is pleased to put this Resolution, section by section, to the Council, so that if one particular section is rejected, other sections may probably be benefited. Of course, as I admit there are difficulties this year which may stand in the way of the University grant being allowed, though I do not admit that the University can do the extension work out of its own resources, whether they be reserved funds or otherwise; some Government grants in this direction will be badly needed later on, and I am glad my friend has been good enough to admit the necessity of the work.

"With regard to the question of female education, my friend seems to fear that we might not know what to do even if a grant is made. I think that lady-educationists like Miss Dass and Mrs. Roy, who have devoted their life-energy to the cause can tell him that the question is not what to do with the money, but the question is how to get money. Let the money be found and the apportionment will be in no way difficult. As my friend has said nothing as to the Presidency College and Student Mess grants, I suppose and hope he will carefully take into his consideration my suggestions.

"As regards the observations of my Hon'ble friend, Mr. Das, regarding the Orissa scholarships, I am afraid my Hon'ble friend is labouring under a misapprehension. I did not mean that preferential treatment should not be accorded to the class for whose benefit the stipends are primarily given; all that I tried to get the Council to say is that Bengalis as such should not be excluded by reason of their race and some arrangements ought to be possible by which all the sections of the Community—Uriyas or domiciled Uriyas, as the Hon'ble Mr. Das would like to put it, as well as non-domiciled Bengalis—could participate in the benefaction. As I gather, my Hon'ble friend has and could have no objection to this, and for this I venture to plead.

The Resolution was then put and lost.

The foregoing Resolution having been lost, the following Resolution, of which the Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari had given notice, was not moved:—

The Council further recommend to the Lieutenant-Governor that the following reductions be made in the Budget:—

(a) Reduction of one lakh and thirty thousand rupees under the heading "Inspection", under the major head "Education", and of Rs. 5,000 under the heading "Preparation and Translation of Science Text-books".

(b) Reduction of fifty thousand rupees under "Lump provision for grants for works of sanitary improvements".

The Hon'ble MR. DAS then moved the following Resolution:—

"The Council recommend to the Lieutenant-Governor that the necessary arrangements be made for teaching history in the Ravenshaw College, Cuttack."

He said:—"Sir, with Your Honour's permission, I should like to inform the Hon'ble Mr. Gourlay that it is not my intention to demand any large sum. Demands for large sums have been previously made, and consequently a further demand may make the Member in charge nervous about this motion. There is a necessity for a lecturer in History in the Ravenshaw College. The cost of maintaining a lecturer for twelve months will, according to the information I have received from the Director of Public Instruction, be from Rs. 1,500 to Rs 1,800. As regards the necessity for such a lecturer, I should only draw Your Honour's attention to certain remarks which have been made from time to time by the Director of Public Instruction, both the present Director, the Hon'ble Mr. Küchler, and Mr. James who officiated for a time as Director when Mr. Küchler was away. At the commencement of this year's session the need for a lecturer in History was brought to the notice of the Director of Public Instruction by two of the successive Principals of the Ravenshaw College. But the then Director stated that a timely application had not been made, while at the same time he admitted both in private conversation and in official correspondence that there was certainly a necessity for such a professor. I remember, Sir, having met Mr. James at a private social gathering when everybody interested in the education of young people in Orissa actually pressed the claim of the Ravenshaw College for a lecturer in History before him. There were non-official gentlemen who were interested in education generally, there were people who were parents of the students, there were the professors and the Principal of the Ravenshaw College, and the Commissioner of the Division. All these agreed that there was a necessity for such a lecturer. But, Sir, we were told that the application had come too late, and Mr. James said that people who did not come in time for the train must wait for the next train, and so I have taken this opportunity of coming before Your Honour before the next train is due. But I learn from some source that even now the present Director is inclined to say that there is no room in the train, so you must wait further. My application is one which does not require any disjoining of the budget. I find that there is provision of Rs. 42,000 for the improvement of the instructive staff of the colleges. So the question before the Council and before Your Honour is whether, under the circumstances, Ravenshaw College ought to have a share (not a big share) to the extent of Rs. 1,800 annually. The budget does not show if any final decision has been made as regards how this amount is to be distributed amongst the several colleges; nor does it show as to whether any share of this has been allowed to Ravenshaw College. Consequently the question presents itself before this Council in this form, Sir—whether, taken on its merits, the claims of Ravenshaw College for a lecturer of History are such as ought to commend themselves to the Hon'ble Members of this Council and to Your Honour. During the commencement of the present session there were fifty students who were willing and even anxious to have passed in science. Limited accommodation in the Science Laboratory could provide only for 14 in Chemistry, 14 in Physics and 24 in Botany. Very many of the Intermediate in Arts students wanted to take up either Botany or Chemistry, but they could not be educated because there was not sufficient accommodation as required under the new regulations of the Calcutta University. There was no alternative for these students but to take up Mathematics, and Mathematics is not always a congenial subject for students. Sir, I beg to submit that, under the new Regulations, an option is given to students in the choice of subjects, and certainly, Sir, if a college is so equipped with regard to its instructive staff as to compel a student to take up a subject which is not congenial to him, such college under these circumstances does not fulfil the object which the University had in introducing the new system of education. Besides I should mention also that Mr. James in one of his letters wrote that the history teaching of the college was very desirable, and trusted that this may be satisfactorily arranged for next year. He again said in another letter that it was a necessity and he regretted that he was unable to make arrangements for the current session, but pointed out that every effort will be made to appoint a lecturer in 1910. Then, Sir, the financial aspect of the college shows that the earning from fees was Rs. 320 more per mensem in 1909-10 than in 1908-09. So we have an additional income of Rs. 300, and all that I want, Sir, is that the pay of a lecturer, which is Rs. 125 or Rs. 150, may be met out of this. If the Director of Public Instruction has made up his mind finally as to how this Rs. 42,000 are to be spent, though there is nothing in the Budget to show that any final decision has been arrived at on this point, I appeal to the Hon'ble Mr. Gourlay. He told us that he has given us Rs. 52,000 or Rs. 53,000 for the Civil Courts building; that is bound to remain incomplete during next year; and if he gives us Rs. 1,800 out of that that would be more incomplete by perhaps 1,000 cubic feet of mortar and brick work, and the college will be provided with a professor. As a last resort, Sir, I beg to submit that I undertake to raise the required amount if Your Honour directs the Director of Public Instruction to appoint a lecturer of History. I am sure the hon'ble gentleman who represents the landlords of Orissa will join me in raising this sum, should it come to the necessity and the Government have such a tight grip on its purse."

The Hon'ble RAJENDRA NARAYAN BHANJA DEO said:—"With Your Honour's permission, I wish to make a brief remarks about the teaching of History in the Ravenshaw College. I have heard complaints of inconvenience and hardship to which the students of Ravenshaw College are put to at present for want of a lecturer in History. A lecturer in History is, in my opinion, a necessity. If Government cannot find funds for this purpose, I will be glad to join with the Hon'ble Mr. Das in raising subscriptions for this purpose, and I am sure there will be no difficulty about raising this small amount of Rs. 1,800."

more elaborate courses under the new University regulations being adequately taught. The ward for insane lepers at Gobra is a useful and badly needed project, since these lepers are at present confined in the ordinary Lunatic Asylums, to which the objections are obvious, and I can speak from personal knowledge in saying that the Civil Surgeon's residence at Darbhanga is badly in want of improvement. Attention was recently drawn in this Council to the condition of the frontage to the Temple Medical School at Patna, and the provision for its improvement is in redemption of the promise that the matter should not be lost sight of."

The Hon'ble BABU DEBA PRASAD SARBADHIKARI moved the following Resolution:—

"The Council recommend to the Lieutenant-Governor that a provision of Rs. 8,000 be made for special investigation about the causes and spread of Beri-beri, and for taking such preventive and curative measures as may be recommended to the Government by its expert advisers and the Faculty."

He said:—"That this disease is committing great havoc in different parts of the country is abundantly clear from the recent report of the Health Officer of Calcutta, though his observations are naturally confined to the Metropolis where the outbreak is most serious. The report is quite recent and must be fresh in the minds of the members of the Council, and I shall not take up time by referring to it in detail. The Health Officer admits that the situation is a 'gloomy' one, but he consoles us that 'all are equally helpless and human knowledge is wanting to battle with the disease'. He therefore excuses the Health Department and defends its not taking 'unwarranted and unreasonable action in the face of panic' Luckily for us all, there is no overt indication of the 'panic' referred to by the Health Officer, though repeated reference to 'panic' is likely to make the situation more 'gloomy' and 'serious', to borrow the Health Officer's own words. What is wanted no doubt, is that 'unwarranted' and 'unreasonable' action should be avoided as the Health Officer rightly claims and suggests, whether a 'panic' exists or not. But what is still more wanted is that 'warranted' and 'reasonable' action should be taken and 'panic' should not be created where none yet exists. The best way of avoiding such panic and grappling with the situation would be to obtain the best available expert opinion, and the Government has with commendable promptitude deputed a special officer, on the Health Department of Calcutta expressing itself unequal to the task. But the deputation of a single officer, however eminent and energetic, may not be sufficient when the sanitary security of the Metropolis as well as the whole countryside is in question, and the Resolution that I have the honour of moving invites more vigorous action in this direction, by way of at least reassuring the public against possible 'panic.'

"To malaria, cholera and small-pox the country has long been accustomed, and it is getting daily familiar with plague, regarding which the Hon'ble Dr. Lukis has recently made an authoritative pronouncement in the Imperial Council. Such an authoritative pronouncement, whatever its advantage and consolation may be, is not yet possible in the case of this new dread agency of death, and slow and steady decay which in many cases is worse than death, the ravages of which are growing apace every day. There is one aspect of the spread and development of this fell disease, however, which finds no place in the Health Officer's long, though hardly exhaustive, note in which negatives predominate, and that is that the victims are largely zenana ladies of the better classes who, by habits and customs of the country, as well as by reason of the faulty construction and cramped conditions of their residences, as well as of their congested neighbourhood, have little chances of freely breathing pure air. These cases generally improve when removed from the locality of the origin of the disease to purer and freer surroundings, and it would be of interest to know if the daily growing congestion of our towns is not responsible for the rapid growth and continued persistence of the disease which is making its way into the country from the town.

"There are well-known plague spots in Calcutta for example—well known to the Health Department—in which plague, cholera and small-pox regularly appear the earliest, linger the longest and commit most havoc, and it would be of interest to know if these are not also the very spots which Beri-beri or epidemic dropsy, by whatever name it be called, select as favourite hunting grounds. And the pettiest schemes of purely local improvement round these spots, no matter of what standing and however inexpensive they may be, have been hung up in some cases because of the comprehensive town improvement scheme for which the heart is sick and weary with waiting.

"The Health Officer quotes the Board of Health which, in its turn, says that 'for want of knowledge as to the cause of the disease it is impossible to prescribe measures for its prevention and that active measures cannot be taken.' It would be 'serious,' 'gloomy' and causative of 'panic' indeed if the state of helpless inactivity was long to continue, and special measures seem to be imperatively called for.

"My Resolution does not seek to imply and does not imply that the Government is not fully alive to the seriousness of the situation, for, in fact, the deputation of Captain Greig implies that it is much more alive to it than the Health Department of Calcutta. But as the area of ravages is large and the causation may be manifold, larger measures than is implied by this deputation seem necessary.

"The Malaria Commission and the Plague Conferences that we have had somewhat late in the day warrant the suggestion that early, vigorous and sustained efforts are needed for grappling with newly-created situations like those brought about by the advent of Beri-beri, and I hope that in the interest of the whole Province the Resolution which calls pointed attention to the situation will find acceptance at the hands of this Council and the Government. Here is a peculiar field of inquiry in which non-official medical talent might be advantageously and considerably associated; and I have learned with great satisfaction that my esteemed friend Dr. Nil Rutton Sarkar, one of the acknowledged and foremost leaders of the Faculty, is to be associated in the inquiry. But even that will not be enough when such a large, mysterious and difficult field is concerned, and more determined efforts are necessary."

The Hon'ble MR. WHEELER said:—"The Hon'ble Member himself admits that the object of his present Resolution is rather to draw attention to the existing state of affairs than to justify any alteration in the Budget figures. No indication is given as to the cost of the measures which he suggests should be undertaken from the increased provision. He might just as well have asked for a lakh or half a lakh as Rs. 8,000, so far as his speech provides us with any material for judging the nature of the expenditure which he desires. He asks for special measures, but the necessary preliminary of special measures is knowledge, and it is this knowledge that we are at the present moment in search of. It is unfortunately the case that instances of Beri-beri have appeared in Calcutta, but it is not a new disease. There have been cases in Kurseong and in the Duars, and in this connection various inquiries have already been made which were, however, not very conclusive. Our medical advisers are at present unaware of various features connected with the disease, and are unable to advise authoritatively. There is nothing new or strange about this. For instance, it was many years before anything definite was ascertained about malaria. In the course of the epidemics between 1860 and 1880 malaria was ascribed to almost anything, and it was long after it was known as a disease that the mosquito theory became accepted. In the case of plague also, in more recent times, the prevalent theories have varied considerably. However, the facts being as they are, when the matter attracted attention, this Government did all that was possible and asked for the services of a medical officer to investigate the causes of the outbreak. The Government of India deputed Captain Greig of the Indian Medical Service, and he is now working with a subordinate staff and a special laboratory in this city. I should explain that, in case it is thought that the Budget provision is unduly

The Hon'ble BABU BHUPENDRA NATH BASU said:—"Sir, I do not think that there will be any difficulty in finding Rs. 1,800 out of the general funds available to the Government Apart from the kind offer which my Hon'ble friend Rajendra Narayan Bhanja Deo has made, and which I do not think it will be necessary to accept at present, there are funds placed at the hands of the Commissioner of the different Divisions for petty works, and it may be possible, as a temporary measure, to utilize some of these grants for this purpose. Afterwards, this small sum may be found out of the Budget without much inconvenience to any department concerned."

The Hon'ble BABU DEBA PRASAD SARBADHIKARI said:—"Sir, I beg to support this proposal, and whether the rider which the Hon'ble Mr. Das has added will make it more acceptable to the Council, I do not know. That there is a clear necessity for it has long been acknowledged, and it would profit those students who are willing to take up the history course, and who have special aptitude for the subject which they can but exercise in the historic land of Orissa, replete with its unique and magnificient monuments.. I therefore support this motion."

The Hon'ble MR. KÜCHLER said:—"Sir, I have not been able to catch all that fell from the Hon'ble mover, but so far as I can gather, the facts as stated were substantially correct. The matter is, however, not quite so simple as appears at first sight. The difficulty is that the Ravenshaw College is a small college, that is to say, a college which has a very small number of students attending it, and according to the rules of the University, whether a college be small or large, for affiliation in a fresh subject it must have an addition of one or two professors, and the consequence is that in the case of small colleges they have to keep a number of professors which is disproportionate to the total number of students, and the carrying on of the work of the college becomes unduly expensive.

"I may mention for instance, that the Ravenshaw College has already received two professors in addition to what was contemplated in Mr. Earle's scheme, so that it cannot exactly be said that Government has not treated this college with a sufficient amount of generosity. Then, as regards the Rs. 42,000 to which the Hon'ble Mr. Das refers, I may also inform him, if the distance is not too great for him to hear, that a very considerable portion of this amount has been earmarked for the Ravenshaw College, and over and above this, there are one or two temporary appointments which have also had to be provided in the budget for 1910-11.

"A more hard-hearted Director might therefore be inclined to give this as a reason for refusing consideration of the Hon'ble Mr. Das' proposal. At the same time, I think, and of course, Mr. Das is acquainted with my views, that the Ravenshaw College has got strong claims to have a professor in history. History is a very popular subject, and what is more important, it is also a very desirable subject for inclusion in a University course, and I am therefore prepared to accept the Resolution as an abstract proposition, allowing the question of ways and means to be decided later on."

The Hon'ble MR. M. S. DAS said:—"I am sorry that I should have been misunderstood. I did not mean to say, and as far as I remember, I did not say that I thought the Senate treated the Ravenshaw College ungenerously. It is perhaps the distance which accounted for this."

The Resolution was then put and carried.

The Hon'ble MR. WHEELER introduced the following heads:—

Revenue—

XX.—Medical.

Expenditure—

24.—Medical.

He said:—"I have now to introduce, Sir, the Budget estimates of the Medical Department.

"On the receipt side the revised has been taken at Rs. 2,84,000 in comparison with Rs. 2,90,000 in the Budget for 1909-10. The small difference was mainly due to an anticipated falling off in the receipts from paying patients. The Budget for 1910-11 has been fixed at Rs. 2,98,000, the higher provision being mainly on account of the increased contributions promised by the Calcutta Corporation to the Campbell and Sambhu Nath Pandit Hospitals.

"As regards expenditure, the revised stands at Rs. 23,39,000 as against the sanctioned estimate of Rs. 25,20,000. The most noticeable savings were in the provisions for the improvement of the pay of the Civil Medical Assistants, and the reorganisation of the Sanitary Department. Neither scheme was brought into force during the year, but the former will, it is hoped, be given effect to very shortly. Savings of Rs. 27,500 under grants to mufassal hospitals and of Rs. 55,000 under expenditure upon measures for the prevention of plague are also anticipated. Till latterly the severity of the disease had lessened appreciably, but the returns since November, 1909, have unfortunately shown a large rise in the mortality from this cause.

"The Budget for 1910-11 has been placed at Rs. 25,16,000, or Rs. 1,77,000 in excess of the revised. The important changes are the following:—Rupees 32,520 have been provided for the improvement of the pay of Civil Medical Assistants, and Rs. 41,000 for similar action in the case of Assistant Surgeons. Recommendations in the latter instance were submitted some time ago, but discussion ensued with the Government of India whose orders are still awaited. We do not as yet know what form the reorganisation will take, but we have provided a lump sum roughly estimated on the assumption that the scheme submitted by us has effect from the middle of the year. A new item of Rs. 4,000 appears for house allowance to medical assistants in lieu of quarters, and of Rs. 18,000 for the establishment required at the new surgical block in the Medical College Hospital, for the equipment of which Rs. 50,675 has also been entered. We have cut the provision for grants to mufassal hospitals and dispensaries rather fine, but the grants already sanctioned have been met, and the financial position scarcely allows of much expansion of expenditure under this head at the present moment. Under the Sanitary Department the provision for an inspector of septic tank installations is new, although this officer is now working and has been found very useful in controlling the working of these tanks in the mills along the Hooghly. We have not made provision for the reorganisation of the Sanitary Department, since there is no immediate hope of orders being passed. The provision for grants-in-aid of plague preventive measures (Rs. 48,500) is perceptibly smaller than in the sanctioned estimate for 1909-10 (Rs. 90,000), but it is hoped that it will prove sufficient. A new appointment of a Professor of Anatomy is proposed at the Medical College, and Rs. 6,000 appears on this account, while as Hon'ble Members are doubtless aware, Captain Greig of the Indian Medical Service is at present making an inquiry into the causes of Beri-beri, and this has been provided for in so far as it will be a provincial charge.

"The new buildings to be undertaken in the Medical Department (although they appear in the Public Works Budget) are detailed in paragraph 59 of the General Review accompanying the Revised Financial Statement The Medical College, Calcutta, comes in for the lion's share, and this is in continuation of the heavy expenditure upon this institution in recent years. The works recommended, however, are all important. The new surgical block must be finished, and the fourth block gone on with. We had to stop work on the latter structure this year owing to financial pressure, since it was considered preferable to push on with the surgical block. The new block requires new nurses, and they have to be housed. The Clewer Sisters, who have long been honourably connected with the Hospital in supervising charge of the nursing arrangements, are about to withdraw from this responsibility at their own request. The proposal is to recruit four Lady Superintendents in their place, and for these too quarters are needed. The improvements to the Biological and Chemical Laboratories are required in order to allow of the small, we are only required to pay the additional cost of Captain Greig's deputation and the incidental expenditure. The sum of Rs. 2,000 provided will be adequate to meet the cost of the present inquiry. We are not aware what progress Captain Greig has made with his inquiry, and it would not be desirable to press him to make a premature pronouncement. Surely instances of the harm done by premature claims to the discovery of cancer cures, consumption cures and so on must be known to all. Captain Greig may be able to give us definite advice as to what to do, or he may not; we can only wait and see. The only point is that for the present, and so far as this Budget is concerned, we have done all that we need or can do. It would be most unwise and would only conduce to the panic, which the Hon'ble Member apprehends, to provide for special measures in casual directions at this stage, merely in order to show the public that we are doing something. I fail therefore to see that there can be any necessity for this small additional provision, and I cannot recommend the Council to accept it for the only purpose which is to-day relevant, viz., as a basis of a change in the Budget. For the purpose which the Hon'ble Member apparently has in mind, viz., that attention should be drawn to the prevalence of Beri-beri, that fact was recognised some time ago."

The Hon'ble BABU DEBA PRASAD SARBADHIKARI said:—"Sir, if the provision of Rs. 8,000 is likely to cause panic, I am afraid the provision of Rs. 2,000 to which the Hon'ble Mr. Wheeler has referred by way of reassuring me will cause at least a quarter of a panic. But that is not the way I have looked at the question. I looked about for ways and means and found that Rs. 8,000 can easily be taken away from the Temple School, the frontal adornment of which, that has been budgeted for, may well wait. I am afraid, Sir, the scope of the inquiry and its pace must be a little larger and quicker than is implied in the deputation of the Special Officer working in the laboratory, associated though he may be with non-official medical men. But if the Government has made provision for all the contingencies that may arise, there is really no necessity for my pressing the Resolution. My real object in moving the Resolution was to draw attention to the question, as the Hon'ble Member has rightly divined, and I believe my purpose has been fully attained, having regard to the assurances that the Hon'ble Member has given."

The Resolution was then withdrawn, together with the following Resolution of which the Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari had given notice:—

"The Council recommend to the Lieutenant-Governor that the following item in the Budget under the heading "Medical" be omitted:—

"Improvement of the frontage of the Temple Medical School—Rs. 8,000."

The Hon'ble MR. GOURLAY introduced the following heads:—

Revenue—

X.—Registration.

Expenditure—

12.—Registration.

He said:—"The estimated receipts of the Registration Department will be found on page 27, and the estimated expenditure on page 44 of the Financial Statement. There is but little for me to say concerning these figures. The receipts are estimated at Rs. 11,87,000—a decrease of Rs. 60,000 on the previous year's estimate; but, except from a financial point of view, this decrease is rather a matter for congratulation. The crops of the last year have been good and the cultivators have curtailed their borrowing and have found it unnecessary to mortgage their lands to the same extent: the number of registrations anticipated next year is therefore smaller.

"The total expenditure of the department amounts to 8·13 lakhs,—a decrease of a few thousand rupees, compared with the estimate of last year.

"A sum of Rs. 19,030 has been provided in the Civil Works Budget for a necessary extension to the record-room at Muzaffarpur and for new offices at Onda and Indus, in the district of Bankura, where the present rented offices are unsuitable.

"There are many urgent projects in the Registration Department, but it has not been found possible to provide for more than three. The rest must await a more prosperous year."

The Hon'ble MR. WHEELER introduced the following heads:—

Revenue—

XXIII.—Stationery and Printing.

Expenditure—

30.—Stationery and Printing.

He said:—"As regards the estimates of the Stationery and Printing Departments, there is a small reduction of Rs. 8,000 in the revised estimate on the receipt side, made in view of the available actuals. The Budget for 1910-11 (Rs. 1,34,000) is Rs. 1,000 in excess of the sanctioned estimate for the current year, and calls for no particular remarks.

"Turning to expenditure, the revised shows an anticipated saving of Rs. 41,000, but the budget for 1910-11 is Rs. 45,000 in excess of the sanctioned estimate of the current year. The only important difference is under the head of Government Presses, which shows an increase of Rs. 48,500.

"The subject of our printing arrangements has caused considerable anxiety during the current year, during which it was considered by a departmental committee. The demands upon the Press continue to increase, and this process is not likely to slacken. The enlargement of this Council is only one of various causes tending in that direction. At present our printing is done mainly at the Secretariat Press and in the Presidency Jail; there is a small Press at Darjeeling, and another for the Lieutenant-Governor's use at Belvedere. The Secretariat Press is hopelessly congested, and work is carried on there under conditions of extreme difficulty; it is more than likely that at no very distant date the province will have to face the expenditure of constructing a new Press elsewhere. For the present we hope to get along with temporary expedients. Printing is to be an important industry in the new Presidency Jail, and in the Public Works Budget a provision of Rs. 2,50,000 has been made for buildings, the total estimated cost of which is Rs. 5,08,372. It is hoped, by pushing on with this, that it will be found possible to vacate the Paid division of the present Presidency Jail Press, which is separated from the Jail, and to make this over for the accommodation of a section of the Secretariat Press.

"Otherwise we are trying to save space, time and labour by substituting machinery more extensively for hand work, and this accounts for a provision of Rs. 36,592. Finally, we are trying to get more work done outside the Secretariat, and an item of Rs. 20,000 appears for the printing of the Indian Law Reports by private agency."

The Hon'ble MR. BUTLER introduced the following heads:—

Revenue—

XXIX.—Irrigation—Major Works.

XXX.—Minor Works and Navigation.

Expenditure—

42.—Irrigation—Major Works—Working Expenses.

43.—Minor Works and Navigation.

He said:—"In introducing the Budget estimate for Irrigation works for 1910-11, I would explain as follows:—

"Irrigation works in Bengal are classed under three heads, viz.,—

(1) Protective works which are constructed from funds given from Imperial revenues.

(2) Productive works which are constructed from Imperial loan funds.

(3) Minor works which are constructed from Provincial revenues.

"The Protective works are the Tribeni and Dhaka Canals in the district of Champaran. The former is now under construction, and the latter was opened for irrigation in 1906-07, from which date its working has been provincialized.

"The works classed as Productive are the Sone, Orissa, Midnapore and Hijili Tidal Canals. The first three are utilized chiefly for irrigation, and the last for navigation only. The working of these four projects was, under orders of the Secretary of State, provincialized in 1878-79. When a work is provincialized the Local Government receives the revenue realized from it, and provides the cost of its upkeep and maintenance as well as the interest charges on the expenditure incurred from borrowed money.

"All receipts from Productive and Protective works are shown in the Budget under head XXIX—Major Works—Receipts. All charges for the maintenance and interest for these works are shown under the head 42—Major Works.

"The receipts from all other irrigation and navigation works in Bengal, including embankments and drainage works, are shown under head XXX, and the expenditure under head 43—Minor Works and Navigation. Under the latter head is also included any expenditure in the capital account of the Productive works, as such expenditure is now met from Provincial revenues.

"I would explain that a work is classed as Productive if it is expected that within ten years after completion the revenue derived from it will suffice to pay the annual interest on the capital invested, including the arrears of simple interest and all indirect charges.

"Unfortunately none of the works in Bengal classed as Productive have realized these expectations. The capital (direct charges) expended on these works up to end of 1908-09 is Rs. 6,27,88,766, of which Rs. 6,12,89,104 was met from Imperial loans and Rs. 14,99,662 from Provincial revenues. The interest on the former, which now amounts to Rs. 20,91,000 per annum, is a provincial charge. During the past few years the net revenue from the Sone Canals has been just sufficient to cover the interest charges, but the gross revenue from the Orissa, Midnapore, and Hijili Tidal Canals has been only slightly in excess of the working expenses.

"The net result is that these works now impose a burden of about 8½ lakhs per annum on the provincial revenues. This is, however, better than three years ago when it was over 10 lakhs.

"The revenue derived from these canals is chiefly from the rates levied for the irrigation of the rice crop; the area of other crops irrigated is small except on the Sone Canals. The revenue derived from tolls for navigation has in recent years considerably decreased owing to the competition of railways. The area of rice irrigation does not now fluctuate much, and that of rabi depends on the autumn rainfall.

"The area of rice now under irrigation is nearly the maximum that can be irrigated with the supply of water available. Every endeavour is being made to teach the cultivators to be more economical in the use of the water, but only a very slow progress in such economy can be expected. The working expenses of the canals have been reduced to a minimum. The only method therefore of increasing the revenue and thereby decreasing the burden of interest which this province has to bear is to increase the rates levied for irrigation. These rates are now very low on the Orissa and Midnapore Canals as compared with those on the Sone and on canals in other provinces.

"It must be remembered, however, that these irrigation canals, besides improving the general condition of the tracts irrigated from them, form a valuable protection from famine and avoid the necessity of expenditure on relief works in years of drought. The area irrigated from the Sone Canals during the triennial period ending 1908-09 averaged 622,000 acres per annum, and the revenue derived from this irrigation, nearly 16 lakhs of rupees. As practically the whole of this revenue was realized each year as it fell due, it may be concluded that the rates at which it was assessed did not press heavily on the cultivators.

"The receipts from Major Works during the current year will be the highest on record and considerably larger than expected, owing to the rabi area irrigated on the Sone Canals during 1908-09, the revenue for which fell due in 1909-10, being underestimated, and to a larger area than anticipated being irrigated during the kharif season on the Sone and Midnapore Canals. During 1910-11 the receipts will probably be less than during the current year, as owing to favourable rainfall the rabi area irrigated on the Sone Canals this year will be less than that irrigated in 1908-09.

"From Minor Works and Navigation, the receipts from which are shown under Budget head XXX, the chief source of revenue is the tolls for navigation on the Calcutta and Eastern Canals. These canals, which are partly artificial channels and partly tidal creeks which have been improved and conserved, form the navigable routes for boats and inland steamers between Calcutta and Eastern Bengal. The capital expenditure debited to these canals up to date is about 85 lakhs; the gross revenue has averaged about 5 lakhs; but as the working expenses have, owing to improvements in the canals, considerably increased during recent years, there has been a falling off in the net revenue, which does not now amount to one per cent. on the capital expenditure.

"The Madaripur Bhil route, a channel connecting the Pudda and Madhumati rivers, which formerly formed part of this system, is now treated as a separate project. Prior to 1907-08 Rs. 14 lakhs were expended on this route to make it navigable for inland steamers during the flood season; it is now being deepened at a further estimated cost of 17 lakhs so as to make it navigable for inland steamers throughout the year. Half of this further expenditure, also half the maintenance charges, are contributed by Eastern Bengal and Assam, that Government receiving a share in the revenue in proportion to the amount contributed towards the capital cost. Up to date about one-third of the length of this channel has been deepened by dredging, and it is anticipated that in another three years the scheme will be completed, and that the net revenue then derived from it will amount to over 4 per cent. on the capital expended. The distance by this route from Naraingunge to Khulna is 100 miles less than by the present dry-weather route viâ Barisal.

"Owing to damage done to boats during the cyclone in October last and to that portion of the canals between Bamanghata and Kulti being closed for silt clearance since the 15th February, the tollage receipts from the Calcutta and Eastern Canals will be less this year than anticipated, but during the coming year an increase is expected, as the Chord Canal now under construction between Ultadanga and Bamanghata will be opened for traffic in June next. This Chord, the length of which is 10 miles and the estimated cost 9 lakhs, will be a great convenience to boats using these canals, as it will give a still-water reach from Chitpur to Kulti, a distance of 27 miles, and will avoid the delay which now occurs in the tidal channel between Dhappa and Bamanghata.

"The working expenses of Major Works, which is shown under Budget head 42, does not vary much. For 1910-11 the amount provided is that required in a normal year and should not be exceeded unless unusual damage is done by the floods to the head-works of any of the canals.

"The expenditure on Minor Works and Navigation, which is shown under the Budget head 43, will, for the current year, be slightly in excess of that anticipated. On capital works of the Calcutta and Eastern Canals there will be an increase of about 1½ lakhs owing to a larger expenditure on the Ultadanga-Bamanghata Canal. This is, however, partly balanced by decreased expenditure on the maintenance of these canals and on other smaller works.

"The amount provided for expenditure on Minor Works and Navigation under Budget head 43 during 1910-11 is in excess of that of previous years. The excess is due chiefly to an extra amount required to repair the damage done to embankments by the severe floods of last season and to special repairs and silt clearance necessary on the Calcutta and Eastern and Orissa Coast Canals. This, however, is partly balanced by a smaller provision for capital works on the Calcutta and Eastern Canals.

"Provision is made for completing the Ultadanga-Bamanghata Canal and for continuing the deepening of the Madaripur Bhil route. The maintenance charges of the Calcutta and Eastern Canals and of the Orissa Coast Canal will be higher than during the current year, owing to special repairs to locks and extra silt clearance being necessary.

"Provision of Rs. 40,000 is made for training works to improve during the dry season the navigable channels across the shoals in the river Ganges. Similar work was carried out in 1903-04 to 1905-06, and the increased depth of the channels was a great boon to both the steamer and boat traffic.

"Rupees 30,000 are provided for commencing the construction of a lock at Utterbagh on the Peali river, the estimated cost of which is Rs. 81,800. This lock will give access to the channels constructed under the Magra Hât drainage scheme to boats coming from the Sundarbans and Eastern rivers. There is a considerable trade, chiefly in paddy, between the Sundarbans and Magra Hât, which is much hampered by want of through communication for boats. It is proposed to levy a small toll on boats passing through this lock, which will suffice to cover maintenance charges and interest on capital. The Magra Hât drainage scheme, which provides for the drainage of an area of 290 square miles in the Diamond Harbour subdivision, is now being carried out under the Bengal Sanitary Drainage Act of 1895 at an estimated cost of Rs 21 lakhs. Magra Hât is the centre of this area, and the drainage will be discharged partly into the Peali river and partly into the Hooghly at Diamond Harbour, where a lock is being constructed to give access to all the interior drainage channels which are being made of sufficient depth to be navigable for moderate-sized boats. The Bengal Government has contributed five lakhs towards the scheme, and makes no charge for the Public Works Department establishment employed in carrying it out, and has also undertaken that all maintenance charges shall be borne by Government in return for any income derivable from the scheme, which includes such tolls as may be levied under the Canals Act, 1834 (Bengal Act V of 1864). The scheme, though not yet completed, has this year effected a considerable improvement both from a sanitary and agricultural point of view. A good rice crop was reaped from an area over 100 square miles where none or only a very poor crop had hitherto been obtained. The traffic in this tract is carried chiefly by boats; the completion of the locks at Diamond Harbour and Utterbagh and of the interior channels will greatly facilitate this traffic and add to the benefits derived from efficient drainage.

"The floods in the Midnapore district, which last flood season were of unprecedented height and duration, caused immense damage to the embankments there, and a considerable expenditure, estimated at about two lakhs, will be necessary to repair the embankments damaged by these floods. The amounts provided for the maintenance of the smaller canals and drainage works and for the takavi embankments are normal.

"It will be noticed that certain items under Minor Works are put down as in charge of the Civil Department. These are for the most part connected with the administration of the Embankment Act. The Budget of receipts reproduces the sanctioned estimate of the current year, and the estimate of expenditure (Rs. 8,000) is only Rs. 1,000 less than in 1909-10. The details scarcely call for notice."

The Hon'ble BABU DEBA PRASAD SARBADHIKARI moved the following Resolution:—

"The Council recommend to the Lieutenant-Governor that a provision of Rs. 20,000 be made for beginning protective work in connection with the Begua Hana embankment."

He said:—"In moving the Resolution about Begua Hana I beg to draw the attention of the Council to a largely and influentially signed memorial of the inhabitants of the villages affected by the overflow of the river Damodar through the Begua breach which was presented to the Government last year. Such villages number nearly 400 in the districts of Burdwan and Hooghly, the sufferings of whose inhabitants during the rains every year are growing more and more. The breach in the western embankment of the river Damodar is extending every year, and the increase in the suffering and attendant loss is proportionate. On the representation of some of the memorialists who had memoralised on a previous occasion, Mr. Horn was deputed to make an investigation, and he made a report on the 21st of February, 1902. One of his suggestions was the training of the Begua river by excavation of the bed at suitable places enabling the river to scour out its own channel and help a speedy discharge of its water. The Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu pressed the question upon the attention of the Engineering Department while he was a member of the Bengal Council some years ago, and as a result of further investigation into the matter the Department found that if a larger remedial scheme could not be immediately or in the near future be undertaken, it would be possible to remove some of the obstructing bars at a small cost and afford relief which was and is extremely needed. The Hon'ble Sir Andrew Fraser was pleased to visit the spot and expressed himself in sympathy with the schemes suggested, but the matter was lost sight of, and attention was called to it again in Council by me. In answer to a question put by me in Council, the then Secretary to the Government in the Public Works Department said two years ago:—

'The scheme, to which the Lieutenant-Governor has accorded administrative approval and which it is intended to carry out at the cost of the general revenue is the following:—

It is proposed to make an earthen embankment or dam across the head of the Begua channel where it leaves the Damodar river and to provide for the escape of the flood-water by means of two long overflows or weirs at the level of natural bank which will be paved with rubble stone or concrete blocks. The object aimed at is to retain the low water flow in the old channel of the Damodar, while permitting the flood-water, which is far in excess of what the channel of the river can accommodate, to spill over the bank without cutting a deep channel.

The only possible means of relieving the country between the Damodar and the Rupnarain of flood-water is the construction of reservoirs in the upper channels of the river. This problem has been investigated more than once and it has been ascertained that the cost would be prohibitive. Moreover, a large part of the country derives benefit from the inundation. The scheme which has been approved will be carried out as soon as funds can be made available. It is not practicable to make any temporary works which would be of service.'

"Nothing, however, was done towards carrying out the scheme by reason of its very largeness and expensiveness, and individuals began small unauthorised and objectionable protective works on their own account at different points of the river and for their own benefit which accentuated the sufferings of the general body of the local public. If I am not mistaken, a portion of the charges can be and ought to be met out of the pulbandi charges which landlords in the affected districts have to pay, and the Hon'ble the Maharajadhiraja Bahadur of Burdwan, who pays a considerable sum under this heading, would be able to tell the Council, I believe, how matters stand. Raiyats and zamindars alike suffer by these devastations, and it is the interest of all that a portion of these protective works should be immediately undertaken and their comprehensive and expensive nature should not shunt them indefinitely. I believe the department is still of opinion that the existing bars should and can be removed and the channel kept open for free and quick discharge of the water, at a reasonable cost and the first instalment of work, I suggest, should be commenced at once. The sufferings of the last year were greater than in the previous years as there was general flooding of the country, and when during the last rainy season I ventured to approach your Honour through Sir Charles Allen, then Officiating Chief Secretary, on behalf of those who had suffered most, I was gratified and encouraged to find that your Honour had, at your own instance and on information that had reached your Honour, given directions to the local officers to afford such temporary relief to the sufferers as was possible. A memorial pressing forward the remedial measure was presented to your Honour, and it was urged that, so long as the Government is not in a position to undertake the contemplated larger measures, steps should be taken to see that the channels through which the waters discharge themselves should be kept free. Some protective work should, I therefore submit, be immediately undertaken, and they would prevent a repetition of the last year's devastation which affected numerous homes and families."

The Hon'ble SIR BIJAY MAHTAB, MAHARAJADHIRAJA BAHADUR of Burdwan said:—"Your Honour—I rise not exactly to support the Resolution that my hon'ble friend wishes to move, but to place before the Council and the Government particularly the urgency of framing proper estimates for repairing the Begua breach. A great deal of damage is done every year by the flooding of the right banks of the river Damodar since the cutting of the embankments on the right side, a measure about which the Engineer then in charge (in 1860) said, as is to be found from the Bengal Embankment Manual, that 'there could not be a question of the wisdom which dictated the removal of the embankments from the right bank of the Damodar. It is not, nor will it ever be, a measure of unalloyed success, but it has simplified what must have been a hopeless task, and put a stop to a useless expenditure of public money. Complete protection has been secured to the wealthy and rapidly prospering districts on the left bank of the river (a blessing only fully understood within the last few years, as may be seen from examining the list of breaches from 1847). The gloomy predictions regarding the depopulation and utter ruin of the right bank have not been fulfilled, nor is there any likelihood of such occurring within the present generation at all events.'

I am afraid this prophecy has since been falsified to a certain extent. At present there are several hanas (breaches) made by the force of the floods and several important channels have formed. Of these, 'Begua,' 'Lakhra' and 'Bachoordaha's khal' are the largest. 'Begua Hana' has become so wide and important a channel that it carries a greater part of the Damodar flood water and does a lot of damage to the mauzas and lands situated on either banks of it. This 'Begua Hana' requires carefully looking into, and means should be devised by which the annual damage done to the properties could be efficiently minimized and a proper estimate for repairing the breach or for necessary protective work should be framed. Damodar flood water passes over the greater part of the lands on the right banks. I refer this matter to my Commissioner, who is also in this Council. At a place near Mayapur in the Arambagh sub-division, the flood water goes into the river Dwarkeshwar, washing over many villages and passing over a vast stretch of cultivable paddy fields. Owing to these annual floodings, several Raj patni lots have been given up by patnidars, and they have become khas with a reduced rent-roll and bad collection For this the Burdwan Raj suffers an annual loss. Early in the nineteenth century soon after the Permanent Settlement, when the inordinately high revenue assessment was fixed by the Government on the Burdwan Raj estate, first of all Government was pleased to make a reduction of Rs 60,000 so as to permit the Maharajas of Burdwan to maintain the embankments in Chukla Burdwan themselves. Later on as this system did not work properly, the Maharajadhiraj of the time, the late Tej Chand Bahadur, handed over these embankments to the Government, and we still pay over half a lakh of rupees as poolbundy for the maintenance of the embankments in Chukla Burdwan. I therefore think, Sir, that I have some right in bringing to the attention of the Goverment that the Begua Hana should be carefully examined and an estimate properly prepared so as to stop or rather help in protecting these parts from being flooded and from the annual ravages done by the river at present."

The Hon'ble MR. BUTLER said:—"Prior to 1856 there were flood embankments on both banks of the Damodar river from Silna to its junction with the Hooghly river. As the capacity of the channel of the river was not large enough to carry more than a portion of its discharge even in moderate floods, these embankments were breached in many places nearly every year.

"In 1856 the embankments on the right bank between Silna and Salalpore were removed for a total length of 20 miles, and since that date, though a considerable tract of country on the right bank has been yearly submerged by the flood spill, it has been possible to maintain the embankments on the left bank intact.'

"The spill which at first passed at a fairly uniform depth over the river bank where the embankments had been removed has in the course of time formed gaps in the river bank, the largest and deepest of which situated near Somagereah village is now called the Begua breach.

"From this breach a channel has formed through which about 2-5ths of the total flood discharge of the Damodar now passes and spills over the country to the south and west, eventually finding its way through numerous small channels into the Rupnarain river. The bed of this channel is now at a lower level than that of the Damodar river at its offtake, and consequently the whole of the dry weather discharge of the Damodar passes down it.

"A proposal to close the Begua breach and to allow the surplus flood water of the Damodar to pass over two weirs to be constructed one above and the other below the breach has been carefully investigated, but the cost estimated at 9½ lakhs is prohibitive.

"The cost of constructing a weir across the breach itself, which, while allowing that portion of the flood discharge of the Damodar which could not be carried by the parent streams to pass over the weir and down the Begua channel, would force the discharge of moderate freshets down the Damodar river, has also been estimated and amounts to 4½ lakhs.

"The safest course would be to construct a low weir across the breach which would force all the discharge during the dry season and in low freshets down the parent stream. When its channel had been thus scoured out to some extent the weir could be raised so as to confine the discharge during moderate freshets to the channel of the Damodar. The initial cost of such a scheme would be 2 lakhs, and the ultimate cost before any great benefit would be derived from it would probably amount to 4 to 5 lakhs.

"The maximum discharge that can be carried by the Damodar channel below the breach is not more than one-tenth of the total discharge brought down during high flood. The balance of the flood discharge must pass over the right bank. It is possible, therefore, to exclude from the Begua channel only the discharge of moderate freshets. Such exclusion would no doubt be of some benefit to the country now inundated. The cost, however, is heavy, and it must be remembered that if the Begua breach was even partially closed the flood spill might at any time form a similar channel in another part of the river bank.

"The Damodar river is now cutting into its left bank opposite the Begua breach and it is probable that in the course of a few years the offtake of the Begua channel may move some distance down stream. If a weir were now constructed across the existing breach it might be left high and dry in a few years.

"The suggestion made in Mr. Horn's report of 1902 that the Begua channel should be trained by excavation of its bed in suitable places is alluded to. As such training works were estimated to cost 20 lakhs, and the benefit that would be derived from them was problematic, the scheme was set aside as impracticable. Removal of any existing bars in the Begua channel or any such temporary measures would not be of service in mitigating the damage done by the floods.

"Some relief might be afforded to the country inundated by the spill of the Damodar by improving the channels which connect the Begua with the Rupnarain river and thereby enabling the flood water to pass off more quickly. The most important of these channels is the Buxi khal, the discharging capacity of which is much reduced by embankments which have been constructed along its margin. The cost of retiring these embankments and thereby increasing the discharging capacity of the khal is being ascertained. As this will, however, necessitate the removal of some villages which are protected by the existing embankments the cost would not be inconsiderable.

"The recommendation to provide Rs. 20,000 for work on closing the Begua breach during 1910-11 does not meet the case and would commit this Government to a recurrent expenditure of 4 to 5 lakhs on a scheme the benefits of which are doubtful. This is not advisable in the present financial position of the province."

The Hon'ble BABU BHUPENDRA NATH BASU said:—"I had the honour some time ago, when I was a member of this Council during the time of Sir Andrew Fraser, to call the attention of the Government of Bengal to this serious grievance of the people of Hooghly and Burdwan districts; it would be more correct to say, this great calamity to which these people are periodically subject. The water from the Begua breach overflows into the old bed of Dwarkeshwar, which is not able to discharge all this water, with the result that the whole country to the right side of the Damodar is inundated once every fortnight, if not more often during the whole of the rains, making any cultivation absolutely impossible, and making the life of the inhabitants very miserable indeed. I speak, Sir, from personal experience, because I have the misfortune to come from that part of the country. These inundations have reduced the people there to great straits, and have made cultivation impossible. The Burdwan Raj probably feels the pinch by reason of the deficient collections, but the people there suffer very much indeed. Mr. Inglis, while he was Chief Engineer to the Government of Bengal, suggested some means which to some extent would alleviate the sufferings of the people by cutting a canal which would carry Dwarkeshwar to Rupnarain and thus to some extent control the discharge of water which at present spills over the whole country side. I believe Mr. Inglis once said that a sum of about 30 to 50 thousand rupees would suffice for the purpose. I do not know whether the Hon'ble Mr. Butler has considered that scheme. I brought this matter before the Finance Committee of this Council; but, having regard to the largeness of the expenditure involved in the greater scheme, and to the very small funds placed at the disposal of the Finance Committee, it was not thought possible to deal effectively with the question. But I appeal to the Hon'ble Mr. Butler to visit the country when the next rains begin and to satisfy himself that the sufferings of the people there are very very great indeed. Beginning from the middle of May till the middle of October the fields are inundated nearly every fortnight, and sometimes oftener. We have in this Council our Commissioner, and we have gentlemen who have been connected with the districts of Hooghly and Burdwan, and I can appeal to them with confidence to corroborate everything that I have said. I am sure that it will not be impossible to devise some means to give some relief at least, if not complete relief, to the inhabitants who have the misfortune to live in the part of the country to the right bank of the river Damodar."

The PRESIDENT said:—"I should venture to suggest to the Hon'ble Mover of the Resolution that after hearing what the Hon'ble Member in charge has stated, it may be well if he accepts the position that there is a case for inquiry as regards this matter, but that the specific proposition put forward in the Resolution is one which has been shown by experience to be inappropriate. If the Hon'ble Member is disposed to agree in that view, the best thing would be to withdraw his resolution on the understanding that further inquiries are being made by the Public Works Department into this question."

The Hon'ble BABU DEBA PRASAD SARBADHIKARI said:—"I am quite convinced of the reasonableness of the course suggested, and I accept it."

The Resolution was then withdrawn together with the following Resolution of which the Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari had given notice:—

"The Council recommend to the Lieutenant-Governor the omission of Rs. 20,000 from the following item under the heading 'Public Works Department':—

Quarters for the Executive Engineer, Randhi—Rs. 21,000."

The Hon'ble MR. BUTLER then introduced the following head:—

Expenditure—

40. Subsidised Companies, Land, etc.

He said:—"In introducing the budget estimate for Railways, I would explain that the only provision made in the budget for 1910-11 under this head is Rs. 2.000 for land required for the Tribeni extension of the Bengal Provincial Railway. The agreement with the Railway Company provides that the Local Government shall bear the cost of any land required for this extension."

The Hon'ble MR. THOMSON introduced the consideration of the following heads:—

Revenue—

XXXI.—Civil Works—in charge of the Public Works Department.

Expenditure—

45. Civil Works—in charge of the Public Works Department.

He said:—"The estimated Revenue is Rs. 3,55,000, the same as for the current year; it is chiefly derived from rents of buildings and lands, and there is little scope for expansion.

"The grant for expenditure in 1910-11 is Rs. 52,59,000. It is about 3½ lakhs more than the revised estimate for the current year, but is far below the grants for previous years.

"We have first to provide for the normal recurring expenditure on Establishment, Tools and Plant, and Repairs.

"The total estimate for Establishment amounts to Rs. 13,75,000, but towards this the Government of India contribute Rs. 2,85,000 on account of Imperial Works, the contribution being at the rate of 23 per cent. on the cost of Imperial Works carried out during the year. There is also a small contribution of Rs. 2,755 for work done for the Darjeeling Improvement Fund.

"The balance of Rs. 10,87,105 represents the Provincial charge. It is less than the budget estimate of 1909-10. The normal increase, on account of additions to incremental salaries, has been counterbalanced by a considerable reduction in temporary establishment.

"For Tools and Plant the estimate exceeds the budget estimate for this year, but is below the average. The expenditure on Tools and Plant depends largely on the extent of the works undertaken in any year.

"Under Repairs the estimate for Civil Buildings is Rs. 5,75,000, which is rather more than the budget estimate for the current year. The cost of repairs is normal, but the yearly addition of new buildings to the list, and the extension of electrical installations and sanitary improvements, adds to the total expenditure.

"The number of buildings to be maintained, excluding subsidiary buildings, is over 1,850.

"The cost of some important groups of buildings is as follows:—

	Rs.
Courts, Civil and Criminal	1,00,000
Jails	80,000
Police	84,000
Educational	60.000
Medical	66,000

"For repairs to Communications, Rs. 10,00,000 are estimated. The amount is the same as the budget estimate for this year. 1,750 miles of metalled roads and 912 miles of unmetalled roads are maintained, besides some thousands of bridges and culverts, and a number of Inspection and Dâk Bungalows. The largest items are:—

	Rs.
Grand Trunk Road	1,50,000
Orissa " "	95,000
Calcutta Maidan and Strand Roads (this includes lighting, watering and conservancy)	1,30,000
Darjeeling Hill Cart Road	60,000
Calcutta-Jessore Road	37,000
Old Grand Trunk Road	32,000
Ranchi-Purulia Road	24,000

"Under Miscellaneous Public Improvements Rs. 50,000 are provided for the maintenance of a number of Miscellaneous Works including some Port and Shipping buildings in Calcutta and Orissa, works connected with the Maidan and public gardens in Calcutta, and special repairs to "Jhoras" in Darjeeling.

"Deducting the recurring expenditure from the total grant there is a balance of Rs. 24,95,000 for original works. For Works in Progress Rs. 8,86,000 have been allotted to Civil Buildings.

"The principal works which are entered on pages 16, 17 and 18 of the Financial Statement have been referred to by the Hon'ble Members in charge of the several Departments and need not be recapitulated. To these may be added:—

	Rs.
Installation of Electric Fans in the office rooms at the High Court as required by the Hon'ble Judges	10,000
Improvements at the Akra Brick Factory, which are necessary for the manufacture of bricks	8,000

"Besides these there is a large number of small items required to complete buildings in progress.

"There are only three works in progress under Communications.

	Rs.
Improvement of Cuttack-Sambalpur Road, Khalsa Section ...	25,000

"This road is of considerable local importance and there is heavy traffic to the railway. The work has been kept back for want of funds and it is very desirable to complete it.

"The roads in the Sambalpur district are much in need of improvement, but we are unable to do more at present.

	Rs.
Metalling a portion of the Calcutta-Jessore Road	9,200

"About 13 miles remained unmetalled, and it was considered important that the road should be metalled throughout.

"Reconstructing a bridge over Guri Khall Nalla on the Orissa Trunk Road was necessary and Rs. 5,400 are required to finish the work.

"For New Works Rs. 15,69,000 are available. New works are divided into two classes—

Minor works costing Rs. 5,000 or less, and Major works costing over Rs. 5,000.

"Minor works are now dealt with mainly by the Commissioners of Divisions and the Heads of Departments who sanction estimates prepared by the Public Works Department, and allot funds from grants placed at their disposal for that purpose.

"It has been explained in the notes accompanying the Financial Statement how the former grants were found to be inadequate and have been raised in the aggregate to Rs. 3,38,200. The distribution is as follows:—

	Rs.		Rs.
Commissioners ...	1,00,000	Police, Calcutta ...	3,000
Excise Department ...	57,000	Educational ...	39,200
Jails ...	48,000	Medical ...	47,000
Police ...	39,000	Registration ...	5,000

"The New Major Works are entered in the Financial Statement on pages 16, 17, 18 and have been explained by the Hon'ble Members in charge of the departments concerned, with the exception of one work for the Public Works Department, viz., quarters for the Executive Engineer at Ranchi, Rs. 21,000.

"The demand for house accommodation at Ranchi has increased so much and rents have become so high that it is very difficult to find a house for the Executive Engineer, and it is therefore necessary to build a house.

"The electrical installations in all public buildings in Calcutta are now maintained by Government instead of by private firms and the arrangement is found more convenient and economical. For all the fans, lights, lifts, pumps, and so on, accessories are required, for repairs and renewals, and Rs. 10,000 are provided for that purpose.

"There are no new works entered under Communications.

"The estimate for Miscellaneous Public Improvements includes provision for a metre to measure the water used on the Calcutta Maidan roads as required by the Calcutta Corporation.

"A general reserve of Rs. 1,00,000 has been provided under Civil Buildings and Rs. 85,000 for Communications.

"It is usual, and absolutely necessary, to keep a substantial reserve to meet unforeseen requirements."

The Hon'ble BABU DEBA PRASAD SARBADHIKARI then moved the following Resolution :—

"The Council recommend to the Lieutenant-Governor that a provision of Rs. 1,000 be made for contribution towards the expenses of the repairs of the ancient temple of Ghanteswar in Khanakul, district Hooghly."

He said:—"I now come to the last and the least of my resolutions which are now fast oozing out, and I hope its very size will enable it to pass. I feel I am pleading in a worthy cause which will receive attention even if my Resolution is lost. A representation on the subject is, I believe, already before the Government, and it can be acted upon independently of my Resolution.

"The sum of Rs. 1,000 I venture to ask for in this Resolution is by way of contribution towards the urgently needed repairs and protection of the site of the ancient and venerated temple of Ghanteswar within the thana of Khanakul in the district Hooghly. It is a temple mentioned in our ancient religious literature and near it is one of 52 Pitasthans which all Hindu India venerates. The old temple is an object of interest and value also from an architectural and archæological point of view and it is seriously threatened by the inroads of Dwarkeshwar, which is one of the branches of the river Damodur through which the Begua overflow passes to the serious detriment of the locality. The local public have caused an estimate to be prepared by two well-known Engineers, one of whom, Babu Hari Podo Ghosal, B.C.E., suddenly died the other day, under singularly tragic circumstances as a result of illness contracted while rendering gratuitous services in the causes of the preservation of the temple. Subscriptions are being collected for the repairs. But as the local public, already impoverished as a result of these floods and persistent malaria, are unable to meet the whole of the costs, I venture to ask that a small contribution of a thousand rupees be made towards the cost by the Government."

The Hon'ble MR. GOURLAY said:—"This is not a very large item of expenditure, and the work might be undertaken on the ground of the archæological interest of the monument. I have examined the list and can find no account of this monument in this list of ancient monuments that we have. Mr. De (the Collector of Hooghly) has visited the spot lately, and he has informed me that a local Committee has been formed with the Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu as the President and that a sum of about Rs. 1,000 has been already collected. Mr. Longhurst, who is the Archæological Surveyor, is at present away on tour in the Central Provinces, and I have not been able to communicate with him and ask him to visit the place. I shall, however, ask him to do so soon after he returns, and if he reports that this is a monument of archæological interest, we will take the matter up. If it is not of archæological interest, the course already taken by the local people of contribution towards the repairs is the best one possible, and the District Engineer will give any assistance in the way of advice for which he is asked. Perhaps this assurance will satisfy the Hon'ble Member."

The Hon'ble THE PRESIDENT said :—"I take it that the Resolution is withdrawn on the undertaking given by the Hon'ble Mr. Gourlay."

The Resolution was then withdrawn, together with the following Resolution of which the Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari had given notice :—

"The Council recommend to the Lieutenant-Governor the omission of Rs. 1,000 from the following item under the heading 'Public Works Department' :—

Quarters for the Executive Engineer, Ranchi—Rs. 21,000."

The Hon'ble MR. WHEELER then introduced the following heads:—

Revenue—

XXXI.—Civil Works—in charge of the Civil Department.

Expenditure—

45. Civil Works—in charge of the Civil Department.

He said:—"The Hon'ble Mr. Thomson has dealt with the Civil Works in charge of the Public Works Department, but it will be seen that the budget also includes entries on account of Civil Works in charge of Civil Officers.

"On the receipt side the budget reproduces the sanctioned estimate for 1909-10 (Rs. 1,80,000), the only item of importance being that of tolls on ferries. As regards expenditure, the two largest items are Rs. 7,63,000 on account of contributions in aid of Excluded Local Funds and Municipalities, and Rs. 11,24,000 for contributions to District Funds and District Road Funds. The former includes the lump provision of four and-a-half lakhs which is allotted to us by the Government of India for the execution of sanitary improvements. This is in continuation of a similar grant in the budget for the current year, the details of the expenditure incurred from which will be found in paragraph 60 of the General Review. The money is distributed as schemes come up in the course of the year. It is impossible to allot it now, since we have no list of sanctioned schemes which are only waiting for funds to be undertaken. Some municipalities are working upon projects of water-supply and drainage, and as these are completed, the means of financing them will be considered. This usually entails assistance from Government, which is practically never refused if local effort is forthcoming to an appropriate extent. Government does not, and cannot, attempt to pay for the majority of such schemes entirely, but grants are given in proportion to the funds forthcoming from other sources. The next largest item is one of Rs. 1,07,900 to the Calcutta Corporation on account of the re-alignment of the sewers in the neighbourhood of the new Presidency Jail. The total expenditure on this project is Rs. 1,52,900, of which Rs. 25,000 was given in 1908-09 and the balance has been provided in the revised. The work was undertaken at the instance of Government and in the interests of the new Jail, and the grant-in-aid was made for this reason. The Calcutta Corporation also receives Rs. 50,000 as the Government contribution towards the drainage of the fringe area, exclusive of one or two other small grants. The only other large item is the allotment of Rs. 1,00,000 to be placed at the disposal of Commissioners for petty works of local improvement. In the current year's budget the corresponding provision is Rs. 75,000. The system has worked successfully, and it permits the Commissioner to give immediate aid to deserving objects brought to his notice while on tour or at other times. The effect of such petty grants is far greater than a tardy recognition of such purpose, made after a reference to head-quarters. Otherwise the provision is made up of various petty grants, each of which has a history of its own, but which it is scarcely necessary now to detail.

"The second provision of Rs. 11,24,000 is for contributions to District Funds. The bulk of this, Rs. 8,90,000, falls under the grants-in-aid to the resources of District Funds and Road Funds, which Government makes upon the basis of 25 per cent. of the net receipts of each fund from Road Cess. The system has been in vogue since 1905-06. Another large item is a grant of Rs. 60,000 to the Sonthal Parganas. The local resources of this district are not equal to its needs, and it has for some time been the custom to assist it. Of the collections on Government estates, one and-a-half per cent. is made over to District Funds and Road Funds for the improvement of roads, and this accounts for an item of Rs. 51,912. Further, there is a lump provision of Rs. 60,000 for the construction of feeder roads, which become necessary as districts are opened up and railways spread, and the District Road Fund in Singhbhum receives an annual special grant of Rs. 10,000 on the ground that its own income is insufficient to meet the reasonable requirements of the district."

The Hon'ble MR. BUTLER introduced the following heads:—

Revenue—

XVIII.—Ports and Pilotage.

Expenditure—

21. Ports and Pilotage.

He said:—"In introducing the Ports and Pilotage Budget estimate for 1910-11, I would offer the following remarks:—

"The receipts for the current year are expected to be somewhat larger than at first anticipated, owing to the addition of Rs. 5,700, the sale-proceeds of the Port Officer's launch Enchantress, which had become unserviceable from age. There is now no launch entirely at the disposal of the Port Officer, but it will be necessary to provide one when funds are available. The increase under head "Pilotage" is due to an increase in the tonnage of vessels using the port.

"In 1910-11 a further small increase is expected from pilotage for the same reason. There will, however, be a decrease under the head 'Sale-proceeds,' also from examination fees, as the Government of Eastern Bengal and Assam now conducts its own examinations for certificates under the Inland Steam-vessels Act, 1884 (VI of 1884).

"The expenditure during the current year is expected to be nearly one lakh less than anticipated. This is due to the postponement of the purchase of new boilers for the S.S. Guide and to reduced towing charges for the State Yacht Rhotas. The reduction under head 'Pilotage and Pilot Establishment' is due to the figures in the revised estimate being based on the actuals of the first nine months of the year.

"The budget provision for 1910-11 is about 1½ lakhs in excess of the revised estimate for the current year. This is due to the provision of Rs. 57,000 for the purchase of new boilers for the S.S. Guide. The present boilers are old and worn, and it would not be safe to keep them in use for another year.

"The anticipated increase under the head 'Pilotage and Pilot Establishment' is due to an expected increase in the number and tonnage of vessels using the port.

"Provision has been made for the house allowance recently sanctioned for the Assistant Shipping Master, Assistant Port Officer and the Surveyors of Steam-vessels.

"The building now occupied as Leadsmen's quarters at Kidderpore has been acquired by the Port Commissioners, and will eventually be dismantled by them to make room for the extension of the docks. Pending the construction of new quarters, an expenditure of about Rs. 2,000 is necessary to keep the present quarters habitable."

The Hon'ble MR. WHEELER introduced the following heads:—

Revenue—

XII.—Interest.

XXII.—Receipts in aid of Superannuation, etc.

Expenditure—

1. Refunds and Drawbacks.
29. Superannuation Allowances and Pensions.

He said:—"The group of Major Heads which it is down in my name to introduce does not perhaps call for particular remarks.

"The Interest Budget represents for the most part the loan transactions of the Local Government. We borrow money from the Imperial Government at 3½ per cent. calculated on the mean outstanding balance, and re-lend it, under the Land Improvement and Agriculturists' Loans Acts, to Co-operative Credit Societies, as drainage and embankment advances, to land-holders, etc., and to local bodies. The receipts comprise the interest we receive (with a few other odd items), and the expenditure is the interest we pay. The only noticeable feature is the heavy suspensions of the realisation of interest on account of famine conditions, which is reflected in the reduced estimate for the revised under Land Improvement and Agriculturist Loans. Neither will this be made entirely good next year, as the recoveries may be spread over an extended period.

"In the Superannuation Budget the receipts represent the recoveries from different officers towards their pensions, and the expenditure, the pensions and allowances actually disbursed. These, unfortunately, tend constantly to increase.

"Refunds and drawbacks occur in different departments, and we budget on the basis of the average actuals of the past three years."

The Hon'ble MR. DUKE introduced the following heads :—

Expenditure—

33. Famine Relief.

36. Reduction or avoidance of Debt.

He said—"The only observation that requires to be made with reference to the head 'Famine Relief' is perhaps that the Government has to congratulate itself on the extremely prosperous condition of this year compared with the time when the last year's budget was framed. Then prospects were distinctly ominous. There had been a failure of rain in North and South Bihar and in other parts of the Province, and we were compelled to budget on the expectation of having to undertake extensive famine relief operations, so that altogether a provision of Rs. 9,14,000 appeared necessary. But we were fortunate in that a great deal of rain fell during last hot weather, so that in the end famine had only to be declared in the district of Darbhanga, and in all the other districts which suffered from distress, the necessary relief was afforded by test works and by a liberal provision of agricultural loans which the favourable early rains enabled to be distributed to advantage.

"The result is that in the revised estimate only Rs. 2,84,000 appeared for famine. This year owing to the magnificent crops which have been reaped and to the favourable prospects of the rabi harvest at present there appears no possibility of any famine relief being required, and accordingly nothing has been budgeted under this head.

"The other head 'Avoidance of Debt' is a matter of account. On page 3 of the Financial Statement on the receipt side amongst the assignments from Imperial funds will be found a sum of Rs. 2,60,000, which is regularly assigned to us by the Imperial Government as a provision against incurring debt to them by our expenditure on famine, and the same sum appears in the budget estimate of expenditure."

The Hon'ble MR. WHEELER introduced the following heads :—

Revenue—

XXV.—Miscellaneous.

Expenditure—

32. Miscellaneous.

He said :—"The Miscellaneous Budget covers a variety of odds and ends, but on the receipt side the only noticeable change is, perhaps, the enhancement of the revised on account of the sale of the trawler Golden Crown, and of the Jorabagan Thana in Calcutta, the sale proceeds of which figure partly in the revised and partly in the budget for 1910-11. In the latter the sale proceeds of the Garden Reach Thana are also shown.

"On the expenditure side the revised shows a saving of Rs. 1,44,000, which was mainly due to savings under donations for charitable purposes, the expenditure under which has gone up considerably in recent years, but in respect of which the present financial position does not permit of excessive liberality; economies under special commissions of enquiry which in the current year covered the Fishery enquiry now transferred to the Scientific and Minor Departments Budget—the Golden Crown has been sold, and the crew paid off; and to the fact that no portion of the grants to District Funds was debited to this head.

"The Budget is less by Rs. 1,29,000 than the sanctioned estimate of the current year. As just stated, the cost of the Fishery Department is now shown elsewhere, and we have cut down the provision for charitable donations to bare requirements. On the other hand, the allotment for petty grants by His Honour has been now inserted in this budget (it was previously shown under Civil Works in charge of Civil Officers), and has been raised from Rs. 50,000 during 1909-10 to Rs. 1,00,000. The demands to be met are numerous, and the smaller provision scarcely permitted of any substantial sums being given in individual cases. For special commissions of enquiry a lump provision of Rs. 20,000 has been made, and the experiment of a training school for apprentices at Alipur accounts for an expenditure of Rs. 3,140. Finally, a lump sum of Rs. 1,05,000 is included under Miscellaneous and unforeseen charges. This (taken with a reserve of Rs. 50,000 under Civil Works in charge of Civil Officers) represents the reserve which we keep back to meet unforeseen demands during the ensuing year. It is impossible to work without such a reserve, as we know from past experience that demands will arise which we cannot now foretell. This is unavoidable. Although the provision here is new, this does not mean that in previous years no reserve has been kept. It was the custom to leave small margins scattered about the budget under different heads, which amounted for instance during 1909-10 to an aggregate of Rs. 3,23,528. This was inconvenient in working, and obscured the true position. It seems in every way preferable to provide a general reserve in large sums which can easily be identified as representing what is intended."

The PRESIDENT said :—"Gentlemen—That concludes the discussion of the revised Financial Statement in so far as discussion is permitted by the rules at the present stage. I think the proceedings have been business-like and satisfactory and that they will be found to have cleared the ground for the fuller discussion which will take place at an early date. Our intention is to present the final budget to the Council on the 26th of this month, and then after an interval of a week or thereabouts, the regular debate on the budget as a whole will take place.

"We will now take up the consideration of the business provided for this day, which consists of the Resolution of which notice has been given by the Hon'ble Babu Baikantha Nath Sen and of a number of amendments to that Resolution."

RESOLUTIONS ON MATTERS OF GENERAL PUBLIC INTEREST.

The Hon'ble BABU BAIKUNTHA NATH SEN was to have moved the following Resolutions :—

I. The Council recommend to the Lieutenant-Governor—

(a) that the system of appointment to the Provincial Service by nomination be abolished, and

(b) that the competition test be restored, and

(c) that competitive examinations for the selection of the requisite number of officers for the Executive branch of the Provincial Service be held in as many centres as there are seats of Divisional Commissioners, with such standards for the test as may be deemed proper and fair.

II. Should the recommendation for competitive examination, as made in he foregoing Resolution, be not deemed fit to be accepted, the Council further ecommend to the Lieutenant-Governor that a competitive special examination ‹e held for selection amongst those candidates who may be nominated by the Divisional Commissioners and the Calcutta University.

He said :—"Your Honour—Instead of moving the Resolutions standing against my name, I am going to withdraw them after offering some personal explanatory remarks. I had asked for and taken two remands. On the first occasion, I came to know that our hon'ble colleague, Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu, had asked certain questions and had asked for certain information. I thought that it was proper and desirable that the information should have been obtained before moving the Resolutions. Then on the second occasion, the questions put by my hon'ble friend were answered, and we received the information, but there was not sufficient time for studying the statistics, and so I asked for another postponement. After that when I found that there were several amendments opposed to my Resolutions, I thought that an attempt should be made to come to a satisfactory conclusion. I therefore invited all the non-official Members of this Council to assemble together, and I had Your Honour's permission to use the old Council Chamber, and we did meet there on the 9th instant. There we assembled and discussed the matter, and it was expected that a certain scheme which was suggested by my hon'ble colleague, Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu, would be accepted by all the members. Last evening, there was an assembly of a large number of Members of this Council, as well as of the Imperial Council amongst whom were two Muhammadan Members. Then I came to know with surprise and with a certain amount of regret that there was a certain amount of ill-feeling and a little heart-burning amongst some of our Bihari and Muhammadan colleagues. My hon'ble friends were labouring under a misconception. I was told that they thought that I had intended by moving these Resolutions to monopolize all the appointments for the Bengali Hindus to the exclusion of the Bihari candidates as well as Muhammadans. Nothing was further from my intention than this. The wording of the Resolutions intended to be moved by me shows that there was no proposal of an out and out competition. There would be, as contemplated by the Resolutions, nomination as well as competition. Besides, my object mainly was by moving these Resolutions prominently to draw the attention of the Government to the minute of Sir Stuart Bayley of 1889, which was altogether ignored by the Resolutions of the Government of India and the Bengal Government of 1904. That minute is a masterly one on the subject, and gives the whole literature from a certain time. That that should have been altogether ignored when the Resolutions of 1904 were adopted by the two Governments is not satisfactory and I thought that this should be brought to the notice of Your Honour's Government. Now such being the case, and in order that there might not be any misunderstanding or ill-feeling amongst ourselves, and in order that we might act harmoniously and might co-operate without there being any friction, I came to the conclusion at the request of some of my best friends that I should not allow anything like irritation to spring up. Sir, it is with that desire that I consider it expedient to withdraw the Resolutions which stand in my name, and I ask Your Honour's permission to do so. Of course, I intend to bring this question up at a later time when it would be permissible under the rules, and I hope by that time my Hon'ble colleagues will study the matter and will look at this question in a dispassionate manner. We shall then come to an unanimous opinion on the subject. I have the authority of my Hon'ble friend, Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu, that he will withdraw his amendment, and I believe all the others of my colleagues who gave notice of amendments will also withdraw their amendments."

The PRESIDENT said:—"There are amendments standing in the names of the Hon'ble Rai Kishori Lal Gosain Bahadur, the Hon'ble Rai Sita Nath Ray Bahadur, who is absent to-day, the Hon'ble Babu Bal Krishna Sahai, the Hon'ble Mr. Dip Narayan Singh, the Hon'ble Khan Bahadur Maulvi Sarfaraz Husain Khan and the Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu. Strictly speaking, when the original Resolution is withdrawn, all amendments to that Resolution would necessarily disappear with it; but I am not quite certain whether some of these so-called amendments ought not to be regarded as substantive Resolutions. Therefore I ask each of the movers of these amendments to state whether he agrees in the course proposed by the Hon'ble Babu Baikuntha Nath Sen."

The Hon'ble RAI KISHORI LAL GOSAIN BAHADUR said:—

"After hearing the Hon'ble Babu Baikuntha Nath Sen, I see no reasons for pressing my amendment."

The Hon'ble BABU BAL KRISHNA SAHAI and the Hon'ble MR. DIP NARAYAN SINGH also withdrew their amendments.

The Hon'ble KHAN BAHADUR MAULVI SARFARAZ HUSAIN KHAN said:—

"I have no objection to withdraw my amendment, but I may be allowed to say a few words with reference to what has fallen from my hon'ble friend Babu Baikuntha Nath Sen. He said that at the informal meeting held in the old Council Chamber we agreed that the scheme which was proposed by the Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu would be acceptable to the other members. I was present at that meeting, and I may submit that there was no such understanding. The reasons which have induced my hon'ble friend to withdraw his Resolutions are well known to him. It is discretionary and optional with him. There was also no bitterness of feeling to which he referred. That is all I have to say on this matter."

The PRESIDENT said:—"The Resolution and the various amendments that have been notified in connection with it are by leave withdrawn.

The Council was then adjourned to Saturday, the 26th March, 1910, at 11 A.M.

PART V.

Acts of the Governor General's Council assented to by the Governor General.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

The following Act of the Governor General of India in Council received the assent of the Governor General on the 18th March, 1910, and is hereby promulgated for general information:—

ACT NO. IX OF 1910.

THE INDIAN ELECTRICITY ACT.

CONTENTS.

PART I.

PRELIMINARY.

The Indian Electricity Act, 1910.

(Part I.—Preliminary,—Part II.—Supply of Energy.)

An Act to amend the law relating to the supply and use of electrical energy.

WHEREAS it is expedient to amend the law relating to the supply and use of electrical energy ; It is hereby enacted as follows :—

PART I.

PRELIMINARY.

Short title, extent and commencement.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Indian Electricity Act, 1910.

(2) It extends to the whole of British India, inclusive of British Baluchistan and the Santhal Parganas ; and

(3) It shall come into force on such date as the Governor General in Council may, by notification in the Gazette of India, direct in this behalf.

Definitions.

2. In this Act, expressions defined in the Indian Telegraph Act, 1885, have the meanings assigned to them in that Act, and, unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context,—

(a) "aërial line" means any electric supply-line which is placed above ground and in the open air :

(b) "area of supply" means the area within which alone a licensee is for the time being authorized by his license to supply energy :

(c) "consumer" means any person who is supplied with energy by a licensee, or whose premises are for the time being connected for the purposes of a supply of energy with the works of a licensee :

(d) "daily fine" means a fine for each day on which an offence is continued after conviction therefor :

(e) "distributing main" means the portion of any main with which a service line is, or is intended to be, immediately connected :

(f) "electric supply-line" means a wire, conductor or other means used for conveying, transmitting or distributing energy together with any casing, coating, covering, tube, pipe or insulator enclosing, surrounding or supporting the same or any part thereof, or any apparatus connected therewith for the purpose of so conveying, transmitting or distributing such energy :

(g) "energy" means electrical energy when generated, transmitted, supplied or used for any purpose except the transmission a message :

(h) "licensee" means any person licensed under Part II to supply energy :

(i) "main" means any electric supply-line through which energy is, or is intended to be, supplied by a licensee to the public :

(j) "prescribed" means prescribed by rules made under this Act :

(k) "public lamp" means an electric lamp used for the lighting of any street :

(l) "service line" means any electric supply-line through which energy is, or is intended to be, supplied by a licensee to a consumer either from a distributing main or immediately from the licensee's premises :

(m) "street" includes any way, road, lane, square, court, alley, passage or open space, whether a thoroughfare or not, over which the public have a right of way, and also the roadway and footway over any public bridge or causeway : and (n) "works" includes electric supply-lines and any buildings, machinery or apparatus required to supply energy and to carry into effect the objects of a license granted under Part II.

PART II.

SUPPLY OF ENERGY.

Licenses.

Grant of licenses.

3. (1) The Local Government may, on application made in the prescribed form and on payment of the prescribed fee (if any), grant to any person a license to supply energy in any specified area, and also to lay down or place electric supply-lines for the conveyance and transmission of energy,—

(a) where the energy to be supplied is to be generated outside such area, from a generating station situated outside such area to the boundary of such area, or

(b) where energy is to be conveyed or transmitted from any place in such area to any other place therein, across an intervening area not included therein, across such area.

(2) In respect of every such license and the grant thereof the following provisions shall have effect, namely :—

(a) any person applying for a license under this Part shall publish a notice of his application in the prescribed manner and with the prescribed particulars, and the license shall not be granted—

(i) until all objections received by the Local Government with

The Indian Electricity Act, 1910.

(Part II.—Supply of Energy.)

reference thereto have been considered by it:

Provided that no objection shall be so considered unless it is received before the expiration of three months from the date of the first publication of such notice as aforesaid; and

(ii) until, in the case of an application for a license for an area including the whole or any part of any cantonment, fortress, arsenal, dockyard or camp or of any building or place in the occupation of the Government for naval or military purposes, the Local Government has ascertained that there is no objection to the grant of the license on the part of the General Officer Commanding the Division;

(b) where an objection is received from any local authority concerned, the Local Government shall, if in its opinion the objection is insufficient, record in writing and communicate to such local authority its reasons for such opinion;

(c) no application for a license under this Part shall be made by any local authority except in pursuance of a resolution passed at a meeting of such authority held after one month's previous notice of the same and of the purpose thereof has been given in the manner in which notices of meetings of such local authority are usually given;

(d) a license under this Part—

(i) may prescribe such terms as to the limits within which, and the conditions under which, the supply of energy is to be compulsory or permissive, and as to the limits of price to be charged in respect of the supply of energy, and generally as to such matters as the Local Government may think fit; and

(ii) save in cases in which under section 10, clause (b), the provisions of sections 5 and 7, or either of them, have been declared not to apply, every such license shall declare whether any generating station to be used in connection with the undertaking shall or shall not form part of the undertaking for the purpose of purchase under section 5 or section 7;

(e) the grant of a license under this Part for any purpose shall not in any way hinder or restrict the grant of a license to another person within the same area of supply for a like purpose;

(f) the provisions contained in the Schedule shall be deemed to be incorporated with, and to form part of, every license granted under this Part, save in so far as they are expressly added to, varied or excepted by the license, and shall, subject to any such additions, variations or exceptions which the Local Government is hereby empowered to make, apply to the undertaking authorized by the license:

Provided that, where a license is granted in accordance with the provisions of clause IX of the Schedule for the supply of energy to other licensees for distribution by them, then, in so far as such license relates to such supply, the provisions of clauses IV, V, VI, VII, VIII and XII of the Schedule shall not be deemed to be incorporated with the license.

(3) The exercise of the powers conferred on the Local Government by this section shall be subject to the control of the Governor General in Council.

Revocation or amendment of licenses.

4. (1) The Local Government may, if in its opinion the public interest so requires, revoke a license in any of the following cases, namely:—

(a) where the licensee, in the opinion of the Local Government, makes wilful and unreasonably prolonged default in doing anything required of him by or under this Act;

(b) where the licensee breaks any of the terms or conditions of his license the breach of which is expressly declared by such license to render it liable to revocation;

(c) where the licensee fails, within the period fixed in this behalf by his license or any longer period which the Local Government may substitute therefor by order under sub-section (3), clause (b), and before exercising any of the powers conferred on him thereby in relation to the execution of works,—

(i) to show, to the satisfaction of the Local Government, that he is in a position fully and efficiently to discharge the duties and obligations imposed on him by his license, or

The Indian Electricity Act, 1910.

(Part II.—Supply of Energy.)

(ii) to make the deposit or furnish the security required by his license;

(d) where the licensee is, in the opinion of the Local Government, unable, by reason of his insolvency, fully and efficiently to discharge the duties and obligations imposed on him by his license.

(2) Where the Local Government might, under sub-section (1), revoke a license, it may, instead of revoking the license, permit it to remain in force subject to such further terms and conditions as it thinks fit to impose, and any further terms or conditions so imposed shall be binding upon, and be observed by, the licensee, and shall be of like force and effect as if they were contained in the license.

(3) Where in its opinion the public interest so permits, the Local Government may, on the application or with the consent of the licensee, and, if the licensee is not a local authority, after consulting the local authority (if any) concerned,—

(a) revoke a license as to the whole or any part of the area of supply upon such terms and conditions as it thinks fit, or

(b) make such alterations or amendments in the terms and conditions of a license, including the provisions specified in section 3, sub-section (2), clause (f), as it thinks fit.

Provisions where license of licensee, not being a local authority, is revoked.

5. Where the Local Government revokes, under section 4, sub-section (1), the license of a licensee, not being a local authority, the following provisions shall have effect, namely:—

(a) the Local Government shall serve a notice of the revocation upon the licensee, and, where the whole of the area of supply is included in the area for which a single local authority is constituted, upon that local authority also, and shall in the notice fix a date on which the revocation shall take effect; and on and with effect from that date all the powers and liabilities of the licensee under this Act shall absolutely cease and determine;

(b) where a notice has been served on a local authority under clause (a), the local authority may, within three months after the service of the notice, and with the written consent of the Local Government, by notice in writing, require the licensee to sell, and thereupon the licensee shall sell, the undertaking to the local authority on payment of the value of all lands, buildings, works, materials and plant of the licensee suitable to, and used by him for, the purposes of the undertaking, other than a generating station declared by the license not to form part of the undertaking for the purpose of purchase, such value to be, in case of difference or dispute, determined by arbitration:

Provided that the value of such lands, buildings, works, materials and plant shall be deemed to be their fair market-value at the time of purchase, due regard being had to the nature and condition for the time being of such lands, buildings, works, materials and plant, and to the state of repair thereof, and to the circumstance that they are in such a position as to be ready for immediate working, and to the suitability of the same for the purposes of the undertaking, but without any addition in respect of compulsory purchase or of goodwill or of any profits which may be or might have been made from the undertaking, or of any similar considerations;

(c) where no purchase has been effected by the local authority under clause (b), and any other person is willing to purchase the undertaking, the Local Government may, if it thinks fit, with the consent of the licensee, or without the consent of the licensee in case the price is not less than that for which the local authority might have purchased the same, require the licensee to sell, and thereupon the licensee shall sell, the undertaking to such other person;

(d) where no purchase has been effected under clause (b) or clause (c) within such time as the Local Government may consider reasonable, or where the whole of the area of supply is not included in the area for which a single local authority is constituted, the Local Government shall have the option of purchasing the undertaking and, if the Local Government elects to purchase, the licensee shall sell the undertaking to the Local Government upon terms and conditions similar to those set forth in clause (b);

The Indian Electricity Act, 1910.
(Part II.—Supply of Energy.)

(e) where a purchase has been effected under any of the preceding clauses,—

(i) the undertaking shall vest in the purchasers free from any debts, mortgages or similar obligations of the licensee or attaching to the undertaking:

Provided that any such debts, mortgages or similar obligations shall attach to the purchase-money in substitution for the undertaking; and

(ii) the revocation of the license shall extend only to the revocation of the rights, powers, authorities, duties and obligations of the licensee from whom the undertaking is purchased, and, save as aforesaid, the license shall remain in full force, and the purchaser shall be deemed to be the licensee:

Provided that where the Local Government elects to purchase under clause (d), the license shall, after purchase, in so far as the Local Government is concerned, cease to have any further operation;

(f) where no purchase has been effected under any of the foregoing clauses, the licensee shall have the option of disposing of all lands, buildings, works, materials and plant belonging to the undertaking in such manner as he may think fit:

Provided that, if the licensee does not exercise such option within a period of six months from the date on which the same became exercisable, the Local Government may forthwith cause the works of the licensee in, under, over, along or across any street to be removed and every such street to be reinstated, and recover the cost of such removal and reinstatement from the licensee;

(g) if the licensee has been required to sell the undertaking, and if the sale has not been completed by the date fixed in the notice issued under clause (a), the purchaser may, with the previous sanction of the Local Government, work the undertaking pending the completion of the sale.

Provisions where license of local authority is revoked.

6. (1) Where the Local Government revokes the license of a local authority under section 4, sub-section (1), and any person is willing to purchase the undertaking, the Local Government may, if it thinks fit, require the local authority to sell, and thereupon the local authority shall sell, the undertaking to such person on such terms as the Local Government thinks just.

(2) Where no purchase has been effected under sub-section (1), the licensee shall have the option of disposing of all lands, buildings, works, materials and plant belonging to the undertaking in such manner as he may think fit:

Provided that, if the licensee does not exercise such option within a period of six months from the date on which the same became exercisable, the Local Government may forthwith cause the works of the licensee in, under, over, along or across any street to be removed and every such street to be reinstated, and recover the cost of such removal and reinstatement from the licensee.

Purchase of undertaking.

7. (1) Where a license has been granted to any person not being a local authority, and the whole of the area of supply is included in the area for which a single local authority is constituted, the local authority shall, on the expiration of such period, not exceeding fifty years, and of every such subsequent period, not exceeding twenty years, as shall be specified in this behalf in the license, have the option of purchasing the undertaking, and, if the local authority, with the previous sanction of the Local Government, elects to purchase, the licensee shall sell the undertaking to the local authority on payment of the value of all lands, buildings, works, materials and plant of the licensee suitable to, and used by him for, the purposes of the undertaking, other than a generating station declared by the license not to form part of the undertaking for the purpose of purchase, such value to be, in case of difference or dispute, determined by arbitration:

Provided that the value of such lands, buildings, works, materials and plant shall be deemed to be their fair market-value at the time of purchase, due regard being had to the nature and condition for the time being of such lands, buildings, works, materials and plant, and to the state of repair thereof, and to the circumstance that they are in such a position as to be ready for immediate working, and to the suitability of the same for the purposes of the undertaking:

Provided also that there shall be added to such value as aforesaid such percentage, if any, not exceeding twenty per centum on that value as may be specified in the license, on account of compulsory purchase.

The Indian Electricity Act, 1910.
(Part II.—Supply of Energy.)

(2) Where—

(a) the local authority does not elect to purchase under sub-section (1), or

(b) the whole of the area of supply is not included in the area for which a single local authority is constituted, or

(c) a licensee supplies energy from the same generating station to two or more areas of supply, each controlled by its own local authority, and has been granted a license in respect of each area of supply, the Local Government shall have the like option upon the like terms and conditions.

(3) Where a purchase has been effected under sub-section (1) or sub-section (2),—

(a) the undertaking shall vest in the purchasers free from any debts, mortgages or similar obligations of the licensee or attaching to the undertaking:

Provided that any such debts, mortgages or similar obligations shall attach to the purchase-money in substitution for the undertaking; and

(b) save as aforesaid, the license shall remain in full force, and the purchaser shall be deemed to be the licensee:

Provided that where the Local Government elects to purchase under sub-section (2), the license shall, after purchase, in so far as the Local Government is concerned, cease to have any further operation.

(4) Not less than two years' notice in writing of any election to purchase under this section shall be served upon the licensee by the local authority or the Local Government, as the case may be.

(5) Notwithstanding anything hereinbefore contained, a local authority may, with the previous sanction of the Local Government, waive its option to purchase and enter into an agreement with the licensee for the working by him of the undertaking until the expiration of the next subsequent period referred to in sub-section (1), upon such terms and conditions as may be stated in such agreement.

Provisions where no purchase and license revoked with consent of licensee.

8. Where, on the expiration of any of the periods referred to in section 7, sub-section (1), neither a local authority nor the Local Government purchases the undertaking and the license is, on the application or with the consent of the licensee, revoked, the licensee shall have the option of disposing of all lands, buildings, works, materials and plant belonging to the undertaking in such manner as he may think fit:

Provided that, if the licensee does not exercise such option within a period of six months, the Local Government may proceed to take action as provided in section 5, clause (f), proviso.

Licensee not to purchase, or associate himself with, other licensed undertakings or transfer his undertaking.

9. (1) The licensee shall not, at any time without the previous consent in writing of the Local Government, acquire, by purchase or otherwise, the license or the undertaking of, or associate himself so far as the business of supplying energy is concerned with, any person supplying, or intending to supply, energy under any other license, and, before applying for such consent, the licensee shall give not less than one month's notice of the application to every local authority, both in the licensee's area of supply, and also in the area or district in which such other person supplies, or intends to supply, energy:

Provided that nothing in this sub-section shall be construed to require the consent of the Local Government for the supply of energy by one licensee to another in accordance with the provisions of clause IX of the Schedule.

(2) The licensee shall not at any time assign his license or transfer his undertaking, or any part thereof, by sale, mortgage, lease, exchange or otherwise without the previous consent in writing of the Local Government.

(3) Any agreement relating to any transaction of the nature described in sub-section (1) or sub-section (2), unless made with, or subject to, such consent as aforesaid, shall be void.

General power for Government to vary terms of purchase.

10. Notwithstanding anything in sections 5, 7 and 8, the Local Government may, with the previous sanction of the Governor General in Council, in any license to be granted under this Act,—

(a) vary the terms and conditions upon which, and the periods on the expiration of which, the licensee shall be bound to sell his undertaking, or

(b) direct that, subject to such conditions and restrictions (if any) as it may think fit to impose, the provisions of the said sections or any of them shall not apply.

Annual accounts of licensee.

11. (1) Every licensee shall, unless expressly exempted from the liability by his license, or by order in writing of the Local Government, prepare and render to the Local Government or to such authority as the Local Government may appoint in this behalf, on or before the prescribed date in each year, an annual statement of accounts of his undertaking made up to such date, in such form, and containing such particulars, as may be prescribed in this behalf.

(2) The licensee shall keep copies of such annual statement at his office and sell the same to any applicant at a price not exceeding five rupees per copy.

The Indian Electricity Act, 1910.
(Part II.—Supply of Energy.)

Works.

12. (1) Any licensee may, from time to time but subject always to the terms and conditions of his license, within the area of supply, or, when permitted by the terms of his license to lay down or place electric supply-lines without the area of supply, without that area—

Provisions as to the opening and breaking up of streets, railways and tramways.

(a) open and break up the soil and pavement of any street, railway or tramway;
(b) open and break up any sewer, drain or tunnel in or under any street, railway or tramway;
(c) lay down and place electric supply-lines and other works;
(d) repair, alter or remove the same; and
(e) do all other acts necessary for the due supply of energy.

(2) Nothing contained in sub-section (1) shall be deemed to authorize or empower a licensee, without the consent of the local authority or of the owner and occupier concerned, as the case may be, to lay down or place any electric supply-line or other work in, through or against any building, or on, over or under any land not dedicated to public use whereon, wherever or whereunder any electric supply-line or work has not already been lawfully laid down or placed by such licensee:

Provided that any support of an aërial line or any stay or strut required for the sole purpose of securing in position any support of an aërial line may be fixed on any building or land or, having been so fixed, may be altered, notwithstanding the objection of the owner or occupier of such building or land, if the District Magistrate or, in a Presidency-town or Rangoon, the Commissioner of Police by order in writing so directs:

Provided, also, that, if at any time the owner or occupier of any building or land on which any such support, stay or strut has been fixed shows sufficient cause, the District Magistrate or, in a Presidency-town or Rangoon, the Commissioner of Police may by order in writing direct any such support, stay or strut to be removed or altered.

(3) When making an order under sub-section (2) the District Magistrate or the Commissioner of Police, as the case may be, shall fix the amount of compensation or of annual rent, or of both, which should in his opinion be paid by the licensee to the owner or occupier.

(4) Every order made by a District Magistrate or a Commissioner of Police under sub-section (2) shall be subject to revision by the Local Government.

(5) Nothing contained in sub-section (1) shall be deemed to authorize or empower any licensee to open or break up any street not repairable by the Government or a local authority, or any railway or tramway, except such streets, railways or tramways (if any), or such parts thereof, as he is specially authorised to break up by his license, without the written consent of the person by whom the street is repairable or of the person for the time being entitled to work the railway or tramway, unless with the written consent of the Local Government:

Provided that the Local Government shall not give any such consent as aforesaid, until the licensee has given notice, by advertisement or otherwise as the Local Government may direct, and within such period as the Local Government may fix in this behalf, to the person above referred to, and until all representations or objections received in accordance with the notice have been considered by the Local Government.

13. (1) Where the exercise of any of the powers of a licensee in relation to the execution of any works involves the placing of any works in, under, over, along or across any street, part of a street, railway, tramway, canal or waterway, the following provisions shall have effect, namely:—

Notice of new works.

(a) not less than one month before commencing the execution of the works (not being a service line immediately attached, or intended to be immediately attached, to a distributing main, or the repair, renewal or amendment of existing works of which the character or position is not to be altered), the licensee shall serve upon the person responsible for the repair of the street or part of a street (hereinafter in this section referred to as "the repairing authority") or upon the person for the time being entitled to work the railway, tramway, canal or waterway (hereinafter in this section referred to as "the owner"), as the case may be, a notice in writing describing the proposed works, together with a section and plan thereof on a scale sufficiently large to show clearly the details of the proposed works, and not in any case smaller than one inch to eight feet vertically and sixteen inches to the mile horizontally, and intimating the manner in which, and the time at which, it is proposed to interfere with or alter any existing works, and shall, upon being required to do so by the repairing authority or owner, as the case may be, from time to time give such further information in relation thereto as may be desired;

(b) if the repairing authority intimates to the licensee that it disapproves of such works, section or plan, or approves thereof subject to amendment, the licensee may, within one week of receiving such intimation, appeal to the Local Government, whose decision, after considering the reasons given by the repairing authority for its action, shall be final;

(c) if the repairing authority fails to give notice in writing of its approval or

The Indian Electricity Act, 1910.
(Part II.—Supply of Energy.)

disapproval to the licensee within one month, it shall be deemed to have approved of the works, section and plan, and the licensee, after giving not less than forty-eight hours' notice in writing to the repairing authority, may proceed to carry out the works in accordance with the notice and the section and plan served under clause (a);

(d) if the owner disapproves of such works, section or plan, or approves thereof subject to amendment, he may, within three weeks after the service of the notice under clause (a), serve a requisition upon the licensee demanding that any question in relation to the works or to compensation, or to the obligations of the owner to others in respect thereof, shall be determined by arbitration, and thereupon the matter shall, unless settled by agreement, be determined by arbitration;

(e) where no requisition has been served by the owner upon the licensee under clause (d), within the time named, the owner shall be deemed to have approved of the works, section and plan, and in that case, or where after a requisition for arbitration the matter has been determined by arbitration, the works may, upon payment or securing of compensation, be executed according to the notice and the section and plan, subject to such modifications as may have been determined by arbitration or agreed upon between the parties;

(f) where the works to be executed consist of the laying of any underground service line immediately attached, or intended to be immediately attached, to a distributing main, the licensee shall give to the repairing authority or the owner, as the case may be, not less than forty-eight hours' notice in writing of his intention to execute such works;

(g) where the works to be executed consist of the repair, renewal or amendment of existing works of which the character or position is not to be altered, the licensee shall, except in cases of emergency, give to the repairing authority, or to the owner, as the case may be, not less than forty-eight hours' notice in writing of his intention to execute such works, and, on the expiry of such notice, such works shall be commenced forthwith and shall be carried on with all reasonable despatch, and, if possible, both by day and by night until completed.

(2) Where the licensee makes default in complying with any of these provisions, he shall make full compensation for any loss or damage incurred by reason thereof, and, where any difference or dispute arises as to the amount of such compensation, the matter shall be determined by arbitration.

(3) Notwithstanding anything in this section, the licensee may, in case of emergency due to the breakdown of an underground electric supply-line, after giving notice in writing to the repairing authority or the owner, as the case may be, of his intention to do so, place an aërial line without complying with the provisions of sub-section (1);

Provided that such aërial line shall be used only until the defect in the underground electric supply-line can be made good, and in no case (unless with the written consent of the Local Government) for a period exceeding six weeks, and shall be removed as soon as may be after such defect is removed.

Alteration of pipes or wires.

14. (1) Any licensee may alter the position of any pipe (not forming, in a case where the licensee is not a local authority, part of a local authority's main sewer), or of any wire under or over any place which he is authorized to open or break up, if such pipe or wire is likely to interfere with the exercise of his powers under this Act; and any person may alter the position of any electric supply-lines or works of a licensee under or over any such place as aforesaid, if such electric supply-lines or works are likely to interfere with the lawful exercise of any powers vested in him.

(2) In any such case as aforesaid the following provisions shall, in the absence of an agreement to the contrary between the parties concerned, apply, namely:—

(a) not less than one month before commencing any alteration, the licensee or other person desiring to make the same (hereinafter in this section referred to as "the operator") shall serve upon the person for the time being entitled to the pipe, wire, electric supply-lines or works, as the case may be (hereinafter in this section referred to as "the owner"), a notice in writing, describing the proposed alteration, together with a section and plan thereof on a scale sufficiently large to show clearly the details of the proposed works, and not in any case smaller than one inch to eight feet vertically and sixteen inches to the mile horizontally and intimating the time when it is to be commenced, and shall subsequently give such further information in relation thereto as the owner may desire;

(b) within fourteen days after the service of the notice, section and plan upon the owner, the owner may serve upon the operator a requisition to the effect that any question arising upon the notice, section or plan shall be determined by arbitration, and thereupon the matter shall, unless settled by agreement, be determined by arbitration;

(c) every arbitrator to whom a reference is made under clause (b) shall have regard to any duties or obligations

The Indian Electricity Act, 1910.
(Part II.—Supply of Energy.)

which the owner is under, and may require the operator to execute any temporary or other works so as to avoid as far as possible interference therewith;

(d) where no requisition is served upon the operator under clause (b) within the time named, or where such a requisition has been served and the matter has been settled by agreement or determined by arbitration, the alteration may, upon payment or securing of any compensation accepted or determined by arbitration, be executed in accordance with the notice, section and plan and subject to such modifications as may have been determined by arbitration or agreed upon between the parties;

(e) the owner may, at any time before the operator is entitled to commence the alteration, serve upon the operator a statement in writing to the effect that he desires to execute the alteration himself and requires the operator to give such security for the repayment of any expenses as may be agreed upon or, in default of agreement, determined by arbitration;

(f) where a statement is served upon the operator under clause (e), he shall, not less than forty-eight hours before the execution of the alteration is required to be commenced, furnish such security and serve upon the owner a notice in writing intimating the time when the alteration is required to be commenced, and the manner in which it is required to be made; and thereupon the owner may proceed to execute the alteration as required by the operator;

(g) where the owner declines to comply, or does not, within the time and in the manner prescribed by a notice served upon him under clause (f), comply with the notice, the operator may himself execute the alteration;

(h) all expenses properly incurred by the owner in complying with a notice served upon him by the operator under clause (f) may be recovered by him from the operator.

(3) Where the licensee or other person desiring to make the alteration makes default in complying with any of these provisions, he shall make full compensation for any loss or damage incurred by reason thereof, and, where any difference or dispute arises as to the amount of such compensation, the matter shall be determined by arbitration.

Laying of electric supply-lines or other works near sewers, pipes or other electric supply-lines or works.

15. (1) Where—

(b) any duly authorized person requires to dig or sink any trench for laying down or constructing any new pipes or other works, near to which any electric supply-lines or works of a licensee have been lawfully placed,

the licensee or such duly authorized person, as the case may be (hereinafter in this section referred to as "the operator"), shall, unless it is otherwise agreed upon between the parties interested or in case of sudden emergency, give to the Local Government or local authority, or to such duly authorized person, or to the licensee, as the case may be (hereinafter in this section referred to as "the owner"), not less than forty-eight hours' notice in writing before commencing to dig or sink the trench, and the owner shall have the right to be present during the execution of the work, which shall be executed to the reasonable satisfaction of the owner.

(2) Where the operator finds it necessary to undermine, but not to alter, the position of any pipe, electric supply-line or work, he shall support it in position during the execution of the work, and before completion shall provide a suitable and proper foundation for it where so undermined.

(3) Where the operator (being the licensee) lays any electric supply-line across, or so as to be liable to touch, any pipes, lines or service-pipes or service-lines belonging to any duly authorized person or to any person supplying, transmitting or using energy under this Act, he shall not, except with the written consent of such person and in accordance with section 34, sub-section (1), lay his electric supply-lines so as to come into contact with any such pipes, lines or service-pipes or service lines.

(4) Where the operator makes default in complying with any of the provisions of this section, he shall make full compensation for any loss or damage incurred by reason thereof.

(5) Where any difference or dispute arises under this section, the matter shall be determined by arbitration.

(6) Where the licensee is a local authority, the references in this section to the local authority and to sewers, drains, water-courses or works under its control shall not apply.

Streets, railways, tramways, sewers, drains or tunnels broken up to be reinstated without delay.

16. (1) Where any person, in exercise of any of the powers conferred by or under this Act, opens or breaks up the soil or pavement of any street, railway or tramway, or any sewer, drain or tunnel, he shall—

(a) immediately cause the part opened or broken up to be fenced and guarded;

(b) before sunset cause a light or lights, sufficient for the warning of passengers, to be set up and maintained until sunrise against or near the part opened or broken up;

The Indian Electricity Act, 1910.
(Part II.—Supply of Energy.)

(c) with all reasonable speed fill in the ground and reinstate and make good the soil or pavement, or the sewer, drain or tunnel, opened or broken up, and carry away the rubbish occasioned by such opening or breaking up; and,

(d) after reinstating and making good the soil or pavement, or the sewer, drain or tunnel, broken or opened up, keep the same in good repair for three months and for any further period, not exceeding nine months, during which subsidence continues.

(2) Where any person fails to comply with any of the provisions of sub-section (1), the person having the control or management of the street, railway, tramway, sewer, drain or tunnel in respect of which the default has occurred, may cause to be executed the work which the defaulter has delayed or omitted to execute, and may recover from him the expenses incurred in such execution.

(3) Where any difference or dispute arises as to the amount of the expenses incurred under sub-section (2), the matter shall be determined by arbitration.

Notice to telegraph-authority.

17. (1) A licensee shall, before laying down or placing, within ten yards of any part of any telegraph-line, any electric supply line or other works (not being service-lines immediately attached or intended to be immediately attached to a distributing main, or electric supply-lines for the repair, renewal or amendment of existing works of which the character or position is not to be altered), give not less than ten days' notice in writing to the telegraph-authority, specifying—

(a) the course of the works or alterations proposed,

(b) the manner in which the works are to be utilized,

(c) the amount and nature of the energy to be transmitted, and

(d) the extent to, and manner in, which (if at all) earth returns are to be used;

and the licensee shall conform with such reasonable requirements, either general or special, as may be laid down by the telegraph-authority within that period for preventing any telegraph-line from being injuriously affected by such works or alterations:

Provided that, in case of emergency (which shall be stated by the licensee in writing to the telegraph-authority) arising from defects in any of the electric supply-lines or other works of the licensee, the licensee shall be required to give only such notice as may be possible after the necessity for the proposed new works or alterations has arisen.

(2) Where the works to be executed consist of the laying of any underground service-line immediately attached, or intended to be immediately attached, to a distributing main, the licensee shall, not less than forty-eight hours before commencing the work, serve upon the telegraph-authority a notice in writing of his intention to execute such works.

Aërial lines.

18. (1) Save as provided in section 13, sub-section (3), nothing in this Part shall be deemed to authorize or empower a licensee to place any aërial line along or across any street, railway, tramway, canal or waterway unless and until the Local Government has communicated to him a general approval in writing of the methods of construction which he proposes to adopt:

Provided that the communication of such approval shall in no way relieve the licensee of his obligations with respect to any other consent required by or under this Act.

(2) Where any aërial line has been placed or maintained by a licensee in breach of the provisions of sub-section (1), the Local Government may require the licensee forthwith to remove the same, or may cause the same to be removed and recover from the licensee the expenses incurred in such removal.

(3) Where any tree standing or lying near an aërial line, interrupts or interferes with, or is likely to interrupt or interfere with, the conveyance or transmission of energy, a Magistrate of the first class or, in a Presidency-town or Rangoon, the Commissioner of Police may, on the application of the licensee, cause the tree to be removed or otherwise dealt with as he thinks fit.

(4) When disposing of an application under sub-section (3), the Magistrate or Commissioner of Police, as the case may be, shall, in the case of any tree in existence before the placing of the aërial line, award to the person interested in the tree such compensation as he thinks reasonable, and such person may recover the same from the licensee.

Compensation for damage.

19. (1) A licensee shall, in exercise of any of the powers conferred by or under this Act, cause as little damage, detriment and inconvenience as may be, and shall make full compensation for any damage, detriment or inconvenience caused by him or by any one employed by him.

(2) Save in the case provided for in section 12, sub-section (3), where any difference or dispute arises as to the amount or the application of such compensation, the matter shall be determined by arbitration.

Supply.

Power for licensee to enter premises and to remove fittings or other apparatus of licensee.

20. (1) A licensee or any person duly authorized by a licensee may, at any reasonable time, and on informing the occupier of his intention, enter any premises to which energy is or has been supplied by him, for the purpose of—

(a) inspecting and testing the electric supply-lines, meters, fittings, works and apparatus for the supply of energy belonging to the licensee; or

The Indian Electricity Act, 1910.

(Part II.—Supply of Energy.)

(b) ascertaining the amount of energy supplied or the electrical quantity contained in the supply; or

(c) removing, where a supply of energy is no longer required, or where the licensee is authorized to take away and cut off such supply, any electric supply-lines, fittings, works or apparatus belonging to the licensee.

(2) A licensee or any person authorized as aforesaid may also, in pursuance of a special order in this behalf made by the District Magistrate or, in a Presidency-town or Rangoon, by the Commissioner of Police, and after giving not less than twenty-four hours' notice in writing to the occupier, enter any premises to which energy is or has been supplied, or is to be supplied, by him, for the purpose of examining and testing the electric wires, fittings, works and apparatus for the use of energy belonging to the consumer.

Restrictions on licensee's controlling or interfering with use of energy.

21. (1) A licensee shall not be entitled to prescribe any special form of appliance for utilizing energy supplied by him, or, save as provided by section 23, sub-section (2), or by section 26, sub-section (7), in any way to control or interfere with the use of such energy:

Provided that no person may adopt any form of appliance, or use the energy supplied to him, so as unduly or improperly to interfere with the supply by the licensee of energy to any other person.

(2) Where any difference or dispute arises as to whether a licensee has prescribed any appliance or controlled or interfered with the use of energy in contravention of sub-section (1), the matter shall be either referred to an Electric Inspector and decided by him or, if the licensee or consumer so desires, determined by arbitration.

Obligation on licensee to supply energy.

22. Where energy is supplied by a licensee, every person within the area of supply shall, except in so far as is otherwise provided by the terms and conditions of the license, be entitled, on application, to a supply on the same terms as those on which any other person in the same area is entitled in similar circumstances to a corresponding supply:

Provided that no person shall be entitled to demand, or to continue to receive, from a licensee a supply of energy for any premises having a separate supply unless he has agreed with the licensee to pay to him such minimum annual sum as will give him a reasonable return on the capital expenditure, and will cover other standing charges incurred by him in order to meet the possible maximum demand for those premises, the sum payable to be determined in case of difference or dispute by arbitration.

Charges for energy to be made without undue preference.

23. (1) A licensee shall not, in making any agreement for the supply of energy, show undue preference to any person, but may, save as aforesaid, make such charges for the supply of energy as may be agreed upon, not exceeding the limits imposed by his license.

(2) No consumer shall, except with the consent in writing of the licensee, use energy supplied to him under one method of charging in a manner for which a higher method of charging is in force.

Discontinuance of supply to consumer neglecting to pay charge.

24. Where any person neglects to pay any charge for energy or any other sum due from him to a licensee in respect of the supply of energy to him, the licensee may, after giving not less than seven clear days' notice in writing to such person and without prejudice to his right to recover such charge or other sum by suit, cut off the supply and for that purpose cut or disconnect any electric supply-line or other works, being the property of the licensee, through which energy may be supplied, and may discontinue the supply until such charge or other sum, together with any expenses incurred by him in cutting off and re-connecting the supply, are paid, but no longer:

Provided that where any difference or dispute has been referred under this Act to an Electric Inspector before notice as aforesaid has been given by the licensee, the licensee shall not exercise the powers conferred by this section until the Inspector has given his decision.

Exemption of electric supply-lines or other apparatus from attachment in certain cases.

25. Where any electric supply-lines, meters, fittings, works or apparatus belonging to a licensee are placed in or upon any premises, not being in the possession of the licensee, for the purpose of supplying energy, such electric supply-lines, meters, fittings, works and apparatus shall not be liable to be taken in execution under any process of any Civil Court or in any proceedings in insolvency against the person in whose possession the same may be.

Meters.

26. (1) In the absence of an agreement to the contrary, the amount of energy supplied to a consumer or the electrical quantity contained in the supply shall be ascertained by means of a correct meter, and the licensee shall, if required by the consumer, cause the consumer to be supplied with such a meter:

Provided that the licensee may require the consumer to give him security for the price of a meter and enter into an agreement for the hire thereof, unless the consumer elects to purchase a meter.

The Indian Electricity Act, 1910.
(Part II.—Supply of Energy. Part III.—Supply, Transmission and Use of Energy by non-licensees.)

(2) Where the consumer so enters into an agreement for the hire of a meter, the licensee shall keep the meter correct, and, in default of his doing so, the consumer shall, for so long as the default continues, cease to be liable to pay for the hire of the meter.

(3) Where the meter is the property of the consumer, he shall keep the meter correct, and, in default of his doing so, the licensee may, after giving him seven days' notice, for so long as the default continues, cease to supply energy through the meter.

(4) The licensee or any person duly authorized by the licensee shall, at any reasonable time and on informing the consumer of his intention, have access to, and be at liberty to inspect and test, and for that purpose, if he thinks fit, take off and remove, any meter referred to in sub-section (1); and, except where the meter is so hired as aforesaid, all reasonable expenses of, and incidental to, such inspecting, testing, taking off and removing shall, if the meter is found to be otherwise than correct, be recovered from the consumer; and, where any difference or dispute arises as to the amount of such reasonable expenses, the matter shall be referred to an Electric Inspector, and the decision of such Inspector shall be final:

Provided that the licensee shall not be at liberty to take off or remove any such meter if any difference or dispute of the nature described in sub-section (6) has arisen until the matter has been determined as therein provided.

(5) A consumer shall not connect any meter referred to in sub-section (1) with any electric supply-line through which energy is supplied by a licensee, or disconnect the same from any such electric supply-line, without giving to the licensee not less than forty-eight hours' notice in writing of his intention.

(6) Where any difference or dispute arises as to whether any meter referred to in sub-section (1) is or is not correct, the matter shall be decided, upon the application of either party, by an Electric Inspector, or by a competent person specially appointed by the Local Government in this behalf; and, where the meter has, in the opinion of such Inspector or person, ceased to be correct, such Inspector or person shall estimate the amount of the energy supplied to the consumer or the electrical quantity contained in the supply, during such time as the meter shall not, in the opinion of such Inspector or person, have been correct, on the basis of the previous supply; and where the matter has been decided by any person other than the Electric Inspector, an appeal shall lie to the Inspector, whose decision shall in every case be final: but, save as aforesaid, the register of the meter shall, in the absence of fraud, be conclusive proof of such amount or quantity.

(7) In addition to any meter which may be placed upon the premises of a consumer in pursuance of the provisions of sub-section (1), the licensee may place upon such premises such meter, maximum demand indicator or other apparatus as he may think fit for the purpose of ascertaining or regulating either the amount of energy supplied to the consumer, or the number of hours during which the supply is given, or the rate per unit of time at which energy is supplied to the consumer, or any other quantity or time connected with the supply:

Provided that the meter, indicator or apparatus shall not, in the absence of an agreement to the contrary, be placed otherwise than between the distributing mains of the licensee and any meter referred to in sub-section (1):

Provided, also, that, where the charges for the supply of energy depend wholly or partly upon the reading or indication of any such meter, indicator or apparatus as aforesaid, the licensee shall, in the absence of an agreement to the contrary, keep the meter, indicator or apparatus correct; and the provisions of sub-sections (4), (5) and (6) shall in that case apply as though the meter, indicator or apparatus were a meter referred to in sub-section (1).

Explanation.—A meter shall be deemed to be "correct" if it registers the amount of energy supplied, or the electrical quantity contained in the supply, within the prescribed limits of error, and a maximum demand indicator or other apparatus referred to in sub-section (7) shall be deemed to be "correct" if it complies with such conditions as may be prescribed in the case of any such indicator or other apparatus.

Supply of energy outside area of supply.

27. Notwithstanding anything in this Act, the Local Government may, by order in writing, and subject to such conditions and restrictions, if any, as it thinks fit to impose, authorise any licensee to supply energy to any person outside the area of supply, and to lay down or place electric supply-lines for that purpose;

Provided, first, that no such authority shal be conferred on the licensee within the area of supply of another licensee without that licensee's consent, unless the Local Government considers that his consent has been unreasonably withheld:

Provided, secondly, that such authority shall not be conferred unless the person to whom the supply is to be given has entered into a specific agreement with the licensee for the taking of such supply:

Provided, thirdly, that a licensee on whom such authority has been conferred shall not be deemed to be empowered outside the area of supply to open or break up any street, or any sewer, drain or tunnel in or under any street, railway or tramway, or to interfere with any telegraph-line, without the written consent of the local authority or person by whom such street, sewer, drain or tunnel is repairable, or of the telegraph-authority, as the case may be:

Provided, fourthly, that, save as aforesaid, the provisions of this Act shall apply in the case of any supply authorised under this section as if the said supply were made within the area of supply.

PART III.

SUPPLY, TRANSMISSION AND USE OF ENERGY BY NON-LICENSEES.

Sanction required by non-licensees in certain cases.

28. (1) No person, other than a licensee, shall engage in the business of supplying energy except with the previous sanction of the Local

The Indian Electricity Act, 1910.
(Part III.—Supply, Transmission and Use of Energy by non-licensees. Part IV.—General.)

Government and in accordance with such conditions as the Local Government may fix in this behalf, and any agreement to the contrary shall be void :

Provided that such sanction shall not be given in any case unless the Local Government considers that, having regard to the extent of the proposed supply and the other circumstances of the case, the obtaining of a license under Part II would be attended with undue expense or delay :

Provided also that such sanction shall not be given within the area for which a local authority is constituted, without that local authority's consent, or within the area of supply of any licensee, without that licensee's consent, unless the Local Government considers that consent has been unreasonably withheld.

(2) Where any difference or dispute arises as to whether any person is or is not engaging, or about to engage, in the business of supplying energy within the meaning of sub-section (1), the matter shall be referred to the Local Government, and the decision of the Local Government thereon shall be final.

Power for non-licensees to break up streets.

29. (1) The local authority may, by order in writing, confer and impose upon any person, who has obtained the sanction of the Local Government under section 28 to engage in the business of supplying energy, all or any of the powers and liabilities of a licensee under sections 12 to 19, both inclusive, and the provisions of the said sections shall thereupon apply as if such person were a licensee under Part II.

(2) A local authority, not being a licensee, shall, for the purpose of lighting any street, have the powers and be subject to the liabilities respectively conferred and imposed by sections 12 to 19, both inclusive, so far as applicable, as if it were a licensee under Part II.

(3) In cases other than those for which provision is made by sub-section (1), the person responsible for the repair of any street may, by order in writing, confer and impose upon any person who proposes to transmit energy in such street all or any of the powers and liabilities of a licensee under sections 12 to 19 (both inclusive), in so far as the same relate to—

(a) opening or breaking up of the soil or pavement of such street, or

(b) laying down or placing electric supply-lines in, under, along or across such street, or

(c) repairing, altering or removing such electric supply-lines, and thereupon the provisions of the said sections shall, so far as aforesaid, apply to such person as if he were a licensee under Part II.

(4) If no order is made within fourteen days after the receipt of an application for the same under sub-section (1) or sub-section (3), the order so applied for shall be deemed to have been refused, and every order, and every refusal to make an order, under sub-section (1) or sub-section (3), shall be subject to revision by the Local Government.

Control of transmission and use of energy.

30. (1) No person, other than a licensee duly authorized under the terms of his license, shall transmit or use energy at a rate exceeding two hundred and fifty watts,—

(a) in any street, or

(i) in which one hundred or more persons are likely ordinarily to be assembled, or

(ii) which is a factory within the meaning of the Indian Factories Act, 1881, or — XV of 1881.

(iii) which is a mine within the meaning of the Indian Mines Act, 1901, — VIII of 1901.

without giving not less than seven clear days' notice in writing of his intention to the District Magistrate or, in a Presidency-town or Rangoon, to the Commissioner of Police, and complying with such of the provisions of Part IV, and of the rules made thereunder, as may be applicable :

Provided that nothing in this section shall apply to energy used for the public carriage of passengers, animals or goods on, or for the lighting or ventilation of the rolling-stock of, any railway or tramway subject to the provisions of the Indian Railways Act, 1890 : — IX of 1890.

Provided, also, that the Local Government may, by general or special order and subject to such conditions and restrictions as may be specified therein, exempt from the application of this section or of any such provision or rule as aforesaid any person or class of persons using energy on premises upon or in connection with which it is generated, or using energy supplied under Part II in any place specified in clause (b).

(2) Where any difference or dispute arises as to whether a place is or is not one in which one hundred or more persons are likely ordinarily to be assembled, the matter shall be referred to the Local Government, and the decision of the Local Government thereon shall be final.

(3) The provisions of this section shall be binding on the Crown.

PART IV.

GENERAL.

Protective Clauses.

Protection of railways and canals, docks, wharves and piers.

31. No person shall, in the generation, transmission, supply or use of energy, in any way injure any railway, tramway, canal or water-way or any dock, wharf or pier vested in or controlled by a local authority, or obstruct or interfere with the traffic on any railway, tramway, canal or water-way.

Protection of telegraphic, telephonic and electric-signalling lines.

32. (1) Every person generating, transmitting, supplying or using energy (hereinafter in this section referred to as the "operator") shall take all reasonable precautions in constructing, laying down and placing his electric supply-lines and other works and in working his system, so as not injuriously to affect, whether by induction or otherwise, the working of any wire or line used for the purpose of telegraphic, telephonic or electric-signalling communication, or the currents in such wire or line.

(2) Where any difference or dispute arises between the operator and the telegraph-authority as to whether the operator has constructed, laid down or placed his electric supply-lines or other works, or worked his system, in contravention of sub-section (1), or as to whether the working of any wire, line or current is or is not injuriously affected thereby, the matter shall be referred to the Governor General in Council; and the Governor General in Council, unless he is of opinion that the wire or line has been placed in unreasonable proximity to the electric supply-lines or works of the operator after the construction of such lines or works, may direct the operator to make such alterations in, or additions to, his system as may be necessary in order to comply with the provisions of this section, and the operator shall make such alterations or additions accordingly:

The Indian Electricity Act, 1910.

(Part IV.—General.)

Provided that nothing in this sub-section shall apply to the repair, renewal or amendment of any electric supply-line so long as the course of the electric supply-line and the amount and nature of the energy transmitted thereby are not altered.

(3) Where the operator makes default in complying with the requirements of this section, he shall make full compensation for any loss or damage incurred by reason thereof, and, where any difference or dispute arises as to the amount of such compensation, the matter shall be determined by arbitration.

Explanation. - For the purposes of this section, a telegraph-line shall be deemed to be injuriously affected if telegraphic, telephonic or electric signalling communication by means of such line is, whether through induction or otherwise, prejudicially interfered with by an electric supply-line or work or by any use made thereof.

Notice of accidents and inquiries.

33. (1) Every person shall, within twenty-four hours of the occurrence, send to the Electric Inspector, and also to the District Magistrate or, in a Presidency-town or Rangoon, to the Commissioner of Police, notice in writing of any accident in connection with the generation, transmission, supply or use of energy resulting or likely to have resulted in loss of life or personal injury in any part of such person's works or electric supply-lines, or in connection with the same, and also notice of any loss of life or personal injury actually occasioned by any such accident.

(2) The Local Government may, if it thinks fit, require any Electric Inspector, or any other competent person appointed by it in this behalf, to inquire and report—

(a) as to the cause of any accident affecting the safety of the public, which may have been occasioned by or in connection with the generation, transmission, supply or use of energy, or

(b) as to the manner in, and extent to, which the provisions of this Act or of any license or rules thereunder, so far as those provisions affect the safety of any person, have been complied with.

Prohibition of connection with earth and power for Government to interfere in certain cases of default.

34. (1) No person shall, in the generation, transmission, supply or use of energy permit any part of his electric supply-lines to be connected with earth except so far as may be prescribed in this behalf or may be specially sanctioned by the Governor General in Council.

(2) If at any time it is established to the satisfaction of the Local Government—

(a) that any part of an electric supply-line is connected with earth contrary to the provisions of sub-section (1), or

(b) that any electric supply-lines or other works for the generation, transmission, supply or use of energy are attended with danger to the public safety or to human life or injuriously affect any telegraph-line, or

(c) that any electric supply-lines or other works are defective so as not to be in accordance with the provisions of this Act or of any rule thereunder, the Local Government may, by order in writing, specify the matter complained of and require the owner or user of such electric supply-lines or other works to remedy it in such manner as shall be specified in the order, and may also in like manner forbid the use of any electric supply-line or works until the order is complied with or for such time as is specified in the order.

Administration and rules.

Advisory Boards.

35. (1) The Governor General in Council may, for the whole or any part of British India, and each Local Government may, for the whole or any part of the province, by notification in the Gazette of India or the local official Gazette, as the case may be, constitute an Advisory Board.

(2) Every such Board shall consist of a chairman and not less than two other members.

(3) The chairman and, where there are more than two other members, two of the other members, or, where there are only two other members, one of the other members, shall be nominated by the Governor General in Council or the Local Government, as the case may be, and the remaining members shall be nominated by such local authorities, Chambers of Commerce or other Associations as the Governor General in Council or the Local Government, as the case may be, may direct.

(4) The Governor General in Council or the Local Government, as the case may be, may, by general or special order,—

(a) define the duties and regulate the procedure of any such Board,

(b) determine the tenure of office of the members of any such Board, and

(c) give directions as to the payment of fees to, and the travelling expenses incurred by, any member of any such Board in the performance of his duty.

Appointment of Electric Inspectors.

36. (1) The Governor General in Council may, by notification in the Gazette of India, appoint duly qualified persons to be Electric Inspectors, and every Electric Inspector so appointed shall exercise the powers and perform the functions of an Electric Inspector under this Act within such areas and subject to such rectrictions as the Governor General in Council may direct.

The Indian Electricity Act, 1910.

(Part IV.—General.)

(2) The Local Government may, by notification in the local official Gazette, appoint duly qualified persons to be Electric Inspectors within such areas as may be assigned to them respectively; and every Inspector so appointed shall exercise the powers and perform the functions of an Electric Inspector under this Act subject to such restrictions as the Local Government may direct.

(3) In the absence of express provision to the contrary in this Act or any rule thereunder, an appeal shall lie from the decision of an Electric Inspector to the Governor General in Council or the Local Government, as the case may be.

Power for Government to make rules.

37. (1) The Governor General in Council may make rules, for the whole or any part of British India, to regulate the generation, transmission, supply and use of energy, and, generally, to carry out the purposes and objects of this Act.

(2) In particular and without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing power, such rules may—

(a) prescribe the form of applications for licenses and the payments to be made in respect thereof;

(b) regulate the publication of notices;

(c) prescribe the manner in which objections with reference to any application under Part II are to be made;

(d) provide for the preparation and submission of accounts by licensees in a specified form;

(e) provide for the securing of a regular, constant and sufficient supply of energy by licensees to consumers and for the testing at various parts of the system of the regularity and sufficiency of such supply, and for the examination of the records of such tests by consumers;

(f) provide for the protection of persons and property from injury by reason of contact with, or the proximity of, or by reason of the defective or dangerous condition of, any appliance or apparatus used in the generation, transmission, supply or use of energy;

(g) for the purposes of electric traction regulate the employment of insulated returns, or of uninsulated metallic returns of low resistance, in order to prevent fusion or injurious electrolytic action of or on metallic pipes, structures or substances, and to minimise, as far as is reasonably practicable, injurious interference with the electric wires, supply-lines and apparatus of parties other than the owners of the electric traction system, or with the currents therein, whether the earth is used as a return or not;

(h) provide for preventing telegraph-lines and magnetic observatories or laboratories from being injuriously affected by the generation, transmission, supply or use of energy;

(i) prescribe the qualifications to be required of Electric Inspectors;

(j) authorize any Electric Inspector or other officer of a specified rank and class to enter, inspect and examine any place, carriage or vessel in which he has reason to believe any appliance or apparatus used in the generation, transmission, supply or use of energy to be, and to carry out tests therein, and to prescribe the facilities to be given to such Inspectors or officers for the purposes of such examinations and tests; and

(k) authorize and regulate the levy of fees for any such testing or inspection and, generally, for the services of Electric Inspectors under this Act.

(3) In making any rule under this Act, the Governor General in Council may direct that every breach thereof shall be punishable with fine which may extend to three hundred rupees, and, in the case of a continuing breach, with a further daily fine which may extend to fifty rupees.

Further provisions respecting rules.

38. (1) The power to make rules under section 37 shall be subject to the condition of the rules being made after previous publication.

(2) The date to be specified in accordance with clause (3) of section 23 of the General Clauses Act, 1897, as that after which a draft of rules proposed to be made under section 37 will be taken into consideration shall not be less than three months from the date on which the draft of the proposed rules was published for general information.

X of 1897.

(3) Any rule to be made under this Act shall, before it is published for criticism under sub-section (2), be referred to the Advisory Board (if any) constituted for the whole of British India, or, if no such Board has been constituted, then to such Board or Boards (if any) as the Governor General in Council may direct; and the rule shall not be so published until such Board or Boards (if any) has or have reported as to the expediency of making the proposed rule and as to the suitability of its provisions.

(4) All rules made under section 37 shall be published in the Gazette of India, and on such publication shall have effect as if enacted in this Act.

Criminal Offences and Procedure.

Theft of energy.

39. Whoever dishonestly abstracts, consumes or uses any energy shall be deemed to have committed theft within the meaning of the Indian Penal Code; and the existence of artificial mean for such abstraction shall be prima facie evidence of such dishonest abstraction.

XLV of 1860.

The Indian Electricity Act, 1910.

(Part IV.—General.)

Penalty for maliciously wasting energy or injuring works.

40. Whoever maliciously causes energy to be wasted or diverted, or, with intent to cut off the supply of energy, cuts or injures, or attempts to cut or injure, any electric supply-line or works, shall be punishable with imprisonment for a term which may extend to two years, or with fine which may extend to one thousand rupees, or with both.

Penalty for unauthorized supply of energy by non-licensees.

41. Whoever, in contravention of the provisions of section 28, engages in the business of supplying energy shall be punishable with fine which may extend to three thousand rupees, and, in the case of a continuing contravention, with a daily fine which may extend to three hundred rupees.

Penalty for illegal or defective supply or for non-compliance with order.

42. Whoever—

(a) being a licensee, save as permitted under section 27 or section 51 or by his license, supplies energy or lays down or places any electric supply-line or works outside the area of supply; or,

(b) being a licensee, in contravention of the provisions of this Act or of the rules thereunder or in breach of the conditions of his license and without reasonable excuse, the burden of proving which shall lie on him, discontinues the supply of energy or fails to supply energy; or shall be punishable with fine which may extend to one thousand rupees, and, in the case of a continuing offence or default, with a daily fine which may extend to one hundred rupees.

(c) makes default in complying with any order issued to him under section 34, sub-section (2);

Penalty for illegal transmission or use of energy.

43. Whoever, in contravention of the provisions of section 30, transmits or uses energy without giving the notice required thereby, shall be punishable with fine which may extend to five hundred rupees, and, in the case of a continuing offence, with a daily fine which may extend to fifty rupees.

Penalty for interference with meters or licensee's works and for improper use of energy.

44. Whoever—

(a) connects any meter referred to in section 26, sub-section (1), or any meter, indicator or apparatus referred to in section 26, sub-section (7), with any electric supply-line through which energy is supplied by a licensee, or disconnects the same from any such electric supply-line, without giving to the licensee forty-eight hours' notice in writing of his intention; or

(b) lays, or causes to be laid, or connects up any works for the purpose of communicating with any other works belonging to a licensee, without such licensee's consent; or

(c) maliciously injures any meter referred to in section 26, sub-section (1), or any meter, indicator or apparatus referred to in section 26, sub-section (7), or wilfully or fraudulently alters the index of any such meter, indicator or apparatus, or prevents any such meter, indicator or apparatus from duly registering; or shall be punishable with fine which may extend to three hundred rupees, and, in the case of a continuing offence, with a daily fine which may extend to thirty rupees; and the existence of artificial means for making such connection as is referred to in clause (a) or such communication as is referred to in clause (b) or for causing such alteration or prevention as is referred to in clause (c) or for facilitating such improper use as is referred to in clause (d) shall, where the meter, indicator or apparatus is under the custody or control of the consumer, whether it is his property or not, be primâ facie evidence that such connection, communication, alteration, prevention or improper use, as the case may be, has been knowingly and wilfully caused by such consumer.

(d) improperly uses the energy of a licensee;

Penalty for extinguishing public lamps.

45. Whoever maliciously extinguishes any public lamp shall be punishable with imprisonment for a term which may extend to six months, or with fine which may extend to three hundred rupees, or with both.

Penalty for negligently wasting energy or injuring works.

46. Whoever negligently causes energy to be wasted or diverted, or negligently breaks, throws down or damages any electric supply-line, post, pole or lamp or other apparatus connected with the supply of energy, shall be punishable with fine which may extend to two hundred rupees.

Penalty for offences not otherwise provided for.

47. Whoever, in any case not already provided for by sections 39 to 46 (both inclusive), makes default in complying with any of the provisions of this Act, or with any order issued under it, or, in the case of a licensee, with any of the conditions of his license, shall be punishable with fine which may extend to one hundred rupees, and, in the case of a continuing default, with a daily fine which may extend to twenty rupees:

Provided that, where a person has made default in complying with any of the provisions of sections 13, 14, 15, 17 and 32, as the case may be, he shall not be so punishable if the Court is of opinion that the case was one of emergency and that the offender complied with the said provisions as far as was reasonable in the circumstances.

The Indian Electricity Act, 1910.

(Part IV.—General.)

Penalties not to affect other liabilities.

48. The penalties imposed by sections 39 to 47 (both inclusive) shall be in addition to, and not in derogation of, any liability in respect of the payment of compensation or, in the case of a licensee, the revocation of his license, which the offender may have incurred.

Penalties where works belong to Government.

49. The provisions of sections 39, 40, 44, 45 and 46 shall, so far as they are applicable, be deemed to apply also when the acts made punishable thereunder are committed in the case of energy supplied by or of works belonging to the Government.

Institution of prosecutions.

50. No prosecution shall be instituted against any person for any offence against this Act or any rule, license or order thereunder, except at the instance of the Government or an Electric Inspector, or of a person aggrieved by the same.

Supplementary.

Exercise in certain cases of powers of telegraph-authority.

51. Notwithstanding anything in sections 12 to 16 (both inclusive) and sections 18 and 19, the Governor General in Council may, by order in writing, for the placing of appliances and apparatus for the transmission of energy, confer upon any public officer or licensee, subject to such conditions and restrictions (if any) as the Governor General in Council may think fit to impose, and to the provisions of the Indian Telegraph Act, 1885, any of the powers which the telegraph-authority possesses under that Act, with respect to the placing of telegraph-lines and posts for the purposes of a telegraph established or maintained by the Government or to be so established or maintained.

XIII of 1885.

Arbitration.

52. Where any matter is, by or under this Act, directed to be determined by arbitration, the matter shall, unless it is otherwise expressly provided in the license of a licensee, be determined by such person or persons as the Local Government may nominate in that behalf on the application of either party; but in all other respects the arbitration shall be subject to the provisions of the Indian Arbitration Act, 1899.

IX of 1899.

Service of notices, orders or documents.

53. (1) Every notice, order or document by or under this Act required or authorized to be addressed to any person may be served by post or left,—

(a) where the Government is the addressee, at the office of the Secretary in the Public Works Department;

(b) where a local authority is the addressee, at the office of the local authority;

(c) where a company is the addressee, at the registered office of the Company or, in the event of the registered office of the Company not being in India, at the head office of the Company in India;

(d) where any other person is the addressee, at the usual or last known place of abode or business of the person.

(2) Every notice, order or document by or under this Act required or authorized to be addressed to the owner or occupier of any premises shall be deemed to be properly addressed if addressed by the description of the "owner" or "occupier" of the premises (naming the premises), and may be served by delivering it, or a true copy thereof, to some person on the premises, or, if there is no person on the premises to whom the same can with reasonable diligence be delivered, by affixing it on some conspicuous part of the premises.

Recovery of sums recoverable under certain provisions of Act.

54. Every sum declared to be recoverable by section 5, clause (f), section 6, sub-section (2), section 14, sub-section (2), clause (h), section 16, sub-section (2), section 18, sub-section (2) or sub-section (4), or section 26, sub-section (4), and every fee leviable under this Act, may be recovered, on application to a Magistrate having jurisdiction where the person liable to pay the same is for the time being resident, by the distress and sale of any moveable property belonging to such person.

Delegation of certain functions of Local Government to Electric Inspectors.

55. (1) The Local Government may, by general or special order, authorize the discharge of any of its functions under section 13 or section 18, or clause V, sub-clause (2), or clause XIII of the Schedule by an Electric Inspector.

Protection for acts done in good faith.

56. No suit, prosecution or other proceeding shall lie against any public officer, or any servant of a local authority, for anything done, or in good faith purporting to be done, under this Act.

Amendment of the Land Acquisition Act, 1894.

57. (1) In section 40, sub-section (1), clause (b), and section 41, sub-section (5), of the Land Acquisition Act, 1894, the term "work" shall be deemed to include electrical energy supplied, or to be supplied, by means of the work to be constructed.

I of 1894.

(2) The Local Government may, if it thinks fit, on the application of any person, not being a company, desirous of obtaining any land for the purposes of his undertaking, direct that he may acquire such land under the provisions of the Land Acquisition Act, 1894, in the same manner and on the same conditions as it might be acquired if the person were a company.

Repeals and savings.

58. (1) The Indian Electricity Act, 1903, is hereby repealed :

Provided that every application for a license made and every license granted under the said Act shall be deemed to have been made and granted under this Act.

(2) Nothing in this Act shall be deemed to affect the terms of any license which was granted, or of any agreement which was made, by or with the sanction of the Government for the supply or use of electricity before the commencement of this Act.

THE SCHEDULE.

PROVISIONS TO BE DEEMED TO BE INCORPORATED WITH, AND TO FORM PART OF, EVERY LICENSE GRANTED UNDER PART II, SO FAR AS NOT ADDED TO, VARIED OR EXCEPTED BY THE LICENSE.

[See section 3, sub-section (2), clause (f).]

Security and accounts.

Security for execution of works of licensee not being local authority.

I. Where the licensee is not a local authority, the following provisions as to giving security shall apply, namely :—

(a) The licensee shall, within the period fixed in that behalf by his license, or any longer period which the Local Government may substitute therefor by order under section 4, sub-section (3) clause (b), of the Indian Electricity Act, 1910, before exercising any of the powers by the license conferred on him in relation to the execution of works, show, to the satisfaction of the Local Government, that he is in a position fully and efficiently to discharge the duties and obligations imposed upon him by the license throughout the area of supply.

(b) The licensee shall also, within the period fixed in that behalf by his license, or any longer period which the Local Government may substitute therefor by order under section 4, sub-section (3), clause (b), of the Indian Electricity Act, 1910, and before exercising any of the powers conferred on him in relation to the execution of works, deposit or secure to the satisfaction of the Local Government such sum (if any) as may be fixed by the license or, if not so fixed, by the Local Government.

(c) The said sum deposited or secured by the licensee under the provisions of this clause shall be repaid or released to him on the completion of the works or at such earlier date or dates and by such instalments, as may be approved by the Local Government.

Audit of accounts of licensee not being local authority.

II. Where the licensee is not a local authority, the following provisions as to the audit of accounts shall apply, namely :—

(a) The annual statement of accounts of the undertaking shall, before being rendered under section 11 of the Indian Electricity Act, 1910, be examined and audited by such person as the Local Government may appoint or approve in this behalf, and the remuneration of the auditor shall be such as the Local Government may direct, and his remuneration and all expenses incurred by him in or about the execution of his duties, to such an amount as the Local Government shall approve, shall be paid by the licensee on demand.

(b) The licensee shall afford to the auditor, his clerks and assistants, access to all such books and documents relating to the undertaking as are necessary for the purposes of the audit, and shall, when required, furnish to him and them all vouchers and information requisite for that purpose, and afford to him and them all facilities for the proper execution of his and their duty.

(c) The audit shall be made and conducted in such manner as the Local Government may direct.

(d) Any report made by the auditor, or such portion thereof as the Local Government may direct, shall be appended to the annual statement of accounts of the licensee, and shall thenceforth form part thereof.

(e) Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this clause, the Local Government may, if it thinks fit, accept the examination and audit of an auditor appointed by the licensee.

Separate accounts.

III. The licensee shall, unless the Local Government otherwise directs, at all times keep the accounts of the capital employed for the purposes of the undertaking distinct from the accounts kept by him of any other undertaking or business.

Compulsory works and supply.

Execution of work after commencement of license.

IV. The licensee shall, within a period of three years after the commencement of the license, execute to the satisfaction of the Local Government all such works as may be specified in the license in this behalf or, if not so specified, as the Local Government may, by order in writing issued within six months of the date of the commencement of the license, direct.

The Indian Electricity Act, 1910.

(The Schedule.—Provisions to be deemed to be incorporated with, and to form part of, every license granted under Part II, so far as not added to, varied or excepted by the license.)

Provisions as to laying down of further distributing mains.

V. (1) Where, after the expiration of two years and six months from the commencement of the license, a requisition is made by six or more owners or occupiers of premises in or upon any street or part of a street within the area of supply or by the Local Government or a local authority charged with the public lighting thereof, requiring the licensee to provide distributing mains throughout such street or part thereof, the licensee shall comply within six months with the requisition, unless,—

(a) where it is made by such owners or occupiers as aforesaid, the owners or occupiers making it do not, within fourteen clear days after the service on them by the licensee of a notice in writing in this behalf, tender to the licensee a written contract duly executed and with sufficient security binding themselves to take, or guaranteeing that there shall be taken, a supply of energy for not less than two years to such amount as will in the aggregate produce annually, at the current rates charged by the licensee, a reasonable return to the licensee; or,

(b) where it is made by the Local Government or a local authority, the Local Government or local authority, as the case may be, does not, within the like period, tender a like contract binding itself to take a supply of energy for not less than seven years for the public lamps in such street or part thereof.

(2) Where any difference or dispute arises between the licensee and such owners or occupiers as to the sufficiency of the security offered under this clause, or as to the amount of energy to be taken or guaranteed as aforesaid, the matter shall be referred to the Local Government and either decided by it or, if it so directs, determined by arbitration.

(3) Every requisition under this clause shall be signed by the maker or makers thereof and shall be served on the licensee.

(4) Every requisition under this clause shall be in a form to be prescribed by rules under the Indian Electricity Act, 1910; and copies of the form shall be kept at the office of the licensee and supplied free of charge to any applicant.

Requisition for supply to owners or occupiers in vicinity.

VI. (1) Where a requisition is made by the owner or occupier of any premises situate within one hundred yards from any distributing main requiring the licensee to supply energy for such premises, the licensee shall, within one month from the making of the requisition, supply, and, save in so far as he is prevented from doing so by cyclones, floods, storms or other occurrences beyond his control, continue to supply, energy in accordance with the requisition:

Provided, first, that the licensee shall not be bound to comply with any such requisition unless and until the person making it—

(a) within fourteen days after the service on him by the licensee of a notice in writing in this behalf, tenders to the licensee a written contract, in a form approved by the Local Government, duly executed and with sufficient security, binding himself to take a supply of energy for not less than two years to such amount as will produce, at current rates charged by the licensee, a reasonable return to the licensee, and,

(b) if required by the licensee so to do, pays to the licensee the cost of so much of any service line as may be laid down or placed for the purposes of the supply upon the property in respect of which the requisition is made, and of so much of any service-line as it may be necessary for the said purposes to lay down or place beyond one hundred feet from the licensee's distributing main, although not on that property:

Provided, secondly, that the licensee shall be entitled to discontinue such supply—

(a) if the owner or occupier of the property to which the supply is made has not already given security, or if any security given by him has become invalid or insufficient, and such owner or occupier fails to furnish security or to make up the original security to a sufficient amount, as the case may be, within seven days after the service upon him of notice from the licensee requiring him so to do, or

(b) if the owner or occupier of the property to which the supply is made adopts any appliance, or uses the energy supplied to him by the licensee for any purposes, or deals with it in any manner, so as unduly or improperly to interfere with the efficient supply of energy to any other person by the licensee, or

(c) if the electric wires, fittings, works and apparatus in such property are not in good order and condition, and are consequently likely to affect injuriously the use of energy by the licensee, or by other persons, or

(d) if the owner or occupier makes any alterations of, or additions to, any electric wires, fittings, works or apparatus within such property as aforesaid, and does not notify the same to the licensee before the same are connected to the source of supply, with a view to their being examined and tested:

Provided, thirdly, that the maximum rate per unit of time at which the owner or occupier shall be entitled to be supplied with energy shall not exceed what is necessary for the maximum consumption on his premises, and, where the owner or occupier has required a license to supply him at a specified maximum rate, he shall not be entitled to alter that maximum, except after one month's notice in writing to the licensee, and the licensee may recover from the owner or occupier any expenses incurred by him by reason of such alteration in respect of the service-lines by which energy is supplied to the property beyond one hundred feet from the licensee's distributing main, or in respect of any fittings or apparatus of the licensee upon that property: and Provided, fourthly, that, in the event of any requisition being made for a supply of energy from any distributing main of which the licensee can prove, to the satisfaction of an Electric Inspector,—

(a) that it is already loaded up to its full current-carrying capacity, or

(b) that, in case of a larger amount of current being transmitted by it, the loss of pressure will seriously affect the efficiency of the supply to other consumers in the vicinity, the licensee may refuse to accede to the requisition for such reasonable period, not exceeding six months, as such Inspector may think sufficient for the purpose of amending the distributing main or laying down or placing a further distributing main.

(2) Any service line laid for the purpose of supply in pursuance of a requisition under sub-clause (1) shall, notwithstanding that a portion of it may have been paid for by the person making the requisition, be maintained by the licensee.

(3) Where any difference or dispute arises as to the amount of energy to be taken or guaranteed as aforesaid, or as to the cost of any service-line or as to the sufficiency of the security offered by any owner or occupier, or as to the improper use of energy, or as to any alleged defect in any wires, fittings, works or apparatus, or as to the amount of the expenses incurred under the third proviso to sub-clause (1), the matter shall be referred to an Electric Inspector and decided by him.

(4) Every requisition under this clause shall be signed by the maker or makers thereof and shall be served on the licensee.

(5) Every requisition under this clause shall be in a form to be prescribed by rules under the Indian Electricity Act, 1910; and copies of the form shall be kept at the office of the licensee and supplied free of charge to any applicant.

Provisions as to laying electric supply-lines under special agreement.

VII. (1) Where an application is made by any person for the supply of energy within the area of supply, for any premises not situate within one hundred yards from any distributing main, or in any street in which distributing mains have not already been laid down or placed, and where a special agreement has been entered into to give and receive such supply, the licensee shall, before commencing to lay down or place in any such street any electric supply-line, serve upon the local authority (if any) and upon the owner or occupier of all premises abutting on so much of the street as lies between the points of origin and termination of the electric supply-line so to be laid down or placed a notice stating that the licensee intends to lay down or place the electric supply-line, and intimating that, if within the said period the local authority or any two or more of such owners or occupiers require in accordance with the provisions of the license that a supply shall be given for any public lamps or to their premises, as the case may be, the necessary distributing main will be laid down or placed by the licensee at the same time as the electric supply-line intended for the particular person.

(2) Where any such special agreement as is referred to in sub-clause (1) has been entered into between the licensee and any person, the licensee shall supply, and, save in so far as he is prevented from doing so by cyclones, floods, storms or other occurrences beyond his control, continue to supply energy in such quantities as may have been agreed upon, and the provisions contained in the first, second, third and fourth provisos to sub-clause (1) and in sub-clauses (2) and (3) of clause VI shall, so far as may be, apply to every case in which energy is supplied under this clause as if such person had made a requisition under clause VI.

Supply for public lamps.

VIII. (1) Where a requisition is made by the Local Government or by a local authority requiring the licensee to supply for a period of not less than seven years energy for any public lamps within the distance of one hundred yards from any distributing main, the licensee shall supply, and, save in so far as he is prevented from doing so by cyclones, floods, storms or other occurrences beyond his control, continue to supply, energy for such lamps in such quantities as the Local Government or the local authority, as the case may be, may require.

(2) The provisions of sub-clause (b) of the first proviso, of sub-clauses (c) and (d) of the second proviso, and of the third and fourth provisos to sub-clause (1) and the provisions of sub-clauses (2) and (3) of clause VI shall, so far as may be, apply to every case in which a requisition for the supply of energy is made under this clause as if the Local Government or local authority were an owner or occupier within the meaning of those provisions.

Supply by bulk-licensees.

Special provisions applying to supply by bulk-licensees.

IX. (1) Where, and in so far as, the licensee (hereinafter in this clause referred to as "the bulk-licensee") is authorized by his license to supply energy to other licensees for distribution by them (hereinafter in this clause referred to as "distributing licensees"), the following provisions shall apply, namely:—

(a) any distributing licensees within the bulk-licensee's area of supply may make a requisition on the bulk-

(The Schedule.—Provisions to be deemed to be incorporated with, and to form part of, every license granted under Part II, so far as not added to, varied or excepted by the license.)

licensee, requiring him to give a supply of energy and specifying the point, and the maximum rate per unit of time, at which such supply is required, and the date upon which the supply is to commence, such date being fixed after the date of receipt of the requisition so as to allow an interval that is reasonable with regard to the locality and to the length of the electric supply-line and the amount of the plant required;

(b) such distributing-licensee shall, if required by the bulk-licensee so to do, enter into a written agreement to receive and pay for a supply of energy for a period of not less than seven years of such an amount that the payment to be made for the same at the rate of charge for the time being charged for such supply shall not be less than such an amount as will produce a reasonable return to the bulk-licensee on the outlay (excluding expenditure on generating plant then existing and any electric supply-line then laid down or placed) incurred by him in making provision for such supply;

(c) the maximum rate per unit of time at which a distributing-licensee shall be entitled to be supplied with energy shall not exceed what is necessary for the purposes for which the supply is required by him, and need not be increased except upon a fresh requisition made in accordance with the foregoing provisions;

(d) if any difference or dispute arises under this clause, it shall be determined by arbitration, and, in the event of such arbitration, the arbitrator shall have regard to the following amongst other considerations, namely:—

(i) the period for which the distributing-licensee is prepared to bind himself to take energy;

(ii) the amount of energy required and the hours during which the bulk-licensee is to supply it;

(iii) the capital expenditure incurred or to be incurred by the bulk-licensee in connection with the aforesaid supply of energy; and

(iv) the extent to which the capital expended or to be expended by the bulk-licensee in connection with such supply may become unproductive upon the discontinuance thereof.

(2) Notwithstanding anything in sub-clause (1), the bulk-licensee shall give a supply of energy to any distributing-licensee within his area of supply applying therefor, even although the distributing-licensee desires to be supplied with only a portion of the energy required for distribution by him:

Provided that the distributing-licensee shall, if so required by the bulk-licensee, enter into an agreement to take such energy upon special terms (including a minimum annual sum to be paid to the bulk-licensee) to be determined, if necessary, by arbitration in the manner laid down in sub-clause (1) (d).

(3) The maximum price fixed by a license for energy supplied to a distributing-licensee shall not apply to any partial supply given under sub-clause (2).

(4) Every distributing-licensee, who is supplied with energy by a bulk-licensee and intends to discontinue to receive such supply, shall give not less than twelve months' notice in writing of such intention to the bulk-licensee:

Provided that, where the distributing-licensee has entered into a written agreement with the bulk-licensee to receive and pay for a supply of energy for a certain period, such notice shall be given so as not to expire before the end of that period.

Charges.

X. In the absence of an agreement to the contrary, the licensee may charge for energy supplied by him to any consumer—

Methods of charging.

(a) by the actual amount of energy so supplied; or

(b) by the electrical quantity contained in the supply; or

(c) by such other method as may be approved by the Local Government:

Provided, first, that, where the licensee charges by any method so approved by the Local Government, any consumer who objects to that method may, by not less than one month's notice in writing, require the licensee to charge him, at the licensee's option, either by the actual amount of energy supplied to him or by the electrical quantity contained in the supply, and thereafter the licensee shall not, except with the consent of the consumer, charge him by another method:

Provided, secondly, that, before commencing to supply energy through any distributing main, the licensee shall give notice, by public advertisement, of the method by which he proposes to charge for energy so supplied; and, where the licensee has given such notice, he shall not be entitled to change that method of charging without giving not less than one month's notice in writing of such change to the Local Government, to the local authority (if any) concerned, and to every consumer of energy who is supplied by him from such distributing main:

The Indian Electricity Act, 1910.

(The Schedule.—Provisions to be deemed to be incorporated with, and to form part of, every license granted under Part II, so far as not added to, varied or excepted by the license.)

Provided, thirdly, that, if the consumer is provided with a meter in pursuance of the provisions of section 26, sub-section (1), of the Indian Electricity Act, 1910, and the licensee changes the method of charging for the energy supplied by him from the distributing main, the licensee shall bear the expense of providing a new meter, or such other apparatus as may be necessary by reason of the new method of charging.

Maximum charges.

XI. Save as provided by clause IX, sub-clause (3), the prices charged by the licensee for energy supplied by him shall not exceed the maxima fixed by his license, or, in the case of a method of charge approved by the Local Government, such maxima as the Local Government shall fix on approving the method:

Provided that, if, at any time after the expiration of seven years from the commencement of the license, the Local Government considers or is satisfied that the maxima so fixed or approved as aforesaid should be altered, it may, after such inquiry (if any) as it thinks fit, make an order accordingly, which shall have effect from such date as may be mentioned therein:

Provided, also, that, where an order in pursuance of the foregoing proviso has been made, no further order altering the maxima fixed thereby shall be made until the expiration of another period of five years.

Charge for supply for public lamps.

XII. The price to be charged by the licensee and to be paid to him for energy supplied for the public lamps, and the mode in which those charges are to be ascertained, shall be settled by agreement between the licensee and the Local Government or the local authority, as the case may be, and, where any difference or dispute arises, the matter shall be determined by arbitration.

Testing and inspection.

Licensee to establish testing stations and keep instruments for testing.

XIII. The licensee shall establish at his own cost and keep in proper condition such number of testing stations, situated at such places within reasonable distance from any distributing main, as the Local Government may direct for the purpose of testing the pressure or periodicity of the supply of energy in the distributing main, and shall supply and keep in proper condition thereat, and on all premises from which he supplies energy, such instruments for testing as an Electric Inspector may approve, and shall supply energy to each testing station for the purpose of testing.

Facilities for testing.

XIV. The licensee shall afford all facilities for inspection and testing of his works and for the reading, testing and inspection of his instruments, and may, on each occasion of the testing of his works or the reading, testing or inspection of any instruments, be represented by an agent, who may be present, but shall not interfere with the reading, testing or inspection.

Testing of works.

XV. On the occasion of the testing of any works of the licensee by an Electric Inspector reasonable notice thereof shall be given to the licensee; and the testing shall be carried out at such suitable hours as, in the opinion of the Electric Inspector, will least interfere with the supply of energy by the licensee, and in such manner as the Electric Inspector may think fit; but, except under the provisions of an order made in each case in that behalf by the Local Government, the Electric Inspector shall not be entitled to have access to, or interfere with, the works of the licensee at any points other than those at which the licensee himself has access to the same:

Provided that the licensee shall not be held responsible for any interruption or irregularity in the supply of energy which may be occasioned by, or required by the Electric Inspector for the purpose of, any such testing as aforesaid:

Provided, also, that the testing shall not be made in regard to any particular portion of the works oftener than once in any three months, unless in pursuance of an order made in each case in that behalf by the Local Government.

Plans.

Plan of area of supply to be made and kept open for inspection.

XVI. (1) The licensee shall, after commencing to supply energy, forthwith cause a plan to be made of the area of supply, and shall cause to be marked thereon the alignment and the approximate height above or depth below the surface of all his then existing electric supply-lines, street-distributing boxes and other works, and shall once in every year cause that plan to be duly corrected so as to show the electric supply-lines, street-distributing boxes and other works for the time being in position. The licensee shall also, if so required by an Electric Inspector, cause to be made sections showing the approximate level of all his existing underground works other than service-lines.

(2) Every such plan shall be drawn to a scale which shall not be smaller than sixteen inches to the mile.

(3) Every such section shall be drawn to a horizontal scale which shall not be smaller than sixteen inches to the mile and to a vertical scale which shall not be smaller than one inch to eight feet.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

The following Act of the Governor General of ndia in Council received the assent of the Governor General on the 18th March, 1910, and is hereby promulgated for general information :—

ACT NO. X OF 1910.

An Act to consolidate and amend the law relating to the Indian Museum.

WHEREAS it is expedient to consolidate and amend the law relating to the Indian Museum; It is hereby enacted as follows :—

Preliminary.

Short title and commencement.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Indian Museum Act, 1910.

(2) It shall come into force on such date as the Governor General in Council, by notification in the Gazette of India, may direct.

Constitution and incorporation of the Trustees of the Indian Museum.

2. (1) The Trustees of the Indian Museum (hereinafter called the Trustees) shall be—

(a) the six persons for the time being performing the duties of the following offices, namely :—

(i) the Accountant General of Bengal;

(ii) the Principal, Government School of Art, Calcutta;

(iii) the Director, Geological Survey of India;

(iv) the Superintendent of the Zoological and Anthropological Section of the Museum;

(v) the Director General of Archæology; and

(vi) the Officer in charge of the Industrial Section of the Museum;

(b) one other person to be nominated by the Governor General in Council;

(c) three other persons to be nominated by the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal;

(d) one other person to be nominated by the Council of the Asiatic Society of Bengal;

(e) one other person to be nominated by the Bengal Chamber of Commerce;

(f) one other person to be nominated by the British Indian Association, Calcutta:

(g) one other person to be nominated by the Syndicate of the Calcutta University; and

(h) three other persons to be nominated by the Trustees.

(2) The Trustees shall be a body corporate, by the name of "The Trustees of the Indian Museum," with perpetual succession and a common seal, and in that name shall sue and be sued, and shall have power to acquire and hold property, to enter into contracts, and to do all acts necessary for and consistent with the purposes of this Act.

(3) The nominated Trustees shall, save as herein otherwise provided, hold office for a period of three years:

Provided that the authority nominating a Trustee may extend his term of office for one or more like periods.

Minimum number of Trustees and quorum.

3. (1) The powers of the said body corporate may only be exercised so long and so often as there are nine members thereof.

(2) The quorum necessary for the transaction of business at a meeting of the Trustees shall not be less than six.

Power to appoint new Trustees.

4. If a nominated Trustee—

(a) dies, or

(b) is absent from the meetings of the Trustees for more than twelve consecutive months, or

(c) desires to be discharged, or

(d) refuses or becomes incapable to act, or

(e) is appointed to perform the duties of any office specified in section 2, clause (a), the authority which nominated the Trustee may nominate a new Trustee in his place.

Vacation of office by existing Trustees.

5. From the commencement of this Act the term of office of all persons appointed to be Trustees under the Indian Museum Act, 1876, shall cease.

XXII of 1876.

Property and powers of the Trustees.

Property vested in or placed under the control of the Trustees.

6. (1) All the property, whether moveable or immoveable, which at the commencement of this Act is held by the Trustees of the Indian Museum constituted by the Indian Museum Act, 1876, on trust for the purposes of the said Museum shall, together with any such property which may hereinafter be given, bequeathed, transferred or acquired for the said purposes, vest in the Trustees of the Indian Museum constituted by this Act on trust for the purposes of the said Museum:

XXII of 1876.

Provided that the Trustees may expend the capital of any portion of such property which may consist of money on the maintenance, improvement and enlargement of the collections deposited in, presented to or purchased for the said Museum or otherwise for the purposes of the same as they may think fit.

(2) The Trustees shall have the exclusive possession, occupation and control, for the purposes of such trust, of the land specified in the schedule, including any buildings which may have been, or may hereafter be, erected thereon, other than those portions thereof which have been set apart by the Trustees for the records and offices of the Geological Survey of India.

Power to Trustees to exchange, sell and destroy articles in collections.

7. Subject to the provisions of any bye-laws made in this behalf, the Trustees may, from time to time,—

(a) deliver, by way of loan, to any person the whole or any portion of, or any article contained in, any collection vested in them under this Act;

(b) exchange or sell duplicates of articles contained in any such collection and take or purchase, in the place of such duplicates, such articles as may in their opinion be worthy of preservation in the Museum;

(c) present duplicates of articles contained in any such collection to other Museums in British India; and (d) remove and destroy any article contained in any such collection.

Power to Trustees to make bye-laws.

8. (1) The Trustees may from time to time, with the previous sanction of the Governor General in Council, make bye-laws consistent with this Act for any purpose necessary for the execution of their trust.

(2) In particular, and without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing power, such rules may provide for—

(a) the summoning, holding and adjournment of general and special meetings of the Trustees;

(b) the securing of the attendance of Trustees at such meetings;

(c) the provision and keeping of minute-books and account-books;

(d) the compiling of catalogues;

(e) the lending of articles contained in the collections vested in the Trustees;

(f) the exchange and sale, and the presentation to other Museums in British India, of duplicates of articles contained in such collections;

(g) the removal and destruction of articles contained in such collections; and (h) the general management of the Museum.

Power to Trustees to appoint officers and servants.

9. Subject to such regulations and conditions as may be prescribed by them in this behalf, the Trustees shall appoint such officers and servants as may be necessary or proper for the care or management of the trust-property, and may assign to such officers and servants such pay as they may think fit;

Provided that—

(a) no officer shall be appointed—

(i) if such officer is, at the date of his appointment, in India, without the approval of the Governor General in Council, or

(ii) if such officer is not then in India, without the approval of the Secretary of State for India in Council; and

(b) no new office shall be created, and no salaries of officers shall be altered, without the previous sanction of the Governor General in Council.

Trustees to furnish annual reports and accounts.

10. (1) The Trustees shall furnish on or before the first day of December in each year—

(a) to the Government of India a report of their several proceedings for the previous financial year, and

(b) to such auditor as the Governor General in Council appoints in this behalf, accounts of all moneys expended by the Trustees during the previous financial year, supported by the necessary vouchers.

(2) The Trustees shall cause such report and accounts to be published annually for general information.

Collections of Asiatic Society to be kept distinguished in the Museum.

11. (1) The Trustees shall cause every article in the collections in the said Indian Museum formerly belonging to the Asiatic Society of Bengal and all additions that may hereafter be made thereto otherwise than by purchase under section 6, to be marked and numbered and (subject to the provisions contained in sections 7 and 16) to be kept and preserved in the said Museum with such marks and numbers.

(2) An inventory of such additions shall be made by the said Society, one copy whereof shall be signed by the Trustees and delivered to the said Society, and another copy shall be signed by the Council of the said Society and delivered to the Trustees, and shall be kept by them along with the inventory delivered to the predecessors in office of the Trustees when the said collections were deposited in the said Museum.

Articles received in exchange or purchased and moneys paid on sale to be held on trust.

12. All objects taken in exchange and articles purchased under section 7 and all moneys realised from sales made in accordance with the terms of the same section shall be held on trust and subject to powers and declarations corresponding as nearly as may be with the trusts, powers and declarations by this Act limited and declared.

Supplemental Provisions.

Officers under Act to be public servants and subject to Civil Service Regulations.

13. All officers and servants appointed under this Act shall be deemed to be public servants within the meaning of the Indian Penal Code; and, so far as regards their salaries, allowances and pensions and their leave of absence from duty, they shall be subject to the rules which under the Civil Service Regulations for the time being in force would be applicable if their service was service under Government.

XLV of 1860.

Power to Trustees to keep collections not belonging to them.

14. Notwithstanding anything hereinbefore contained, the Trustees may, if they think fit, with the previous sanction of the Governor General in Council and subject in each case to such conditions as he may approve and to such rules as he may prescribe, assume the custody and administration of collections which are not the property of the Trustees for the purposes of their trust under this Act and keep and preserve such collections either in the Indian Museum or elsewhere:

Provided that if the trust constituted by this Act is at any time determined, any such collections shall not by reason of their then being in the Indian Museum become the property of His Majesty.

Power to Trustees to part with certain property in their possession.

15. The Trustees may, with the previous sanction of the Governor General in Council, and subject to such conditions as he may approve, deliver possession of the whole or any part of the property described in the schedule to such person as the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal may appoint in that behalf.

Property in collections on determination of trust.

16. If the trust constituted by this Act is at any time determined,—

(a) the collections and additions mentioned in section 11 shall become the property of the said Asiatic Society or their assigns, and

(b) all the other collections then in the said Indian Museum shall, save as otherwise provided by section 14, become the property of His Majesty.

Repeals.

17. The Indian Museum Act, 1876, and the Indian Museum Act, 1887, are hereby repealed.

XXII of 1876.
IV of 1887.

Cape Willoughby—Subsidiary light discontinued.

No. 129 (first publication).—With reference to this office Notice to Mariners No. 155, dated the 1st April 1909, the President of the Marine Board, Port Adelaide, has given further Notice (No. 1 of 1910) that the Red light mentioned therein, exhibited from the lower part of the tower, and showing over the Scraper shoal from about south by west until shut in by the high land of Cape St. Albans, will be discontinued on the 1st May next.

This affects Admiralty charts Nos. 2389B, 1014 and 25.

SOUTH AUSTRALIA—West coast.

(1) Venus bay—Beacons erected.

(2) Beard bay—Buoy and beacon established.

No. 130 (first publication).—The President of the Marine Board, Port Adelaide, has given Notice (No. 2 of 1910) that—

(1) Venus bay.—A pair of leading beacons, 500 ft. apart, painted white and having triangular tops, have been erected on the north side of the entrance to Venus bay. These kept in line N. 23°E. lead over the deepest water on the outer bar. Also that a beacon, painted red, having a triangular top, has been placed on the south side of the channel just above No 1 Red Beacon. This beacon in line with No. 1 Black Beacon N. 67° E. leads over the deepest water on the inner bar and midway between the two points forming the entrance.

Vessels entering the bay should steer for the outer white leads until the inner black and red leads come in line; then steer for them until well over the bar, from whence the black beacon is to be kept on the port hand, as usual.

Approximate position of front white beacon, lat. 33° 13½′ S., long. 134° 39¼′ E.

(2) Beard bay.—A red perch buoy has been placed in three and a half fathoms L.W.S. inside the rocky bar at the entrance to Beard bay. This buoy kept in line with Calca Bluff N. 7° W. leads over the deepest and generally smoothest water on the bar, giving a depth not less than 10 ft. at L.W.S. Also that a beacon, painted black, having a triangular top, has been erected on the top of the sandhill on the west side of the entrance. In line with the perpendicular cliff of Cape Radstock S. 42° W. it leads clear of the N.W. edge of Propeller rock, which is situated about half a cable N. × W. from the buoy, and has on it about 6 ft. at L.W.S.

Vessels intended for entering should steer for the buoy in line with Calca Bluff, and when inside the bar keep the buoy on the starboard hand and steer N.N.W. until the beacon comes on with the cliff of Cape Radstock, after which clear anchorage with at least 2½ fathoms will be found from N.N.W. to N.E. for 3 cables, beyond which the bay gradually shoals to about 3 ft. at L.W.S. 1½ miles from the entrance.

Approximate position of buoy, lat. 33° 11½′ S., long. 134° 21′ E. All bearings are magnetic.

These affect Admiralty charts Nos. 1061 and 1066.

MONTHLY WEATHER AND CROP REPORT OF BENGAL FOR FEBRUARY 1910.

Character of the season.—During the month under report rain fell in all districts, excepting Cuttack, Angul and Sambalpur. The fall was below the average in all districts, except in Murshidabad and the Sonthal Parganas, where it was slightly in excess of the normal. The usual rainfall statement is appended.

II. Progress of agricultural operations.—Pressing of sugarcane and preparation of lands for the next season's crops continued during the month. Harvesting of oilseeds and pulse was in progress. Planting of sugarcane commenced in some districts.

III. State of standing crops.—The standing rabi crops were in good condition. Rahar and gram in parts of Ranchi were, however, reported to be suffering from want of moisture.

IV. Prospects of probable outturn of harvests.—Prospects of the rabi crops are satisfactory. The outturn of the crops will be about 90 per cent. of the normal.

V. Damage to crops.—There was no serious damage to the standing crops owing to any abnormal causes. Rabi crops were damaged to some extent by hail in parts of Gaya and Monghyr and by insects in the latter district. Rahar and gram were reported to be suffering from want of moisture in parts of Ranchi.

VI. Condition of agricultural stock.—The condition of agricultural stock was good. Cases of disease were reported from Burdwan, Midnapore, Nadia, Murshidabad, Jessore, Patna, Gaya, Champaran, Monghyr, Purnea, the Sonthal Parganas, Puri, Sambalpur, Hazaribagh, Palamau and Manbhum.

VII. Failure of pasturage and fodder.—The supply of fodder and water was sufficient throughout the Province.

VIII. Prices of food-grains.—During the second fortnight of the month under review the price of common rice rose in nine and fell in five districts. Prices of staple food-grains were lower than in the corresponding period of last year.

IX. Condition of agricultural people.—The autumn and winter harvests have been good. Prospects of the rabi harvest are hopeful. The agriculturists are in good condition.

The mean pressure, temperature, etc., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground. The rainfall reported on any day is for 24 hours preceding 8 A.M. of that day.

THE ELLIOTT PRIZE FOR SCIENTIFIC RESEARCH FOR 1910.

WITH reference to Notification No. 5058F., in the Calcutta Gazette of the 28th December 1892, Part I, page 1172, the Elliott Prize for Scientific Research will be given this year to the author of the best original essay composed during the year 1910 giving the results of original research or investigation by the essayist in Natural Science.

2. Any native of Bengal, or of the districts of Dacca, Mymensingh, Backerganj, Faridpur, Rajshahi, Rangpur, Dinajpur, Jalpaiguri, Bogra, Pabna, Malda, Chittagong (including Chittagong Hill Tracts), Noakhali, and Tippera (including Hill Tippera), or any Eurasian or domiciled European residing in Bengal, or the aforesaid districts, may compete for the prize.

3. The essays of competitors must be sent to the President of the Asiatic Society of Bengal, 57, Park Street, Calcutta by the end of December 1910. The prize will be adjudged to the best competitor, and awarded publicly at the Annual General Meeting of the Asiatic Society in February 1911.

4. Preference will be given to researches leading to discoveries likely to develop the industrial resources of Bengal. In the case of no essay being deemed by the Trustees to be of sufficient merit, no prize is to be awarded, but the amount is to be retained, so that in any future year two or more prizes may be given, or the prize may be enhanced in the case of an exceptionally good essay.

Educational Notice.

WITH reference to Government Notification No. 4305, dated 23rd November 1909 in which detailed information was published as to the text-books required in accordance with the new syllabuses for Standards III to IV, writers of arithmetic books are requested to be good enough to provide a table in the beginning of their books giving the vernacular equivalents of the English numerals :—

0, 1, 2, etc., 9.

2. The provision of such a table is rendered necessary in consideration of the possibility that the employment of English figures prescribed in the main arithmetic syllabus which will be applicable to all classes of schools,—high, middle and upper primary—might otherwise constitute a difficulty in purely vernacular schools.

3. In this connexion it may be pointed out that while the use of English figures is prescribed in the main syllabus the vernacular notation will be used in the additional Subhankari syllabus to be taught in middle vernacular and upper primary schools.

LAND SALE NOTICES.

Advertisement of Sale.

NOTICE is hereby given that the undermentioned plots of land, no longer required by Government, situated along the Purulia-Ranchi Railway, Bengal-Nagpur Railway, in the district of Manbhum, will be put up to sale at 12 o'clock on Friday, the 29th April 1910, corresponding with the 16th Baisakh 1317 Fusli, at the Inspection Bungalow at Jhalda.

The purchasers of the several plots of land will be subject to the following conditions:—

1st.—The purchasers will have no power to make any excavations on the land nearer than 15 feet from the railway boundary, or to plough the land nearer than 3 feet from the same.

2nd.—If the amount of purchase-money does not exceed Rs. 100, the whole amount must be paid down at once.

3rd.—If the amount of purchase-money exceed Rs. 100, one-fourth of the amount must be immediately deposited. If the balance be not paid by noon of the 15th day after the sale, reckoning the day of sale as one, or if that day be a close holiday, then by noon of the first succeeding office day, the sale shall be cancelled, the sum deposited being forfeited to Government, and the lot again put up for sale at the risk of the defaulting purchaser, after issue of advertisement, as in the case of original sale.

4th.—The plots of land will be sold revenue-free to the highest bidders.

5th.—The purchasers shall be put in possession on receipt by the Collector of the orders of the Commissioner confirming the sale.

CUSTOM HOUSE NOTICE.

Credit system for the payment of Salt duty.

UNDER this system, as explained in the rules appended hereto, the payment of duty on salt manufactured in, or imported into, or transported within Bengal may be postponed for any period not exceeding six months from the date on which such payment is due.

2. The advantage to the merchant is that in taking delivery of a consignment of salt from boardship or from bond, it will be open to him, instead of prepaying the amount of the duty into the Treasury, to execute a bond and to deposit Government Promissory Notes or the other securities specified in the rules of a sufficient value to secure the payment. He will have the advantage of drawing interest on the securities throughout the period for which they are deposited. At present he loses interest on the amount of the duty from the date of payment till the date of the sale of the salt. If any further particulars are required, the Accountant at the Custom House will furnish them on application.

CALCUTTA CUSTOM HOUSE,
The 11th December 1909.

H. F. HOWARD,
Offg. Collector of Customs.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 858 S.R.—The 2nd April 1909.—In exercise of the power conferred by section 2 of the Indian Salt Duties Act, 1908 (X of 1908), the Lieutenant-Governor is pleased to make the following rules providing for the payment of duty on salt (manufactured in, or imported into, or transported within Bengal) within a period not exceeding six months from the date on which payment is due, and for the furnishing of security for such payment:—

Rules.

1. The payment of duty on salt manufactured in, or imported into, or transported within Bengal may, subject to the following rules, be postponed for any period not exceeding six months from the date on which such payment is due.

2. Any person who desires such postponement must deposit adequate security for such payment, and must execute an agreement in the form appended to these rules.

3. Such security shall take the form of—

(a) Government promissory notes,
(b) Treasury loan acknowledgments,
(c) Treasury Bills,
(d) Calcutta Port Trust Bonds,
(e) Calcutta Municipal Bonds,
(f) Government Savings Bank Pass-books, or (g) Post Office Savings Bank deposits of the kind referred to in clause 42 in rule 333 of the rules contained in the Indian Postal Guide of April 1908.

which must be endorsed over to and deposited with the Collector of Customs, Calcutta, or a District Collector empowered by the Board of Revenue in this behalf.

4. (1) Whenever securities are so deposited, the Collector shall grant to the depositor a receipt therefor, showing the amount of duty and charges for which the depositor will receive credit in respect of such securities.

(2) The said amount shall be fixed according to the probable marketable value of the securities, after making such deduction as the Collector may think fit to meet the contingency of depreciation in such value during the currency of the credit.

5. The Collector shall open a credit account for the amount shown in the aforesaid receipt: provided that no account shall be opened for a less sum than Rs. 500.

6. (1) A depositor may have more than one credit account opened in his name at the same time, upon depositing separate securities and executing a separate agreement in respect of each account.

(2) Any deficit arising upon any such account may be realised from securities deposited on any other such account.

7. (1) Where a credit account is opened by the Collector of Customs, Calcutta, applications by the depositor for the clearance of salt must be made upon a Bill-of-Entry bearing the words "Credit Account" in red ink on its face, and the depositor must in all other respects conform to the Customs procedure for the time being in force in Calcutta.

(2) Where a credit account is opened by a District Collector, applications by the depositor for the clearance of salt must be made in the prescribed form, and the Collector shall then pass the necessary orders for the issue of the salt.

8. (1) All payments due upon credit accounts opened in Calcutta must be made to the Collector of Customs, Calcutta:

Provided that the Collector may permit any such payment to be made at any Treasury outside Calcutta.

(2) All payments due upon credit accounts opened in any district outside Calcutta must be made to the Collector of that district.

9. Any interest accruing on securities during the time they remain in the custody of the Collector shall be paid to the depositor on presentation of interest warrants.

10. (1) Each current account shall be adjusted at the expiration of a period of six months from the date on which the account is opened.

(2) Whenever an adjustment is made, the Collector shall either—

(a) allow the account to be continued and the balance thereof carried over, after requiring additional security to be deposited if necessary, or (b) if he thinks fit, direct the account to be closed.

11. (1) If any depositor fails to pay upon demand, the balance found to be due by him to the Government upon the final adjustment of his account, he may be charged with interest on such balance from the date on which the credit expired, at the rate of 12 per cent. per annum, and the Collector may proceed to realize the amount due for principal and interest by the sale of the depositor's securities or any of them.

(2) Any surplus accruing on such sale shall be paid to the depositor, and any loss consequent on the securities not realising the sum due from the depositor for principal and interest must be met by him.

(3) For the purpose of making good any such loss, the Collector may credit to the Government any interest that may have accrued on any of the securities.

12. When an account opened in respect of any securities has been settled, such securities shall be returned to the depositor, upon his presenting the receipt which the Collector granted therefor.

13. (1) A depositor may have an account closed at any time before the expiration of the period of six months referred to in rule 10, upon paying amount shown to be due by him.

(2) When such payment is made the securities shall be returned to the depositor, upon his presenting the receipt which the Collector granted therefor.

NOTICE.

THE next annual stock-taking of the Indian Law Reports kept at the Bengal Secretariat Book Depôt will commence on the 1st April, 1910. The public are hereby informed that all issues of the said Reports from the said Depôt to subscribers and officials will be suspended during that month.

F. G. WIGLEY,

Secy. to the Bengal Legislative Council and Asst. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal, Legislative Dept.

LEGISLATIVE DEPT.,
BOOK DEPÔT BRANCH;
The 7th December, 1909.

THE INDIAN LAW REPORTS.

Published in FOUR SERIES, viz.

CALCUTTA, MADRAS, BOMBAY AND ALLAHABAD.

THE Indian Law Reports, published under the authority of the Governor General in Council, are printed in monthly Parts, which are issued, as soon as possible after the first of each month, at Calcutta, Madras, Bombay and Allahabad, respectively.

The Reports comprise four Series—one for the Calcutta High Court, a second for the Madras High Court, a third for the Bombay High Court, and a fourth for the Allahabad High Court.

The cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from each High Court are reported in the Series for that High Court. Cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from Provinces in India not subject to any High Court are reported in the Calcutta series.

The Calcutta Series is distributed by the Bengal Secretariat Book Depôt: and the Madras, Bombay and Allahabad Series are distributed direct from Madras, Bombay and Allahabad, respectively.

Persons desiring to subscribe for or purchase the Reports should apply to—the Officer in charge, Bengal Secretariat Book Depôt, Calcutta, or

the Superintendent, Government Press, Madras, or the Superintendent, Government Central Press, Bombay, or the Curator of Government Books, United Provinces of Agra and Oudh, Allahabad.

Bills of the Bengal Council.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

THE following Report of the Re-constituted Select Committee on the Calcutta and Suburban Police (Amendment) Bill, 1910, together with the Bill as amended by the Committee, is, by order of the President, published for general information :—

THE CALCUTTA AND SUBURBAN POLICE (AMENDMENT) BILL, 1909.

REPORT OF THE RE-CONSTITUTED SELECT COMMITTEE.

THE Bill further to amend the Calcutta Police Act, 1866, and the Calcutta Suburban Police Act, 1866, was twice amended by the Select Committee as originally constituted, namely :—

(1) early in August, 1909 (upon a consideration of the opinions contained in Papers Nos. 1 to 6), the principal amendments then made being explained in the Committee's Report signed on the 5th day of that month, and

(2) later in the same month (upon a consideration of certain amendments which it had been intended to bring forward at the meeting of the Bengal Legislative Council held on the 25th August, 1909, and were entered in the List of Business for that meeting), the amendments then made being noted in a memorandum dated the 3rd September, 1909.

2. The Select Committee was re-constituted when the Council was enlarged. We, the members of the re-constituted Committee, have considered—

(1) the Bill as amended by the Select Committee originally constituted,

(2) the several amendments entered in the aforesaid List of Business, and

(3) the opinions noted in the margin, contained in Papers Nos. 7 to 19,

Paper No. 7—
Letter No. 1169-1909, dated the 6th August, 1909, from the Secretary, Bengal Chamber of Commerce.

Paper No. 8—
Letter No. 1760-1909, dated the 27th November, 1909, from the Secretary, Bengal Chamber of Commerce.

Paper No. 9—
Letter dated the 1st December, 1909, from the Secretary, Vakils' Association, Calcutta.

and have the honour to submit this, our Report, with the Bill as amended by us annexed hereto. The amendments which we have made in the Bill are, as far as possible, printed in antique italics, and all amendments of any importance are mentioned in the following paragraphs.

Clause 4.

Definition of "Police-officer".

3. We have transferred the definition of "Police-officer" from clause 3 to clause 4 of the Bill, so as to make it applicable to the Suburban Act as well as the Calcutta Act. We have also substituted the words "any member of the Calcutta Police force" for "any member of the Police force for the town of Calcutta, appointed under this Act": this amendment brings the definition into harmony with the new form of certificate prescribed in clause 26 of the Bill, and will enable the Commissioner of Police to employ members of his force in either Calcutta or the Suburbs.

Definition of "place of public entertainment".

4. We have inserted the words "or drug" in the definition of "place of public entertainment", in order to extend the definition to drug-shops.

5. We have re-inserted at the end of the same definition the words which were struck out by the Select Committee as originally constituted. They are useful by way of illustrating the range of the definition.

Definition of "street."

6. We have, for greater clearness, restored the words "permanently or temporarily," which form part of the definition of "street" in clause 4 of the Bill as introduced in Council and in section 3 of the City of Bombay Police Act, 1902.

Definition of "vehicle."

7. We have revised the definition of "vehicle" so as to extend it to locomotives and tram-cars, and have substituted "automobile" for "motor-car," so as to cover taxi-cabs and motor vans. This definition should be as wide as it can be made, so that the police may have power to control all vehicular traffic.

Clause 11.

8. We have altered sub-clause (2) so as expressly to require the Magistrate to make a further inquiry, if that appears to be necessary, before summoning persons who are implicated by offenders charged under sub-clause (1).

Clause 14.

First section.

9. In sub-clause (e) we have inserted the words "or coal, or bricks lime or other building materials," so as to enable the Commissioner of Police to make rules to regulate and control the conveyance of such articles through the streets. They are commonly dropped from carts, to the danger of traffic.

10. In sub-clause (f2) we have inserted the words "placed on or over any street or public place or against the exterior of any building abutting thereon" after the words "or any appliances for illumination". The object of the amendment is to prevent interference with appliances for illumination which are erected within the interior of buildings.

11. We have altered sub-clause (2) so as to require the Commissioner of Police to publish his intention to rescind any rules made by him, before he rescinds them.

Section marked A.

12. We have altered the concluding portion of sub-clause (e) so as to make it clear that the prohibition of interference with music or noise in public places extends to public buildings as well as their compounds.

13. We have converted sub-clause (v) into a separate sub-section, marked (2*a*), reproducing the opening words of sub-section (2), with the exception of the words "for the preservation of the public peace or public safety". The words just mentioned are not required in connection with this sub-clause since the sub-clause itself indicates the occasions when a notification may be issued under it.

Clause 15.

14. We have substituted the words "exposes or keeps any article" for the words "exposes any article for sale". It is necessary to take power to punish the keeping of articles on public thoroughfares for purposes other than sale, much obstruction to traffic being caused by this practice.

Clauses 15A, 15B and 15C.

15. These clauses are new. We have inserted them in order to give effect to a suggestion made by Mr. A. M. Biswas, Founder-Superintendent of "The Refuge" (Paper No. 17), that power should be taken to send to a Refuge, instead of to prison, persons who are aged, infirm or incurably diseased and have been sentenced to imprisonment for begging.

Clauses 16 and 17.

16. We have altered sub-clauses (ii) and (iii) so as to make them applicable only where the offender is unknown to the Police-officer and his name and address cannot be ascertained then and there.

Clause 20.

17. We have amended sub-section (1) so as to declare that the attendance of witnesses may be required before superior Police-officers only, namely, those who are not below the rank of Sub-Inspector.

18. We have amended sub-section (4) so as to make it compulsory for the Commissioner of Police to pay the reasonable expenses of witnesses who do not reside in the town or suburbs of Calcutta.

Clause 20A.

19. This clause is new. It amends section 79 of the Calcutta Act so as to declare that no search-warrant issued thereunder shall authorize any Police-officer below the rank of Sub-Inspector to make any entry or search at night.

Clause 23.

20. In view of objections which have been advanced against clause 23 (relating to indemnity, limitation and tender of amends), and of the fact that the Commissioner of Police does not attach great importance to its retention, we have struck the clause out of the Bill.

---

21. We have considered the suggestion of the Calcutta Trades Association (Paper No. 13) that something should be done to prevent danger to the public from bricks and other building materials falling upon thoroughfares during building operations. This matter is important, but we do not propose to insert any clause in the Bill for dealing with it, as we consider it more appropriate that action should be taken under the Calcutta Municipal Act (Bengal Act III of 1899).

---

22. We recommend that the Bill, as now amended, be passed.

CALCUTTA,

DISSENT.

In my Note of Dissent from the Report of the Select Committee to which the Bill was first committed for consideration (dated the 6th of August, 1909) I pointed out that the Bill had not been referred to the High Court for opinion, which was all the more necessary to do in the absence of the Advocate-General, the most responsible Law Officer of the Crown. When Report of the Select Committee came up before the Council in August last, its consideration was kindly allowed by His Honour the President to be postponed, and there was since a reference to the High Court. The High Court has refrained from expressing any opinion, so far as the Bill "raises matters of a purely political character." It goes on, however, to observe:—

"As regards the other matters which arise in connection with the Bill, the Court notice that a question has been raised whether the proposed Bill does not require the previous sanction of the Governor General in Council. This is a matter of considerable importance, but has no doubt been settled by the Local Government by reference to the Advocate-General and its other Law Officers."

The question was raised by the Chamber of Commerce in their letter and I drew attention to it in my Note of Dissent.

We have the advantage of having a distinguished member of the English Bar as our Advocate-General who does not happen to belong to this Council. Whether this absence affects the constitution of the Council has been questioned by others, and though I have serious doubts about the matter, I do not propose to pursue it, as it is not pertinent to the enquiry I have in view. It does not appear whether and in what shape the Advocate-General and the other Law Officers of the Crown have been consulted, and I feel myself at a disadvantage in not having seen their opinion. The High Court has been pleased to observe that "the matter is of considerable importance"; but no light has been thrown on its elucidation in any quarter. I do not, therefore, feel myself relieved from the necessity of drawing the attention of the Government and the Legislature, to such points connected with it as strike me.

When the Bill was re-committed to the old Select Committee, I urged some of these points in a note dated the 28th August, 1909. As that Note will not be before the Council, some of the considerations contained in it which bear on the outstanding issues have to be embodied in this Dissent. I feel bound to repeat my doubts as to whether the Bill can be dealt with without the previous sanction of the Governor General in Council, which would not be a mere adminstrative sanction but should be sanction duly recited in the preamble of the Bill before its introduction in the same way as it was recited in the Bombay Act. My doubts are strengthened by being shared by the High Court. A question that the High Court considers is of "considerable importance" can hardly be dismissed as merely technical, because some local enactments may have been passed in misapprehension of the situation, without the strict formalities and safeguards being observed and secured.

It may be urged in reply that no such sanction is necessary, but administrative assent of the Government of India, which examines all Bills before introduction, is enough, because there is no overt amendment of any Imperial Act or Parliamentary Statute in the Bill, and because, in the language of one of the speeches of the Hon'ble Mr. Duke on the Bill, "it is much more satisfactory, and no doubt even to the offenders, that they should be dealt with under a law which defines their offences precisely and punishes them with a small and appropriate penalty rather than that they should be brought up under a general definition with the risk of a much heavier punishment." In pressing this the Hon'ble Member in charge may possibly have the high authority of Sir Henry Maine as to the desirability of arming local Legislatures with limited semi-penal powers in the case of purely municipal offences. Regarding such desirability, however, Sir Henry was careful as to the safeguards for the supremacy of the higher Legislature, and laid down that "when a question of convenience arises and when a legislative question like this has reached its proper stage, a joint opinion should be asked from the Advocate-General and the Standing Counsel." Something like this seems to have been contemplated by the High Court, as I venture to read its letter above referred to.

Sir Henry Maine recorded two long notes on the amplification, expansion and adaptation of these penal powers; and though the whole of these notes may not entirely bear out and may possibly be considered to discount some of my contentions, in fairness I feel it my duty to set them out at length:—

No. 6.

LOCAL LEGISLATION—PENAL CODE (STATUTE 24 AND 25 VICT., C. 67, s. 43).

[23rd April, 1863.]

Proceedings, Home Department (Legislative), June, 1863, No. 7.

THIS Bill appears to me to raise a difficult question—one of a class which I have thought likely to arise ever since I read section 43 of 24 and 25 Vict., c. 67, for the first time.

The question is—What is meant by "altering" the Penal Code?

If one of the local Legislatures were to define an offence exactly as the Penal Code defines it, or in language of equivalent generality, and then were to assign to it a punishment different from that prescribed in the Code, it would be conceded, I presume, that this would be an attempt to alter the Penal Code and would be beyond the powers of the Local Council. But the attempt made in the present Bill is not exactly this. Here a particular form, instance or sample is taken of the general offence defined in the Code, and a penalty is assigned different from that which the Code allots to the general offence. Is this, which may be called a constructive alteration of the Penal Code, beyond the powers of the Bombay Legislature?

In favour of the affirmative view, which I understand Mr. Harington to take, there is the wide language of the 43rd section of the English statute. The local Legislatures are incapacitated, not merely for "altering" but for "altering in any way" the Penal Code of India. It is difficult to contend that by "constructive" alterations one does not alter in some way the Penal Code.

The argument the other way must be derived entirely from the inconvenience and, judged by its consequences, the unreasonableness of the affirmative construction.

The Penal Code has been drawn so skilfully and with so much forethought that there is hardly a single conceivable wrongful act which it does not cover by its general definitions. But then, as a general rule, the Penal Code contemplates the Queen's subjects in India, apart from any particular capacity they may happen to fill, or from any particular circumstances in which they may be placed. Practically, however, offences do constantly alter their character and deserve a different or severer punishment through the circumstances of the offender or the capacity he may happen to fill. Not to go further than the subject of the Bill, what may be no offence or a venial offence in a man driving a hackney on the Grand Trunk Road may deserve exemplary punishment if done by the driver of a Calcutta gharry. In short, as it seems to me, the punishment assigned to an offence described in general terms will never be adequate to all the forms of that offence, however wide be the limits within which the discretion of the Judge who selects the penalty is permitted to range.

Now, the matters to which the local Legislatures can address themselves with most advantage are matters of local and municipal regulation. Consequently, the chances are that they will be constantly dealing with extremely special and particular forms of the wrongful acts which the Code describes in general language. Every rule which we lay down in local or municipal matters will involve the assignment of a penalty to its breach, and it will be often, and indeed generally, necessary that this penalty should be heavier than that applied by the Code to the general offence. At all events, it will be desirable that the penalty be precisely defined—a necessity which will often entail some narrowing of the discretion which the Code allows to the Judge; and this would be "altering" the Penal Code if the construction which I am examining should prevail. Is it possible that the English Parliament intended that the Governor General should be invariably invited to express an opinion on municipal penalties, or, in other words, to settle matters which an Imperial authority is not more, but less, able to deal with than the local Legislatures?

The Bill before me raises this important question, but does not raise it in a very favourable way; for I quite agree with Mr. Harington that in this particular case it so happens that the Bombay Council might just as well have been satisfied with the Penal Code. But I cannot help seeing that such questions will be perpetually arising in a more perplexing form: indeed, the legislative power of the local Councils will be almost nothing if they have not at least as great liberty of legislation as is permitted in England to a railway company, which always has it in its power to assign, by its by-laws, special penalties to breaches of railway rules heavier than those which would be incurred if those offences were prosecuted, as they often might be, under the general law as misdemeanours.

A still more serious consequence of the construction which I am calling in question is its tendency to tempt the local Legislatures into dispensing with the securities of the Penal Code; for, though they cannot alter the penalties according to this view, there is nothing to prevent them changing the definition of the crime by omitting a material part of it. This would, in many cases, be not "altering the Penal Code," but creating a new offence which it has not provided for; and it would be hard to call such an attempt illegal, though it would be contrary to the spirit of the Secretary of State's recent despatch.

The argumentum ab inconvenienti must always, I know, be received with caution; but the inconvenience here seems to me so great and so likely to meet His Excellency the Governor General at every turn that, when the question has reached a proper stage (which I do not understand it to have done at present), I should recommend that a joint opinion be asked from the Advocate-General and Standing Counsel.

(See No. 7.)

No. 7.

LOCAL LEGISLATION—PENAL CODE (STATUTE 24 & 25 VICT., c. 67, s. 43).

(24th April 1863.)

MR. HARINGTON has been good enough to let me see his further remarks, and I add a few words, chiefly because an inadvertence in my first note (which I have corrected) prevented my bringing out one phase of the argument derived from the inconvenience of supposing that the local Councils are debarred (except with the permission of the Governor General) from constructively altering the Penal Code.

Proceedings, Home Department (Legislative), June 1863, No. 9.

Mr. Harington suggests that the inconvenience to which I have referred is greatly mitigated, if not proved, by the provision for obtaining the previous permission of the Governor General. If His Excellency could, on having a local Bill submitted to him, give a general permission to alter the Penal Code for the purposes of the Bill, I would acquiesce in Mr. Harington's explanation. But I do not think that His Excellency can give his permission without considering each instance in which it is proposed to alter the Code. This seems to follow both from the words of the Councils Act, "altering in any way," and from the nature of the case, from the duty cast upon him being that of comparing one instrument (the Bill) with another (the Penal Code).

If this be so, His Excellency will have to give an opinion on all parts of the very Bills which an Imperial Authority is least capable of dealing with satisfactorily. The key to every rule of law is the penalty for its breach, and it would be impossible to say whether the penalties are reasonable without considering the sections of the Bill which fix the rules. The Bills on which His Excellency will thus have to give an opinion will be Bills regulating local and municipal concerns, and he will have to do this, not after he knows that the measure has been fully discussed by persons on the spot or near it, but beforehand and without the power of ascertaining the changes which may be introduced by a Select Committee.

On noting down the list of subjects (in section 43 of the Councils Act), which the local Legislatures are prohibited from dealing with except under permission, it will be seen that the Bills falling under each head (except the 4th) have a distinct common character. But if the 4th prohibition covers constructive alterations of the Code, the Bills to which it applies are altogether miscellaneous and, as it seems to me, include nearly all the measures which would naturally be brought before a local Legislature. This consideration, so far as it goes, seems to me an argument for thinking that Bills having for their main and direct purpose the alteration of the Penal Code are the measures intended: any such measure would be "a law or regulation for one of the purposes thereinafter mentioned"—language which seems to me slightly in favour of the above view.

Sir Henry would thus be inclined to limit Provincial interference to "Municipal penalties" and offences of the nature of "Railway offences," and such like matters. It is difficult to say that that is what we are providing for here and, if we are not, Sir Henry's verdict seems to be against this Bill.

Sir FitzJames Stephen described the Penal Code as "the Criminal Law of England clothed and in its right mind", and Sir Henry Maine himself says that "the Penal Code was drawn so skilfully and with so much forethought that there is hardly a single conceivably wrongful act which it does not cover by its general definitions."

The question of the fallibility of Penal Code definitions came up later before the Imperial Legislature when the Penal Code definition of good faith was reduced to the General Clauses Act definition in 1897. The Hon'ble Mr. H. E. M. James in objecting to the change of the definition said: "We have the great authority of Lord Macaulay for our present definition. We have had a succession of able legal members like Sir Henry Maine, Lord Hobhouse, Sir FitzJames Stephen, Sir Andrew Scoble, and none of them dared to lay sacrilegious finger on these definitions. It is wonderful indeed what very little alteration the Penal Code has needed." Sir Henry Prinsep, who was on the Council at the time, expressed general "sympathy with the Hon'ble Mr. James' observation," though he "did not object to the change in the definition for general purposes, as he did not understand that any future codification of the Penal Code to alter the law in this respect was contemplated." Though in this Council we are not quite "codifying the Penal Code," we are certainly not merely providing an amending Act "for removal of doubts and uncertainties as to police powers" for there has never been any serious doubt as to those powers under the existing Penal Code, the Criminal Procedure Code and the Calcutta Police Act.

The "constructive alteration of the Penal Code," as Sir Henry Maine calls it in his minutes, and which this Bill may well claim to be called, leads to quite a difficult position. We have the dictum of a distinguished British Judge (per Abinger, C. B., Henderson v. Sherbourn, 1837, 2 M. and W., 236) that "if a crime be created by statute with a given penalty and be afterwards repeated in another statute with a lesser penalty attached to it, the new Act would be in effect a repeal of the former penalty." Practically following the judgments of Lords Mansfield and Hardwicke in earlier cases, we are told again (per Campbell, C. J., Mitchell v. Brown) that if a later statute again describes an offence created by a former statute and affixes a different punishment to it varying the procedure, the prosecution must proceed under the latter statute, and the same consequences seem to follow from altering the procedure and the punishment." Differences of opinion led to the enactment of the provision of the General Clauses Act (X of 1897, section 26) to the effect that "when an act or omission constitutes an offence under two or more enactments, the offender shall be liable to be prosecuted and punished under either or any of these enactments, but shall not be liable to be punished twice for the same offence."

In spite of all these differing judicial dicta and statutory provisions, we have in the present Bill added an Explanation in clauses 16 and 17 of the Bill that the added sub-section (which adds some very large powers of arrest, and therefore in Chief Justice Campbell's words may be said to "alter the procedure") does not restrict the exercise by a Police-officer of any power of arrest conferred upon him by any other law.

The statutory provision dealing with the matter is that the local Legislature may not without the previous sanction of the Governor General make or take into consideration any law:—

(d) altering in any way the Indian Penal Code;

(e) affecting the religion or religious rites or usages of any class of His Majesty's subjects in India.

We are further told that "the local Legislature has no power to make any law affecting any Act of Parliament for the time being in force in the province."

Though "an Act or a provision of an Act made by a local Legislature and subsequently assented to by the Governor General is not deemed invalid by reason only of its requiring the previous sanction of the Governor General," it will hardly be urged that when pointed attention is drawn to the defect at an early stage, full consideration should not be bestowed upon it in time.

Sir Charles, Wood, who made himself memorable not only in connection with his famous Education despatch, clearly laid down in his despatch of the 1st December, 1862:—"As a general rule, for the guidance of the local Legislatures it would probably be expedient that all Bills containing penal clauses shall be submitted for your (Governor General's) previous sanction."

In the despatch of Sir John Wood, from which I have just quoted, we find: "It was the intention of Her Majesty's Government that, except in local and peculiar circumstances, the Code," by which was meant the Penal Code, I take it, "should contain the whole body of the penal legislation, and that all additions and modifications suggested by experience should from time to time be incorporated in it." Some of the matters that we are dealing with here are not local and peculiar and therefore not fit subjects, for treatment by the local Legislature, but by the Supreme. And this is best illustrated by the fact that the Supreme Legislature has already anticipated events by the new Crimes Act, the new Explosives Act and the Seditious Meetings Act, which could be extended to any part of the Empire in case of need.

And, however much in the doubtful light of the early Bombay decisions, to which I shall presently refer, one may claim that the local Legislature can affect Muffassal Courts and the Appellate side of the High Court, the Original side of the High Court—the lineal descendant of the Charter-created Supreme Court, with its enormous and unquestioned inherent rights and jurisdiction, the bulwark of peoples' liberties, to which they look with affectionate and reverent confidence, stands on a high pedestal, all its own, so far at least as the administration of the Common Law of England is concerned.

The provisions of clause 23 of the Bill were thus open to many and serious objections, which were set forth in my note dated the 25th of August, 1909, and which it is no longer necessary to recapitulate.

The High Court observed regarding these provisions:—

The Chief Justice and the Judges have considered and discussed several of the definitions and the language employed in certain sections of the Act; but these points are so bound up with questions of policy that, without departing from their general rule in this respect, they can hardly express a definite opinion regarding them. In clause 23 of the Bill, however, they notice that the words "in good faith" occur in several places. No definition of "good faith" has been given in the Bill, and the words will bear the meaning assigned to them in the General Clauses Act, I of 1899 (B.C.). The definition of "good faith" given in that Act reproduces the definition contained in the Bills of Exchange Act, 45 & 46 Vict. c. 61. The conception of "good faith" thus defined has therefore its origin in the Law of Contract, rather than in the Law of Tort. The framers of the Indian Penal Code, in the definition of "good faith" given in that enactment, thought it necessary to introduce a further element than that required by the General Clauses Act, in that the exercise of due care and attention is required by their definition, which is in accordance with the doctrine of the English Law of Tort. In this connection it may be observed that the definition of "good faith" in clause 4 of the Indian Civil Wrongs Bill prepared by Sir Frederick Pollock states that these words imply "the use of due care and attention." In making these remarks, the Chief Justice and Judges merely wish to draw the attention of the Government to the effect of the clause as it now stands without expressing any opinion as to its expediency."

We are at a disadvantage in not getting an authoritative opinion of the High Court by reason of some of the points being supposed to be bound up with questions of policy. But it is not difficult to gather the opinion of the Court in regarding the matter apart from, and independent of, the "question of policy."

Regarding the questions of indemnity of, and protection to, Police-officers, the High Court observes—

"The whole of clause 23 in its relation to 24 & 25 Vict., c. 104, and other Acts of Parliament has no doubt been the object of careful and minute examination by the legal advisers of Government, in order to preclude the possibility of objection, and the Court in its administrative capacity can offer no opinion on this question."

Opinions of important public bodies were also against these provisions, and those who felt compelled to object to them at the meetings of the Select Committee are exceedingly obliged to the Government for seeing its way to drop the clause.

This will leave the existing section 99 of the Calcutta Act as it stands, which also is open to some of the objections directed to the provisions of clause 23 of the Bill. These objections, however, could not be dealt with by the Select Committee after clause 23 was omitted, for the Bill before it is a mere amending and not a consolidating Bill, and the Select Committee has no seisin of provisions withdrawn from the purview of amendments. This strengthens the case for consolidation of both the Calcutta and the Suburban Acts for which I pleaded in my first Note of Dissent, and which was pressed once again by the Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu on the present Select Committee.

With reference to the powers given in clauses 14, 16, 21, and generally, the High Court observes that "the Bill increases the powers of the Police authorities, and at the same time affords them a greater measure of protection than they have hitherto possessed. In accordance with the practice of the Court, however, the Chief Justice and the Judges refrain from expressing an opinion on that, which is a question of policy."

The reticence of the High Court in its "administrative capacity" and in view of "questions of policy" does not make it difficult to gather from the trend of their letter as to what the opinion and views of the Court are in regard to the respective matters in question. They may not unreasonably be taken to support the submissions that some of us have ventured to make. We must remember that we are not legislating in view of doubly regrettable incidents and circumstances of the recent times that had to be dealt with by special Imperial enactments during the past two years, to some of which I have referred. Ours is an every-day Act that must do duty for a long time, and affects the average citizen and his every-day life. If in this enactment also it is felt to be necessary as a matter of policy to provide special powers and facilities, it would be not for us to object to it. But to ensure such an end, a separate chapter might possibly authorise the Local Government or the Commissioner to exercise such special powers in the given circumstances, to which there could not be the objections which are bound to apply to the every-day section.

Thanks to the co-operation of the official members and the sympathy of the Hon'ble President, the Bill has been much improved in the Select Committee in its different stages. The Bombay safeguards, which had been omitted from the original Bill, have been introduced at the instance of His Honour the President and not owing to any outside pressure, as had been erroneously supposed and stated in some quarters, which fact I feel it my duty to put on record. Many of the amendments for which our then colleague, the Hon'ble Babu Radha Churn Pal, who had worked very hard over them, and myself, were obliged to give notice on the previous occasion, will thus be now unnecessary. There are, however, still points to which the attention of the Council will have to be called in detail by way of amendments when the amended Bill comes up for consideration, and some of which may be summarised as follows:—

(1) The necessity of excluding from the definition of "place of public amusement" the places where money is or may be collected for bonâ fide religious purposes.

(2) The desirability of excluding from the definition of "place of public entertainment" places where food and non-intoxicating drinks are sold and allowed to be consumed.

(3) The desirability of substituting the word trespass for the words enters or remains in lines 4 and 5 of clause 9.

(4) The desirability of reducing and altering the punishments provided in the different sections of clause 14 and the other penal clauses.

(5) The desirability of minimising police interference with music and songs on religious and ceremonial occasions, and with public addresses, meetings and processions.

(6) The desirability of restricting powers of arrest in non-cognizable cases under certain circumstances.

(7) The necessity of providing proper safeguards on the occasions of night-search.

DISSENT.

THE inclusion of the section marked C in clause 6 of the Bill, which provides for punishment of police officers in case of vexatious entry, search, seizure, arrest or detention, and the omission of clause 23, known as the indemnity clause, and which practically rendered police officers immune against the consequences of their illegal acts in a civil tribunal, have removed two of the most objectionable features of the Bill. There are, however, other clauses which I cannot but look upon with grave misgivings.

2. Clause 9 makes it punishable for a person to enter or remain in any private or public premises without satisfactory excuse. Instances are very common when people, especially ignorant people from the mofussil, enter into public or private buildings merely as sight-seers. Under the law, as proposed to be altered, these people will be liable to be arrested and punished. The present section 29 in the Calcutta Police Act makes only "trespass" punishable. The word "trespass" has a well-defined meaning under the Penal Code. I think the innovation which renders innocent sight-seers liable to punishment is both unnecessary and undesirable.

3. Sub-clauses (2), (2a) and (3) of section A in clause 14 of the Bill give the police powers, in regard to the rights of the public to hold meetings and processions, which may lead to a practical denial of such rights. The clauses give the police powers to stop processions, meetings, speeches, public utterance of cries, singing of songs and playing of music, in fact, it clothes the police with power to stop every variety of public demonstration. Apart from the unwisdom of such a drastic provision, it is a serious invasion on liberty of speech and on the right to hold public meetings. The existing law has been found adequate to cope with and check any abuse of such rights, and it seems to me that the provisions go far beyond any legitimate necessity of the police in the cause of the maintenance of law and order.

4. In section C (1), in clause 14 of the Bill, where the police are vested with powers to prevent disorder in any public assembly or meeting, I would suggest that the police officer should not be below the rank of a sub-inspector.

DISSENT.

IN view of the express recognition in the "Statement of Objects and Reasons," on the introduction of this Bill, that amendment of section 99 of the Calcutta Police Act, 1866 (Bengal Act IV of 1866), is called for, it is a matter of regret that, with the withdrawal of the proposed amendment (the substitution of clause 23 for section 99), the intention of amending the section referred to has apparently been altogether abandoned.

The objection to that section is not merely because it has been "framed in antiquated terms" as represented in the Statement of Objects and Reasons. The terminology of the section palpably has no application to Calcutta. Throughout the section, we find indications that it presupposes a system of trial not prevailing in Calcutta, and pleadings of a highly technical character not in use here. To take only the concluding portion of clause 2 of section 99: "and, though a verdict shall be given for the plaintiff in any such action, such plaintiff shall not have costs against the defendant unless the Judge, before whom the trial shall be, shall certify his approbation of the action and of the verdict obtained thereupon." It is clear that a trial by jury is contemplated: and trials by jury were unknown in Calcutta, in civil cases, at the time.

I am unaware of the circumstances under which the section was incorporated into the Act of 1866, and, owing to the urgency of the demand for my note, I have no opportunity of tracing the matter to its source. It is evident, however, that the section has been taken from a Statute passed by a Legislature with plenary powers, and has reference to a procedure distinct from the procedure under the Indian Civil Procedure Code of 1859, which was in force in Calcutta at the period when the Calcutta Police Act of 1866 was passed by the Bengal Council, and at a time when the powers of that Council were even more limited than in the present day. In all the circumstances, therefore, I am not prepared to accept the section under notice, as authority for the powers which it purports to create.

I am constrained, inasmuch as the Calcutta Police Act is being amended, to draw the attention of the Government to the matters to which I have referred, because I feel that I should be open to criticism, and I should be wanting in my duty, if I omitted to do so. I cannot see any practical use in retaining the section, and I venture to suggest that it be repealed.

I must add that owing to causes which I am ready to admit were unavoidable, I have been exceedingly hurried and have had only a very limited opportunity of writing this note.

New section 10A for the Calcutta Act and 4A for the Suburban Act.

4A. The following section shall be inserted in the Calcutta Act as section 10A and in the Suburban Act as section 4A, namely:—

"(1) It shall be the duty of every Police-officer— [1902, s. 32.]

Duties of Police-officers.

(a) promptly to serve every summons and obey and execute every warrant or other order lawfully issued to him by competent authority, and to endeavour by all lawful means to give effect to the lawful commands of his superiors;

(b) to the best of his ability, to obtain intelligence concerning the commission of cognizable offences or designs to commit such offences, and to lay such information and to take such other steps, consistent with law and with the orders of his superiors, as are best calculated to bring offenders to justice or to prevent the commission of cognizable offences, or the commission of non-cognizable offences within his view;

(c) to the best of his ability, to prevent the commission of public nuisances;

(d) to apprehend all persons whom he is legally authorized to apprehend and for whose apprehension there is sufficient reason;

(e) to aid any other Police-officer, when called on by him or in case of need in the discharge of his duty, in such ways as would be lawful and reasonable on the part of the officer aided;

(f) to discharge such duties as are imposed upon him by any law for the time being in force;

(g) to afford every assistance within his power to disabled or helpless persons in the streets, and to take charge of intoxicated persons and of lunatics at large who appear to be dangerous or to be incapable of taking care of themselves;

(h) to take prompt measures to procure necessary help for any person under arrest or in custody who is wounded or sick, and, while guarding or conducting any such person, to have due regard to his condition;

The Calcutta and Suburban Police (Amendment) Bill, 1910.

(Clauses 5, 6.)

(i) to arrange for the proper sustenance and shelter of every person who is under arrest or in custody;

(j) in conducting searches, to refrain from needless rudeness and the causing of unnecessary annoyance;

(k) in dealing with women and children, to act with strict regard to decency and with reasonable gentleness;

(l) to use his best endeavours—

(a) to prevent any loss or damage by fire, and

(b) to avert any accident or danger to the public;

(m) to regulate and control the traffic in the streets, to prevent obstruction therein, and to the best of his ability to prevent the infraction of any rule or order made under this Act or under any other law for the time being in force for observance by the public in or near the streets;

(n) to keep order in the streets, and at and within public bathing, washing and landing places, fairs and all other places of public resort, and in the neighbourhood of places of public worship during the time of public worship;

(o) to regulate resort to public bathing, washing and landing places, to prevent overcrowding thereat and in public ferry-boats, and, to the best of his ability, to prevent the infraction of any rule or order lawfully made for observance by the public at any such place or on any such boat; and

(p) to perform all duties imposed on him by rules for the time being in force under this Act, in the manner and subject to the conditions therein prescribed.

(2) All persons shall be bound to conform to the reasonable directions of a Police-officer given in fulfilment of any of the said duties.

(3) A Police-officer may restrain or remove any person resisting, or refusing or omitting to conform to, any such direction as aforesaid."

Amendment of section 13 of the Calcutta Act.

5. In section 13 of the Calcutta Act, for the word "constable" the words "Police-officer" shall be substituted.

New sections 13A to 13C for the Calcutta Act and 8A to 8C for the Suburban Act.

6. The following sections shall be inserted in the Calcutta Act as sections 13A, 13B, and 13C, and in the Suburban Act as sections 8A, 8B, and 8C, namely:—

Police-officers prohibited from other employment.

"A. The Commissioner or a Deputy Commissioner of Police shall not, without the permission of the Lieutenant-Governor, and a Police-officer of lower rank than that of Deputy Commissioner shall not, without the permission of the Commissioner of Police, [902, s. 17.]

either as principal or agent,—

(a) engage in any trade, or

(b) be in any way concerned in the purchase or sale of any immovable property within the town or suburbs of Calcutta or of any interest therein, or

(c) hold any office or practise any profession or engage in any employment whatever other than his office or duties as such Police-officer.

The Calcutta and Suburban Police (Amendment) Bill, 1910.

(Clauses 7, 8.)

"B. Any Police-officer who— [1902, s. 18 Ben. Act II of 1866, s. 6. Ben. Act IV of 1866, s. 12.]

Offences by Police-officers.

(a) contravenes any provision of the last foregoing section, or

(b) is guilty of cowardice, or

(c) is guilty of any wilful breach or neglect of any provision of law or of any rule or order which it is his duty as such Police-officer to observe or obey, or

(d) is guilty of any violation of duty for which no punishment is expressly provided by any other law for the time being in force, shall be liable to imprisonment, with or without hard labour, for a term which may extend to three months, or to fine which may extend to one hundred rupees and which may be deducted from any salary due to him, or to both.

"C. Any Police-officer who—

Vexatious entry, search, seizure, arrest, detention, etc., by Police-officers. [1902, s. 19.]

(a) without lawful authority or reasonable cause, enters or searches, or causes to be entered or searched, any building, vessel, tent or place, or

(b) vexatiously and unnecessarily seizes the property of any person, or

(c) vexatiously and unnecessarily detains, searches or arrests any person, or

(d) vexatiously and unnecessarily delays forwarding any person arrested to a Magistrate or to any other authority to whom he is legally bound to forward such person, or

(e) offers any unnecessary personal violence to any person in his custody, or

(f) holds out to an accused person any threat or promise not warranted by law, shall be liable to imprisonment, with or without hard labour, for a term which may extend to six months, or to fine which may extend to five hundred rupees, or to both."

New section 14A for the Calcutta Act and 8D for the Suburban Act.

7. The following section shall be inserted in the Calcutta Act as section 14A, and in the Suburban Act as section 8D, namely:—

"Any person who knowingly makes a false statement or uses a false document, for the purpose of obtaining for himself or any other person employment or release from employment as a Police-officer, shall be liable to imprisonment, with or without hard labour, for a term which may extend to three months, or to fine which may extend to one hundred rupees, or to both." [1902, s. 0.]

False statement to obtain employment or release.

New section 21A for the Calcutta Act and 15A for the Suburban Act.

8. The following section shall be inserted in the Calcutta Act as section 21A, and in the Suburban Act as section 15A, namely:—

"(1) Subject to the control of the Lieutenant-Governor, the Commissioner of Police shall, by order,— [1902, s. 11 (1).]

Constitution of divisions and sections.

(a) constitute such and so many Police divisions as he thinks fit, and

(b) sub-divide such divisions into such and so many sections as he thinks fit, and

(c) define the limits and extent of such divisions and sections.

The Calcutta and Suburban Police (Amendment) Bill, 1910.

(Clauses 9-12.)

(2) Every such order shall be published in the Calcutta Gazette and in the manner prescribed by this Act for the publication of public notices."

New section 29 for the Calcutta Act and 15B for the Suburban Act.

9. The following section shall be substituted for section 29 of the Calcutta Act, and shall be inserted in the Suburban Act as section 15B, namely:—

[1902, s. 111.]

Wrongfully entering or remaining in or on building, land, vehicle, &c.

"Whoever, without satisfactory excuse, wilfully enters or remains in or upon any dwelling-house or private premises or any land or ground attached thereto, or any ground, building, monument or structure belonging to the Government or appropriated to public purposes, or any vehicle, boat or vessel, shall, whether he causes any actual damage or not, be liable to fine which may extend to twenty rupees."

Amendment of section 36 of the Calcutta Act and section 19 of the Suburban Act.

9A. For the words "subject to the order and control of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal," in section 36 of the Calcutta Act, and for the words "subject to the order and control of the said Lieutenant-Governor," in section 19 of the Suburban Act, the following shall be substituted, namely:—

"The Commissioner of Police shall, in granting or refusing certificates under this section, be subject to the direction and control of the Lieutenant-Governor."

Amendment of section 33 of the Suburban Act.

10. In section 33 of the Suburban Act, for the words "police-office" the words "police-station" shall be substituted.

New section 54A for the Calcutta Act and 33A for the Suburban Act.

11. The following section shall be inserted in the Calcutta Act as section 54A and in the Suburban Act as section 33A, namely:—

[Act XXI of 1857, s. 2; Burma Act IV of 1899, s. 81; 1902, s. 114.]

Possession or dealing with thing stolen or fraudulently obtained.

"(1) Whoever has in his possession, or conveys in any manner, or offers for sale or pawn, any thing which there is reason to believe to have been stolen or fraudulently obtained, shall, if he fails to account for such possession or act to the satisfaction of the Magistrate, be liable to fine which may extend to one hundred rupees, or to imprisonment, with or without hard labour, for a term which may extend to three months.

(2) If any person charged under sub-section (1) in respect of any thing declares that he received such thing from some other person, or that he was employed as a carrier, agent or servant to convey such thing for some other person, the Magistrate, after such further inquiry (if any) as he may deem necessary, may summon such other person, and any former or pretended purchaser or other person through whose possession such thing is alleged to have passed, to appear before him, and may examine such person and any witnesses who are produced to testify to such receipt, employment or possession; and, if it appears to the Magistrate that any such person had possession of such thing and had reasonable cause to believe that it was stolen or fraudulently obtained, the Magistrate may punish him with fine which may extend to one hundred rupees, or with imprisonment, with or without hard labour, for a term which may extend to three months.

Amendment of section 60 of the Calcutta Act and section 37 of the Suburban Act.

12. In section 60 of the Calcutta Act, and in section 37 of the Suburban Act,— (1a). after the word "oath" the words "and reduced to writing" shall be inserted;

(1b) after the words "Police-officer" the words "not below the rank of Sub-Inspector" shall be inserted;

The Calcutta and Suburban Police (Amendment) Bill, 1910.

(Clauses 13, 14.)

(1) the words "in the day-time" are hereby repealed ;

(2) for the word "gunpowder," wherever it occurs, the words "explosive substance" shall be substituted; and

(3) after the words "this Act" the words "or any other law or any rule made thereunder" shall be inserted.

Amendment of section 61 of the Calcutta Act and section 38 of the Suburban Act.

13. In section 61 of the Calcutta Act, and in section 38 of the Suburban Act, for the word "gunpowder," in each place in which it occurs, the words "explosive substances" shall be substituted.

New sections substituted for section 62 of the Calcutta Act and section 39 of the Suburban Act.

14. The following sections shall be substituted for section 62 of the Calcutta Act, being numbered 62, 62A, 62B and 62C, respectively, and shall also be substituted for section 39 of the Suburban Act, being numbered 39, 39A, 39B and 39C, respectively, namely:—

Power of Commissioner to make rules for regulation of traffic, etc.

"(1) With the previous sanction of the Lieutenant-Governor, the Commissioner of Police may, after previous publication, from time to time make rules— [1902, s. 22.]

(a) for licensing and controlling persons offering themselves for employment at quays, wharves or landing-places for the carriage of passengers' baggage, and fixing and providing for the enforcement of a scale of charges for the labour of such persons when so employed;

(b) regulating traffic of all kinds in streets and public places, and the use of streets and public places by persons riding, or driving, leading or riding in vehicles, or leading or accompanying cattle, or walking, so as to prevent danger, obstruction or inconvenience to the public;

(c) regulating the conditions under which vehicles may remain standing in streets and public places, and the use of streets as halting places for vehicles or cattle;

(d) prescribing the number and position of lights to be used on vehicles in streets and public places;

(e) regulating and controlling the conveyance of timber, bamboos, scaffold-poles, ladders, iron girders, beams or bars, boilers or other unwieldy articles, or coal, or bricks, lime or other building materials, through the streets, and the route and hours for such conveyance;

(f) for licensing, controlling, or, in view to preventing obstruction, inconvenience or annoyance to residents or passengers in the vicinity, prohibiting, the playing of music in streets or in public places other than public buildings and the precincts thereof;

(ff) for licensing, controlling, or, in view to preventing risk, danger or damage to residents or passengers in the vicinity, prohibiting, the carrying of any explosive substance in streets or public places;

(f1) for controlling, in the interests of the public convenience and safety, the illumination of streets and public places, and the erection of structures on or over any street or public place, or against the exterior of any building abutting thereon, for the purposes of illumination;

The Calcutta and Suburban Police (Amendment) Bill, 1910.

(Clause 14.)

(g) regulating the means of entrance and exit at places of public amusement, entertainment and assembly, and the lighting thereof when used by the public, and providing for the maintenance of public safety and the prevention of disturbance therein:

Provided that nothing in this section shall affect the provisions of the Indian Arms Act, 1878, or the Indian Explosives Act, 1884. XI of 1878 IV of 1884.

(2) Any rules made under this section may, with the like sanction, be altered or rescinded by the Commissioner of Police after previous publication of the alteration or rescission.

(3) Every rule and alteration of a rule made under this section, and every rescission of any such rule, shall be published in the Calcutta Gazette and in the manner prescribed by this Act for the publication of public notices.

(4) Whoever contravenes any rule made under this section shall be liable,— [1902, s. 12.]

(i) if the rule were made under clause (a), clause (b), clause (c) or clause (f) of sub-section (1)—to fine which may extend to fifty rupees, or

(ii) if the rule were made under clause (d), clause (e) or clause (ff) of sub-section (1)—to imprisonment, with or without hard labour, for a term which may extend to eight days, or to fine which may extend to fifty rupees, or to both, or

(iii) if the rule were made under clause (f1), clause (f2) or clause (g) of sub-section (1)—to fine which may extend to one hundred rupees.

Power of Commissioner and other officers to give directions to the public.

"A. (1) The Commissioner of Police, and, subject to the orders of the Commissioner of Police, every Police-officer of a rank not inferior to that of Sub-Inspector, may, with a view to securing the public safety or convenience, but not so as to contravene any rule made under the last foregoing section or the provisions of any license granted under any such rule, give all such directions, either orally or in writing, as he may consider necessary to— [1902, s. 28.]

(a) secure the orderly conduct of persons constituting processions and assemblies in streets;

(b) prescribe the routes by which and the times at which any such procession may, or may not, pass;

(c) prevent obstructions on the occasion of all processions and assemblies and in the neighbourhood of all places of worship during the time of public worship, and in all cases when any street or public place or place of public resort may be thronged or liable to be obstructed;

(d) keep order on and in all streets, quays, wharves and landing-places, and all other public places or places of public resort; or

(e) regulate and control music, the beating of drums, tom-toms and other instruments, and the blowing or sounding of horns or other noisy instruments, in any street or any public place other than public buildings and the precincts thereof.

(2) The Commissioner of Police may also, subject to the control of the Lieutenant-Governor, whenever and for such time as he may consider it necessary to do so for the preservation of the public peace or public safety, by notification, publicly promulgated or addressed to individuals, prohibit—

(i) the carrying of swords, spears, bludgeons, guns or other offensive weapons in any public place;

The Calcutta and Suburban Police (Amendment) Bill, 1910.

(Clause 14.)

(ii) the carrying, collection and preparation of stones or other articles intended to be used as missiles, or of instruments or means of casting or impelling missiles;

(iii) the exhibition of persons, corpses, figures or effigies in any public place; and

(iv) the public utterance of cries, singing of songs or playing of music.

(2a) The Commissioner of Police may also, subject to the control of the Lieutenant-Governor, whenever and for such time as he may consider necessary, by notification, publicly promulgated or addressed to individuals, prohibit the delivery of public harangues, the use of gestures or mimetic representations, and the preparation, exhibition or dissemination of pictures, symbols, placards or any other object or thing, which—

(i) may be of a nature to outrage morality or decency, or

(ii) are likely, in the opinion of the Commissioner of Police, to inflame religious animosity or hostility between different classes, or to incite to the commission of an offence, to a disturbance of the public peace, or to resistance to, or contempt of, the law or lawful authority.

(3) The Commissioner of Police may also, by order in writing, prohibit any procession or public assembly, whenever and for so long as he considers such prohibition to be necessary for the preservation of the public peace or public safety:

Provided that no such prohibition shall remain in force for more than seven days without the sanction of the Lieutenant-Governor.

(4) The Commissioner of Police may also, subject to the orders of the Lieutenant-Governor, by public notice, temporarily reserve for any public purpose any street or public place, and prohibit persons from entering the area so reserved save under such conditions as may be prescribed by the Commissioner of Police.

(5) Whoever contravenes any direction, order or prohibition lawfully given or made under this section shall be liable,— [1902, s. 38.]

(i) if the direction, order or prohibition were given or made under sub-section (1) or sub-section (4)—to fine which may extend to one hundred rupees; or

(ii) if the prohibition were made under sub-section(2), sub-section (2a) or sub-section (3)—to imprisonment, with or without hard labour, for a term which may extend to one month, or to fine which may extend to one hundred rupees, or to both.

Enforcement of orders issued under the last foregoing section.

"B. (1) Whenever a notification, order in writing or public notice has been duly issued under sub-section (2), sub-section (2a), sub-section (3) or sub-section (4) of the last foregoing section, then— [1902, s. 127.]

(a) in the case of a notification issued under clause (i), clause (ii) or clause (iii) of the said sub-section (2), or in the case of a public notice issued under the said sub-section (4),—any Magistrate or any Police-officer, or

(b) in the case of a notification issued under clause (iv) of the said sub-section (2), or under the said sub-section (2a), or in the case of an order issued under the said sub-section (3),—any Magistrate or any Police-officer of or above the rank of Sub-inspector, may require any person acting or about to act contrary thereto to desist or to abstain from such action, and, in case of refusal or disobedience, may arrest such person.

The Calcutta and Suburban Police (Amendment) Bill, 1910.

(Clauses 15-15 C.)

(2) Any Magistrate or Police-officer acting under sub-section (1) may also seize anything used or about to be used in contravention of such notification, order or notice as aforesaid, and anything so seized shall be disposed of as any Magistrate having jurisdiction may order.

[1902, s. 26.]

Power to give directions to prevent disorder at places of public amusement, etc.

"C. (1) For the purpose of preventing serious disorder or manifest and imminent danger to the persons assembled at any place of public amusement, or at any assembly or meeting to which the public are invited or which is open to the public, the Police-officer of highest rank, superior to that of Head Constable, who is present may, subject to such rules, directions, and orders as may have been lawfully made, give such reasonable directions as he may think necessary as to the mode of admission of the public to, and for securing the peaceful and orderly conduct of persons attending at, such place, assembly or meeting; and all persons shall be bound to conform to such directions.

(2) The Police shall have free access to every such place of public amusement, assembly or meeting, for the purpose of giving effect to the provisions of sub-section (1) and to any direction given thereunder.

[1902, s. 127.]

(3) Whoever disobeys or fails to conform to any lawful and reasonable direction given by any Police-officer under sub-section (1) shall be liable to fine which may extend to one hundred rupees."

Amendment of section 66 of the Calcutta Act and section 40 of the Suburban Act.

15. After clause (4) of section 66 of the Calcutta Act, and after clause (4) of section 40 of the Suburban Act, the following shall be inserted, namely :—

Exposing or keeping articles so as to cause obstruction.

[Act XLVIII of 1860, s. 19, cl. 12.]

"(4a) whoever exposes or keeps any article so as to cause obstruction in any public thoroughfare."

New section 70A(1) for the Calcutta Act.

15A. After section 70 of the Calcutta Act the following shall be inserted, namely :—

Refuges for reception of certain classes of convicted beggars.

"70A(1). The Lieutenant-Governor may, by notification in the Calcutta Gazette declare any Institution, situated either in the town of Calcutta or in the suburbs thereof, to be a Refuge for the reception of aged, infirm or incurably diseased persons convicted and sentenced to imprisonment under section 70; and may, by like notification, cancel any such declaration."

New section 40A(1) for the Suburban Act.

15B. After section 40 of the Suburban Act the following shall be inserted, namely :—

Refuges for reception of certain classes of convicted beggars.

"40A(1). The Lieutenant-Governor may, by notification in the Calcutta Gazette, declare any Institution, situated either in the town of Calcutta or in the suburbs thereof, to be a Refuge for the reception of aged, infirm or incurably diseased persons convicted under clause (17) of section 40 and sentenced to imprisonment under section 48 in lieu of payment of any fine imposed under the said section 40;

and may, by like notification, cancel any such declaration."

Sub-sections (2) and (3) for section 70A of the Calcutta Act and section 40A of the Suburban Act.

15C. After the said sub-section (1) of section 70A of the Calcutta Act, and after the said sub-section (1) of section 40A of the Suburban Act, the following shall be inserted, namely :—

"(2) When any such person is so convicted and sentenced to imprisonment for any term, the Magistrate may, by written order, direct that he be taken to, and detained for the said term in, any Refuge notified under sub-section (1), instead of being imprisoned.

(3) If any such person escapes, before the expiration of the said term, from a Refuge to which he has been so taken, the Magistrate may cancel the order made under sub-section (1), and may direct that the said person shall be imprisoned, with or without hard labour, for the unexpired portion of the said term."

The Calcutta and Suburban Police (Amendment) Bill, 1910.

(Clauses 16-18.)

New section 72 (1) for the Calcutta Act.

16. The following sub-section shall be substituted for section 72 of the Calcutta Act, namely:—

"72. (1) Subject to the restrictions imposed by clause (b) of sub-section (1) of section 62B in the case of offences there referred to, any Police-officer may arrest without a warrant any person committing in his presence in any street or public place any offence punishable under— [1902, s. 34(1).]

Power to arrest without warrant.

(a) any section of this Act other than section 68B, or

(b) any rule made under this Act, or

(c) any other law for the time being in force,

if such person,—

(i) after being warned by a Police-officer persists in committing such offence, or

(ii) is unknown to such Police-officer and, when asked by such Police-officer to give his name and address, refuses to give the same, or gives a name or address which such Police-officer has reason to believe to be false or cannot then and there ascertain to be true, or

(iii) is unknown to such Police-officer, and his name and address cannot be ascertained then and there, and he refuses to accompany the Police-officer to a police-station on being required so to do.

Explanation.—This sub-section does not restrict the exercise by any Police-officer of any power of arrest conferred upon him by any other law." [1902, s. 34(1).]

New section 72 (1) or the Calcutta Act.

17. The following sub-section shall be substituted for section 43 of the Suburban Act, namely:—

"43. (1) Subject to the restrictions imposed by clause (b) of sub-section (1) of section 39B in the case of offences there referred to, any Police-officer may arrest without a warrant any person committing in his presence in any street or public place any offence punishable under—

Power to arrest without warrant.

(a) any section of this Act other than section 41A, or

(b) any rule made under this Act, or

(c) any other law for the time being in force,

if such person,—

(i) after being warned by a Police-officer, persists in committing such offence, or

(ii) is unknown to such Police-officer and, when asked by such Police-officer to give his name and address, refuses to give the same or gives a name or address which such Police-officer has reason to believe to be false or cannot then and there ascertain to be true, or

(iii) is unknown to such Police-officer, and his name and address cannot be ascertained then and there, and he refuses to accompany the Police-officer to a police-station on being required so to do.

Explanation.—This sub-section does not restrict the exercise by any Police-officer of any power of arrest conferred upon him by any other law."

New sub-section (2) for section 72 of the Calcutta Act and section 43 of the Suburban Act.

18. After the said sub-section (1) of section 72 of the Calcutta Act, and after the said sub-section (1) of section 43 of the Suburban Act, the following shall be inserted, namely:—

"(2) Should the true name and residence of any such person not be ascertained within twenty-four hours from the time of arrest, or should he fail to execute a recognizance for his [1902, s. 34 (2).]

The Calcutta and Suburban Police (Amendment) Bill, 1910.

(Clauses 19-21.)

appearance before a Magistrate, or, if so required, to furnish sureties, he shall forthwith be forwarded to a Magistrate having jurisdiction."

Amendment of sections 76 and 77 of the Calcutta Act and sections 45 and 46 of the Suburban Act.

19. For the words "station-house," wherever they occur in sections 76 and 77 of the Calcutta Act, and for the words "Police station-house" in section 45 of the Suburban Act, and for the words "station-house" wherever they occur in section 46 of the latter Act, the words "police-station" shall be substituted.

New sections 78A for the Calcutta Act and 47A for the Suburban Act.

20. The following section shall be inserted in the Calcutta Act as section 78A, and in the Suburban Act as section 47A, namely:—

Power of Commissioner of Police to require attendance and obtain statements of witnesses.

"(1) If, in the course of any investigation, the Commissioner of Police has reason to believe that a cognizable offence has been committed, he may, by order in writing, require the attendance, before himself or before any officer serving under him, not below the rank of Sub-Inspector, who is investigating a cognizable offence, of any person then being within the limits of the town or suburbs of Calcutta, or within thirty miles of such limits, who, from the information given or otherwise, appears to be acquainted with the facts or circumstances of the case; and such person shall attend as so required. [1902, ss. 62, 61(b).]

(2) The Commissioner of Police, or any officer aforesaid, may examine orally any person so attending, and may reduce into writing any statement made by him; and such person shall be bound to answer all questions relating to the case put to him by the Commissioner or such officer, other than questions the answers to which would have a tendency to expose him to a criminal charge or to a penalty or forfeiture.

(3) The Commissioner of Police may, in any case, forward to the Superintendent of Police of the district in which any person, from whom any information is required relating to the facts or circumstances of the case under investigation, is believed to be, such questions and such statement as may be necessary for the purpose of obtaining the information desired; and such Superintendent shall, on receipt thereof, cause such person to be examined orally, and his statement to be reduced into writing, in the same manner and subject to the same provisions as if an investigation were being made into such offence in such district, and shall forward the statement reduced into writing to the Commissioner of Police. [Act V of 1898, s. 544.]

(4) Subject to any rules made by the Lieutenant-Governor with the previous sanction of the Governor General in Council, the Commissioner of Police may, if he thinks fit, order payment, on the part of the Government, of the reasonable expenses of any person residing in the town or suburbs of Calcutta who attends for the purposes of any investigation before himself or any other Police-officer under this section, and shall order payment as aforesaid of the reasonable expenses of any person not so residing who attends as aforesaid.

Amendment of section 79 of the Calcutta Act.

20A. In section 79 of the Calcutta Act, after the words "by such warrant" the following shall be inserted, namely:—

"provided that no such warrant shall authorize any Police-Officer below the rank of Sub-Inspector to make any entry or search at night."

New sections 80A for the Calcutta Act and 47B for the Suburban Act.

21. The following section shall be inserted in the Calcutta Act as section 80A, and in the Suburban Act as section 47B, namely:—

Power to search for persons wrongfully confined.

"If information is given on oath to the Commissioner of Police that any person is confined under such circumstances that the confinement amounts to an offence, and if it is for any reason impracticable to make an application to a Magistrate under section 100 or section 552 of the Code of [1902, s. 68.]

The Calcutta and Suburban Police (Amendment) Bill, 1910.

(Clauses 22-24.)

Criminal Procedure, 1898, the Commissioner may issue a search-warrant to any Police-officer not below the rank of Sub-Inspector; and the officer to whom such warrant is directed may search for the person indicated in such warrant, in accordance with such directions as may be given therein; and the person, if found, shall immediately be taken before a Magistrate, who shall make such order as in the circumstances of the case seems proper." V of 189.

New section 80B for the Calcutta Act.

22. The following section shall be inserted in the Calcutta Act after the said section 80A, namely :—

When officer in charge of police-station may require another to issue search warrant.

"80B. (1) An officer in charge of a police-station in the town of Calcutta may require any officer in charge of a police-station in any part of Bengal, whether within or without the town of Calcutta, to cause a search to be made in any place, in any case in which the former officer might cause such search to be made within the limits of his own station. [1902, s. 68 Act V of 1898, s. 166.]

(2) Such officer, on being so required, shall proceed in accordance with the provisions of section 80 of this Act, or section 165 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, whichever is applicable, and shall forward the thing found (if any) to the officer at whose request the search was made." V of 1898.

New section 80C for the Calcutta Act and 47C for the Suburban Act.

22A. The following section shall be inserted in the Calcutta Act as section 80C and in the Suburban Act as section 47C, namely :—

Procedure in making searches.

"(1) Before any officer makes a search under this Act, he shall call upon two or more respectable persons to attend and witness the search. [1902, s. 104.]

(2) The search shall be made in the presence of such persons, and a list of all things seized in the course of the search, and of the places in which they are respectively found, shall be prepared by the said officer and signed by the said witnesses; but no person witnessing a search under this section shall be required to attend the Court as a witness of the search unless specially summoned by it.

(3) The occupant of the place searched, or some person in his behalf, shall, in every instance, be permitted to attend during the search; and a copy of the list prepared under sub-section (2), signed by the said witnesses, shall be delivered to such occupant or person at his request."

New sections 100 and 101 for the Calcutta Act.

24. For sections 100 and 101 of the Calcutta Act the following shall be substituted, namely :—

Police to take charge of unclaimed movable property.

"100. (1) The Police shall, for the purpose of safe custody, take temporary charge of— [1902, s. 47.]

(a) all unclaimed movable property found by them, and

(b) all movable property found lying in any public street, if the owner or the person in charge of such property, on being directed to remove the same, refuses or omits to do so within a reasonable time; and may, for the said purpose, take temporary charge of any unclaimed movable property made over to them.

(2) Property of which the Police have taken charge under sub-section (1) shall be handed over to the Commissioner of Police.

The Calcutta and Suburban Police (Amendment) Bill, 1910.

(Clause 25.)

Disposal of such property.

"101. (1) If the said property appears to have been left by a person who has died intestate, and not to be under two hundred rupees in value, the Commissioner of Police shall communicate with the Administrator-General, with a view to its being dealt with under the Administrator-General's Act, 1874, or any other law for the time being in force.

[1902, ss. 48, 49.]

II of 1874.

(2) In every other case the Commissioner of Police shall issue a proclamation specifying the articles of which such property consists, and requiring any person who may have a claim thereto to appear before himself or some other officer whom he appoints in this behalf and establish his claim within six months from the date of such proclamation.

(3) If the property, or any part thereof, is subject to speedy and natural decay, or consists of live-stock, or if the property appears to be of less value than five rupees, it may forthwith be sold by auction under the orders of the Commissioner of Police; and the net proceeds of such sale shall be dealt with in the same manner as is hereinafter provided for the disposal of the said property.

(4) The Commissioner of Police shall, on being satisfied of the title of any claimant to the possession or administration of any property referred to in sub-section (2), order the same to be delivered to him, after deduction or payment of the expenses properly incurred by the Police in the seizure and detention thereof.

(5) The Commissioner of Police may, at his discretion, before making any order under sub-section (4), take such security as he may think proper from the person to whom the said property is to be delivered; and nothing hereinbefore contained shall affect the right of any person to recover the whole or any part of such property from the person to whom it may have been delivered pursuant to such order.

(6) If no person establishes his claim to such property within the period prescribed in sub-section (2), it shall be at the disposal of the Government; and the property, or such part thereof as has not already been sold under sub-section (3), may be sold by auction under orders of the Commissioner of Police."

New sections 102A and 102B for the Calcutta Act and 49A and 49B for the Suburban Act.

25. The following sections shall be inserted in the Calcutta Act as sections 102A and 102B, and in the Suburban Act as sections 49A and 49B, respectively:—

Public notices how to be given.

"A. Any public notice required to be given under any of the provisions of this Act shall be in writing, shall be signed by the Commissioner of Police, and shall be published in the locality to be affected thereby, by affixing copies thereof in conspicuous public places, or by proclaming the same with beat of drum, or by advertising the same in such local newspapers, English or Vernacular, as the Commissioner of Police may deem fit, or by any two or more of these means and by any other means he may think suitable.

[1902, s. 137.]

Consent, etc., of Commissioner of Police or Police-officer how to be proved.

"B. Whenever under this Act or any rule made hereunder the doing or the omitting to do anything or the validity of anything depends upon the consent, approval, declaration, opinion or satisfaction of the Commissioner of Police or of any other Police-officer, a written document signed by the Commissioner of Police or by such officer, purporting to convey or set forth such consent, approval, declaration, opinion or satisfaction, shall be sufficient evidence thereof."

[1902, s. 138.]

The Calcutta and Suburban Police (Amendment) Bill, 1910.

(Clauses 25A-27.)

New sections 102C for the Calcutta Act and 49C for the Suburban Act.

25A. (1) The following section shall be inserted in the Calcutta Act as section 102C, namely :—

"C. Every license, written permission, notice, or other document [not being a summons or warrant or search-warrant, or a notification issued under sub-section (2a) of section 62A, or an order made under sub-section (3) of that section, or an order made under section 78A] required by this Act, or any rule made hereunder, to bear the signature of the Commissioner of Police, shall be deemed to be properly signed if it bears a facsimile of his signature stamped thereon." [1902, s. 139.]

Stamping of signature.

(2) The following section shall be inserted in the Suburban Act as section 49C, namely :—

"C. Every license, written permission, notice, or other document [not being a summons or warrant or search-warrant, or a notification issued under sub-section (2a) of section 39A, or an order made under sub-section (3) of that section, or an order made under section 47A] required by this Act, or any rule made hereunder, to bear the signature of the Commissioner of Police, shall be deemed to be properly signed if it bears a facsimile of his signature stamped thereon." [1902, s. 139.]

Stamping of signature.

Amendment of forms.

26. For Form A in the Schedule to the Calcutta Act, and for the form of certificate appended to the Suburban Act, the following shall be substituted, namely :—

"A. B. has been appointed a member of the Calcutta Police force, and is vested with the powers, functions and privileges of a Police-officer.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

THE PRESIDENCY COLLEGE.

The Hon'ble BABU BHUPENDRA NATH BASU asked :—

(a) What is the total estimate of the expenditure for the improvement and extension of the Presidency College?

(b) How much of this sum has already been spent, and what are the heads upon which the expenditure has been incurred?

The Hon'ble MR. GOURLAY replied :—

(a) "No detailed plans and estimates have yet been prepared in connection with the improvement and extension of the Presidency College; but the cost of the whole scheme has been roughly estimated at about 20 lakhs, and the Director of Public Instruction, Bengal, has been asked to draw up an ordered programme for gradually carrying out the scheme."

(b) "A sum of Rs. 3,19,684 has been spent on the acquisition of land. No other expenditure has been incurred."

The Hon'ble BABU BHUPENDRA NATH BASU asked the following supplementary question :—

"Does the Government treat the question of the removal of the Presidency College as a closed question or as one open to discussion?"

The PRESIDENT said :—"That question does not arise out of the answer that has been given."

THE LATE KHAN BAHADUR SHAMS-UL-ALAM, DEPUTY SUPERINTENDENT OF POLICE.

The Hon'ble DR. ABDULLAH-UL-MAMUN SAHRAWARDY asked :—

(a) Will the Government be pleased to state what measures it has in contemplation to make provision for the family of the late Khan Bahadur Shams-ul-Alam, Deputy Superintendent of Police?

(b) Is there any truth in the statement published in some newspapers that the Government has already made a grant of Rs. 1,500 to the family of the deceased ?

(c) Will the devolution of any grant, whether in money or land, which the Government may make to the family of the deceased, be governed by the Muslim Law of Inheritance ?

The Hon'ble MR. DUKE replied :—

(a) "Government proposes to provide for the family of the late Khan Bahadur Shams-ul-Alam by a grant of land yielding an income of about Rs. 5,000 annually.

"The arrangements for this grant are in progress."

(b) "The statement that a money grant of Rs. 1,500 has been made to the family to maintain them while the arrangements for the grant of land are being carried out is correct."

(c) "It is not the intention of Government to propose any special devolution of the grant which may be made for the family of the late Khan Bahadur."

THE BURDWAN POST-OFFICE.

The Hon'ble DR. ABDULLAH-UL-MAMUN SAHRAWARDY asked :—

Will the Government be pleased to state—

(i) the distance between the Burdwan Collectorate Treasury and the local Post-office ; and (ii) the number of Revenue Money-orders issued from the Post-office in January and September last ?

The Hon'ble MR. DUKE replied :—

(i) "The distance between the Burdwan Collectorate Treasury and the local post-office is slightly under 300 yards."

(ii) "The number of Revenue money-orders issued from the post-office in January and September last was 7,338 and 1,427, respectively."

The Hon'ble DR. ABDULLAH-UL-MAMUN SAHRAWARDY asked the following supplementary question :—

"Will the Government be pleased to hold an inquiry as to the reason why, in spite of the Post-office and the Collectorate Treasury being so close to each other, people resort to the Post-office for payment of Government revenue ?"

The Hon'ble MR. DUKE said :—

I regret I cannot answer this question without notice."

THE SYEDPUR TRUST ESTATE.

The Hon'ble DR. ABDULLAH-UL-MAMUN SAHRAWARDY asked :—

(a) Will the Government be pleased to state the antecedents and qualifications of the present Manager of the waqf estate of Haji Muhammad Muhsin, called the Syedpur Trust Estate, in the district of Khulna ?

(b) Was ever any effort made to appoint a qualified Muslim to the post ?

(c) Is it true that the said Manager has relations who are tenure-holders under the Trust Estate or proprietors of neighbouring lands ?

(d) Is it true that the said estate has recently lost in a civil suit a thousand bighas of valuable lands, which have passed into the possession of a local pleader, and that the estate had to pay Rs. 1,600 as costs of the litigation ?

(e) Is it true that in another suit, to which the said estate and a relation of the said Manager are parties, five thousand bighas of land have been attached under section 145 of the Code of Criminal Procedure ?

(f) Is it true that the net annual income of the said estate is Rs. 85,000, out of which Rs. 60,000 goes to the Muhsin Fund, Rs. 5,000 as management and audit rate, Rs. 4,000 as contribution to schools and hospitals and Rs. 4,000 as costs of establishment ? If so, will the Government be pleased to lay on the table a detailed account of the expenditure of the balance, Rs. 12,000 ?

(g) Is it true that, out of the fund reserved for contribution to schools, not a single penny goes to the 200 maktabs and madrasahs in the district of Khulna, while grants-in-aid are made to schools having no Muslim students on their rolls ? If so, will the Government be pleased to lay on the table a list of schools in receipt of grants-in-aid out of the said fund, together with a statement of the amount of such grants to each school and the number of Muslim students on its rolls ?

(h) In consideration of this Trust Estate being a Muslim waqf, will the Government be pleased to associate with the management thereof representative Muslim gentlemen of Bengal, or, in the alternative, to entrust a Muslim Government official with the task of supervising its management ?

The Hon'ble MR. DUKE replied:—

(a) " Babu Jotindra Nath Bose, the Manager of the Syedpur Trust Estate, prior to his appointment to his present post, had done eight years' service a Head Clerk of the Estate."

(b) " So far as Government is aware, no other candidate was in the field at the time of the present Manager's appointment. No occasion has ever arisen for making any change in the management."

(c) " It is true that the Manager has distant relatives who are tenure holders under the Trust Estate or proprietors of neighbouring lands. So far as Government is aware, however, the Manager has never allowed his relationship with these persons to influence him in the administration of his charge."

(d) " It is understood that the case referred to was a suit instituted by the Patnidars of Damodar which adjoins the Trust Estate Bil Dakatia. The Subordinate Judge decided in the plaintiffs' favour on the ground that the Survey Maps showed that the lands claimed by them appertained to Damodar. An appeal was preferred before the District Judge which was dismissed. The Collector, in consultation with the Government Pleader, decided not to prefer an appeal to the High Court. The Manager gave evidence in favour of the estate, but was in no way responsible for the conduct of the case. The estate had to pay Rs. 1,061 as costs."

(e) " It is understood that the case referred to is one in which certain lands claimed as belonging to Bil Dakatia were attached under section 146 of the Code of Criminal Procedure. The estate, however, was not a party to the case as Bil Dakatia was leased out in perpetuity in 1891. The estate loses nothing by the attachment as, under the terms of the lease, the lessees are bound to pay the full stipulated rent.

(f) " A statement abstracted from the budget estimates of the Syedpur Trust Estate for the year 1909-10 is laid on the table, which furnishes the information required by the Hon'ble Member."

(g) " A statement is placed on the table showing the schools in receipt of grants-in-aid from the Syedpur Trust Estate together with the amount of the grant and the number of Muhammadan students on the roll in each case. It will be observed that there are Muhammadan students in every school which receives a grant, with the exception of two Girls' Schools. It may be added that the Muhammadan students enjoy preferential treatment in respect of fees. Some pay at one-half or one-third rates, and many are free. As regards Madrasahs and Maktabs, only one Madrasah within the estate has applied for help, and a contribution has been granted. Only three Maktabs have asked for assistance. One application has been rejected, as the Maktab is situated outside the estate. The other two have only recently been started, and funds are not at present available for their assistance."

(h) "Government does not consider it desirable to make any change in the system of management, which is controlled by the Board of Revenue, and, under the Board, by the Collector."

MUHSIN WAQF ESTATES.

The Hon'ble DR. ABDULLAH-UL-MAMUN SAHRAWARDY asked :—

Will the Government be pleased to lay on the table an abstract account of the income and expenditure of the Muhsin Waqf estates?

The Hon'ble MR. DUKE replied :—

"The Muhsin Waqf Estate comprises all the properties included in the deed of endowment, some of which are not administered by Government. Government is consequently unable to furnish in full the information required. An account of the income and expenditure of the estates which are under the control of Government will be found in the Muhsin Endowment Budget, a copy of which for the year 1909-10 is placed on the table for information."

SUPERVISION OF MUSSALMAN EDUCATION.

The Hon'ble Dr. ABDULLAH-UL-MAMUN SAHRAWARDY asked:—

(a) Will the Government be pleased to state whether it intends to give effect to the recommendation of the Hon'ble Mr. Earle, as Director of Public Instruction, that of the existing superior staff, one Muslim officer in each Inspector's circle, either an Assistant Inspector or a selected Deputy Inspector, should be set apart for the supervision of Mussalman education?

(b) If so, when?

The Hon'ble MR. GOURLAY replied:—

"It is the intention of Government, gradually and in so far as is consistent with public interests, to give effect to Mr. Earle's proposals.

"Assistant Inspectors have already been appointed in the Patna and Tirhut Circle, the Presidency Circle and the Burdwan Circle. A Deputy Inspector has been appointed in the Bhagalpur Circle; and Sub-Inspectors have been appointed for Chota Nagpur and Orissa.

"The Government is fully alive to the importance of the subject."

The Hon'ble MR. SAIYID WASI AHMAD had given notice of the following questions:—

THE SONTHAL PARGANAS.

(a) Has the attention of the Government been drawn to the inconvenience suffered by the people of the Deoghur and Rajmahal Sub-divisions of the Sonthal Parganas, which are mostly inhabited by non-Sonthal people, owing to their being residents of a non-regulation area?

(b) Does the Government contemplate to convert that portion of the Sonthal Parganas which is outside the Damin into a Regulation district in the near future?

PLAGUE IN MONGHYR.

(a) Has the attention of the Government been drawn to the recrudescence of plague in Monghyr this year?

(b) Does the Government, in view of the almost continual recurrence of plague in Monghyr, contemplate taking any steps towards the prevention of future recurrence of the disease?

The Hon'ble Member being absent, the President declared the questions to have been withdrawn.

BUDGET FOR 1910-11.

The Hon'ble Mr. Wheeler presented the Budget of the Government of Bengal for 1910-11.

BUDGET OF THE GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL FOR 1910-11.

Part I.—General Review.

(1) ACCOUNTS FOR 1908-09.

In the revised estimate for 1908-09, which was laid before the Council on the 28th March 1909, the receipts of the year were taken at Rs. 5,58,55,000, and the charges at Rs. 5,71,06,000. The accounts of 1908-09, as finally closed, show that the actual receipts amounted to Rs. 5,59,03,006 and the charges to Rs. 5,72,33,377, while the closing balance was Rs. 58,43,588 against Rs. 58,77,000 anticipated when the last Financial Statement was presented.

(2) REVISED ESTIMATE, 1909-10.

2. The revised estimate for 1909-10, as now passed on the basis of the actuals of the first nine, and in some cases ten, months of the year is compared below with the sanctioned estimate for the year :—

	Sanctioned estimate.	Revised estimate.	Increase (+) or decrease (—).
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Opening Balance ...	58,77,000	58,43,000	—34,000
Revenue receipts ...	5,27,62,000	5,12,43,000	—15,19,000
Adjustments	32,73,000	65,00,000	+32,27,000
Total Receipts ...	5,60,35,000	5,77,43,000	+17,08,000
Grand Total ...	6,19,12,000	6,35,86,000	+16,74 000
Total Expenditure ...	5,69,12,000	5,48,49,000	—20,63,000
Closing Balance ...	50,00,000	87,37,000	+37,37,000

3. The increase under adjustments is due to the additional assignments from Imperial to Provincial detailed below :—

	Rs.
Grant to the Calcutta University, and for distribution to private Colleges	1,60,000
Grant for Archæological expenditure...	5,000
Grant in connection with Captain McCay's deputation to conduct an enquiry into the subject of Jail dietaries ...	13,000
Contribution by the Government of Eastern Bengal and Assam of a moiety of the cost of conducting the Overseer and Sub-Overseer examinations	4,000
Refund of the cost of training in agriculture of Babu Jatindra Nath Chakrabarti, who was deputed to America at the expense of the Government of Bengal, but whose services were subsequently transferred to Eastern Bengal and Assam	8,000
Cost of printing and publishing text-books for the High Proficiency and Degree of Honour examinations in the Tibetan language	2,000
For Capital expenditure on the Madaripur Bhil Route ...	2,000
Special contribution to general provincial revenues ...	30,42,000
	32,36,000
Deduct—
For retransfer to the Military Department of the management of the gardens at Government House, Calcutta	—8,000
For excess of receipts over charges of the office of the Agent for Government Consignments which has been provincialised (raised from Rs. 15,000 to Rs. 16,000)	—1,000
Total ...	32,27,000

4. The falling off of revenue is the net result of decreases under some heads and increases under others. The improvements aggregate Rs. 9,88,000, and are chiefly under the following heads :—

Land Revenue—(Rs. 3,36,000) due to the increased collection of arrears and larger receipts from the redemption of land revenue and the sale of Government estates.

Provincial Rates—(Rs. 2,19,000) due to the increased collection of arrears and larger collection of cess on coal-mines.

Courts of Law—(Rs. 12,000) under fees and fines.

Police—(Rs. 44,000) due to larger recoveries on account of punitive police.

Ports and Pilotage—(Rs. 19,000) mainly under Pilotage receipts.

Miscellaneous—(Rs. 77,000) on account of the sale proceeds of the steam-trawler Golden Crown and a part of the sale-proceeds of the Jorabagan thana building.

Irrigation Major Works—(Rs. 2,72,000) chiefly owing to larger receipts from water-rates.

The decreases, on the other hand, aggregate Rs. 25,07,000, falling chiefly under the following heads :—

Stamps—(Rs. 4,50,000) chiefly under court-fee stamps and partly also under general stamps ; attributed to stagnation in trade.

Excise—(Rs 5,75,000). The settlements of shops were very unfavourable, probably owing to the continuance of high prices, and the extension of the contract distillery system in Bihar has so far reduced the revenue.

Assessed Taxes—(Rs. 1,25,000) owing to depression in trade.

Forests—(Rs. 1,50,000) owing to depression in the timber trade.

Registration—(Rs. 1,70,000) owing chiefly to a decrease in the number of registrations effected.

Interest—(Rs 3,78,000) chiefly under loans to cultivators and partly also under loans to land-holders.

Jails—(Rs. 3 55,000) owing to the decrease in the receipts from jail manufactures on account of smaller demands from the Ordnance Department.

Education—(Rs. 1,78,000) owing to no refunds having been received from District Boards out of the grants made to them for primary school buildings, whereas two lakhs were anticipated from this source at the time the budget was framed.

Scientific and other Minor Departments—(Rs. 48,000) owing to smaller receipts from the sale of quinine.

Irrigation—Minor Works and Navigation—(Rs. 49,000) due to a falling off under navigation receipts owing to the cyclone in October 1909, and to slackness in the jute traffic.

5. On the expenditure side the revised estimate shows a total decrease of Rs. 30,15,000, which is mainly accounted for under the following heads :—

Land Revenue—(Rs. 2,90,000) partly under salaries of officers, partly under net charges of Partition establishments, and partly on account of the delay in giving effect to the recommendations of the Ministerial Officers' Salaries Committee. A lump grant of Rs. 50,000 for Additional Deputy Magistrates and Deputy Collectors was also not utilised, and there were savings under survey and settlement and land records.

Interest—(Rs. 71,000) due to the smaller outstanding balances under the Provincial Loans Accounts.

Police—(Rs. 3,72,000) mainly on account of savings in the grants for grain and conveyance allowances, to savings under constables' pay due to vacancies in the force, to the non-entertainment of additional railway police, and to savings under the head of Contingencies.

Ports and Pilotage—(Rs. 96,000) chiefly owing to the postponement of expenditure on the purchase of new boilers for the S. S Guide, and to anticipated savings under Pilotage and Pilot establishments.

Medical—(Rs. 1,81,000) due chiefly to savings under District Medical establishments, and smaller grants for plague preventive measures.

Scientific and other Minor Departments—(Rs. 2,16.000) chiefly under the Agricultural Department, and partly also under Veterinary charges, Botanic and other public gardens, Inspector of Factories, and Gazetteer revision.

Miscellaneous—(Rs. 1,44,000) savings in the grant for donations for charitable purposes, petty establishments, Fishery enquiries, the lump provision for grants to District Funds and other miscellaneous charges.

Famine Relief—(Rs. 6,06,000) owing to the necessity for relief measures having been less than was anticipated.

Civil Works in charge of Civil Officers—(Rs. 8,00,000) on account of transfers to other heads.

On the other hand, there was a total increase in expenditure of Rs. 9,52,000, the largest items of which are noted below :—

Courts of Law—(Rs. 3,84,000) specially under Law charges in connection with political cases.

Jails—(Rs. 1,00,000) due to the opening of the new Presidency Jail, and an increase in dietary charges owing to an increase in the number of prisoners.

Civil Works in charge of the Public Works Department—(Rs. 3,90,000) owing to additional grants sanctioned during the year to meet urgent requirements.

6. The net result of these changes is that the closing balance of 1909-10, including the sum of 50 lakhs held in trust for the Calcutta Improvement Scheme, which was estimated in March last at Rs. 50,00,000, is now placed at Rs. 87,37,000. The increase is chiefly due to the special subvention of Rs. 30,42,000 given by the Government of India, partly to restore the normal scale of expenditure on Civil Works, and partly to raise the closing balance to the prescribed minimum of 20 lakhs in 1910-11.

(3) BUDGET ESTIMATE, 1910-11.

7. The opening balance of 1910-11 is the closing balance of 1909-10, and is therefore Rs. 87,37,000.

8. The estimates for the year, as approved by the Government of India, show receipts aggregating Rs. 5,58,09,000, an expenditure of Rs. 5,75,46,000, and a closing balance of Rs. 70,00,000. The special grant of 50 lakhs for the Calcutta Improvement Scheme, which is held in trust by Government, is included in the Provincial accounts. It is estimated therefore that, leaving aside this amount, the balance at the close of 1910-11 will be 20 lakhs, which is the prescribed minimum.

9. The estimate of receipts includes the following special assignments from Imperial Revenues:—

	Rs.

10. On the expenditure side, the total estimated charges for 1910-11 are Rs. 5,75,46,000, which is in excess of the income by Rs. 17,37,000.

11. A schedule is attached showing the new schemes costing individually more than Rs. 5,000 which have been included in the budget. The non-recurring charges on account of these schemes amount to Rs. 7,61,812, and the recurring charges to Rs. 15,90,736. Besides these, the budget includes the following new schemes of a more or less petty nature which are individually estimated to cost Rs. 5,000 or less :—

12. Appendix C shows the transactions of District Boards and District Road Committees, the figures in the column of estimates representing the sums passed by the Commissioners of Divisions. This statement does not form any part of the Provincial Budget, but is annexed thereto for convenience of reference.

PART II.—Detailed remarks on the Budget for 1910-11.

RECEIPTS.

13. Land Revenue.—The total collections under this head in 1908-09 amounted to Rs. 2,92,73,443 and the estimate for 1910-11, as provisionally passed by the Government of India, is Rs. 3,02,92,000, against Rs. 3,04,63,000 the revised estimate for 1909-10. The estimate includes Rs. 11,55,000 for recoveries of Survey and Settlement charges, against Rs. 9,60,000 provided for in the revised estimate for 1909-10.

14. The estimated Provincial share of Land Revenue is calculated as follows:—

	Estimate, 1910-11. Rs.
Gross Land Revenue	3,02,92,000
Deduct estimated collections from Government Estates (wholly Provincial)	34,67,000
Deduct recoveries of Survey and Settlement charges (wholly Imperial)	11,55,000
Total Deductions ...	46,22,000
Net amount divisible between Imperial and Provincial funds	2,56,70,000
Provincial share (one-half)	1,28,35,000
Add collections from Government Estates (wholly Provincial)	34,67,000
Total Provincial ...	1,63,02,000
Add adjustments as in Appendix A	33,64,000
Total Provincial Receipts ...	1,96,66,000

15. Stamps.—The budget estimate of the total revenue from Stamps for 1909-10 was passed by the Government of India at Rs. 1,65,00,000. The actuals in 1908-09 amounted to Rs. 1,55,99,838. The actuals of the first ten months of 1909-10, exclusive of receipts on account of unified stamps used as receipt stamps, show a small decrease of Rs. 2,000 as compared with the figures for the corresponding period of the preceding year. In view of the actuals for 1908-09, the revised estimate for 1909-10 has been reduced from Rs. 1,65,00,000 to Rs. 1,56,00,000. The estimate for 1910-11, which has been placed at Rs. 1,67,86,000, allows for a progressive increase of five lakhs, and includes Rs. 6,86,000 being the expected proceeds of the new scheme of taxation sanctioned by the Government of India by the enhancement of the present duties levied on debentures, share warrants to bearer, transfers of shares and debentures, agreements or memoranda of agreements relating to the sale of shares and securities, bills of exchange and probate. The Provincial share is one-half, and thus amounts to Rs. 78,00,000 for 1909-10 and Rs. 83,93,000 for 1910-11.

16. Excise.—The revenue from Excise for 1909-10 was estimated at Rs. 1,79,00,000. The actuals of 1908-09 amounted to Rs. 1,70,01,004, while the figures for the first ten months of 1909-10 show a decrease of Rs. 2,61,000 as compared with the actuals of the corresponding period of the preceding year. The decrease in 1909-10 is due to the introduction of the contract distillery system in certain districts of Bihar and to the unfavourable result of the settlements of shops. The revised estimate for the year has therefore been passed for Rs. 1,67,50,000; and allowing for a progressive increase of two and half lakhs and for the expected proceeds from the new scheme of taxation, increasing the tariff rates on beer and spirits, amounting to Rs. 52,000, the estimate for 1910-11 has been placed at Rs. 1,70,52,000. The Provincial share (one-half) amounts to Rs. 83,75,000 and Rs. 85,26,000, respectively.

17. Provincial Rates.—The actual collections of Public Works Cess in 1908-09 amounted to Rs. 36,60,066, and the estimate for 1909-10 was Rs. 36,53,000. The receipts in the first nine months of 1909-10, however, show an increase of Rs. 1,91,000 over those of the corresponding period of the previous year. The annual valuation of existing mines and the first assessment of new mines which were opened in consequence of the development of the coal industry, together with the completion of valuation operations in the Sonthal Parganas, raised the total demand for Public Works Cess for 1908-09 by about Rs. 1,36,000, but the collections in that year were not in proportion to the demand. The arrears are being collected in 1909-10, and the revised estimate for the year has accordingly been placed at Rs. 38,70,000. A reduction in the annual profits of coal mines is anticipated, and there will be smaller arrears to be collected in 1910-11; the estimate for that year has therefore been placed at Rs. 37,90,000. Under "General Rates for the management of Private Estates" the estimate is Rs. 1,85,000, against Rs. 1,63,000, the sanctioned estimate for 1909-10. The increase is due to the levy of higher rates to meet the cost of the Lady Legal Adviser to parda nashin ladies, and her establishment, etc. The total estimate for 1910-11 is therefore Rs. (37,90,000+1,85,000=) 39,75,000.

18. Assessed Taxes.—The budget estimate of receipts from Income-tax for 1909-10 was Rs. 58,00,000. The actual collections in the first ten months of the year amounted to Rs. 44,58,000. For the remaining two months of the year the receipts have been taken at Rs. 10,92,000, and the revised estimate has been placed at Rs. 55,50,000. The estimate for 1910-11 allows for an increase of Rs. 3,50,000, and stands at Rs. 59,00,000. The Provincial share (one-half) amounts to Rs. 29,50,000.

19. Forests.—The total receipts under this head for 1910-11 are estimated at Rs. 11,00,000, against Rs. 10,00,000 the revised estimate for 1909-10, and Rs. 11,84,846 the actuals of 1908-09. The Provincial share is one-half, and amounts to Rs. 5,50,000.

20. Registration.—The budget estimate under this head for 1909-10 was Rs. 15,50,000. The collections during the first ten months of 1909-10 show a decrease of Rs. 46,000 as compared with those of the corresponding period of the preceding year, and as the actuals of 1908-09 were Rs. 14,26,043, the revised estimate has been reduced to Rs. 13,80,000, while the estimate for 1910-11 has been passed for Rs. 14,87,000 after providing for a normal increase of Rs. 1,07,000 over the revised estimate for 1909-10. The decrease in 1909-10 is attributed to the smaller number of registrations effected. The receipts of this department are wholly Provincial.

21. Interest.—The estimate of loans, as submitted to the Government of India, provides for a return in the way of interest during 1910-11 of Rs. 8,53,000, as shown below:—

	Rs.
Interest on advances to cultivators, etc.	4,26,000
" " drainage and embankment advances	27,000
" " loans to land-holders	1,73,000
" " " to Municipalities and District Boards, etc. ...	1,84,000
Miscellaneous	43,000
Total ...	8,53,000

22. Law and Justice—Courts of Law.—The actuals in 1908-09 amounted to Rs. 6,39,469, and the receipts in the first nine months of 1909-10 show a decrease of Rs. 30,000 as compared with those of the corresponding period of the previous year. In view of the actuals for 1908-09, the revised estimate for 1909-10 has been placed at Rs. 6,12,000, against Rs. 6,00,000 originally passed. The estimate for 1910-11 has been passed for Rs. 6,24,000.

23. Jails.—The actuals for the nine months ending the 31st December 1909 show a decrease of Rs. 25,000 as compared with the previous year, and a further decrease is anticipated. The actuals of 1908-09 were Rs. 9,21,281, and the revised estimate for 1909-10 has been reduced to Rs. 8,13,000. The estimate for 1910-11 has been passed for Rs. 9,64,000.

24. Police.—The actuals of the nine months ending the 31st December 1909 show an increase of Rs. 38,000 over those of the corresponding period of the previous year, and as the actuals of 1908-09 were Rs. 1,80,904, the revised estimate for 1909-10 has been placed at Rs. 1,89,000. The estimate for 1910-11 is Rs. 1,67,000, as smaller recoveries are anticipated on account of punitive police.

25. Ports and Pilotage.—The budget estimate for 1909-10 was Rs. 15,31,000. This has been raised to Rs. 15,50,000 in the revised estimate, with reference to the actuals of the first nine months of 1909-10. The estimate for 1910-11 is Rs. 15,48,000.

26. Education.—The actuals in 1908-09 amounted to Rs. 7,18,358 and included more than 1½ lakhs, being the refunds made by District Boards of the amounts placed at their disposal in the previous years for the construction of primary school buildings. As further refunds amounting to two lakhs were expected in 1909-10, the budget for the year was passed for Rs. 7,75,000. The actual collections of the first nine months, however, show that nothing has been thus refunded by District Boards. The revised estimate has accordingly been reduced to Rs. 5,97,000, while the estimate for 1910-11 has been placed at Rs. 6,00,000.

27. Medical.—The budget estimate for 1909-10 was Rs. 2,90,000, against Rs. 2,81,855 the actuals of 1908-09. The actual receipts during the first nine months of 1909-10 do not show any marked improvement over those of the corresponding period of the previous year, and the revised estimate for 1909-10 has been placed at Rs. 2,84,000. The increase anticipated in 1909-10 under "Hospital receipts" has not been realized. The estimate for 1910-11 has been placed at Rs. 2,98,000, in view of the increased contributions promised by the Calcutta Corporation to the Campbell and Sambhu Nath Pandit Hospitals.

28. Scientific and Other Minor Departments.—The estimate for 1909-10 was Rs. 3,31,000, against Rs. 2,86,008 the actuals of 1908-09. The Superintendent, Cinchona Plantation, anticipated larger sales of sulphate of quinine in 1909-10, but the actual receipts in the first nine months of the year show a falling off of Rs. 23,000 as compared with those of the corresponding period of the previous year. The revised estimate for 1909-10 has therefore been placed at Rs. 2,83,000. As an increase is expected from the sale of quinine in 1910-11, and as the Director of Agriculture also anticipates an increase in the receipts from experimental farms, the estimate for that year has been passed for Rs. 3,87,000.

29. Receipts in aid of Superannuation.—The budget estimate for 1910-11 is Rs. 61,000, against Rs. 64,000 the revised estimate for 1909-10, and Rs. 59,540 the actuals of 1908-09.

30. Stationery and Printing.—The estimate under this head for 1910-11 is Rs. 1,34,000, against Rs. 1,25,000 the revised estimate for 1909-10, and Rs. 1,29,070 the actuals of 1908-09. The estimate includes increased provision for work done for local and private bodies and miscellaneous receipts.

31. Miscellaneous.—The receipts for 1909-10 were estimated at Rs. 5,83,000, against Rs. 6,34,688 the actuals of 1908-09. In the revised estimate this has been raised to Rs. 6,60,000, including Rs. 60,000 being part of the sale-proceeds of the Jorabagan thana, and Rs. 40,000 being the sale-proceeds of the steam-trawler Golden Crown belonging to the Fishery Department. For 1910-11 the estimate has been placed at Rs. 7,42,000, including the balance of the anticipated sale-proceeds of the Jorabagan thana and Rs. 40,000, the sale-proceeds of the present Garden Reach thana buildings and land.

32. Irrigation—Major Works (Direct Receipts).—The budget estimate for 1909-10 is Rs. 24,36,000, which has been raised to Rs. 27,08,000 in the revised estimate, owing to an increase in the area irrigated. The estimate for 1910-11 has been passed for Rs. 25,92,000.

33. Irrigation—Minor Works and Navigation in charge of the Public Works Department.—The budget estimate for 1909-10 was Rs. 6,33,000, but in view of the collections in the first eight months of 1909-10, amounting to Rs. 3,49,000, as compared with Rs. 3,44,000 in the corresponding period of the previous year, the revised estimate has been reduced to Rs. 5,84,000, against Rs. 5,79,308 the actuals of 1908-09. The decrease is chiefly in navigation receipts from the Orissa and Calcutta canals, owing to the cyclone of October 1909, and also in the receipts from the Nadia rivers. The estimate for 1910-11 is Rs. 6,50,000, an increase being expected owing to the opening of the Ultadanga-Bamanghata Canal.

34. Civil Works in charge of the Public Works Department.—The budget estimate for 1909-10 was Rs. 3,55,000, against Rs. 3,48,202 the actuals of 1908-09. No improvement is now anticipated under this head in 1909-10, and the budget has been repeated in the revised estimate for 1909-10. The same amount has been taken as the estimate for 1910-11.

EXPENDITURE.

35. Refunds and Drawbacks.—The total Provincial expenditure in 1910-11 is estimated at Rs. 1,35,000, against Rs. 1,34,000 the budget estimate for 1909-10, and Rs. 1,31,332 the actuals of 1908-09. The estimates under this head are based, as usual, on the average actuals of the previous three years excluding special payments.

36. Assignments and Compensation.—The budget estimate for 1909-10 was Rs. 70,000, and this has been repeated as the estimate for 1910-11. The revised estimate has, however, been placed at Rs. 66,000 with reference to the actuals of the first nine months of 1909-10.

37. Land Revenue.—The total Provincial expenditure for 1910-11 is estimated at Rs. 39,86,000, against Rs. 37,10,000, the revised, and Rs. 40,00,000 the budget estimate, for 1909-10, as shown below:—

	1909-10. Budget.	1909-10. Revised.	1910-11, Budget.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
(1) Charges of District Administration	30,00,000	27,40,000	29,77,000
(2) Charges on account of Land Revenue collections ...	4,000	2,000	4,000
(3) Management of Government estates	3,57,000	3,45,000	4,29,000
(4) Survey and Settlement ...	2,58,000	2,45,000	1,60,000
(5) Land Records and Agriculture	4,41,000	3,78,000	4,86,000
	40,60,000		40,56,000
Lump reduction ...	60,000		70,000
Total ...	40,00,000	37,10,000	39,86,000

Under (1) a lump provision of Rs. 34,400 has been made for an increase in the number of Deputy Magistrates and Deputy Collectors, in order to meet the demands of the Settlement Department. A lump provision of Rs. 33,600 has also been made for the appointment of eight new Joint-Magistrates by promotion of Assistant Magistrates. The budget also includes Rs. 1,50,000 for the improvement of the prospects of ministerial officers, in accordance with the recommendations of the Ministerial Officers' Salaries Committee to which effect will be given from the 23rd May 1909, the date upon which the orders of the Secretary of State sanctioning the proposals were received in India. Under (3) a special provision of Rs. 40,000 has been made, in order to take up certain works of improvement in Government estates which are urgently required, and which cannot be financed from the Improvement grant as ordinarily calculated. A separate provision of Rs. 17,000 has also been entered for the management of the Hiranpore Market in the Sonthal Parganas, the accounts of which have hitherto been kept out of the provincial account. Under (5) Rs. 2,93,000 have been provided for initial expenditure in bringing the survey and settlement records in Orissa up to date, Rs. 88,000 for the revision of the record-of-rights in Orissa, Rs. 19,627 for the reproduction of maps, and Rs. 36,000 for the maintenance of records in Sambalpur.

38. Stamps.—The sanctioned estimate for 1909-10 was Rs. 5,05,000, but in the revised estimate this has been reduced to Rs. 4,70,000, owing chiefly to the smaller supply of stamp paper from the Central stores, consequent on the decrease in the sale of stamps, and smaller payments of discount on the sale of stamps. The budget for 1910-11 is Rs. 5,04,000, and closely follows the grant for the current year.

39. Excise.—The total expenditure for 1910-11 is estimated at Rs. 8,83,000, against Rs. 8,30,000 the budget grant for 1909-10. The increase is due to a lump provision of Rs. 32,000 for temporary establishment in connection with the introduction of the contract distillery system in the districts of the Patna and Tirhut Divisions; to a larger provision for travelling allowances which is incidental to the employment of larger establishments; and to larger grants under "Petty construction and repairs" in order to meet the cost of erecting warehouses in the Patna and Tirhut Divisions. The budget also includes provision for the Bengal share of the pay of a joint distillery expert for Bengal and Eastern Bengal and Assam.

The Provincial share (one-half) of the total expenditure is Rs. 4,42,000.

40. Provincial Rates.—The estimate for 1910-11 is Rs. 64,000, against Rs. 50,000, the sanctioned estimate for 1909-10, and Rs. 41,429 the actuals of 1908-09. The increase in the estimate is chiefly under "Collection charges," owing to a provision of Rs. 48,000 for the improvement of the prospects of ministerial officers. One-third of this charge is debitable to Provincial revenues, and two-thirds to District Funds. A small additional provision has also been made for the revaluation of certain chakran and ghatwali lands in Birbhum and other districts.

41. Assessed Taxes.—The estimate for 1910-11 is Rs. 1,63,000 against Rs. 1,64,000 the budget grant for 1909-10, and Rs. 1,60,003 the actuals of 1908-09. The decrease is due to the omission of provision for the revision of the establishment of the Calcutta Collectorate, which was entered in the budget for 1909-10. The Provincial share (one-half) of the total expenditure is Rs. 82,000.

42. Forests.—The total expenditure for 1910-11 is estimated at Rs. 6,65,000, against Rs. 5,87,000 the budget estimate for 1909-10, and Rs. 5,88,981 the actuals of 1908-09. The increase is chiefly due to the following causes:—

	Rs.
Acquisition of land in and along the Satikhola landslip, in the Darjeeling Division.	4,000
Payment to the Raja of Porahat, in the Singbhum Division, on account of profits of the Porahat Forest	20,000
Completion of Forest buildings in Kurseong	5,000
Part construction or purchase of a house for the Divisional Forest Officer, Chaibassa	3,000
Construction of a rest-house near the Ghish River, in the Tista Division	2,500
Construction of a new Forest office in the Sambalpur Division ...	4,200
Purchase of a new steam-cutter for the Sunderbans Division ...	4,000
Establishment for additional flats for the Sunderbans ...	2,000
Construction of quarters for clerks at Khulna	3,000
Reorganisation of the clerical staff of the Conservator's office ...	5,000

43. Registration.—The estimate for 1910-11 is Rs. 8,13,000, against Rs. 8,24,000, the budget grant for 1909-10, and Rs 8,14,977, the actuals of 1908-09. The budget for 1909-10 included a provision of Rs. 20,540 for the increase of the pay of ministerial officers. No definite proposals for the revision of salaries have been received, and no provision has been made on this account in the budget for 1910-11. On the other hand, provision has been made for a larger number of Sub-Registrars, and grants for temporary establishments and rent of offices for Sub-Registrars have been raised with reference to probable requirements.

44. Interest on ordinary Debt.—This is interest payable from the Provincial revenues to the Imperial Government on the amount advanced by the latter to the Provincial Government for loans to cultivators under the Agriculturists' Loans and Land Improvements Loans Acts, for advances to Co-operative Credit Socities, for advances on drainage and embankment schemes, for loans to notabilities and to municipalities and other public Corporations (excluding Presidency Corporations).

45. General Administration.—The estimate for 1910-11 has been passed for Rs. 21,02,000, and includes the following provisions:—

	Rs.
Additional establishment required in connection with the expansion of the Legislative Council	12,000
Additional grant for travelling allowances of non-official Members of Council	4,000
Salaries, establishment and contingencies of the Members of the Executive Council	2,00,000
Re-organization of the Chief Secretary's office	14,793
Ditto ditto Judicial Secretary's office	9,105
Ditto ditto Financial Secretary's office	8,946
Temporary establishment in the record-room of the Secretariat for copying correspondence for the Secretary of State ...	6,144
Temporary establishment in ditto for arranging and destroying old records	16,176

	Rs.
Personal allowance of the Uriya Translator	600
Temporary establishment in the Bengali Translator's office for the translation of Acts and Bills for the Government of India	3,300
Increased grant for the revision of the Customs Audit establishment	2,004

On the other hand, savings are anticipated in the salaries of the Hon'ble Members of the Board of Revenue to the extent of Rs. 50,000.

46. Law and Justice—Courts of Law.—The total charges for 1909-10 were originally estimated at Rs. 79,20,000, but in the revised estimate this has been raised to Rs. 83,04,000 with reference to the actuals of the first nine months of the year. The increase is large, and is chiefly due to heavy unforeseen law charges consequent upon the outbreak of political crime. The estimate for 1910-11 is Rs. 82,43,000. It includes provision for—(a) the revision of the establishment of the Insolvency Court, Rs. 24,820; (b) temporary establishment for an additional Judge of the High Court, Rs. 5,500; (c) the appointment of a Lady Legal Adviser to parda-nashin ladies, under the Court of Wards, Rs. 16,320; (d) the appointment of a new District Judge for Sambalpur and his establishment, etc., Rs. 52,000; (e) purchase of fire-extinguishing appliances for Civil Courts, Rs. 10,000; (f) improvement of prospects of ministerial officers in Civil and Criminal Courts, Rs. 2,00,000 for 1910-11 and Rs. 1,00,000 for the payment of arrears not drawn in 1909-10; (g) fees for the defence of paupers accused of murder, Rs. 5,000; and (h) temporary establishment for sorting the judicial records of the High Court, Rs. 3,500.

47. Jails.—The estimate for 1909-10 was Rs. 27,00,000, against Rs. 27,70,423 the actuals of 1908-09. The actuals of the first nine months of 1909-10 show an increase of Rs. 27,000 as compared with the figures of previous year under "Jails proper," and the total revised estimate for the year has accordingly been raised to Rs. 28,00,000. The increase is chiefly due to the opening of the new Presidency Jail, for which an additional grant of Rs. 69,000 was required, and also to the incidental charges connected with the packing and distributing of pice-packets of quinine, the demand for which has greatly increased. The estimate for 1910-11 is Rs. 28,71,000, and includes provision—(a) for the reorganization of the Jailor's Service sanctioned by the Government of India at a cost of Rs. 16,536; (b) for the appointment of clerks to assist Medical Officers in charge of subsidiary jails at a cost of Rs. 9,300; (c) for the appointment of circle reserve warders at a cost of Rs. 5,424; (d) for establishment and other charges in connection with the new Presidency Jail, which are estimated at Rs. 1,39,486; (e) for revision of the office establishment of the Inspector-General of Prisons, Rs. 2,000; (f) for the revision of factory establishments, Rs. 4,514; and (g) for the employment of two clerks in the Presidency Jail and six clerks in Central Jails, Rs. 3,840.

HEADS.	Actuals, 1908-09.	1909-10. Budget.	1909-10. Revised.	Estimate, 1910-11.

In connection with the budget for 1910-11, the Government of India have made an assignment of Rs. 3,17,000 representing the balance of the provincial share of the special grants for the purpose of giving effect to the reforms recommended by the Police Commission, and from this sum the following expenditure is proposed during 1910-11:—

	Rs.
District Police—

For house rent of married European sergeants and constables of the Calcutta Police	10,000
Increased grant for petty construction and repairs under District Police	50,000
Total ...	2,84,600

49. Ports and Pilotage.—The budget estimate under this head for 1909-10 stood originally at Rs. 12,44,000, but in the revised estimate this has been reduced to Rs. 11,48,000 with reference to the actuals of the first nine months of the year. The decrease is chiefly due to the postponement of the purchase of new boilers for the S.S. Guide, and to smaller expenditure on pilots. The estimate for 1910-11 has been placed at Rs. 12,93,000, and includes a provision of Rs. 57,000 for the purchase of two boilers for the S.S. Guide, a larger allotment for the repairs of Pilot vessels, made on the advice of the Dockyard authorities, larger provision for pilotage allowances to Pilots in anticipation of increased shipping, provision for the house allowances of the Deputy Shipping Master, Calcutta, the Assistant Shipping Master, Kidderpore, and the Surveyor and Assistant Surveyors of steam vessels, Calcutta, and for repairs to leadsmen's quarters.

50. Education.—The following table shows the charges under this head since the year 1906-07 :—

[The figures are in thousands.]

* Includes contributions to District Funds to establish equilibrium, previously shown under the head (since abolished) "Contributions from Provincial to Local."

The budget for 1910-11 includes the following items of expenditure :—

	Rs.
Strengthening the staff of Professors of Arts Colleges (additional)	42,000
Inspector of Technical Schools and Industries	17,000
Regrading the sub-inspectors transferred from District Boards to the Provincial Service	17,880
Preparation and translation and editing of the Senior Teachers' Manual	15,800
Preparation and translation of science text-books ...	9,200
Printing charges to be incurred by Inspectors for work done in private presses	3,300

51. Medical.—The budget grant under this head for 1909-10 was Rs. 25,20,000. This has been reduced to Rs. 23,39,000 in the revised estimate, with reference to the actuals of the first nine months of 1909-10. The saving is chiefly under "Medical Establishment" and was due to the non-utilization of the provision for the improvement of the pay of Civil Medical Assistants, to changes in the personnel, and to savings under "Reserve Medical subordinates"; the grants for plague preventive measures were also smaller than in the preceding year, and the provision for the improvement of the Sanitary Department was not expended, since no scheme has, as yet, been sanctioned. The estimate for 1910-11 has been passed for Rs. 25,16,000. It includes Rs. 5,000 for anti-malarial measures, Rs. 41,000 for the improvement of the pay of Assistant Surgeons, Rs. 32,520 for the improvement of the pay of Civil Medical Assistants, Rs. 4,800 for an Inspector of Septic Tank Installations, Rs. 2,000 for an enquiry in connection with Beri-beri which is now in progress, Rs. 6,000 for a Professor of Anatomy in the Medical College, Rs. 18,000 for the establishment and Rs. 50,675 for equipment required for the new Surgical Block at the Medical College Hospital, and Rs. 7,821 on account of the inclusion for the first time of the charges of the Chuni Lall Seal's Outdoor Dispensary in the Provincial account. Rupees 12,000 have been provided for contributions towards the construction of dispensary buildings at Rajmahal and Asansol.

52. Political.—The estimate for 1910-11 is Rs. 55,000, against Rs. 56,000 the budget estimate for 1909-10, and Rs. 52,404 the actuals of 1908-09. The figures call for no special remarks.

53. Scientific and other Minor Departments.—The estimate for 1910-11 is Rs. 14,32,000, against Rs. 14,05,000 the budget grant for 1909-10. Provision has been made in the budget for the following charges:—

	Rs.
Larger grants to Veterinary Dispensaries	7,000
Fittings of the Agricultural College at Sabaur	25,000
For purchase of cinchona bark	2,00,000
For a new pumping engine and boiler for the Royal Botanic Garden, Calcutta	5,600

54. Superannuation.—The charges under this head tend to rise year after year, owing to the increase in the number of claims to pension. The estimate for 1910-11 is Rs. 28,11,000, against Rs. 27,20,000 the revised estimate for 1909-10, and Rs. 26,27,146 the actuals of 1908-09.

55. Stationery and Printing.—The estimate for 1910-11 is Rs. 14,16,000, against Rs. 13,30,000 the revised estimate for 1909-10, and Rs. 13,35,983 the actuals of 1908-09. The following table compares the figures:—

HEADS.	Actuals, 1908-09.	Revised estimate, 1909-10.	Budget estimate, 1910-11.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Stationery Office at the Presidency ...	57,771	51,000	59,000
Stationery purchased in this country ...	33,646	33,000	34,000
Government Presses	5,71,336	5,70,000	6,47,500
Printing at private Presses	931	21,000	21,000
Stationery supplied from Central Stores ...	6,71,520	6,54,000	6,54,000
Refunds	779	1,000	500
Total ...	13,35,983	13,30,000	14,16,000

The increased provision under "Government Presses" is due to larger provision for overtime fees and the purchase of printing machines, and that under "Printing at private Presses" is on account of the printing of the Indian Law Reports.

56. Miscellaneous.—The budget estimate under this head for 1909-10 was Rs. 5,27,000, but in the revised estimate this has been reduced to Rs. 3,83,000. The decrease is due to smaller provision for rewards for proficiency in Oriental languages, smaller expenditure under donations for charitable purposes and the Fisheries Commission, and to savings under the lump provision for contributions to District Funds and other miscellaneous charges. The Budget for 1910-11 is Rs. 4,98,000, and includes a special provision of Rs. 1,00,000 to be placed at the disposal of His Honour for petty grants, an item which was formerly shown under "Civil Works in charge of Civil Officers." The charges for the Fishery Department are not shown here, but under "Scientific and Minor Departments," as the Department has been placed under the supervision of the Director of Agriculture.

57. Subsidised Companies, Land, etc.—The charges under this head represent the cost of acquisition of land for the Bengal Provincial Railway from Magra to Tarkeswar. This railway belongs to a private Company, but Government meets the cost of land acquisition.

58. Irrigation Minor Works (Working Expenses).—The actual charges during 1908-09 were Rs. 13,97,147, and Rs. 13,44,000 were passed as the budget grant for 1909-10. The revised estimate is Rs. 13,81,000, and the estimate for 1910-11, Rs. 13,50,000.

59. Irrigation Minor Works and Navigation in charge of the Public Works Department.—The actual expenditure during 1908-09 was Rs. 20,32,056. The budget grant for 1909-10 was Rs. 21,31,000, but in the revised estimate this has been raised to Rs. 21,50,000, chiefly on account of the additional grant of one lakh for the acquisition of land in connection with the Ultadanga-Bamangbata

Canal, while a sum of Rs. 37,218 has been transferred to "42—Major Works." The estimate for 1910-11 has been placed at Rs. 22,74,000. It includes Rs. 43,000 for capital expenditure on the Orissa Canals, chiefly for the raising of the flood-bank of the Pattamundi Canal, and for the construction of permanent outlets and new distributaries in progress since the previous year; Rs. 24,200 for the completion of the new Ultadanga-Bamanghata Canal; Rs. 3,42,000 for the Madaripur Bhil scheme; Rs. 40,000 for training works in the River Ganges; Rs. 30,000 for the construction of a lock at Utterbagh in connection with the Magrahât Drainage Scheme, and Rs. 2,15,000 for flood damage repairs to embankments in Midnapore and elsewhere. The estimate also includes provision for special repairs and silt clearance on the Orissa Coast Canal, and special repairs to the Chitpur Lock.

60. Civil Works.—The estimate of expenditure for 1910-11 has been placed at Rs. 52,59,000, against Rs. 49,00,000 the revised estimate for 1909-10, and Rs. 62,93,800 the actuals of 1908-09. The following figures show the distribution of the allotment as compared with the two preceding years:—

Midnapore Canal	1,56,521	1,53,330	1,74,734	1,70,000	1,92,500	1,93,000	Increase in water-rate was due to the irrigation of a larger kharif area in 1909-10; the leases, being for a term of years, will hold good for 1910-11.
Hijili Tidal Canal	71,515	58,703	46,055	62,000	77,500	73,000	Increase expected from navigation receipts, owing to good crops in the district of Balasore.
Sone Canals	15,64,819	16,63,360	18,71,088	16,75,000	19,20,000	18,22,000	Increase in water-rate was due to the larger area irrigated during 1908-09. The rabi area that will be irrigated in 1909-10 will be less than in 1908-09, owing to the favourable rainfall. Smaller receipts are therefore anticipated for 1910-11.

He said :—"Sir, I beg to lay on the table the Budget Estimates of Provincial Revenue and Expenditure in Bengal for the year 1910-11 as finally sanctioned by the Government of India.

"No alterations in the figures in the Revised Financial Statement presented on the 12th instant were necessitated by any Resolutions which were passed in this Council, and the Government of India have made no changes, in finally passing the Budget which necessitate any alterations in the grants under the major heads of account. The only alteration that has been made is the transfer both in the Revised Estimates for 1909-10 and in the Estimate for 1910-11 of a small provision of Rs. 20,000 under No. 30—'Stationery and Printing' for printing the Indian Law Reports which has been transferred from the minor head 'Government Presses' to that of 'Printing at private presses,' since this work is now being done at an outside press.

"A small correction has been made in the opening balance for 1908-09. It was found after some adjustment of the accounts that the year 1907-08 actually closed with a credit balance of Rs. 71,73,959 instead of Rs. 71,73,813 as previously reported, and this amount has accordingly been taken as the opening balance for 1908-09.

"Following the practice of the past two years, a statement has been furnished as Appendix C, which shows the transactions of District Boards and District Road Committees, the figures in the column of estimates representing the sums which have been passed by the Commissioners of Divisions. This statement does not form any part of the Provincial Budget, but it has been annexed for convenience of reference.

"The Budget will come up for general discussion on the 2nd April, and I would ask Hon'ble Members to extend to the various Members in charge of different departments the same courtesy that has been shown on previous occasions, and to give notice within the next two days of any points which they desire to raise in order that information may be collected, where necessary, regarding them."

THE CALCUTTA AND SUBURBAN POLICE (AMENDMENT) BILL, 1910.

The Hon'ble Mr. Duke presented the Report of the Select Committee on the Bill further to amend the Calcutta Police Act, 1866, and the Calcutta Suburban Police Act, 1866.

THE BENGAL CESS (AMENDMENT) BILL, 1910.

The Hon'ble Mr. Slacke presented the Report of the Select Committee on the Bill further to amend the Cess Act, 1880.

BUDGET FOR 1910-11.

The PRESIDENT said:—"Gentlemen, as Mr. Wheeler has just told you, the Budget will come up for discussion on Saturday, the 2nd April. I have considered whether it would be desirable to exercise the powers vested in me under rule 30, sub-clause (3) of the Rules for the discussion of the Budget and to fix a time-limit for speeches. I observe that this course has been followed by His Excellency the Viceroy in the Imperial Council. The corresponding rule in connection with the discussion of Resolutions on matters of general public interest applicable to this Council is that the mover of a Resolution and the Hon'ble Member in charge of the department are entitled to speak for not more than 30 minutes, while all other Members are limited to 15 minutes each. I am inclined to think that we might apply a similar rule on the occasion of the Budget discussion, and as there are no movers, no Resolutions can be moved. The effect of that would be to limit speeches to 15 minutes each. Unless that is inconvenient to any Member of the Council, I propose to fix a 15 minutes' time-limit. It is unfortunate that so many Members of the Council are absent to-day, but no doubt they will see my remarks in the newspapers. Of course, that limitation of 15 minutes will not be applicable to the Hon'ble the Finance Member, whose remarks may have to cover considerably more grounds than those of the other Hon'ble Members."

The Hon'ble BABU BHUPENDRA NATH BASU said:—"Would it not be more desirable if His Honour followed the precedent of the Supreme Council where the time-limit is 20 minutes?"

The PRESIDENT said:—"The only reason why I suggested the 15 minutes' time-limit was, as I have already said, to make it correspond with the time-limit in the case of Resolutions. But I am quite ready to accept the Hon'ble Member's suggestion, and will take it at 20 minutes."

The Council was then adjourned to Saturday, the 2nd April, 1910, at 11 A.M.

Bills introduced into the Council of the Governor General for making Laws and Regulations, or published under Rule 23.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

The following Bill was introduced in the Council of the Governor General of India for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 23rd March, 1910:—

No. 9 OF 1910.

THE INDIAN PATENTS AND DESIGNS BILL.

CONTENTS.

PRELIMINARY.

CLAUSES.

A

TO

Amend the law relating to the protection of Inventions and Designs.

WHEREAS it is expedient to amend the law relating to the protection of inventions and designs; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

PRELIMINARY.

Short title, extent and commencement.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Indian Patents and Designs Act, 19 .

(2) It extends to the whole of British India (including British Baluchistan and the Santhal Parganas); and

(3) It shall come into force on the Definitions.

2. In this Act, unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context,—

[New.] (1) "Advocate General" includes a Government Advocate:

[7 Edw. 7, c. 29, s. 93.] (2) "article" means (as respects designs) any article of manufacture and any substance artificial or natural, or partly artificial and partly natural:

[New.] (3) "Controller" means the Controller of Patents and Designs appointed under this Act:

[7 Edw. 7, c. 29, s. 93.] (4) "copyright" means the exclusive right to apply a design to any article in any class in which the design is registered:

[Ibid, s. 93.] (5) "design" means any design applicable to any article, whether the design is applicable for the pattern, or for the shape or configuration, or for the ornament thereof, or for any two or more of such purposes, and by whatever means it is applicable, whether by printing, painting, embroidering, weaving, sewing, modelling, casting, embossing, engraving, staining, or any other means whatever, manual, mechanical or chemical, separate or combined, but does not include any trade or property mark as defined in sections 478 and 479 of the Indian Penal Code: [XLV of 1860.]

[Act V, 1888, s. 4 (9).] (6) "District Court" has the meaning assigned to that expression by the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908: [V of 1908.]

[Ibid, s. 4 (10).] (7) "High Court" means the High Courts of Judicature at Fort William, Madras and Bombay, the High Court of Judicature for the North-Western Provinces, the Chief Court of the Punjab, and the Chief Court of Lower Burma, and such other Court as the Governor General in Council may, by notification in the Gazette of India, specify in this behalf:

[Cf. 7 Edw. 7, c. 29, s. 93.] (8) "invention" means any manner of new manufacture and includes an improvement and an alleged invention:

(9) "legal representative" means a person who in law represents the estate of a deceased person:

[Act V, 1888, s. 4 (6).] (10) "manufacture" includes any art, process or manner of producing, preparing or making an article, and also any article prepared or produced by manufacture:

(11) "patent," means a patent granted under the provisions of this Act:

[7 Edw. 7, c. 29, s. 93.] (12) "patentee" means the person for the time being entitled to the benefit of a patent:

[Ibid, s. 93.] (13) "prescribed" means prescribed by rules under this Act: and [Ibid, s. 93.] (14) "proprietor of a new and original design,"—

(a) where the author of the design, for good consideration, executes the work for some other person, means the person for whom the design is so executed; and

(b) where any person acquires the design or the right to apply the design to any article, either exclusively of any other person or otherwise, means, in the respect and to the extent in and to which the design or right has been so acquired, the person by whom the design or right is so acquired; and

(c) in any other case, means the author of the design:

and where the property in, or the right to apply, the design has devolved from the original proprietor upon any other person, includes that other person.

PART I.

PATENTS.

Application for and Grant of Patent.

Application.

[Cf. 7 Edw. 7, c. 29, s. 1, and Act V, 1888, s. 5.] 3. (1) An application for a patent may be made by any person whether he is a British subject or not, and whether alone or jointly with any other person.

(2) The application must be made in the prescribed form, and must be left at the Patent Office in the prescribed manner.

(3) The application must contain a statement to the effect that the applicant is in possession of an invention, whereof he, or in the case of a joint application one at least of the applicants, claims to be the true and first inventor or the legal representative or assign of such inventor and for which he desires to obtain a patent, and must be accompanied by a specification and by the prescribed fee.

[New.] (4) Where the true and first inventor is not a party to the application, the application must contain a statement of his name, and such particulars for his identification as may be prescribed, and the applicant must show that he is the legal representative or assign of such inventor.

[Cf. 7 Edw. 7, c. 29, s. 2.]

Specification.

4. (1) The specification must particularly describe and ascertain the nature of the invention and the manner in which the same is to be performed.

(2) Where the Controller deems it desirable, he may require that suitable drawings shall be supplied with the specification, or at any time before the acceptance of the application, and such drawings shall be deemed to form part of the specification.

(3) The specification must commence with the title, and must end with a distinct statement of the invention claimed.

[Cf. Act V, 1888, s. 5 (4).]

(4) If in any particular case the Controller considers that an application should be further supplemented by a model or sample of anything illustrating the invention or alleged to constitute an invention, such model or sample as he may require shall be furnished before the acceptance of the application, but such model or sample shall not be deemed to form part of the specification.

[Cf. 7 Edw. 7, c. 29, s. 3 (1), (2).]

Proceedings upon application.

5. (1) The Controller shall examine every application, and if he considers that—

(a) the nature of the invention is not fairly described, or

(b) the application, specification and drawings have not been prepared in the prescribed manner or relate to more than one invention, or

(c) the title does not sufficiently indicate the subject-matter of the invention, or

(d) the statement of claim does not sufficiently define the invention, or

(e) the invention as described and claimed is primâ facie not a new manufacture or improvement, he may refuse to accept the application or require that the application, specification or drawings be amended before he proceeds with the application; and in the latter case the application shall, if the Controller so directs, bear date as from the time when the requirement is complied with.

(2) Where the Controller refuses to accept an application or requires an amendment, the applicant may appeal from his decision to the Governor General in Council.

[7 Edw. 7, c. 29, s. 7 (6).]

(3) The investigations required by this section shall not be held in any way to guarantee the validity of any patent, and no liability shall be incurred by the Governor General in Council or any officer by reason of, or in connection with, any such investigation, or any proceeding consequent thereon.

[7 Edw. 7, c. 29, s. 6 (5).]

(4) Unless an application is accepted within nine months from the date of the application, the application shall (except where an appeal has been lodged) become void:

Provided that where an application is made for an extension of time for the acceptance of an application, the Controller shall, on payment of the prescribed fee, grant an extension of time to the extent applied for but not exceeding three months.

Advertisement on acceptance of application.

[Cf. 7 Edw. 7, c. 29, s. 9.]

6. On the acceptance of an application the Controller shall give notice thereof to the applicant and shall advertise the acceptance; and the application and specifications with the drawings (if any) shall be open to public inspection.

Use of invention on acceptance of application.

[Cf. 7 Edw. 7, c. 29, ss. 4 & 10.]

7. Where an application for a patent in respect of an invention has been accepted, the invention may, during the period between the date of application and the date of sealing such patent, be used and published without prejudice to the patent to be granted for the invention:

Provided that an applicant shall not be entitled to institute any proceedings for infringement unless and until a patent for the invention has been granted to him.

Inquiry before sealing patent.

[Cf. Act V, 1888, s. 6.]

8. After acceptance of an application and before sealing a patent the Controller may, if he thinks it advisable or is directed so to do by the Governor General in Council, refer the specification for inquiry and report to any person whom he thinks fit.

Opposition to grant of patent.

[Cf. 7 Edw. 7, c. 29, s. 11.]

9. (1) Any person may, on payment of the prescribed fee, at any time within three months from the date of the advertisement of the acceptance of an application, give notice at the Patent Office of opposition to the grant of the patent on any of the following grounds, namely:—

(a) that the applicant obtained the invention from him, or from a person of whom he is the legal representative or assign; or

(b) that the invention has been described or claimed in any specification filed in British India which is or will be of prior date to the patent, the grant of which is opposed; or

(c) that the nature of the invention or the manner in which it is to be performed is not sufficiently or fairly described and ascertained in the specification; or

[Cf. Act V, 1888, s. 21.]

(d) that the invention has been publicly used in any part of British India or has been made publicly known in any part of British India;

but on no other ground.

(2) Where such notice is given the Controller shall give notice of the opposition to the applicant, and shall on the expiration of those three months, after hearing the applicant and the opponent, if desirous of being heard, decide on the case.

(3) The decision of the Controller shall be subject to appeal to the Governor General in Council.

Grant and sealing of patent.

[Cf. 7 Edw. 7, c. 29, s. 12. Act V, 1888, s. 16.]

10. (1) If there is no opposition, or, in case of opposition, if the determination is in favour of the grant of a patent, a patent shall, on payment of the prescribed fee, be granted, subject to such conditions (if any) as the Governor General in Council thinks expedient, to the applicant, or in the case of a joint application to the applicants jointly, and the Controller shall cause the patent to be sealed with the seal of the Patent Office.

(2) A patent shall be sealed as soon as may be, and not after the expiration of fifteen months from the date of application:

Provided that,—

(a) where the Controller has allowed an extension of the time within which an application may be accepted, a further extension of four months after the said fifteen months shall be allowed for the sealing of the patent;

(b) where the sealing is delayed by an appeal to the Governor General in Council or by a reference under section 8 or by opposition to the grant of the patent, the patent may be sealed at such time as the Controller may direct;

(c) where the patent is granted to the legal representative of an applicant who has died before the expiration of the time which would otherwise be allowed for sealing the patent, the patent may be sealed at any time within twelve months after the date of his death;

(d) where in consequence of the neglect or failure of the applicant to pay any fee a patent cannot be sealed within the period allowed by this section, that period may, on payment of the prescribed fee and on compliance with the prescribed conditions, be extended to such an extent as may be prescribed.

[7 Edw. 7, c. 29, s. 13.]

Date of patent.

11. Except as otherwise expressly provided by this Act, a patent shall be dated and sealed as of the date of the application:

Provided that no proceedings shall be taken in respect of an infringement committed before the publication of the specification.

[Cf. ibid, s. 14; Act V, 1888, s. 8 (1).]

Effect, extent and form of patent.

12. (1) A patent sealed with the seal of the Patent Office shall, subject to the other provisions of this Act, confer on the patentee the exclusive privilege of making, selling and using the invention throughout British India and of authorizing others so to do:

(2) Every patent may be in the prescribed form and shall be granted for one invention only, but the specification may contain more than one claim; and it shall not be competent for any person in a suit or other proceeding to take any objection to a patent on the ground that it has been granted for more than one invention.

[Cf. 7 Edw. 7, c. 29, s. 15.]

Fraudulent applications for patents.

13. (1) A patent granted to the true and first inventor or his legal representative or assign shall not be invalidated by an application in fraud of him, or by protection obtained thereon or by any use or publication of the invention subsequent to that fraudulent application during the period of protection.

(2) Where a patent has been revoked on the ground of fraud, the Controller may, on the application of the true inventor or his legal representative or assign made in accordance with the provisions of this Act, grant to him a patent in lieu of and bearing the same date as the patent so revoked:

Provided that no suit shall be brought for any infringement of the patent so granted committed before the actual date when such patent was granted.

Term of Patent.

[7 Edw. 7, c. 29, s. 17.]

Term of patent.

14. (1) The term limited in every patent for the duration thereof shall, save as otherwise expressly provided by this Act, be fourteen years from its date.

(2) A patent shall, notwithstanding anything therein or in this Act, cease if the patentee fails to pay the prescribed fees within the prescribed times:

Provided that the Controller, upon the application of the patentee, shall, on receipt of such additional fee as may be prescribed, enlarge the time to such an extent as may be applied for but not exceeding three months.

(3) If any proceeding is taken in respect of an infringement of the patent committed after a failure to pay any fee within the prescribed time, and before any enlargement thereof, the Court before which the proceeding is taken may, if it thinks fit, refuse to award any damages in respect of such infringement.

[Ibid s. 18.]

Extension of term of patent.

15. (1) A patentee may, after advertising in the prescribed manner his intention to do so, present a petition to the Governor General in Council praying that his patent may be extended for a further term; but such petition must be left at the Patent Office at least six months before the time limited for the expiration of the patent and must be accompanied by the prescribed fee.

(2) Any person may give notice to the Controller of objection to the extension.

[Cf. Act V, 1888, s. 15.]

(3) Where a petition is presented under sub-section (1), the Governor General in Council may, as he thinks fit, dispose of the petition himself or refer it to a High Court for decision.

(4) If the petition be referred to a High Court, then on the hearing of such petition under this section the patentee, and any person who has given notice under sub-section (2) of objection, shall be made parties to the proceeding, and the Controller shall be entitled to appear and be heard.

(5) The Court to which the petition is referred shall, in considering its decision, have regard to the nature and merits of the invention in relation to the public, to the profits made by the patentee as such, and to all the circumstances of the case.

[Cf. Edw. 7, c. 29, s. 18 (5).]

(6) If it appears to the Governor General in Council, or to the High Court when the petition has been referred to it, that the patentee has been inadequately remunerated by his patent, the Governor General in Council or the High Court, as the case may be, may by order extend-the term of the patent for a further term not exceeding seven or, in exceptional cases, fourteen years, or may order the grant of a new patent for such term as may be specified in the order and containing any restriction, conditions and provisions which the Governor General in Council or the High Court, as the case may be, may think fit:

Provided that any patent so extended or granted shall, notwithstanding anything therein or in this Act cease if the inventor fails to pay before the expiration of each year the prescribed fee.

[7 Edw. 7, c. 29, s. 20.]

Restoration of lapsed patent.

16. (1) Where any patent has ceased owing to the failure of the patentee to pay any prescribed fee within the prescribed time, the patentee may apply to the Controller in the prescribed manner for an order for the restoration of the patent.

(2) Every such application shall contain a statement of the circumstances which have led to the omission of the payment of the prescribed fee.

(3) If it appears from such statement that the omission was unintentional and that no undue delay has occurred in the making of the application, the Controller shall advertise the application in the prescribed manner, and within such time as may be prescribed any person may give notice of opposition at the Patent Office.

(4) Where such notice is given the Controller shall notify the applicant thereof.

(5) After the expiration of the prescribed period the Controller shall hear the case and, subject to an appeal to the Governor General in Council, issue an order either restoring the patent or dismissing the application: Provided that in every order under this section restoring a patent such provisions as may be prescribed shall be inserted for the protection of persons who may have availed themselves of the subject-matter of the patent after the patent had ceased.

Amendment of application or specification.

[Ibid, s. 21.]

Amendment of application or specification by Controller.

17. (1) An applicant or a patentee may at any time, by request in writing left at the Patent Office, seek leave to amend his application or specification, including drawings forming part thereof, by way of disclaimer, correction or explanation, stating the nature of, and the reasons for, the proposed amendment.

(2) If the application for a patent has not been accepted, the Controller shall determine whether and subject to what conditions (if any) the amendment shall be allowed.

(3) In any other case the request and the nature of the proposed amendment shall be advertised in the prescribed manner, and at any time within three months from its first advertisement any person may give notice at the Patent Office of opposition to the amendment.

(4) Where such a notice is given the Controller shall give notice of the opposition to the person making the request, and shall hear and decide the case.

(5) Where no notice of opposition is given, or the person so giving notice of opposition does not appear, the Controller shall determine whether and subject to what conditions, if any, the amendment ought to be allowed.

(6) The decision of the Controller in either case shall be subject to an appeal to the Governor General in Council.

(7) No amendment shall be allowed that would make the application or specification, as amended, claim an invention substantially larger than, or substantially different from, the invention claimed by the application or specification as it stood before amendment.

(8) Leave to amend shall be conclusive as to the right of the party to make the amendment allowed, except in case of fraud; and the amendment shall be advertised in the prescribed manner, and shall in all Courts and for all purposes be deemed to form part of the application or specification.

(9) This section shall not apply when and so long as any suit for infringement or proceeding before a Court for the revocation of the patent is pending.

[7 Edw. 7, c. 29, s. 22.]

Amendment of specification by the Court.

18. In any suit for infringement of a patent or proceeding before a Court for the revocation of a patent the Court may by order allow the patentee to amend his specification by way of disclaimer in such manner, and subject to such terms as to costs, advertisement or otherwise, as the Court may think fit:

Provided that no amendment shall be so allowed that would make the specification, as amended, claim an invention substantially larger than, or substantially different from, the invention claimed by the specification as it stood before the amendment, and where an application for such an order is made to the Court notice of the application shall be given to the Controller, and the Controller shall have the right to appear and be heard.

[Ibid, s. 23.]

Restriction on recovery of damages.

19. Where an amendment of a specification by way of disclaimer, correction or explanation has been allowed under this Act, no damages shall be given in any suit in respect of the use of the invention before the disclaimer, correction or explanation unless the patentee establishes to the satisfaction of the Court that his original claim was framed in good faith and with reasonable skill and knowledge.

Register of Patents.

[Ibid, s. 28.]

Register of Patents.

20. (1) There shall be kept at the Patent Office a book called the Register of Patents, wherein shall be entered the names and addresses of grantees of patents, notifications of assignments and of transmissions of patents, of licenses under patents, and of amendments, extensions and revocations of patents, and such other matters affecting the validity or proprietorship of patents as may be prescribed.

(2) The register of inventions and address book existing at the commencement of this Act shall be incorporated with and form part of the register of patents under this Act.

(3) The register of patents shall be primâ facie evidence of any matters by this Act directed or authorised to be inserted therein.

[New: cf. Act XVI, 1908, s. 49.]

(4) Copies of deeds, licenses and any other documents affecting the proprietorship in any patent or in any license thereunder, must be supplied to the Controller in the prescribed manner for filing in the Patent Office, and, unless such copies have been so supplied, such deeds, licenses or other documents shall not be received as evidence of any transaction affecting a patent.

Crown.

[Cf. 7 Edw. 7, c. 29, s. 29; & Act V, 1888, s. 17.]

Patent to bind Crown.

21. Subject to any conditions which the Governor General in Council may have imposed, a patent shall have to all intents the like effect as against His Majesty as it has against a subject:

Provided that the officers or authorities administering any department of the service of His Majesty may by themselves, their agents, contractors or others, at any time after the application, use the invention for the services of the Crown, on such terms as may, either before or after the use thereof, be agreed on, with the approval of the Governor General in Council, between those officers or authorities and the patentee, or, in default of agreement, as may be settled by the Governor General in Council after hearing all parties interested.

Compulsory Licenses and Revocation.

[Cf. 7 Edw. 7, c. 29, s. 24; Act, V, 1888, s. 43.]

Compulsory licenses and revocation.

22. (1) Any person interested may present a petition to the Governor General in Council, which shall be left at the Patent Office, together with the prescribed fee, alleging that the reasonable requirements of the public with respect to a patented invention have not been satisfied, and praying for the grant of a compulsory license, or, in the alternative, for the revocation of the patent.

(2) The Governor General in Council shall consider the petition, and if the parties do not come to an arrangement between themselves the Governor General in Council, may, as he thinks fit, either dispose of the petition himself or refer it to a High Court for decision.

[New.]

(3) The provisions of sub-section (4) of section 15, prescribing the procedure to be followed in the case of references to the Court under that section, shall apply in the case of references made to the Court under this section.

(4) If the Governor General in Council is of opinion, or, where a reference has been made under sub-section (2) to a High Court, that Court finds, that the reasonable requirements of the public with reference to the patented invention have not been satisfied, the patentee may be ordered to grant licenses on such terms as the Governor General in Council or the High Court, as the case may be, may think just, or, if the Governor General in Council or the High Court is of opinion that the reasonable requirements of the public will not be satisfied by the grant of licenses, the patent may be revoked by order of the Governor General in Council or the High Court:

Provided that an order of revocation shall not be made before the expiration of four years from the date of the patent, or if the patentee gives satisfactory reasons for his default.

(5) For the purposes of this section the reasonable requirements of the public shall not be deemed to have been satisfied—

(a) if by reason of the default of the patentee to manufacture to an adequate extent and supply on reasonable terms the patented article, or any parts thereof which are necessary for its efficient working or to carry on the patented process to an adequate extent or to grant licenses on reasonable terms, any existing trade or industry, or the establishment of any new trade or industry in British India, is unfairly prejudiced, or the demand or the patented article or the article produced by the patented process is not reasonably met; or

(b) if any trade or industry in British India is unfairly prejudiced by the conditions attached by the patentee before or after the commencement of this Act to the purchase, hire or use of the patented article or to the using or working of the patented process.

(6) An order of the Governor General in Council or of the High Court directing the grant of any license under this section shall, without prejudice to any other method of enforcement, operate as if it were embodied in a deed granting a license and made between the parties to the proceeding.

Power of Controller to revoke surrendered patent.

[7 Edw. 7, c. 29, s. 26 (3).]

23. A patentee may at any time, by giving notice in the prescribed manner to the Controller, offer to surrender his patent, and the Controller may, if after giving notice of the offer and hearing all parties who desire to be heard he thinks fit, accept the offer, and thereupon make an order for the revocation of the patent.

Revocation of patent on public grounds.

[Act V, 1888, s. 27 (1).]

24. A patent shall be deemed to be revoked if the Governor General in Council declares, by notification in the Gazette of India, the patent or the mode in which it is exercised to be mischievous to the State or generally prejudicial to the public.

Legal Proceedings.

Petition for revocation of patent.

[Cf. 7 Edw. 7, c. 29, s. 25; Act V, 1888, ss. 30, 31.]

25. (1) Revocation of a patent in whole or in part may be obtained on petition to a High Court on all or any of the following grounds, namely:—

(a) that any invention included in the statement of claim is of no utility;

(b) that any invention included in the statement of claim was not, at the date of the application for a patent, a new invention within the meaning of this Act;

(c) that the applicant was not the inventor thereof or the assign or legal representative of the inventor thereof;

(d) that the original or any amended application or specification does not fulfil the requirements of this Act;

(e) that the applicant has knowingly or fraudulently included in the application for a patent or in the original or any amended specification, as his invention, something which was not new or whereof he was neither the inventor nor the assign nor the legal representative of such inventor;

(f) that the original or any subsequent application relating to the invention, or the original or any amended specification, contains a wilful or fraudulent mis-statement;

(g) that a part of the invention or the manner in which a part is to be made and used as described in the original or any amended specification, is not thereby sufficiently described, and that this insufficiency was fraudulent and is injurious to the public.

[Cf. 7. Edw. 7, c. 29, s. 25 (3).]

(2) A petition for revocation of a patent may be presented—

(a) by the Advocate General or any person authorized by him; or

(b) by any person alleging—

(i) that the patent was obtained in fraud of his rights or of the rights of any person under or through whom he claims; or

(ii) that he, or any person under or through whom he claims, was the true inventor of any invention included in the claim of the patentee; or

(iii) that he, or any person under or through whom he claims an interest in any trade, business or manufacture, had publicly manufactured, used or sold, within British India before the date of the patent, anything claimed by the patentee as his invention.

[Cf. Act V, 1888, s. 32.] V of 1908

(3) The High Court may, irrespective of any provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, in this behalf, require any person, other than the Advocate General or any person authorized by him, applying for the revocation of a patent to give security for the payment of all costs incurred or likely to be incurred by any person appearing to oppose the petition.

[Act V, 1888, s. 34.]

Notice of proceedings to persons interested.

26. (1) Notice of any petition for revocation of a patent under section 25 shall be served on all persons appearing from the register to be proprietors of that patent or to have shares or interests therein, and it shall not be necessary to serve the notice on any other person.

(2) The notice shall be deemed to be sufficiently served if a copy thereof is sent by post in a registered letter directed to the person and place for the time being stated in the register.

[Act V, 1888, s. 35.]

Framing issue for trial before other Courts.

27. (1) A High Court may, if it thinks fit, direct an issue for the trial, before itself or any other High Court, or any District Court, of any question arising upon a petition to itself under section 25, and the issue shall be tried accordingly.

(2) If the issue is directed to another Court, the finding shall be certified by that Court to the High Court directing the issue.

(3) If the issue is directed to a District Court, the finding of that Court shall not be subject to appeal, but the evidence taken upon the trial shall be recorded and a copy thereof, certified by the Judge of the Court, shall be transmitted, together with any remarks which he may think fit to make thereon, to the High Court directing the issue, and the High Court may thereupon act upon the finding of the District Court, or dispose of the petition upon the evidence recorded, or direct a new trial, as the justice of the case may require.

[Act V, 1888, s. 29.]

Suits for infringement of patents.

28. (1) A patentee may institute a suit in a District Court having jurisdiction to try the suit against any person who, during the continuance of a patent acquired by him under this Act in respect of an invention, makes, sells or uses the invention without his license, or counterfeits it or imitates it.

[7 Edw. 7, c. 29, s. 25.]

(2) Every ground on which a patent may be revoked under this Act shall be available by way of defence to a suit for infringement.

[7 Edw. 7, c. 29, s. 33.]

Exemption of innocent infringer from liability for damages.

29. A patentee shall not be entitled to recover any damages in respect of any infringement of a patent granted after the commencement of this Act from any defendant who proves that at the date of the infringement he was not aware, nor had reasonable means of making himself aware, of the existence of the patent, and the marking of an article with the word "patent," "patented," or any word or words expressing or implying that a patent has been obtained for the article, stamped, engraved, impressed on, or otherwise applied to the article, shall not be deemed to constitute notice of the existence of the patent unless the word or words are accompanied by the year and number of the patent:

Provided that nothing in this section shall affect any proceedings for an injuction.

[7 Edw. 7, c. 29, s. 34.]

Order for inspection, &c., in suit.

30. In a suit for infringement of a patent, the Court may, on the application of either party, make such order for an injunction, inspection or account, and impose such terms and give such directions respecting the same and the proceedings thereon, as the Court may see fit.

[Ibid, s. 35.]

Certificate of validity questioned and costs thereon.

31. In a suit for infringement of a patent the Court may certify that the validity of the patent came in question, and if the Court so certifies, then in any subsequent suit in that Court for infringement of the same patent the plaintiff on obtaining a final order or judgment in his favour shall, unless the Court trying the suit otherwise directs, have his full costs, charges and expenses of and incidental to the said suit properly incurred.

[Act V, 1888, s. 39.]

Transmission of decrees and orders to the Controller.

32. A Court making a decree in a suit under section 28 or an order on a petition under section 25 shall send a copy of the decree or order, as the case may be, to the Controller, who shall cause an entry thereof and reference thereto to be made in the register of patents.

[Ibid, s. 42.]

Power of High Court to stay proceedings, etc.

33. A High Court to which a petition has been presented under section 25 may stay proceedings on, or dismiss, the petition if in its opinion the petition would be disposed of more justly or conveniently by another High Court.

[7 Edw. 7, c. 29, s. 31.]

Hearing with assessor.

34. (1) In a suit or proceeding for infringement or revocation of a patent, the Court may, if it thinks fit, and shall on the request of either of the parties to the proceedings, call in the aid of an assessor specially qualified, and try the case wholly or partially with his assistance.

(2) A Court exercising appellate jurisdiction in respect of such suit or proceeding may, if it thinks fit, call in the aid of an assessor as aforesaid.

(3) The remuneration, if any, to be paid to an assessor under this section shall in every case be determined by the Court and be paid by it as part of the expenses of the execution of this Act.

[Ibid, s. 36.]

Remedy in case of groundless threats of legal proceedings.

35. Where any person claiming to be the patentee of an invention, by circulars, advertisements or otherwise, threatens any other person with any legal proceedings or liability in respect of any alleged infringement of the patent, any person aggrieved thereby may bring a suit against him in a District Court having jurisdiction to try the suit and may obtain an injunction against the continuance of such threats, and may recover such damage (if any) as he has sustained thereby if the alleged infringement to which the threats related was not in fact an infringement of any legal rights of the person making such threats :

Provided that this section shall not apply if the person making such threats with due diligence commences and prosecutes a suit for infringement of his patent.

Miscellaneous.

[Ibid, s. 37.]

Grant of patents to two or more persons.

36. Where, after the commencement of this Act, a patent is granted to two or more persons jointly, they shall, unless otherwise specified in the patent, be treated for the purpose of the devolution of the legal interest therein as joint tenants; but, subject to any contract to the contrary, each of such persons shall be entitled to use the invention for his own profit without accounting to the others, but shall not be entitled to grant a license without their consent, and, if any such person dies, his beneficial interest in the patent shall devolve on his legal representatives.

[Act V, 1888, s. 21.]

Novelty of invention.

37. (1) An invention shall be deemed a new invention within the meaning of this Act—

(a) if it has not, before the date of the application for a patent thereon, been publicly used in any part of British India or been made publicly known in any part of British India, and

(b) if the inventor has not by secret or experimental user made direct or indirect profits from his invention in excess of such an amount as the Court or the Governor General in Council, as the case may be, may, in consideration of all the circumstances of the case, deem reasonable. [New.]

[Act V, 1888, s. 21.]

(2) The public use or knowledge of an invention before the date of the application for a patent thereon shall not be deemed a public use or knowledge within the meaning of this Act if the knowledge has been obtained surreptitiously or in fraud of the inventor or has been communicated to the public in fraud of the inventor or in breach of confidence :

Provided that the inventor has not acquiesced in the public use of his invention, and that, within six months after the commencement of that use, he applies for a patent.

[7 Edw. 7, c. 29, s. 4]

Loss or destruction of patent.

38. If a patent is lost or destroyed, or its non-production is accounted for to the satisfaction of the Controller, the Controller may at any time seal a duplicate thereof.

[Ibid, s.]

Provisions as to exhibitions.

39. (1) The exhibition of an invention at an industrial or international exhibition, certified as such by the Governor General in Council, or the publication of any description of the invention during the period of the holding of the exhibition, or the use of the invention for the purpose of the exhibition in the place where the exhibition is held, or the use of the invention during the period of the holding of the exhibition by any person elsewhere, without the privity or consent of the inventor, shall not prejudice the right of the inventor to apply for and obtain a patent in respect of the invention or the validity of any patent granted on the application :

Provided that—

(a) the exhibitor, before exhibiting the invention, gives the Controller the prescribed notice of his intention to do so; and

(b) the application for a patent is made before or within six months from the date of the opening of the exhibition.

(2) The Governor General in Council may, by notification in the Gazette of India, apply this section to any exhibition mentioned in the notification in like manner as if it were an industrial or international exhibition certified as such by the Governor General in Council, and any such notification may provide that the exhibitor shall be relieved from the condition of giving notice to the Controller of his intention to exhibit, and shall be so relieved either absolutely or upon such terms and conditions as may be stated in the notification.

[Ibid, s. 47 (2)]

Models to be furnished to Indian Museum.

40. (1) The trustees of the Indian Museum may at any time require a patentee to furnish them with a model or sample of his invention on payment to the patentee of the cost of the manufacture of the model or sample, the amount to be settled, in case of dispute, by the Governor General in Council.

(2) The Local Government, after leaving in the Patent Office a notice in writing in this behalf, may, by notification in the local official Gazette, extend the provisions of this section to the case of any museum in a Presidency-town within the province:

Provided that the power of the Governor General in Council under sub-section (1) to settle the amount payable to the patentee shall in that case be exercised by the Local Government.

[7 Edw. 7, c. 29, s. 48.]

Foreign vessels in British Indian waters.

41. (1) A patent shall not prevent the use of an invention for the purposes of the navigation of a foreign vessel within the jurisdiction of any Court in British India, or the use of an invention in a foreign vessel within that jurisdiction, provided it is not used therein for or in connection with the manufacture or preparation of anything intended to be sold in or exported from British India.

(2) This section shall not extend to vessels of any foreign State of which the laws do not confer corresponding rights with respect to the use of inventions in British vessels while in the ports of that State, or in the waters within the jurisdiction of its Courts.

PART II.

DESIGNS.

Registration of Designs.

[Ibid, s. 49.]

Application for registration of designs.

42. (1) The Controller may, on the application of any person claiming to be the proprietor of any new or original design not previously published in British India, register the design under this Part.

(2) The application must be made in the prescribed form and must be left at the Patent Office in the prescribed manner and must be accompanied by the prescribed fee.

(3) The same design may be registered in more than one class, and, in case of doubt as to the class in which a design ought to be registered, the Controller may decide the question.

(4) The Controller may, if he thinks fit, refuse to register any design presented to him for registration, but any person aggrieved by any such refusal may appeal to the Governor General in Council.

(5) An application which, owing to any default or neglect on the part of the applicant, has not been completed so as to enable registration to be effected within the prescribed time shall be deemed to be abandoned.

(6) A design when registered shall be registered as of the date of the application for registration.

Registration of designs in new classes.

43. Where a design has been registered in one or more classes of goods, the application of the proprietor of the design to register it in some one or more other classes shall not be refused, nor shall the registration thereof be invalidated—

(a) on the ground of the design not being a new and original design, by reason only that it was so previously registered;

(b) on the ground of the design having been previously published in British India, by reason only that it has been applied to goods of any class in which it was so previously registered.

[7 Edw. 7, c. 29, s. 51.]

Certificate of registration.

44. (1) The Controller shall grant a certificate of registration to the proprietor of the design when registered.

(2) The Controller may, in case of loss of the original certificate, or in any other case in which he deems it expedient, furnish one or more copies of the certificate.

[Ibid, s. 52.]

Register of designs.

45. (1) There shall be kept at the Patent Office a book called the Register of Designs, wherein shall be entered the names and addresses of proprietors of registered designs, notifications of assignments and of transmissions of registered designs, and such other matters as may be prescribed.

(2) The register of designs existing at the commencement of this Act shall be incorporated with and form part of the register of designs under this Act.

(3) The register of designs shall be primâ facie evidence of any matters by this Act directed or authorized to be entered therein.

Copyright in Registered Designs.

[Ibid, s. 53]

Copyright on registration.

46. (1) When a design is registered, the registered proprietor of the design shall, subject to the provisions of this Act, have copyright in the design during five years from the date of registration.

(2) If within the prescribed time before the expiration of the said five years application for the extension of the period of copyright is made to the Controller in the prescribed manner, the Controller shall, on payment of the prescribed fee, extend the period of copyright for a second period of five years from the expiration of the original period of five years.

(3) If within the prescribed time before the expiration of such second period of five years application for the extension of the period of copyright is made to the Controller in the prescribed manner, the Controller may, subject to any rules under this Act, on payment of the prescribed fee, extend the period of copyright for a third period of five years from the expiration of the second period of five years.

[7 Edw. 7, c. 29, s. 54.]

Requirements before delivery on sale.

47. (1) Before delivery on sale of any articles to which a registered design has been applied, the proprietor shall—

(a) (if exact representations or specimens were not furnished on the application for registration), furnish to the Controller the prescribed number of exact representations or specimens of the design; and, if he fails to do so, the Controller may erase his name from the register, and thereupon the copyright in the design shall cease; and

(b) cause each such article to be marked with the prescribed mark, or with the prescribed words or figures, denoting that the design is registered; and, if he fails to do so, the proprietor shall not be entitled to recover any penalty or damages in respect of any infringement of his copyright in the design unless he shows that he took all proper steps to ensure the marking of the article, or unless he shows that the infringement took place after the person guilty thereof knew or had received notice of the existence of the copyright in the design.

(2) Where a representation is made to the Governor General in Council by or on behalf of any trade or industry that in the interests of the trade or industry it is expedient to dispense with or modify as regards any class or description of articles any of the requirements of this section as to marking, the Governor General in Council may, if he thinks fit, by rule under this Act dispense with or modify such requirements as regards any such class or description of articles to such extent and subject to such conditions as he thinks fit.

[7 Edw. 7, c. 29, s. 55.]

Effect of disclosure on copyright.

48. The disclosure of a design by the proprietor to any other person, in such circumstances as would make it contrary to good faith for that other person to use or publish the design, and the disclosure of a design in breach of good faith by any person other than the proprietor of the design, and the acceptance of a first and confidential order for goods bearing a new or original textile design intended for registration, shall not be deemed to be a publication of the design sufficient to invalidate the copyright thereof if registration thereof is obtained subsequently to the disclosure or acceptance.

[Ibid, s. 56.]

Inspection of registered designs.

49. (1) During the existence of copyright in a design, or such shorter period not being less than two years from the registration of the design as may be prescribed, the design shall not be open to inspection except by the proprietor or a person authorized in writing by him, or a person authorized by the Controller or by the Court, and furnishing such information as may enable the Controller to identify the design, and shall not be open to the inspection of any person except in the presence of the Controller, or of an officer acting under him and on payment of the prescribed fee; and the person making the inspection shall not be entitled to take any copy of the design, or of any part thereof:

Provided that, where registration of a design is refused on the ground of identity with a design already registered, the applicant for registration shall be entitled to inspect the design so registered.

(2) After the expiration of the copyright in a design, or such shorter period as aforesaid, the design shall be open to inspection, and copies thereof may be taken by any person on payment of the prescribed fee.

(3) Different periods may be prescribed under this section for different classes of goods.

[7 Edw. 7, c. 29, s. 57.]

Information as to existence of copyright.

50. On the request of any person furnishing such information as may enable the Controller to identify the design, and on payment of the prescribed fee, the Controller shall inform such person whether the registration still exists in respect of the design, and, if so, in respect of what classes of goods, and shall state the date of registration and the name and address of the registered proprietor.

Industrial and international exhibitions

[Ibid., s. 59.]

Provisions as to exhibitions.

51. (1) The exhibition at an industrial or international exhibition certified as such by the Governor General in Council, or the exhibition elsewhere during the period of the holding of the exhibition without the privity or consent of the proprietor, of a design, or of any article to which a design is applied, or the publication during the holding of any such exhibition of a description of a design, shall not prevent the design from being registered, or invalidate the registration thereof:

Provided that—

(a) the exhibitor, before exhibiting the design or article or publishing a description of the design, gives the Controller the prescribed notice of his intention to do so; and

(b) the application for registration is made before or within six months from the date of the opening of the exhibition.

(2) The Governor General in Council may, by notification in the Gazette of India, apply this section to any exhibition mentioned in the notification in like manner as if it were an industrial or international exhibition certified as such by the Governor General in Council, and any such notification may provide that the exhibitor shall be relieved from the condition of giving notice to the Controller of his intention to exhibit, and shall be so relieved either absolutely or upon such terms and conditions as may be stated in the notification.

Legal Proceedings.

[Ibid, s. 60.]

Piracy of registered design.

52. (1) During the existence of copyright in any design it shall not be lawful for any person—

(a) for the purpose of sale to apply or cause to be applied to any article in any class of goods in which the design is registered the design or any fraudulent or obvious imitation thereof, except with the license or written consent of the registered proprietor, or to do anything with a view to enable the design to be so applied; or,

(b) knowing that the design or any fraudulent or obvious imitation thereof has been applied to any article without the consent of the registered proprietor, to publish or expose or cause to be published or exposed for sale that article.

(2) If any person acts in contravention of this section, he shall be liable for every contravention—

(a) to pay to the registered proprietor of the design a sum not exceeding five hundred rupees recoverable as a contract debt, or

(b) if the proprietor elects to bring a suit for the recovery of damages for any such contravention, and for an injunction against the repetition thereof, to pay such damages as may be awarded and to be restrained by injunction accordingly:

Provided that the total sum recoverable in respect of any one design under clause (a) shall not exceed one thousand rupees.

[Act V, 1888, s. 57 (2).] (3) When the Court makes a decree in a suit under sub-section (2), it shall send a copy of the decree to the Controller, who shall cause an entry thereof to be made in the register of designs.

[7 Edw. 7, c. 29, s. 61.] Application of certain provisions of the Act as to patents to designs.

53. The provisions of this Act with regard to certificates of the validity of a patent, and to the remedy in case of groundless threats of legal proceedings by a patentee, shall apply in the case of registered designs in like manner as they apply in the case of patents, with the substitution of references to the copyright in a design for references to a patent, and of references to the proprietor of a design for references to the patentee, and of references to the design for references to the invention.

PART III.

GENERAL.

Patent Office and Proceedings thereat.

[7 Edw. 7, c. 29, s. 62.] Patent Office.

54. (1) The Governor General in Council may provide, for the purposes of this Act, an office which shall be called, and is in this Act referred to as, the Patent Office.

(2) The Patent Office shall be under the immediate control of the Controller of Patents and Designs, who shall act under the superintendence and direction of the Governor General in Council.

(3) There shall be a seal for the Patent Office.

(4) Any act or thing directed to be done by or to the Controller may be done by or to any officer authorized by the Governor General in Council.

[7 Edw. 7, c. 29, s. 63.] Officers and clerks.

55. The Governor General in Council may appoint the Controller, and so many officers and clerks, with such designations and duties as he thinks fit.

Fees.

[Ibid, s. 65; cf. Act V, 1888, ss. 48 and 62.] Fees.

56. (1) There shall be paid in respect of the grant of patents and the registration of designs, and applications therefor, and in respect of other matters with relation to patents and designs under this Act, such fees as may be prescribed by the Governor General in Council, so however that the fees prescribed in respect of the instruments and matters mentioned in the schedule shall not exceed those there specified.

[Act V, 1888, ss. 48 (4), 62 (4).] (2) A proceeding in respect of which a fee is payable under this Act or the rules made thereunder shall be of no effect unless the fee has been paid.

Provisions as to registers and other documents in the Patent Office.

[7 Edw. 7, c. 29, s. 66.] Trust not to be entered in registers.

57. There shall not be entered in any register kept under this Act, or be receivable by the Controller, any notice of any trust, expressed, implied or constructive.

[Ibid, s. 67.] Inspection of and extracts from register.

58. Every register kept under this Act shall at all convenient times be open to the inspection of the public, subject to the provisions of this Act; and certified copies, sealed with the seal of the Patent Office, of any entry in any such register shall be given to any person requiring the same on payment of the prescribed fee.

[Ibid, s. 68.] Privilege of reports of Controller.

59. Reports of or to the Controller made under this Act shall not in any case be published or be open to public inspection.

[Ibid, s. 69.] Prohibition of publication of specification, drawings, etc., where application abandoned, etc.

60. (1) Where an application for a patent has been abandoned or become void, the specifications and drawings (if any) accompanying or left in connection with such application shall not, save as otherwise expressly provided by this Act, at any time be open to public inspection, or be published by the Controller.

(2) Where an application for a design has been abandoned or refused, the application and any drawings, photographs, tracings, representations or specimens left in connection with the application shall not at any time be open to public inspection or be published by the Controller.

[Ibid, s. 70.] Power for Controller to correct clerical errors.

61. The Controller may, on request in writing accompanied by the prescribed fee,—

(a) correct any clerical error in or in connection with an application for a patent or in any patent or any specification;

(b) cancel the registration of a design either wholly or in respect of any particular goods in connection with which the design is registered;

(c) correct any clerical error in the representation of a design or in the name or address of the proprietor of any patent or design, or in any other matter which is entered upon the register of patents or the register of designs.

[7 Edw. 7, c. 29, s. 71.]

Entry of assignments and transmissions in registers.

62. (1) Where a person becomes entitled by assignment, transmission or other operation of law to a patent, or to the copyright in a registered design, the Controller shall, on request and on proof of title to his satisfaction, register him as the proprietor of such patent or design.

(2) Where any person becomes entitled as mortgagee, licensee or otherwise to any interest in a patent or registered design, the Controller shall, on request and on proof of title to his satisfaction, cause notice of the interest to be entered in the prescribed manner in the register of patents or designs, as the case may be.

(3) The person registered as the proprietor of a patent or design shall, subject to the provisions of this Act, and to any rights appearing from the register to be vested in any other person, have power absolutely to assign, grant licenses as to, or otherwise deal with, the patent or design and to give effectual receipts for any consideration for any such assignment, license or dealing :

Provided that any equities in respect of the patent or design may be enforced in like manner as in respect of any other moveable property.

[Ibid 72; cf. Act V, 1888, ss. 41 and 59.]

Rectification of register by Court.

63. (1) A High Court may, on the application in the prescribed manner of any person aggrieved by the non-insertion in or omission from the register of patents or designs of any entry, or by any entry made in either such register without sufficient cause or by any entry wrongly remaining on either such register, or by an error or defect in any entry in either such register, make such order for making, expunging or varying such entry as it may think fit.

(2) The Court may in any proceeding under this section decide any question that it may be necessary or expedient to decide in connection with the rectification of a register.

(3) The prescribed notice of any application under this section shall be given to the Controller, who shall have the right to appear and be heard thereon.

(4) Any order of the Court rectifying a register shall direct that notice of the rectification be served on the Controller in the prescribed manner, who shall upon the receipt of such notice rectify the register accordingly.

[Act V, 1888, ss. 42 and 60.]

(5) A High Court to which an application has been made under this section may stay proceedings on or dismiss the application if in its opinion the application would be disposed of more justly or conveniently by another High Court.

Powers and duties of Controller.

[7 Edw. 7, c. 29, s. 77.]

Powers of Controller in proceedings under Act.

64. Subject to any rules in this behalf, the Controller in any proceedings before him under this Act shall have the powers of a Civil Court for the purpose of receiving evidence and administering oaths and enforcing the attendance of witnesses and compelling the production of documents and awarding costs.

[7 Edw. 7, c. 29, s. 73.]

Exercise of discretionary power by Controller.

65. Where any discretionary power is by or under this Act given to the Controller, he shall not exercise that power adversely to the applicant for a patent, or for amendment of an application or of a specification, or for registration of a design, without (if so required within the prescribed time by the applicant) giving the applicant an opportunity of being heard.

[Ibid, s. 74.]

Power of Controller to take directions of Governor General in Council.

66. The Controller may, in any case of doubt or difficulty arising in the administration of any of the provisions of this Act, apply to the Governor General in Council for directions in the matter.

[Ibid, s. 75.]

Refusal to grant patent, etc., in certain cases.

67. The Controller may refuse to grant a patent for an invention or to register a design of which the use would, in his opinion, be contrary to law or morality.

[New.]

Appeals to the Governor General in Council.

68. (1) Where an appeal is declared by this Act to lie from the Controller to the Governor General in Council, the appeal shall be made within three months of the date of the order passed by the Controller, and shall be in writing, and accompanied by the prescribed fee.

(2) The Governor General in Council may, if he thinks fit, obtain the assistance of an expert in deciding such appeals, and the decision of the Governor General in Council shall be final.

Evidence, etc.

[7 Edw. 7, c. 29, s. 78.]

Certificate of Controller to be evidence.

69. A certificate purporting to be under the hand of the Controller as to any entry, matter or thing which he is authorized by this Act, or any rules made thereunder, to make or do, shall be primâ facie evidence of the entry having been made, and of the contents thereof, and of the matter or thing having been done or left undone.

[Ibid ; cf. s. 80 ; & Act V, 1888, s. 41 (2) & (3).]

Transmission of certified printed copies of specifications, etc.

70. Copies of all specifications, drawings and amendments left at the Patent Office after the commencement of this Act, printed for and sealed with the seal of the Patent Office, shall be transmitted as soon as may be, after they have been accepted or allowed at the Patent Office to the Governor of Fort Saint George in Council, the Governor of Bombay in Council, the Lieutenant-Governor of Burma and to such other authorities as the Governor General in Council may appoint in this behalf, and shall be open to the inspection of any person at all reasonable times at places to be appointed by those authorities.

[Ibid., s. 8[illegible]]

Applications and notices by post.

71. Any application, notice or other document authorized or required to be left, made or given at the Patent Office or to the Controller or to any other person under this Act, may be sent by post.

[7 Edw. 7, c. 29, s. 83.]

Declaration by infant, lunatic, etc.

72. (1) If any person is, by reason of infancy, lunacy or other disability, incapable of making any statement or doing anything required or permitted by or under this Act, the lawful guardian, committee or manager (if any) of the person subject to the disability, or, if there be none, any person appointed by any Court possessing jurisdiction in respect of his property, may make such statement or a statement as nearly corresponding thereto as circumstances permit, and do such thing in the name and on behalf of the person subject to the disability.

(2) An appointment may be made by the Court for the purposes of this section upon the petition of any person acting on behalf of the person subject to the disability or of any other person interested in the making of the statement or the doing of the thing.

Agency.

[Cf. Act V, 1888, ss. 45 & 46.]

Subscription and verification of certain documents.

73. The following documents, namely,—

(1) applications for a patent,

(2) notices of opposition,

(3) applications for extension of term of a patent,

(4) applications for the restoration of lapsed patents,

(5) applications for leave to amend,

(6) applications for compulsory license or revocation, and

(7) notices of surrenders of patent, shall be signed and verified in the manner prescribed by the person making such applications or giving such notices:

Provided that, if such person is absent from British India, they may be signed and verified on his behalf by an agent resident in British India authorized by him in writing in that behalf.

[Cf. Act V, 1888, s. 47.]

Agency.

74. (1) All other applications and communications to the Controller under this Act may be signed by, and all attendances upon the Controller may be made by or through, an agent authorized to the satisfaction of the Controller.

[New.]

(2) The Controller may, if he sees fit, require—

(a) any such agent to be resident in British India;

(b) any person not residing in British India to employ an agent residing in British India;

[Cf. 7 Edw. 7, c. 29, rule No. 9.]

(c) the personal signature or presence of any applicant, opponent or other person.

Powers, etc., of Governor General in Council.

[7 Edw. 7, c. 29, s. 86.]

Power for Governor General in Council to make rules.

75. (1) The Governor General in Council may make such rules as he thinks expedient, subject to the provisions of this Act—

(a) for regulating the practice of registration under this Act;

(b) for classifying goods for the purposes of designs;

(c) for making or requiring duplicates of specifications, drawings and other documents;

(d) for securing and regulating the publishing and selling of copies, at such prices and in such manner as the Governor General in Council thinks fit, of specifications, drawings and other documents;

(e) for securing and regulating the making, printing, publishing and selling of indexes to, and abridgments of, specifications and other documents in the Patent Office; and providing for the inspection of indexes and abridgments and other documents;

(f) generally for regulating the business of the Patent Office, the conduct of proceedings before the Controller and all things by this Act placed under the direction or control of the Controller or of the Governor General in Council; and

(g) generally for the purpose of carrying into effect the provisions of this Act.

(2) The power to make rules under this section shall be subject to the condition of the rules being made after previous publication.

(3) All rules made under this section shall be published in the Gazette of India and on such publication shall have effect as if enacted in this Act.

Offences.

Wrongful use of words "Patent Office."

[7 Edw. 7, c. 29, s. 89 (5).]

76. If any person uses on his place of business, or on any document issued by him or otherwise, the words "Patent Office," or any other words suggesting that his place of business is officially connected with, or is, the Patent Office, he shall be punishable with fine which may extend to two hundred rupees, and, in the case of a continuing offence, with further fine of twenty rupees for each day on which the offence is continued after conviction therefor.

International and Colonial arrangements.

[Ibid, s. 91.]

International and Colonial arrangements.

77. (1) If His Majesty is pleased by Order in Council to apply such of the provisions of section 91 of the Patents and Designs Act, 1907, as relate to inventions or designs to British India, then any person, who has applied for protection for any invention or design in the United Kingdom or in any foreign State with the Government of which His Majesty has made any arrangement for mutual protection of inventions or designs, shall be entitled to a patent for his invention or to registration of his design under this Act in priority to other applicants; and the patent or registration shall have the same date as the date of the application in the United Kingdom or in such foreign State, as the case may be:

[7 Edw. 7 c. 29.]

Provided that—

(a) the application is made in the case of a patent within twelve months, and in the case of a design within four months, from the application for protection in the United Kingdom or in such foreign State, as the case may be; and

(b) nothing in this section shall entitle the patentee or proprietor of the design to recover damages for infringements happening prior to the actual date on which his application is accepted, or his design is registered, in British India.

(2) The patent granted for the invention or the registration of a design shall not be invalidated—

(a) in the case of a patent, by reason only of the publication of a description of, or use of, the invention, or

(b) in the case of a design, by reason only of the exhibition or use of, or the publication of a description or representation of, the design, in British India during the period specified in this section as that within which the application may be made.

(3) The application for the grant of a patent, or the registration of a design, under this section must be made in the same manner as an ordinary application under this Act:

Provided that in the case of patents the specification, if it is not accepted within the twelve months from the application for protection in the United Kingdom or in the foreign State, shall with the drawings (if any) be open to public inspection at the expiration of that period.

(4) The provisions of this section shall in the case of foreign States apply only in the case of those foreign States with respect to which His Majesty by Order in Council has declared the provisions of the aforesaid section 91 of the Imperial Act to be applicable, and so long only in the case of each State as the Order in Council continues in force with respect to that State.

(5) Where it is made to appear to the Governor General in Council that the legislature of any British possession has made satisfactory provision for the protection of inventions or designs, patented or registered in British India, it shall be lawful for the Governor General in Council, by notification in the Gazette of India, to apply all or any of the provisions of this section, with such variations or additions, if any, as may be stated in the notification, to the case of any person who has applied for protection for any invention or design in that possession.

Savings and Repeal.

7 Edw. 7, c. 29, s. 97.]

Saving for prerogative.

78. Nothing in this Act shall take away, abridge or prejudicially affect the prerogative of the Crown in relation to the granting of any letters patent or to the withholding of a grant thereof.

Repeal.

79. The Inventions and Designs Act, 1888, is hereby repealed. V of 1888.

Provided that this repeal shall not affect any application under the said Act pending at the commencement of this Act, and all proceedings on such application shall be continued as if this Act had not been passed.

Substitution of patents for rights under repealed Act.

80. (1) At any time within two years from the commencement of this Act, any person possessing an exclusive privilege under the Inventions and Designs Act, 1888, may, by request in writing left at the Patent Office and on payment of the prescribed fee, seek leave to convert his exclusive privilege under the said Act into a patent under this Act. V of 1888.

(2) Notice of any application under this section shall be sent to all persons appearing from the address book kept under the said Act to have any shares or interests in the exclusive privilege.

(3) Save as aforesaid, the procedure prescribed by section 17 in the case of applications under that section shall, so far as may be, apply to every application under this section.

(4) Every patent granted under this section shall be dated as of the date of the exclusive privilege for which it is substituted.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

THE Inventions and Designs Act, V of 1888, now in force, is based in all material respects as regards inventions on the previous Act, XV of 1859, which, in turn, was practically a repetition of Act VI of 1856. This, the earliest Act in India, was founded on the English Patent Law of 1852 contained in the Statute 16 & 17 Vict., c. 115.

2. Under the Statute of 1852 a patent was granted subject to the subsequent filing of a specification, but under the Indian Act of 1859 an advance in procedure was made in that the exclusive privilege, which is the Indian equivalent to a patent, only accrued when a specification was filed. By the later Statute of 1883 (46 & 47 Vict., c. 57) the patent was not granted until after the acceptance of a correct specification and the absence or failure of opposition by interested parties; and this procedure is still followed in the English law which is contained in the Patents and Designs Act, 1907 (7 Edw. 7, c. 29).

3. Although the Indian Act of 1888 was passed five years after the United Kingdom Statute of 1883, it was felt that the time was not yet ripe in this country for introducing the English practice in its entirety as the volume of patent work was then small. Now, however, that it is growing and is likely to do so at a much greater rate in the future, it is thought advisable to bring the practice in this country more into conformity with that of the United Kingdom, thereby following the example of most of the other British possessions By postponing action until now it has been possible to take advantage of the consolidation of the English Statutes which the Patents and Designs Act, 1907, has effected. The present appears therefore to be a very opportune time for undertaking legislation in India.

4. The existing procedure in India under the Inventions and Designs Act, 1888, for obtaining an exclusive privilege is somewhat as follows. The inventor submits to the Governor General in Council an application accompanied by the prescribed fee and containing a description of the invention. The title of the invention is notified in the Gazette of India, and after examination by the Secretary under the Act for formal matters, the application is exposed to public inspection in the Secretary's office for ten days, so that any member of the public may have an opportunity of objecting to the grant of leave to file the specification. The application is then further examined by the Secretary more closely to see whether it complies in all respects with the Act, and also, where possible, to see whether the invention is novel. Any objections are also considered by him at this stage. If he finds that the application is in order, leave to file a specification is granted, subject generally to conditions in the case of inventors who are Government servants. Within a period of six months (which may on permission be extended to nine months) the applicant, if he desires to obtain an exclusive privilege, must file six copies of a specification together with a second fee. The specification is then examined by the Secretary to see whether it is substantially identical with the description, drawings and claims in the application. As soon as this identity is secured, the specification is notified as filed as from the date on which it was first received, and the exclusive privilege accrues from that date. Subject to the payment of further fees, the exclusive privilege may endure for fourteen years, or even with permission for a longer period, but it ceases if any corresponding English or foreign patent lapses.

5. Under the above procedure the public have no proper opportunity of objecting to the grant, as merely a single manuscript copy of the application, which often contains an imperfect description, is available for inspection in Calcutta only during a very limited period. Subsequently, though the exclusive privilege may on application to the High Court be revoked on various grounds, including invalidity and non-novelty, these grounds—which are the natural grounds of defence—cannot, except in certain special cases, be pleaded by an alleged infringer as a defence to a suit by an inventor for infringement of his exclusive privilege. For the sake both of the inventor and the public it is desirable that the procedure should be simplified and made more direct and effective, not only in regard to the grant of patents but also in respect of their subsequent existence and operation. Further, it seems expedient that the dependence of Indian rights on foreign patents should cease.

6. By the Bill as proposed the method of obtaining a patent for an invention will consist of the following stages :—

(a) submission of application and specification at the same time, together with the prescribed fee;

(b) acceptance of the application after complete examination within nine or twelve months ;

(c) publication of documents after such acceptance ;

(d) interval of three months for submission of objections to grant;

(e) grant of patent, after objections (if any) have been disposed of, on payment of the prescribed fee.

The public will thus be protected by increasing the facilities for opposition at an effective period, while the applicant will be enabled to restrict his claim to what appears to be more properly his invention, thus obviating to some degree his risks in subsequent infringement or revocation proceedings. The applicant will further be protected as his application will be kept secret, which it is not at present, until acceptance.

7. The following further improvements in the law proposed by the Bill may here be enumerated :—

(a) Patents will not lapse on cessation of foreign patents.

(b) Patents will be granted as being more suitable for commercial purposes than the present certificates that specifications have been filed and fees paid.

(c) Proprietorship of patents and designs will be more fully recorded.

(d) Amendment of applications and specifications will be facilitated and opposition thereto by the public will be permissible as in the case of the original applications.

(e) Defendants in infringement suits will be allowed in all cases to use the natural ground of defence by pleading non-validity and non-novelty of the patent.

(f) Validity of patents will be certified in certain cases to give protection against wilful infringers.

(g) Threats of legal proceedings will be actionable unless the patentee proceeds diligently with an infringement suit.

(h) Anomalies in respect of British inventors will be removed and arrangements will be made for the mutual protection of inventions and designs between India and other British possessions and between India and Foreign States.

(i) Compulsory licenses for the working of inventions will be obtainable on more clearly defined and broadened grounds than formerly.

(j) Surrender of patents and restoration of ceased patents will be permissible.

(k) The law as to designs, which now follows the Statute of 1883, will be brought into line with the Statute of 1907.

(l) Finally, a Controller of Patents and Designs will be established, with power to dispose of many matters which are at present referred to the Governor General in Council.

8. Generally speaking, the provisions of the Bill follow with the necessary modifications those of the Inventions and Designs Act, 1907, only such provisions of the Act of 1888 being retained as appear necessary to meet the special conditions of India. It is hoped that the proposals contained in the Bill will enable the attainment of the double object of encouraging the inventor and of giving more effective protection both to him and to the public.

9. The more important alterations in the existing law proposed by the Bill are explained in the Notes on Clauses below, and two Tables, showing the extent to which the provisions of the Act of 1888 and the Statute of 1907 have been adopted in the Bill, are appended.

B. ROBERTSON.

The 21st March 1910.

Notes on Clauses.

Clause 2.—The definition of "design" in sub-clause (5) follows the Statute of 1907, but in order to prevent misconception words have been added expressly excluding trade and property marks.

Clause 3.—Sub-clauses (1), (2) and (3) reproduce the corresponding clauses of section 1 of the Statute with the modification that, as at present under the Indian Act, the true and first inventor need not be a party to the application. But when the application is made by the legal representative or assignee of the true and first inventor, sub-clause (4), which is new, requires that his name, etc., must be disclosed in order that his position and interests may be safeguarded.

Clause 4.—Sub-clauses (1), (2) and (3) of this clause are based on section 2 of the Statute save that a single specification only is required. The permissible provisional specification of the Statute followed by the complete specification, and the preliminary description in the application under the Act followed by the substantially identical description in the specification, are thus consolidated into a single step. Sub-clause (4), which reproduces section 5, sub-section (4), of the Act, adds to the present power of calling for models, which is seldom exercised, a further power of calling for samples which seems necessary.

Clause 5.—By this clause the Controller is empowered to require amendment of the documents after examination and to ensure as far as possible that the invention is properly described and claimed and is novel. Under the present Act, lack of novelty, discoverable by any means whatsoever, is taken as a ground of objection to the grant. Under the Statute (sections 7 and 8) certain definite grounds on which a search for novelty may be made are laid down, but it has not been thought advisable to prescribe any similar limitations in the Bill. Instead, in the interest both of the inventor and of the public, by sub-clause (1) (e) a free hand is given to the Controller to take into consideration any source of information which bears upon the novelty of the invention. By sub-clause (4), an application must in ordinary circumstances be accepted within nine months. From the experience of the Patent Office in India and from the time allowed for completing applications in the United Kingdom, this period, with a permissible extension of three months, is thought to be sufficient.

Clause 7.—The rights of the applicant prior to the grant of a patent are defined in terms of sections 4 and 10 of the Statute. At present the rights of the applicant before obtaining an exclusive privilege are not defined in the Act.

Clause 8 is a reproduction of section 6 (1), (2) of the Act with some modifications, but the inquiry for which it provides is postponed from the date of the application until after the date of acceptance of the application.

Clause 9.—Facilities for opposition by the public are here, following section 11 of the Statute, definitely given, and the inventor and opponent are afforded opportunities of being heard.

Clause 10, following section 12 of the Statute, provides for the grant and sealing of a patent when the application has been successfully carried through the previous stages. It is not until this point is reached that the applicant need decide finally whether he desires a patent. If he does so, and not until then, a second fee has to be paid within the prescribed time.

Clause 11.—Under this clause, which follows section 13 of the Statute, the patent dates from the day of application. Under the Act the exclusive privilege dates from the filing of the specification, which may be from one to twelve months or more after the application, and during that period the protection (if any) enjoyed by the inventor is not defined. By taking this risk and unduly delaying action the applicant under the Act is enabled to defer the date of protection for an indefinite time. This is considered to be unfair to the public, so the English practice has been adopted in the Bill. It may be remarked that the same change has recently been made in Ceylon.

Clause 12.—Instead of a certificate that the fees have been paid and a specification has been filed, which is at present granted under the Act, the Bill provides for a patent bearing a seal. It is believed that a formal patent will be of greater value commercially, and there seems no reason why the term "patent" should not be used in India as in other parts of the world. The rights under a patent are defined in the same terms as the exclusive privilege in section 8 of the Act, that is, "of making, selling and using the invention throughout British India and of authorizing others so to do."

Clause 13.—Fraudulent applications are dealt with in this clause on the lines of section 15 of the Statute: the second sub-clause may be compared with section 38 of the Act.

Clause 14.—The term of the patent, as in the case of the exclusive privilege under the Act, is declared to be 14 years.

Clause 15.—Extensions of patents beyond fourteen years are, as at present, provided for by this clause, but provision is also made for notifying any application for extension to the public so that opposition may be entered. Under the Act no notification is given of these applications.

Clause 16.—Provision is made for the restoration of ceased patents.

Clause 17.—More liberal provision than at present exists is made in this clause for amendment of applications and specifications. Applications under this clause are dealt with in respect of advertisement and opposition on the same lines as an accepted application for a patent.

Clause 18.—Although amendments will generally be dealt with by the Patent Office, power is here reserved, as in section 22 of the Statute, to the Court to allow disclaimers so as to expedite the proceedings in any suit or petition.

Clause 20, which is a reproduction of section 28 of the Statute, provides more fully than is done by sections 12 and 13 of the Act for recording all transactions in patents. An addition has been made to sub-clause (4), taken from section 49 of the Indian Registration Act, 1908, for enforcing the supply of copies of documents.

Clause 21.—Though this clause, which corresponds to section 17 of the Act, has been somewhat abbreviated, no material alteration has been made in the law as to the relation of the Crown to patents. The power to impose conditions is now provided for in the different appropriate clauses, namely, 10 (1), 15 (6), 17 (5), instead of in a separate clause as is done in section 16 of the Act.

Clause 22.—Compulsory licenses can be acquired under section 43 of the Act by application to the Governor General in Council, who can refer the matter to the Courts. Though little or no use was ever made of this section, it has been thought advisable to retain and extend it. In the main the lines of section 24 of the Statute have been followed with the necessary modifications of machinery to adapt the section to the circumstances of India.

Clause 23.—This clause, which is taken from section 26 (3) of the Statute, is new and provides for the surrender of patents.

Clause 25.—Sub-clause (1) of this clause, which relates to petitions to the High Court for revocation of patents, consolidates sections 30 and 31 of the Act. Sub-clause (d) applies to India the rules laid down in section 25, sub-section (3), of the Statute as to the persons by whom petitions for revocation of patents may be presented. In the United Kingdom a new provision for the revocation of patents worked outside the Kingdom has been added, by section 27 of the Statute, to the former provisions for compulsory licenses or revocation, which were not much utilised owing to delay, expense and other difficulties. In India it is thought, however, that the time is not yet ripe for the introduction of a similar provision. Clause 22 of the Bill, which provides a simple, cheap and effective method of procedure in case the owner of a patent is obstructive, and clause 25, which provides for a direct resort to the High Court when this course is thought preferable, would seem to be sufficient for the needs of this country.

Clause 28 corresponds to section 29 of the Act, but in place of sub-sections (2) to (4) a new provision [sub-clause (2)] has been substituted, stating grounds of defence to an infringement suit and thus abrogating the somewhat arbitrary restrictions at present imposed by the Act. It has been thought well to permit such suits still to be brought in the District Court for the sake of convenience and expense.

Clause 29, which is taken from section 33 of the Statute and is new, protects persons infringing patent rights in ignorance of their existence.

Clauses 30 and 31 are both new, being taken from sections 34 and 35 of the Statute. They empower the Courts to issue certain orders in infringement suits and to grant certificates of validity of patents which may be used for purposes of costs in subsequent suits in the Court granting them.

Clauses 34 and 35, which provide respectively for assessors to assist the Courts if required, and for a remedy by way of suit for groundless threats, are taken from sections 31 and 36 of the Statute and are new.

Clause 36 is taken from section 37 of the Statute, which abolishes the exclusive right of survivorship hitherto enjoyed by patentees in England. It declares patentees to be joint tenants and defines their respective rights. The introduction of a similar rule in India seems desirable.

Clause 37.—Sub-clauses (1) (a) and (2) reproduce with some modifications the existing law as contained in sections 21 and 22 of the Act. Sub-clause (1) (b) is new and introduces a fresh condition to allow limited secret or experimental user without affecting the novelty of the invention.

Clauses 38 (Loss or destruction of patent), 39 (Exhibitions), 40 (Models to the Indian Museums) and 41 (Foreign vessels in British Indian waters) are taken from sections 44 45, 47 (2) and 48 of the Statute respectively. With the exception of clause 39, which is an extension of section 26 of the Act, they are all new, and seem suitable for adoption in India.

Part II.—Designs.

Clauses 42-53.—As regards designs the Bill generally follows the Statute except that the power of the Controller to revoke registration of designs given by section 58 of the Statute has been omitted. The chief change proposed in the present law, as contained in the Act, is that protection may be extended from five to ten or fifteen years.

Part III.—General.

Clauses 54 and 55 are taken from sections 62 and 63 of the Statute. They provide for the establishment of a Patent Office under a Controller with a seal and a suitable staff.

Clause 56, providing for fees, reproduces and consolidates sections 48 and 62 of the Act on the lines of section 65 of the Statute.

Clauses 57-63.—These provisions as to registers and documents generally follow sections 66 to 72 of the Statute. The second part of section 68 of the Statute has been omitted in view of the provisions of sections 123-124 of the Indian Evidence Act, 1872.

Clause 64.—This clause, which is analogous to section 77 of the Statute, will give to the Controller certain powers of a Civil Court for the purpose of hearing cases such, for example, as oppositions under clause 9.

Clauses 65-67, which are taken from sections 73, 74 and 75 of the Statute, are new and define the powers and duties of the Controller.

Clause 68, which is new, regulates the procedure in appeals from the Controller to the Governor General in Council. In the Act the Governor General in Council is the final authority in respect of the grant of patent rights and cognate matters, and is so left by the Bill, though all such matters will in future be dealt with by the Controller in the first instance.

Clause 69, which is taken from section 78 of the Statute, gives evidential value to the certificate of the Controller in regard to certain matters.

Clauses 71 and 72, dealing with the sending of notices by post and declarations of infants and other persons under disability, are taken from sections 81 and 83 of the Statute.

Clauses 73 and 74.—These clauses, which correspond to sections 45 to 47 of the Act, require the more important applications and notices to be signed and verified by the person chiefly interested, while they permit subsequent action to be conducted by an agent. Sub-clause (2) of clause 74 is new and confers on the Controller certain powers as to requiring the employment of such agents and the personal signature or presence of interested persons.

Clause 75.—The rule-making power conferred by section 49 of the Act on the Governor General in Council has been expanded on the lines of the similar provision contained in section 86 of the Statute.

Clause 76.—As regards offences the provisions of section 89 (5) of the Statute are followed in this clause with such modifications as are required by Indian law. Sub-section (1) of section 89 is omitted as falsification of registers, etc., is already dealt with in Chapter XVIII of the Penal Code.

Clause 77.—The international and colonial arrangements for which this clause provides follow the colonial form corresponding to section 91 of the Statute and replace the present procedure under sections 24 and 25 of the Act. In the working of those sections many anomalies have been discovered, and they afford to the Indian inventor no equivalent for the advantages given to the British applicant or patentee. It is hoped that arrangements may be made with the Home Government to bring this clause into force as soon as possible after the Bill becomes law.

Clause 78.—This clause, which saves the prerogative of the Crown, is reproduced from section 97 of the Statute.

Clauses 79 and 80 provide for the repeal of the Inventions and Designs Act, 1888 and for the conversion of exclusive privileges under that Act into patents under the proposed new Act.

The Schedule.

In the Table of Fees set out in the schedule a number of the least important fees contained in the present Tables have been omitted, as it seems preferable to leave them to be fixed by rules. Save in the case of the fee for sealing a patent, corresponding to the present fee for filing a specification, which it is proposed to raise from R30 to R50, no alteration has been made in the amount of the existing fees.

J. M. MACPHERSON,

Secretary to the Government of India.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

The following Bill was introduced in the Council of the Governor General of India for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 23rd March 1910 :—

No. 10 OF 1910.

A Bill to Amend the Indian Emigration Act, 1908.

WHEREAS it is expedient to amend the Indian Emigration Act, 1908; It is hereby enacted as follows :—

XVII of 1908.

Short title.

1. This Act may be called the Indian Emigration (Amendment) Act, 1910.

Substitution of new section 5, Act XVII, 1908.

2. For section 5 of the Indian Emigration Act, 1908, the following section shall be substituted, namely :—

XVII of 1908.

Power for Governor General in Council to prohibit emigration to any country.

"Where the Governor General in Council has reason to believe that sufficient grounds exist for prohibiting emigration to any country to which emigration is lawful, he may, by notification in the Gazette of India, declare that emigration to that country shall cease to be lawful from a day specified in the notification; and from that day emigration to that country shall accordingly cease to be lawful."

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

SECTION 5 of the Indian Emigration Act, 1908 (XVII of 1908), empowers the Governor General in Council to prohibit emigration to any country to which it is lawful, where he has reason to believe that any of the grounds specified in that section exists. Experience has shown that it is desirable that the power to prohibit emigration should not be confined to the cases mentioned in the section, but that the Governor General in Council should be vested with authority to discontinue emigration to any country whenever he considers that sufficient reasons exist for taking such action. It is accordingly proposed in the Bill to amend section 5 of the Act so as to confer the desired power on the Governor General in Council.

B. ROBERTSON.

The 17th March 1910.

J. M. MACPHERSON,
Secretary to the Government of India.

No. 128 (second publication).—The Port Officer, Bombay, has given Notice, dated 12th March 1910, that from the 1st April to about 1st June 1910 the duties of the Pilot Schooner at the entrance to Bombay Harbour will be carried out by a three-masted vessel painted red, at anchor in the usual position of the Pilot Schooner.

AUSTRALIA, SOUTH—Kangaroo island, Backstairs passage.

Cape Willoughby—Subsidiary light discontinued.

No. 129 (second publication).—With reference to this office Notice to Mariners No. 155, dated the 1st April 1909, the President of the Marine Board, Port Adelaide, has given further Notice (No. 1 of 1910) that the Red light mentioned therein, exhibited from the lower part of the tower, and showing over the Scraper shoal from about south by west until shut in by the high land of Cape St. Albans, will be discontinued on the 1st May next.

This affects Admiralty charts Nos. 2389B, 1014 and 25.

SOUTH AUSTRALIA—West coast.

(1) Venus bay—Beacons erected.

(2) Beard bay—Buoy and beacon established.

No. 130 (second publication).—The President of the Marine Board, Port Adelaide, has given Notice (No. 2 of 1910) that—

(1) Venus bay.—A pair of leading beacons, 500 ft. apart, painted white and having triangular tops, have been erected on the north side of the entrance to Venus bay. These kept in line N. 23°E. lead over the deepest water on the outer bar. Also that a beacon, painted red, having a triangular top, has been placed on the south side of the channel just above No. 1 Red Beacon. This beacon in line with No. 1 Black Beacon N. 67° E. leads over the deepest water on the inner bar and midway between the two points forming the entrance.

Vessels entering the bay should steer for the outer white leads until the inner black and red leads come in line; then steer for them until well over the bar, from whence the black beacon is to be kept on the port hand, as usual.

Approximate position of front white beacon, lat. 33° 13¼′ S., long. 134° 39¼′ E.

(2) Beard bay.—A red perch buoy has been placed in three and a half fathoms L.W.S. inside the rocky bar at the entrance to Beard bay. This buoy kept in line with Calca Bluff N. 7° W. leads over the deepest and generally smoothest water on the bar, giving a depth not less than 10 ft. at L.W.S. Also that a beacon, painted black, having a triangular top, has been erected on the top of the sandhill on the west side of the entrance. In line with the perpendicular cliff of Cape Radstock S. 42° W. it leads clear of the N.W. edge of Propeller rock, which is situated about half a cable N. × W. from the buoy, and has on it about 6 ft. at L.W.S.

Vessels intended for entering should steer for the buoy in line with Calca Bluff, and when inside the bar keep the buoy on the starboard hand and steer N.N.W. until the beacon comes on with the cliff of Cape Radstock, after which clear anchorage with at least 2½ fathoms will be found from N.N.W. to N.E. for 3 cables, beyond which the bay gradually shoals to about 3 ft. at L.W.S. 1½ miles from the entrance.

Approximate position of buoy, lat. 33° 11½′ S., long. 134° 21′ E. All bearings are magnetic.

These affect Admiralty charts Nos. 1061 and 1066.

The mean pressure, temperature, etc., are deduced from eye observations.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground. The rainfall reported on any day is for 24 hours preceding 8 A.M. of that day.
